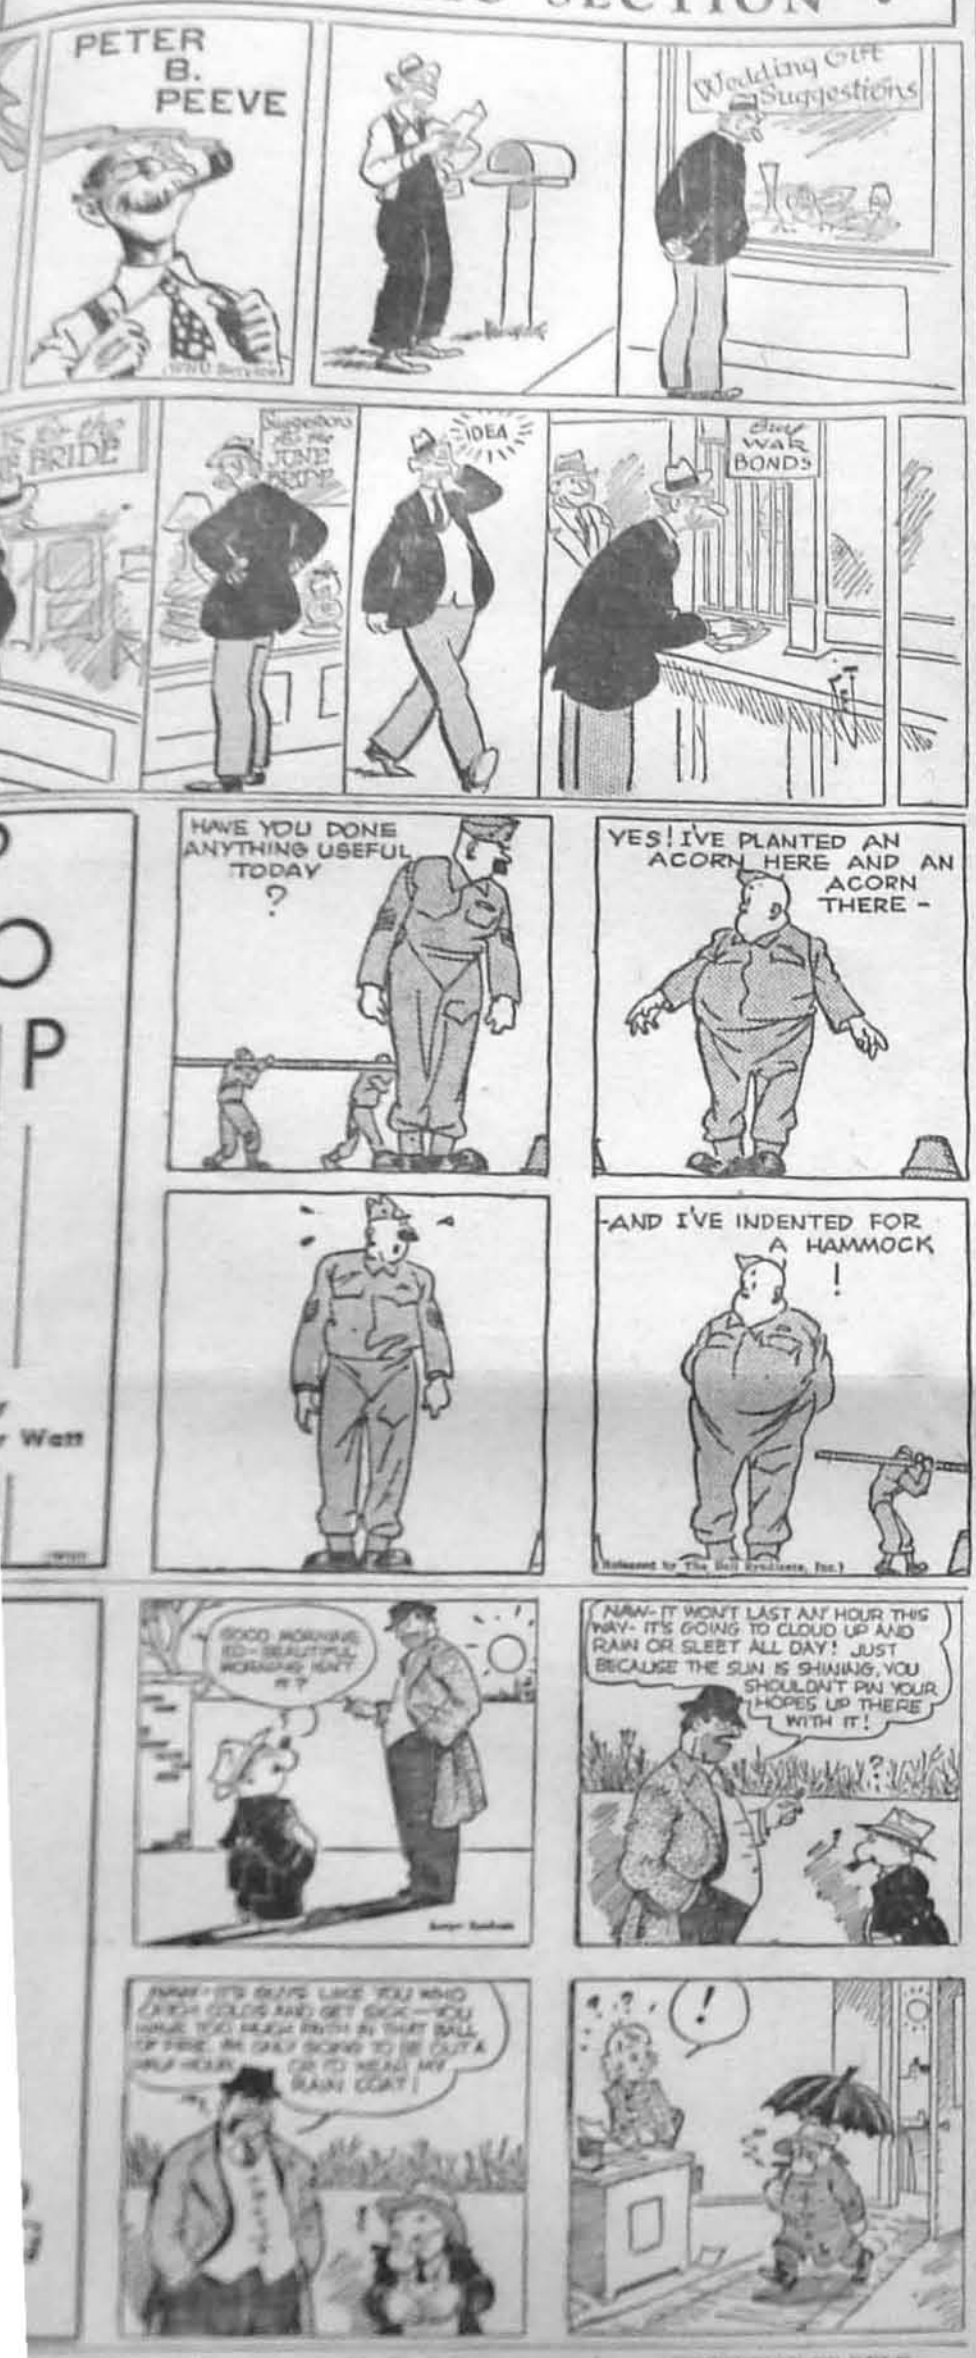
• OUR COMIC SECTION •



Fly English

A clergyman in a railway compartment had for company a group of workmen whose language was hardly of the kind that a reverend gentleman is supposed to hear. One of them must have realized this, for, turning to the clergyman, he said: "I'ze 'most swearin' on, guv'nor, but you knows we've just been speakin' pure as always while a spade's a spade."

"Is that so?" said the clergyman. "I should have thought that would have been the last thing you would have called it."

Nice Youngster

Father—Now, that dentist I went to wasn't painless.

Mother—Why John, did he hurt you?

Father—Sure. I got six dollars and he pulled the set the other dentists I've been to.

From the Farm

Teacher—Johnnie—and give me sounds for a cow, please.

Johnnie—Sure, and I hope you send the sounds to places for counting.

EXCEPTION TO RULE

Think those was the self-made man who claimed nothing could be done successfully in life unless one started at the bottom. He hasn't been heard from since someone asked him if he'd ever learned to swim.

Old and So Cool

Diner — An order of chicken, please.

Waiter—When I was a boy we had a swell for every one of our chickens.

Diner—Would you mind telling me the name of that inn?

One Sunday School

Teacher—Now, how many of you want to go to heaven? Don't you, Tommy?

Tommy—My mother told me to answer right when asked.

TO YOUR Good Health by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

WHY TEETH DECAY

At the beginning of the last war the regulations regarding teeth were so strict that I had a sergeant examine the mouths of the recruits before they were inspected by the medical officer. The simplest requirement was that the man must have one upper molar (grinding) tooth immediately above one lower grinding tooth, on one side of his mouth, yet about 7 in every 20 could not meet this requirement.

Dr. Barton

In this war medical officers are finding just as many men with infected or missing teeth as in the last war, but with an adequate dental corps men are taken into the army and the defects corrected.

What causes decay of teeth? Has the cause ever been discovered?

In the Journal of the American Dental Association, Robert G. Kesel, D.D.S., M.S., Chicago, states that 237 investigators report that dental decay begins with the destruction of the enamel by acid. This is not a new idea as a writer in A.D. 1530 stated that decay of teeth was due to decomposed food and acid moisture.

There appear to be two factors in tooth decay, the exciting or immediate cause, and the predisposing or underlying cause.

The immediate or exciting factors are organisms on the tooth surface capable of destroying tooth substances, and material (food particles clinging to the teeth) which are converted into substances harmful to the tooth. Without the organisms and tooth particles there likely would be no decay.

Yet, Dr. Kesel points out "that all living individuals have organisms on the tooth surfaces and most of them, at times, have upon their teeth materials that could form acid." Why then do not all teeth decay?

Teeth do not decay in some individuals despite the presence of organisms and acid forming material on the teeth, because these individuals do not have the predisposing or underlying conditions that enable the organisms and acid-forming materials to start the process of decay.

• • •

Six Pointers on Neurosis Prevention

While the curing of mental ailments has reached the highest point in history, nevertheless it must be remembered that many mental cases are not cured by our present methods including the shock treatment.

Why should there not be some method of preventing the development of mental ailments or preventing those with a tendency toward mental ailments becoming mental patients?

Today we see smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, pernicious anemia, typhoid fever, diabetes prevented or controlled. Why cannot mental ailments be prevented, particularly in the young, just as diphtheria and scarlet fever are prevented?

In an article in Boston Number of the Medical Clinics of North America, Dr. Merrill Moore, in pointing out what psychiatry can do to prevent neurosis—patients whose odd behavior symptoms are not due to any organic cause, no change in brain structure—says:

1. Parents should not overexcite their children.
2. Children should be taught to relax and to concentrate (put their minds intently on a subject) when necessary.
3. Parents should remember that children are not their playthings to be poked and tossed about.
4. Children are assets; raising them is a serious business.
5. Parents should give their children a sense of security in the child's own small world.
6. All along the production line the parent should guide the child and try not to let him go off the track of normal development. For example, it is important for a boy (or girl) to keep abreast of his group and be able to do what his friends can do—in school, playground, or elsewhere—even if a little extra coaching is necessary. This prevents an inferiority complex. If a child does not hold his own in his own world, he may slink off on the sidelines and become critical or destructive. He may then more easily become a neurotic or an alcoholic.

• • •

HEALTH BRIEFS

Q—Can you suggest a treatment for a painful burning in the ears?

A—From your description it looks as if the eustachian tubes got blocked. Ask your physician about blowing them open. Special diet might help, but "you're in the army now" and must eat what is served.

Q—What is tar vomica?

A—Nux vomica is the parent drug of strychnine. It is a stomach tonic, increasing breathing power and stimulating nerves.

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

1782-B

So Feminine.

EVERYTHING'S there—a young two-piece with simple moulded lines, feminine frilly trimming and expensive looking details.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1782-B, designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 28, 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 12 (30) requires, with short sleeves, 3¾ yards 39-inch material. ⅝ yard contrast for collar, 1¼ yards machine made ruffling.

This is an unusually large demand and current war conditions slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago.

Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No. ..... Size .....

Name .....

Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What is a funicular railway?
2. The tragic Children's Crusade to the Holy Land took place in what year?
3. What proportion of all radio entertainment consists of music?
4. What is the percentage of illiteracy in India?
5. Where is the largest U. S. navy mess hall?
6. Which is the most northern town in the United States?

The Answers

1. A railway operated by cable.
2. In 1212.
3. Two-thirds.
4. Eighty-five per cent.
5. Treasure Island (San Francisco) where an average of 6,000 men can be fed in 40 minutes.
6. Penasse, Minn.

FOR MINOR BURNS CUTS MOROLINE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢

Get the BLACK LEAF 40 Kills APHIS
One ounce makes six gallons of aphis spray... Full directions on label. • Insist on factory sealed packages.
Black Leaf
ASK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

MEDICATED POWDER FOR FAMILY USE Soothe itch of simple rashes with Mexsana, formerly Mexsana Heat Powder. Relieves diaper rash, heat rash.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Considering cost of oil, gas, tires and upkeep, it is estimated that the cost of driving the average car for 1000 miles at 45 miles per hour is $22.03. At 25 mph the cost is cut to $14.38 and at 35 mph it is held to $17.88.

Malaya and the Netherlands Indies were the only sources of natural rubber in the world which had been successfully exploited to an important extent prior to the present war.

Rubber and gas rationing did not drastically cut motor truck operations last year. Official figures show that during 1942 trucks hauled an estimated 46 billion ton miles of freight on main rural highways, compared with 48.7 billion in the mere normal 1940.

Jerry Shaw

In war or peace
B.F.Goodrich
FIRST IN RUBBER

★ IN THE NAVY ★ they say:
"BELAY" for stop
"CHOP-CHOP" for hurry up
"STEW" for commissary officer
"CAMEL" for the Navy man's favorite cigarette

FIRST IN THE SERVICE
With men in the Navy, the Army, the Marine Corps, and the Coast Guard, the favorite cigarette is Camel.
(Based on actual sales records in Canteens and Post Exchanges)

Camel
COSTLIER TOBACCOS

CASS NEWS

PARTY HONORS CASS RESIDENT ON EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Shriver of Cass entertained with a party at their home last Saturday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock, honoring their mother, Mrs. Ella Buchanan, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. Mrs. Rachel Thompson, Mrs. R. W. Fox and Mrs. E. J. Shafer assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. W. R. Richards had charge of the guest book and other aides were Mrs. A. E. Harscuff, Mrs. Lyle McPherson, Mrs. Mirle Irvine and Miss Marie Dill. A musical program was rendered by Miss Margaret Irvine at the piano and Rev. Harry Blackhurst. A number of selections were played and sung by Mrs. Mirle Irvine, Miss Marie Dill and Mrs. R. W. Fox and others.

The table had for its centerpiece a beautiful three-tier birthday cake surrounded by white iris and valley lilies.

The home was decorated with a variety of lovely spring flowers which were gifts of friends. Guests enjoying this hospitality were:

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shafer, Mrs. Leona Williams and daughter, Mary Lee, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Duncan, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Blackhurst, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dill, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Moon, Miss Marie Dill, Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Mrs. T. J. Kenealy, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shrader, Mrs. J. H. Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hickman, Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Willhide, Mrs. U. H. Hannah, Mrs. C. E. Fuhrman, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Nickell, Mrs. W. F. Anderson, Mrs. J. C. Graves, Rev. H. M. Jefferson, Mrs. Mary McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Arthur Evans, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Mirle Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richards, Mrs. Audra D. McPherson, Miss Margaret L. Irvine, Mrs. Gertrude Ralston, E. J. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simmons, Mrs. Gertrude Nethken, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fiske, Patty Anne McPherson, Miss Ruth Nethken and Mrs. Ella Buchanan.

Guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Thornburg and daughter Donna of Oak Hill, Mrs. Annie M. Alt of Lewisburg, Mrs. Margaret Crawford and son, R. C., of Baltimore, Md., Tommy Thornburg of Oak Hill, J. W. Buchanan and daughter, Ella Rebecca, of Fayetteville.

Mrs. Buchanan was the recipient of a large number of lovely gifts and many wishes for more happy returns of the day.

Vacation Bible School

The Presbyterian-Methodist Vacation Bible school started in the Methodist church, Monday, May 31, with Rev. Quade Arbogast in charge. Miss Ruth Nethken and Robert Loadermilk are teachers for the Beginners' department; Miss Evelyn Galford and Miss Dorothy Lee Mick, teachers for the Primary department; Mrs. R. W. Fox and Ernestine Hamrick, teachers for the Junior department, and Rev. Hugh Jefferson, for the Intermediates. Marie Dill and Bertha Lee Dill are in charge of the music.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Burke McCarty of Narrows, Va., were visiting friends over the week-end. They were accompanied here by Anne Graves, also of Narrows, who is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Graves.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sensel and small daughter of Hancock, Md., and Misses Hazel and Grace Semmbaugh of Cumberland, Md., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dill.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McLaughlin and family have returned to Akron, O., after visiting here and at Stony Bottom.

Miss Ruth Lawrence and Miss Gertrude Ross returned Monday after spending the week-end in Baltimore.

Miss Evelyn Speer of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Leslie and daughter left here to-day for Huntington, W. Va., where Mr. Leslie will be employed by the Ohio Valley Electric Corporation.

Mrs. Ella Buchanan, Mrs. Rachel Thompson, Mrs. Annie M. Alt and Mrs. Margaret Crawford and son, R. C., of Baltimore, Md., were visitors in Marlinton Wednesday.

Mrs. Ella Buchanan was a visitor in Marlinton Wednesday.

Mrs. Rachel Thompson, Mrs. Annie M. Alt and Mrs. Margaret Crawford and son, R. C., of Baltimore, Md., were visitors in Marlinton Wednesday.

Mrs. Ella Buchanan was a visitor in Marlinton Wednesday.

Thursday Miss Mary Emma Smith, who attends a business school in Charleston, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Smith.

Ralph Tallman, who is employed in Baltimore, spent the week-end with his family.

Miss Susan Porter and Betty Conley are visiting relatives in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Ginny Faulkner of Baltimore is spending a few days here. She will be accompanied back to that city by her daughter, Betty Jean, and they will make their home there.

R. W. Fox has returned from Huntington. He was accompanied home by his son, a student at Marshall College.

Ensign Marvin Dill returned to the Naval Air Base at Pensacola, Fla., after spending 15 days with his parents. Mrs. E. O. Dill, Mrs. Lyle McPherson and Mrs. Julian Lightner accompanied him to Charlottesville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Dahmer and fally of Greenbrier county spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Blackhurst.

Mrs. Ray Arrington and Mrs. Norma Meeks attended the funeral of a relative in Covington last week.

—xxx—

LOBELIA NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Williams and Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and family of White Hall, Md., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hodges spent the past week with Mrs. Hodges' mother, Mrs. Lewis Dameron.

Tom Bruffey is seriously ill at his home, and his children, Carl and family of Washington, D. C., Cecil, Ross and Glenn, of Baltimore, Md., are all at his bedside. We wish Mr. Bruffey a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Upton Moore and Homer Bruffey spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kinnison.

The Garden School at Bruffey's Creek, led by T. D. Gray, was of much interest and had a good attendance in spite of rain.

Lobelia Farm Women met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hill for their meeting last Friday. Sixteen members and two visitors were present.

Miss Madeline Hill is hoe for a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hill.

Misses Lynn Kerr and Loraine Beard of Greenbank were callers at the home of Otto Kinnison Sunday afternoon.

Merrell Hodges of East Cleveland, O., is visiting his wife and children.

—xxx—

DURBIN-BARTOW NEWS

W. W. Marshall Dies

W. W. Marshall, 73, died on Friday, May 28, 1943, at his home in West Durbin. He had been in ill health for some time, and suffered a paralytic stroke a few days before his death. He is survived by his wife, and by six children. The four daughters are Mrs. Norma Ashford of Greenbank, Mrs. Viola Wimer of Frank, Mrs. William Miller of Cumberland, Md., and Mrs. R. L. Davids of Washington, D. C.; and the sons are Carodyne Marshall and Clyde Marshall, both of Washington, D. C. Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday, May 30, with the Masonic lodge in charge. Burial was made in the Arbovale cemetery.

Death Claims Mrs. Arbogast

Mrs. Louisa Arbogast, 93, widow of the late John Arbogast, died on Friday, May 28, 1943, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Barner of Bartow. Surviving is another daughter, Mrs. Verdie Townsend of Durbin, and a son, James A. Arbogast of Cambridge Springs, Pa. Services were held on May 30, with Rev. William Pellow of the Nazarene Church in charge, assisted by Rev. M. N. DeHaven of the Arbovale Church. Interment was made in the Arbovale cemetery.

Personals

Mrs. Curtis Gochenour left Monday for St. Petersburg, Fla., to join her husband who is stationed there with the Merchant Marine. She was accompanied as far as Staunton, Va., by Miss Doris Snyder and Eugene Burner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wimer and granddaughter Joan of Marlinton were calling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenna Retrode Sunday.

Willard Taylor returned Monday from Washington, D. C., where he had been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Richards of Cass were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Eades.

Mrs. Jack McCauley is spending some time at the home of Mrs. Leroy Sheets at Oak Hill.

Max Pescuror left Tuesday for Charleston to resume his duties with the State from which he had been released to finish his school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Dice Armstrong and children of Doc Hill, Va., were guests of Mrs. Armstrong's sister, Mrs. G. F. Hull and attended the graduation exercises at Greenbank.

Mrs. A. P. Hull and son Richard of Hightown, Va., were visiting in town the past week and attended the graduation exercises at Greenbank.

Miss Louise Reda spent a few days at Bell Vernon, Pa., with relatives. She returned here Monday accompanied by her niece, Virginia May Da Mascie, who will visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reda.

Mrs. Ted Fowkes left Friday for Milton, where she will spend the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Snyder.

Mrs. Chester Shuman and little son, Chester, Jr., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Shuman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hall Wilson.

Mrs. Leona Warner and daughter Shirley are spending their vacation in Baltimore, Md., with Mrs. Warner's daughter, Mrs. John Bosely.

Misses Margaret and Dickey Duskey returned to Akron Sunday where they are employed.

Mrs. Cora Heltzel of Job and Mrs. John Heltzel of Cumberland, Md., who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. G. F. Hull, returned to Job Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holland and children are spending their vacation at Eddyville, Ky., with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dodd of Lewisburg and Mrs. Verdie Townsend were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Townsend Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vance and family, accompanied by Mrs. Thelma and Eva Vance spent the week-end with relatives at Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Arbogast and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arbogast and family returned to Cambridge Springs, Pa., on Sunday.

Worden Rose of Washington, D. C., spent a few days with his family last week. His daughter, Joan, accompanied her father to Washington on his return.

Jack Nottingham of Dunmore is visiting his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Wheeler this week.

Pvt. Connie Daggett and wife of Clovis, N. M., are visiting in town and vicinity this week.

Carl Henry of the U. S. Navy is visiting at the home of Elza Reynolds at Frank.

Eugene Lantum of the U. S. Navy is spending some time with his family at Frank.

Freddie Ralston of the Navy Air Corps spent Sunday at the home of Elza Reynolds of Frank.

Robert R. Eades spent a short time with his family here the past week, after completing the technical course in the Army Air Force school in Buckhannon. At the expiration of the leave he will report to Wright Field Material Center, Dayton, O.

Hull Collins, formerly of Durbin, completed the engineering course at the Army Air Force school at Buckhannon and is now on duty in the Material Center, at Wright Field.

W. R. "Bill" Sutton of the U. S. Army at Fort Knox, Ky., arrived on Tuesday to spend his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Page Sutton of West Main street.

—xxx—

No quadruped of the K9 contingent used by the Marines, the Army or the Coast Guard is purchased. They're strictly volunteers for the duration, loaned by their masters and mistresses. These dogs are taught to hear and smell and see enemies where humans cannot. They are invaluable at night.

Several K9 training stations are maintained by various branches of our fighting services.

You may not have a dog to send to war but you can send your money. Buy War Bonds.

U. S. Treasury Department

DUNMORE NEWS

Club Meets

The Fairy Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. R. M. Hiner Wednesday, May 26. The meeting on "Penny Canning" was led by Mrs. L. E. Campbell with each member taking part in the discussion. An exhibit of small canning equipment was made by Mrs. Hiner. A demonstration on "Canning Asparagus" was given by Roberta Jane Hiner, a 4-H Club member. Those present were Mrs. John Rummer, Mrs. W. F. McElwee, Mrs. O. J. Campbell, Mrs. L. E. Campbell, Mrs. E. S. Campbell, Mrs. J. J. Noel, Mrs. C. E. Nottingham and Mrs. R. M. Taylor. The visitors were Jane and Ida Hiner, Billy Campbell and Charlotte Nottingham. The hostess served old-fashioned taffy candy.

Garden School

A Garden School was held at the Dunmore school house Wednesday night, May 26, by T. D. Gray and Ben Morgan. The meeting was well attended.

Birthday Dinner

A birthday dinner was given in honor of little Patsy Ann Hall on her seventh birthday, at her home, Saturday, May 29. Those attending were Mrs. Brown Campbell and daughter, Bessie Green, Mrs. Vera Fitzgerald, Charlotte Nottingham, Mrs. L. E. Campbell, Mrs. R. M. Hiner, Jane and Ida Hiner, Mrs. J. L. McLaughlin, Miss Nolia McLaughlin and Mrs. Pat Hall.

4-H Club Meets

The Mountaineer 4-H Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening, May 25. After the meeting the members were entertained by their leader, Mr. Glen Tracy, with a supper in the school lunch room and a wiener roast at the "old swimming hole." Those present were Billy Waugh, Alberta Miller, Cora Sue McElwee, Dorothy, Martha L. E., Evelyn and Wanda Campbell, Alpha Mahaffey, Jo Betty Pritchard, Bob Waugh, Junior Mahaffey, Dickie Griffin, Kathern Campbell and Jackie Miller.

Personals

Misses Mary B. McLaughlin and Icy Ann Dragoo left Saturday for Baltimore where they will be employed.

Mrs. Lori Galford and daughter Emma of Cass spent Sunday, May 30 with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner of Clarksburg spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell of Charleston spent the week-end with Mrs. Bell's brother, J. J. Noel.

Pauline Campbell and Virginia Hevener attended the regional Home Ec Conference in Clarksburg Friday, May 28.

Page Johnson at Great Lakes

GREAT LAKES, Ill., June 3.—Page W. Johnson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Johnson of Marlinton, is a "recruit" in the Navy for the next 16 weeks. He is undergoing school for Marlinton's Men in U. S. Naval Training Station here and will be eligible for a post graduate course upon completion of the 16 weeks. He then will be assigned active duty aboard a ship or base on at a shore station.

Our money is still safe, the tankers in loot forever. And another and another must be taken to take its place.

The men who sail the seas are giving their lives to win the battle of the Atlantic. We are going to lend our money.

Kidneys M... Work W...
For You To Feel
... every day, ... weeks, usual shopping. ... warn matter from the ... If more people were ... Kidneys must constantly ... plus fluid, excess acids and ... matter that cannot stay ... without injury to health. ... better understanding ... whole system is upset when ... to function properly. ... Burning, scanty or too ... pass sometimes warns ... is wrong. You may suffer ... backache, dizziness ... pains, getting up at night ... Why not try Doan's ... be using a medicine ... country over. Doan's stimulate ... flow of the kidneys and ... Get Doan's today. Use ... At all drug stores.
DOAN'S P...

Notice to TAXPAYERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT ALL UNPAID TAX TICKETS FOR THE FIRST HALF OF THE TAX YEAR 1942 HAVE BEEN DRAWING PENALTY INTEREST AT THE RATE OF 9 PER CENT PER ANNUM SINCE DECEMBER 1, 1942; THAT THE LAST HALF OF SAID UNPAID TAX TICKETS ARE DRAWING PENALTY INTEREST AT THE SAME RATE SINCE JUNE 1st.

Delinquent List

FURTHER, THE LAW REQUIRES THAT ALL UNPAID TAX TICKETS MUST BE LISTED AS DELINQUENT AS OF JUNE 1. THIS LIST, BOTH PERSONAL AND REAL ESTATE, MUST BE PUBLISHED AFTER JULY 1, 1943.

WARD HUDSON
Sheriff of Pocahontas County

"Next to wives, sweethearts and letters from home, among things our soldiers mention most is Coca-Cola. Of course, our fighting men meet up with Coke many places overseas. But Coca-Cola got there first. Yes siree, Coca-Cola has been a globe-trotter since way back when. It has been sold in more than 100 foreign lands.

"Even with war and so many Coca-Cola bottling plants in enemy-occupied countries, our fighting men are delighted to find Coca-Cola being bottled right on the spot in so many places around the globe. And do they go for it when they find it! Who doesn't?"

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY MARLINTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

"JOURNAL — BELONGING TO THE DAY"—Webster.

...25—NO. 16 MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1943 PRICE: $1.50 A YEAR

...aunch Campaign For ...rbovale Cemetery Fund

...citors For Arbovale Cemetery Fund

DURBIN
...A. Pritchard, chairman
...L. Williams
...artha Slayton
...Hudson

FRANK
...Collins, chairman
...Hoover

BARTOW
...yder, chairman
...ard
...ie Wilfong

BOYER
...gh, chairman
...on Johnson
... Mullenax

ARBOVALE
...e Sheets, chairman
...nd
...evener
...m
...s
...ols
...e
...ard
...Bours
... Arbogast

REENBANK
... Sheets, chairman
... Woodell
... McCutcheon
... Campbell
...sler
...ean
...s
...ld

CASS
..., chairman
...mah
...ert
...ine
...

...Inefficiency" ... Store-Owners

...k of the retail gro... ...rginia are already ... closed their stores ...pany, according to ... executive secretary ...ginia Association of ...he blames most of ...d the trade directly ...o hats and harness ...ion.

...story," declared Mr. ... a deplorable pe... ...t that in West Vir... ...cent of the retail ... already broke or ...ened to avoid fur... ... OPA regulations ... by bureaucratic ...ng the administra...

...mmunity Association ...has resolved that ...ld be eliminated, ...the payrollers of ...ould for duty with ...Food shortages ...of the past, and ...ers are fond of the ...ssing the OPA, ...e officials in the ...hese groups at the ...

...RK OPENS ...SON

... 25.—Plans ... stage vaudeville ... park here ... will begin on ... June 19, and a ... during July and ... scheduled to ... of stage ... Bruce Gum and Dave Clark. He came to the lights at Cass and told some of his friends about it. Jack Reed painted the sign and went to look for the snake. It was still there and was interested in hiding it. The reptile had two rattles.

...CIVIL SERVICE RECRUITER ...WILL BE HERE ON JUNE 18

...Byrnes, recruiting ... announces from the Fourth U. S. Civil ... Region, with headquarters ... Post Office Building at Ann ... that applications for positions ... non-technical, State, field, ... will be received at the ... Commission's Washington, ... until further notice.

Permanent Care Is Goal of Trustees

Committees Named to Receive Funds in Various Communities.

At a public meeting held last Friday in Arbovale, plans were effected to launch a campaign to secure funds for the upkeep of the Arbovale cemetery. Carl Arbogast, T. L. Brown, W. C. Gillispie and C. E. Flynn are the members of the board of trustees of the cemetery, and in explaining the drive, Mr. Flynn issued the following statement:

"It is said that a community and its people are judged by the condition of its churches, schools, roads, and cemeteries. This is a beautiful section of West Virginia. Our schools are among the best in the state; the improvement and repair of our churches show the interest of our people; the roads are well kept; but what about the burying ground, the final resting place of our friends and loved ones?

"The Arbovale cemetery is well located to serve the people and could be made one of the most beautiful burying grounds in the county if the funds were available to employ a caretaker to look after and keep up the entire cemetery. The original cemetery was deeded to the Deer Creek Union Chapel in 1832 by James Tallman. Later additions have been added from the Arbogast estate. But there never has been any way provided for funds for upkeep. True, many people take care of their own lots or pay someone to take care of them, but there still remains much of the old cemetery and many lots in the new additions that are not kept up. This detracts from the beauty of the sections cared for, and gives to the cemetery as a whole the appearance of a lack of care that is not in keeping with our churches, schools and roads.

"We feel confident you are as much interested in having a beautiful cemetery as you have been in building up these other things, but you have not been given the opportunity. Up to now no way has been worked out so that you could actually share in this worthwhile project. We believe that if enough people will pay $3.00 annually to provide a permanent fund a caretaker can be employed to look after the whole cemetery. However, in order to get the cemetery in shape for mowing and to procure a power mower, we hope there are many people who will contribute at least $5.00 or more for the first two years. Without such funds the cemetery must remain as it is, except for certain lots that are cared for by individuals.

"A card system will be worked out showing the amount each subscriber pays over a two-year period. A statement at the end of each year will show the amount received and the amount spent. Every dollar, except perhaps a small amount for postage, will be spent for the upkeep of the cemetery.

"We beg you to work with us. It will be impossible for us and those working through their local committees to get the necessary funds, unless everybody pulls together. Let's be determined to make Arbovale cemetery one of the most beautiful places in the county.

Make your payment to anyone of the trustees or the members of the committees, or send it direct to E. W. Brown, treasurer, Arbovale, W. Va.

Kill Black Rattler Near Cass

James Wells was surprised as well as amazed when a black rattlesnake crawled across his path on the road between Cass and Deer Creek. He came to the lights at Cass and told some of his friends about it. Jack Reed painted his gun and went to look for the snake. It was still there and was interested in hiding it. The reptile had two rattles.

DEATH ROLL

THOMAS BRUFFEY

Thomas Bruffey died at his home near Lobelia Wednesday, June 2, 1943. Mr. Bruffey was born June 13, 1862. On March 5, 1890, he was united in marriage to Miss Lucy Peck, and they became the parents of five children, as follows: Carl Bruffey of Washington, D. C., Cecil, Glenn and Ross Bruffey, of Baltimore, and another son who died in infancy. The deceased also had four sisters, Mrs. Lysle Whiting of Renick, Mrs. Barnett Grimes and Mrs. Byrd Shiffler of Hillsboro and Mrs. Ida Sarver, of Roanoke, Va.

Mr. Bruffey will be greatly missed in his community. He taught school for 35 years, and was justice of the peace for several years. He also served two terms as sheriff of the county. When a young boy, he united with the church and was a diligent worker in it all of his life thereafter.

The esteem in which he was held by those everywhere who had known him was demonstrated when the largest crowd ever to attend a funeral in his home section came to pay their last tribute of respect to him.

W. W. MARSHALL

William Walker Marshall, son of the late Joseph Marshall, died on May 28, 1943, at his home in Durbin. He was born on December 8, 1869, in Hillsville, Va. He was united in marriage to Hosanna Puckett of Mt. Airy, N. C., on July 16, 1891. To this union were born seven children, who survive, as follows: Mrs. J. F. Ashford of Greenbank, Mrs. Meade Wimer of Frank, Mrs. R. L. Davids of Washington, D. C., Mrs. William Miller of Cumberland, Md., Hayes J., of Bellaire, O., C. C., of Washington, D. C., and William Clyde, also of Washington, D. C. Fifteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Marshall came to Durbin 35 years ago to make his home. He was a true citizen and friend to all. He serves as a justice of the peace and as Mayor of Durbin for several years. He was a member of the Methodist church and attended faithfully as long as his health permitted. Funeral services were conducted at the home on Sunday, May 30, 1943, at 1 p. m., with the members of the Loyal Order of Moose, of which the deceased was a faithful member and officer for 15 years, in charge. Interment was made in the Arbovale cemetery.

Not lost to those that love him,
Not dead, just gone before;
He still lives in our memory
And will forever more.

A. E.

THREE INCORPORATED TOWNS HOLD ELECTION

Three county towns held elections last week, and the fourth incorporated township was scheduled to hold its election this week, and no returns had been received at the Journal's press time. Results in other instances were as follows:

DURBIN

Citizens Ticket—Mayor, J. B. Gragg; recorder, P. F. Eades; councilmen, Dr. George F. Hull, Miss Lelia Little, Howard Mullenax, C. J. Beish and Page Sutton.

MARLINTON

Citizens Ticket—Mayor, Carl L. Sheets; recorder, J. W. Hill; councilmen, J. M. Bear, W. L. Davis, Walter Mason, Dice Grimes and E. H. Wade.

CASS

Mayor, W. F. Anderson; recorder, W. H. Fulks; councilmen, Dr. U. H. Hannah, J. B. Galford, Jake Maury, J. C. Graves, C. R. Shrader.

Hillsboro was scheduled to hold its election Tuesday, June 8.

xxx

County Hit By Damaging Rain and Hail Storms; Farmer Struck by Lightning

Heavy rain and hail storms struck different sections of Pocahontas county Saturday and Sunday, damaging crops and buildings, and endangering the lives of citizens.

Near Hillsboro, Herbert Hill and his mother were doing up the chores around the barn on Saturday evening when a heavy electrical storm broke. They took refuge in the barn to await abatement of the downpour, and a bolt of lightning struck the barn on the opposite side from where they were standing. The barn was split, but did not catch fire. However, Mr. Hill was knocked to the ground by the force of the lightning bolt. A doctor was called, but the victim recovered almost immediately and apparently suffered no ill effects from the experience.

Reports also stated that heavy rain and hail storms swept through the Sheets Hills and Wesley Chapel sections Saturday evening, washing away fences and gardens, and the large and irregular hailstones damaged crops and buildings.

Only moderate rainfall came to Marlinton, and no damage was reported here.

xxx

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Olof G. Olsen, Pastor

Whitsunday, June 13, Holy Communion at 11 a. m.

Church school at 10 a. m.

xxx

A FEW MORE RED CROSS NAMES

Woman's Auxiliary of Liberty Presbyterian Church $5, Mr. and Mrs. John Gum $5, Mr. and Mrs. Grat Slaven $2, Ralph Matheny $1, Howell Riley $1, and Robert Elliott $1.

To Assemble Wool Pool Next Week

Highest Prices in History to Be Paid For Wool in 1943 Pool; Clear Medium, 56.76 Cents.

POCAHONTAS HAS LARGEST WOOL POOL IN STATE

District Managers Will Assist With Transportation Problems.

Assembling and grading of Pocahontas County's cooperative wool pool will take place on June 18 and 19 at Marlinton, with all wool to be on hand by 10 a.m. on June 19, Ben Morgan, county agricultural agent, reports.

E. L. Shaw, representing the State Department of Agriculture, will be in charge of the grading, and he will be assisted by County Agent Morgan. A total of 7,218 fleeces are listed in this county's 1943 wool pool with a total weight of approximately 35,600 pounds.

Grading Demonstration

Colonel Shaw, who has assisted in handling the marketing of the state wool pools for a number of years, will, in addition to the grading, give a demonstration in classifying the wool, taking out rejects, and explaining to sheepmen and other farmers who are present the basis of classification and why certain fleeces are graded as "rejects." All farmers who have pooled their wool, or others who raise sheep on their farms are urged to attend the demonstration and learn the things they can do to improve the quality of their clips.

The entire state wool pool has been sold to a Boston, Mass., firm at substantially higher prices than the 1942 pool which broke all previous high marks. Clear medium wool this year will bring 56.76 cents a pound or 3.45 cents more per pound than it did in 1942. Rejects will bring 48.76 cents this year, while fine staple will sell for 45.76 cents per pound. Fine clothing wool will bring 40.76 cents, mohair 50 cents, and tags 15 cents a pound.

There are 83,958 fleeces in this year's state pool or approximately 425,000 pounds of wool. Of this total, about 5,200 pounds are mohair, according to Benjamin F. Creech, Extension animal husbandman of the West Virginia University College of Agriculture.

Pocahontas county has the largest pool in the state this year, being followed closely by Ritchie county.

Wool producers, who have pooled their wool, and who contemplate trouble in finding transportation for their wool to Marlinton on either of the above named days, should see their district manager. These managers are as follows: Cam Beard, Hillsboro; Ollie Jackson, Marlinton; Hevener Dilley, Huntersville; Howard Hevener, Arbovale, and H. L. Stokes, Durbin.

It is sincerely regretted, Mr. Morgan states, that it will be impossible to accept any wool that has not been officially consigned and accepted by the state wool marketing association.

xxx

To Repeat Church Play

The play, "Mrs. Wigglesworth Gets Religion," will be repeated at the Baptist Church on June 13, at 8 p. m. The play is being repeated because of the many requests which have been received.

xxx

Robert Sharp Promoted

Corporal James E. "Bob" Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Sharp of Marlinton, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant, according to information from Miami Beach, Fla., where Sgt. Sharp is stationed.

Uncle "Pud" Tucker

— Says —

By HOY McCUSKEY

BOBTAIL THOUGHTS

● About all the comfort a man has left these days is his bedroom slippers.

● The number Seventeen Shoe Coupon business has certainly cut the corn crop considerable.

● In the old days the wimen jumped when the men grumbled about the food at the dinner table. Nowadays with the wimen in charge of the Ration Books—it's the men who are doin' all the jumpin'.

● Speakin' of Stubbornness: We still believe a golf ball has it all over John L. Lewis.

● The rainbow coloring June has been known as the "Month of Roses" — It's a different month these days—it's the month to buy Victory Bonds and Stamps.

IT Impresses ME

THAT one of the most charming hotels to be found anywhere is the General Lewis at Lewisburg . . . and the courteous treatment which goes along with the beauty of the surroundings is indeed refreshing . . . One would think, however, that our little woman had never been away from home before if one were to judge by her child-like enjoyment of the high old antique bed which was a part of the furnishings of our room . . . The novelty of climbing first onto a stool and then on up into the high bed so intrigued her that it called for two or three trial climbs in and out of bed just for the fun of the thing! . . .

★

It's A Sight!—

To see Trooper L. V. Minnick on a bicycle . . .

★

To see Mrs. Ada Herold working around her place—with boots on . . .

★

To see Peggy Smith the sedate high school teacher swinging her foot into the aisle all through a motion picture . . .

★

To see Mary Elizabeth Hamrick and little son Kenneth taking turns swinging each other in the old-fashioned rope swing . . . the performance is all there—even to the "run-under" . . .

★

To see how swell a fellow like Marvin Dill of Cass can look in his Naval officer's uniform — sporting a new set of "golden wings" . . .

★

THAT now I'm in for it . . . After teaching a couple of new goats to eat from my hand at the fence to the Hamrick barn lot, Doc Hamrick has now returned my first love, Nanny, to the lot . . . And the proverbial one-armed paperhanger with the itch could be no busier than I am trying to pull bites of grass for three goats and a sheep . . . and with a couple of kids edging nearer to the fence at each session! . . .

★

THAT one of the most becoming traits of any young person (or old either, for that matter), is that of having good manners . . . as a case in point out of the life of one of our fine young boys we have recently observed the splendid manners of Allen Young of Hamilton Addition . . .

★

Heh! Heh! . . .

A certain woman who is something of a politician, but with little true knowledge of the issues involved, noting that 700,000 defense workers had been frozen on their jobs says that she thinks it is about time a new fuel administration was appointed.

—The Editor.

Lessons Worth Learning

1. Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

2. Learn to attend strictly to your own business.

3. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.

4. Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

5. Learn to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.

6. Learn to avoid all ill-natured remarks and everything likely to create friction.

7. Learn to hide your aches and pains under a smile. No one cares whether you have the earache, headache, or rheumatism.

8. Learn to stop grumbling. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

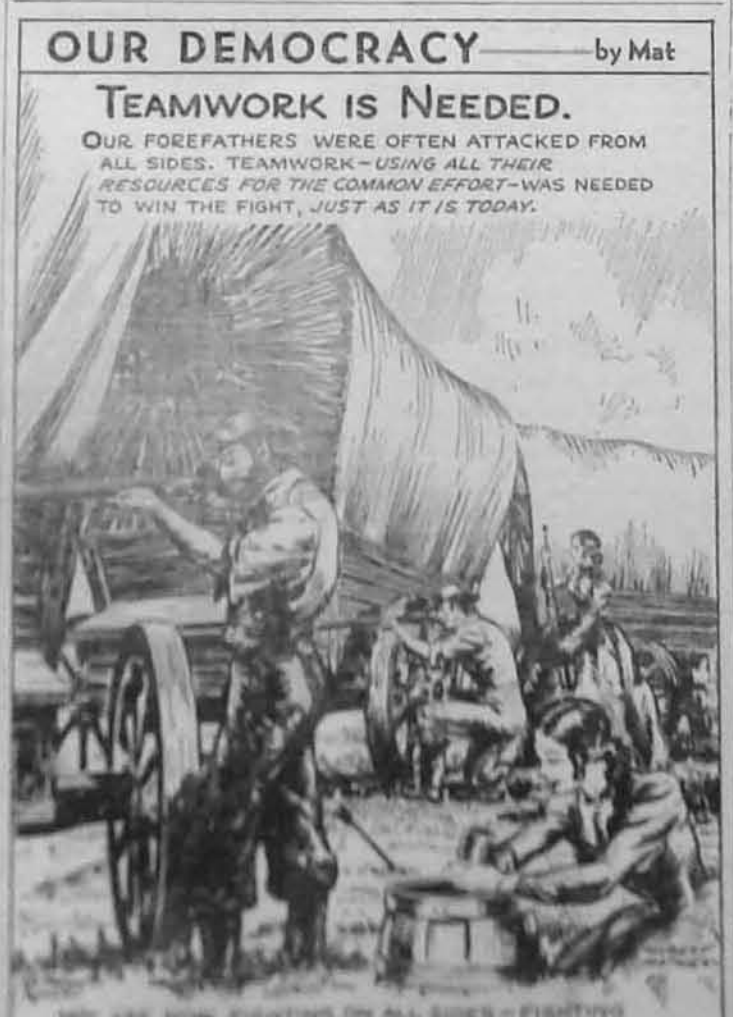
—Contributed.

Flag Service Sunday Night At Presbyterian Church

The Marlinton Presbyterian church will feature a flag service at the 8 o'clock meeting next Sunday night, June 13, and will dedicate the American and the Christian flags which have been procured and will be presented to the members of the church and congregation who are in the country's armed forces.

Al the service, J. N. Beard, chairman of the committee, will present a tablet to the church bearing the names of the service men. The families of the men are expected to be present, and the public is cordially invited to attend the presentation. It is announced by the Rev. J. C. Wood, pastor of the church.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

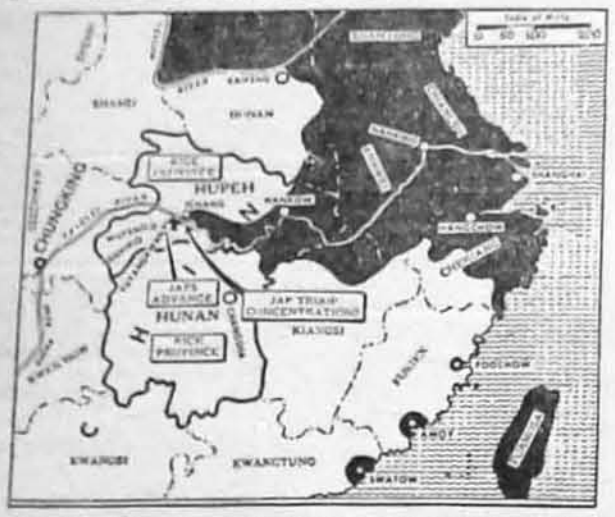


WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Super War Board Spurs National Effort; Russians Press New Caucasus Drive; Dual-Threat Allied Bomb War Blasts Nazi War Plants and Italian Ports

[EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.]

Released by Western Newspaper Union.



Up the Yangtze river toward China's capital Chungking a powerful Jap offensive had moved. The area in black on the map above indicates the forward extent of the Jap movement. Although Chinese troops succeeded in blunting the drive at various points, the menace to China's future participation in the war still remained.

EUROPE:
Bombs Move Factories

As Allied bombers continued to plummet destruction on Axis European industrial and transportation centers, evidence mounted that the Nazis were seeking to cushion the impact of these raids by moving their war industries to less vulnerable spots in Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

The dispersal of German industry eastward was further indicated by the fact that Allied reconnaissance had disclosed no effort to repair or clear such key installations as the Focke-Wulf aircraft works in Bremen or the Renault plant near Paris wrecked by Allied bombs weeks ago.

Grimly and steadily, however, the Allied airmen continued their mission of disaster as Axis city after city was checked off the schedule. Examples of this thorough job were Duesseldorf and Dortmund, coal and transportation centers of northwestern Germany, where 4,000 tons of bombs were dropped on successive nights by the RAF. The munitions-making city of Essen was likewise blasted again, while daring RAF Mosquito bomber pilots penetrated to the central German city of Jena, home of the Zeiss factories making optical instruments for the Nazis.

Meanwhile, invasion's prelude was paced by a series of port-wrecking raids by U. S. and British planes from French Africa on Italian shipping cities.

CHINA:
Jap Drives Menace

Chinese official observers had frequently warned United Nations headquarters that a collapse of their resistance against Japan was possible unless Allied air and military aid was speeded up.

The stark truth of these warnings became evident as a four-pronged Japanese drive along the Yangtze river had reached within only 275 miles of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's capital of Chungking.

Doggedly the Chinese defenders had contested every mile of territory with the invaders, even winning local successes in some areas, notably below where Chiang's soldiers had blunted the enemy drive.

But the threat of Nippon's might was still poised within striking distance of Chungking and the Allied high command still faced the problem of abating that threat.

RUBBER:
Strikers Go Back

Back to their jobs in Akron, Ohio, stemmed 21,000 rubber workers following a sort ultimatum from President Roosevelt that ended a five-day strike stopping essential synthetic rubber production.

Viewing the walkouts "inexcusable" and a "flagrant violation of the patriotic pledge," the President had warned that "necessary steps would be taken to protect the nation's interests" unless the strikes were terminated. The President action after the dispute was certified to him by the War Labor board.

Earlier, national CIO officials had urged the strikers to return to their jobs.

MOBILIZATION:
Super Board Formed

President Roosevelt's appointment of James F. Byrnes as director of the newly formed Office of War Mobilization meant that now the home front would be marshalled behind the war program on a scale hitherto undreamed of.

Coming after the historic series of conferences between the President and Prime Minister Churchill of Britain the establishment of the Office of War Mobilization marked a significant milestone. For now the responsibility for production, procurement, transportation and distribution of military as well as civilian supplies, materials and products was vested in one man—James F. Byrnes and the committee working with him. That committee included Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox, Harry Hopkins and WPB Director Donald M. Nelson and Judge Fred M. Vinson who succeeded Byrnes as economic stabilization director.

RUSSIA:
Red Power Rises

After the Nazis had tested the Reds' mettle on four separate sectors from Veliki Luki on the north to the Caucasus on the south, the Russians themselves provided the fireworks by hurling 150,000 infantry and tank men in a vast assault against the Axis Kuban lines in the Caucasus.

While early Russian accounts of this movement were characteristically laconic, a Berlin radio dispatch conceded that the first Russian waves had thrust the German lines back more than a mile on the Kuban front protecting Novorossisk and added that Nazi defenses were taking a terrific battering everywhere along their last remaining Caucasus foothold. Berlin said the Reds employed 10 divisions, at least 170 tanks, 200 planes and strong artillery forces.

Whether this Russian move heralded the long-awaited summer battle was still a matter of conjecture among observers.

UNITY:
French Leaders Agree

Unification of French leadership with all conflicting forces submerged in the grand task of liberating the empire was a dream that had had many nightmare interruptions. But with a spirit of give and take evident among the Giraud and DeGaulle forces themselves and with persistent urging from the United States and Britain, the dream had become a reality.

Gen. Charles DeGaulle, Fighting French leader, hailed the new era in a radio broadcast on the eve of his historic trip from London to Algiers to meet General Giraud.

"Union of the empire will be accomplished," he said. "When it is realized how this is done in the face of difficulties . . . then one's respect for France and one's faith in her destiny will become even greater . . . We have paid heavily enough for our absent division to be convinced we shall emerge from the abyss only by uniting."

CASUALTIES:
U. S. Losses Light

Balancing Axis versus American casualties in the Tunisian campaign, Secretary of War Stimson found the scales overwhelmingly in favor of the United States. The North African victory cost the United States 18,559 casualties, including 3,184 killed, 9,437 wounded and 6,937 missing or taken prisoner.

Axis casualties amounted to 323,000, or 18 times the American total. German and Italian losses included 20,000 men killed and 28,400 wounded, with another 266,000 taken prisoner. In comparison, over-all Allied losses were less than 70,000.

In addition to prisoners, the Allies captured tremendous quantities of military supplies, including large numbers of aircraft and many naval vessels, he said. Despite small American losses Stimson said the Tunisia campaign had developed nothing to cause the high command to reduce its manpower estimates under which the army is expected to total 8,200,000 men.

ALEUTIANS:
Cleanup on Attu

Even as a senatorial committee was digesting a report that Japan would send a naval and land invasion force against continental United States this summer, American forces in the Aleutians were pursuing a relentless cleanup of enemy detachments on Attu island.

Purveyor of the tidings of Jap offensive intentions was Kilsoo K. Haan, Washington representative of the Korean National Front federation, who had established a record for prophecy by warning two months in advance of Jap plans to attack Pearl Harbor. Burden of Haan's report was that Admiral Tojo had disclosed plans for this offensive at a party in Tokyo at which Korean spies had been present.

In the Attu engagements, bayonets and hand grenades in the hands of American infantrymen had taken the place of trench mortars and automatic rifles, as the few resisting enemy were pressed into a narrow area from which escape was impossible.

WHITE HOUSE:
African Precedent

The late Booker T. Washington had been a dinner guest of President Theodore Roosevelt in 1901, but Edwin T. Barclay, president of Liberia, was the first member of the Negro race to spend the night in the White House as the nation's guest.

Head of the Negro republic of Liberia founded by repatriated African freemen after the Civil war, Barclay was repaying President Roosevelt's visit to him after the Casablanca conference last January. Including his meeting with high government officials and members of the cabinet, as well as his address before the house and senate, President Barclay received the full honors accorded all top-ranking foreign dignitaries.

RAIL WAGES:
Nonoperators Upped

Wage increases of eight cents an hour recommended by an emergency fact-finding board of the National Railway Labor board panel for more than 900,000 nonoperating employees will increase the rail industry's annual wage bill by approximately $204,000,000, authoritative transportation sources estimated.

The 15 nonoperating unions had asked an increase of 20 cents an hour, with a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour and the union shop. The board declined to recommend these proposals. Subject only to approval by Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, the board's recommendations were retroactive to February 1.

The wage increases, a report of the board said, are "the minimum noninflationary adjustments necessary to correct gross inequities and to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

'NEW DIKES':
To Stem Inflation

From the obscurity in which his retirement had shrouded him, Leon Henderson, former OPA director, emerged to warn the nation that "another set of dikes" is needed to dam what he called the rising tide of threatened inflation in the United States.

"New dikes, new types of controls, new kinds of exercise of power over production and distribution and over credit are bound to be needed," he said in a speech before the National Association of Purchasing Agents' convention.

Henderson declared that if congressional, private or executive action "are insufficient to dam the flood of hot spending power," a credit control agency "is plainly indicated and cannot long be avoided."

WAR PROFITS:
Contractors Curbed

Smaller profit margins for war contractors loomed ahead as the war department's price adjustment board reported the elimination of nearly $3,000,000,000 of what it termed excess profits through the renegotiation of scrap contracts.

The savings to the government represented readjustments on contracts covering 1941 and 1942 business to date. It was estimated that 1943 savings would be bigger.

BIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

BANK HOLIDAYS: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur were appointed honorary knights of the Grand Cross (Military Division) of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath by King George of England.

FLOOD AID: Expenditure of $5,000,000 for rehabilitation work in the flood-stricken areas of the Mississippi River was proposed by Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois.

LANDING CRAFT: President Roosevelt signed legislation authorizing the construction of one million tons of landing craft and special boats at a cost of $1,100,000,000.

SUGGESTED: The Justice Committee of Conference of Citizens, Cincinnati, asked the city council to adopt a resolution discouraging the use of words from the word "Jap-o-nica."

TO YOUR Good Health
by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CANCER DELAY

Just as we are congratulating ourselves that knowledge of cancer was making great headway not only in America but throughout the world, it comes as a shock that cancer authorities state that "the public education on the cancer problem is inadequate and ineffective." We have naturally been thinking that as more people now live to the cancer age, this is the cause of the increase of cancer, which is true to a great extent. However, that more could and should be done, in fact is absolutely necessary, if we are to reduce the cancer death rate, is more knowledge of cancer. Thus the slogan "Fight Cancer with Knowledge" is timely.

Dr. Barton

That knowledge of cancer is greatly needed is the statement in the Journal of the American Medical Association, by Drs. Charles R. Harms, Jules A. Plant and Ashley W. Cughterson, New Haven, Conn.

In the study of the causes of delay in obtaining treatment by 155 patients, it was found that only about one-fourth of the patients had read about cancer and that all but two of these had obtained their information from newspapers and popular magazines. Only two admitted reading public health pamphlets.

"Delay in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer is one of the most important factors in the failure to obtain results by the methods now available—radium, X-rays and surgery."

What is considered delay insofar as the patient and physician are concerned?

This depends to some extent on location of the cancer, as a cancer on the skin or where it can be seen easily will not take as long to recognize as cancer inside the body.

Delay by the patient. This consists in having persistent symptoms for one month or longer before consulting a physician.

Delay by the physician. This consists in the waiting for any period longer than three weeks after the patient is first seen during which a diagnosis may be announced or a consultation with another physician or cancer specialist requested.

• • •

Salt Reduction Aid In Meniere's Disease

A recent valuable discovery is that most cases of Meniere's disease—hard of hearing, head noises, dizziness, nausea and vomiting—are due to "waterlogging" or swelling of a part of the hearing system. By cutting down on liquids and salty foods most of these cases obtain relief from these symptoms.

Just what causes this swelling or waterlogging in the ear is not definitely known. Dr. W. E. Grove, Milwaukee, in Annals of Ear, Nose and Throat, suggests that the swelling may be due to allergy—sensitiveness to foods or other substances—just as swelling occurs in other tissues due to allergy. Swelling may also be due to lack of certain vitamins in the food, or to the lack of a sufficient amount of some gland extract in the system.

It is fortunate that while the search for the cause of these symptoms continues, so much relief can be obtained by the medical treatment by histamine and by avoiding foods rich in salt.

Foods to avoid because they contain too much salt are: salted butter, ordinary bread, crackers, eggs, milk, spinach, carrots, oatmeal and all corned, pickled, smoked or salted foods.

Foods that can be eaten because they contain very little salt are: apples, asparagus, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, lettuce, grapes, oranges, lemons, sugar, jelly, unsalted butter and unsalted bread.

There are of course some cases where the histamine and food treatment gives little or no relief. What can be done for these cases because the symptoms are distressing and weakening?

Surgery is now used where medical and diet treatment fail, or for those who for economic or other reasons cannot be kept on a supervised treatment for a long time and for patients whose occupation interferes with obtaining benefit from medical or diet treatment because of carelessness in following a prescribed routine.

• • •

HEALTH BRIEFS

Q.—I have two spots on my face. I would like to know how to cure them.

A.—I'm sorry, but I try not to prescribe for individual ailments. One visit to a skin specialist will tell what ailment is and treatment for it.

Q.—On your reducing diet which appears from time to time, how much is meant by one pat of butter?

A.—A pat usually means I inch by one inch by one-quarter inch—130 calories.

Washington Digest

Army's Greatest Hazard? It's Question of Morale

Armed Services Do Everything Possible to Protect Mental Health of Servicemen; Parents Advised to Cooperate.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

What's the greatest hazard your boy must meet when he joins the army? Not the weapon of the enemy. We know only a very tiny percentage of those who don the uniform succumb to that.

It's the mental hazard.

Take it from a man who met it and who, since, has read the alarming figures which show the war's (any war's) mental casualties.

And to meet that mental hazard you need just one thing—mental health.

Let me quote a few words on the subject of morale from one of the books which the army and the navy and the wise ones in other professions say is a wonderful protection for the mental health of the boy who joins the army.

That book is paper bound. It costs 35 cents. It is called "Our Armed Forces." It has a lot of pictures in it and a lot of sound sense. It is printed by the presses of the Infantry Journal, 1115 17th street, Washington, D. C. It is not sold for profit.

And here is what it says on the subject of morale. (As I say on the air, "I'm quoting"):

"Morale is an important quality of citizenship in the crises of peace, when the internal security of the nation is threatened. It is even more important in war, when the very existence of the nation hangs in the balance. It is, therefore, an objective of army and navy leadership to build a high degree of morale in the soldier and sailor.

About Habits

"The state of mind we call morale has its roots in long-established habits of thinking and acting. A student seated alone in his room, bent seriously over his books, may be tackling his studies with a high degree of morale. He believes what he is doing is worth while. He is determined to overcome whatever difficulties the subject matter offers. He works with a self urge. He gives up the picture show and the ball game if doing so is necessary for success. He has confidence in his ability to acquire the knowledge and skill he is seeking. In the undertaking of hundreds of similar duties in the ordinary routine of living is created the intangible virtue called morale. The young man who enters the armed services may therefore bring with him the basis for the morale upon which his success as a soldier and the ultimate victory of our nation so greatly depend.

"While morale has its roots in the character of the individual and his past experience, it may be greatly strengthened by association and close co-operation with others who are engaged in the same enterprise. Morale is contagious. It is a quality easily transmitted from one person to another. The serviceman receives his uniform. It is the symbol of his dedication. With it he becomes part of the great tradition. Behind him into history is a long line of those who have been so dedicated. The men who walked barefoot in the snow at Valley Forge. The Green Mountain boys with Ethan Allen, thundering at the gates of Ticonderoga. Calm men in the gun turrets at Manila Bay. Marines at Guadalcanal . . . Chateau Thierry . . . Tripoli. Helmeted fliers of a torpedo squadron at Midway. Through the procession of heroes, still bright as it recedes into distant time, has been handed down the great tradition."

Environment

Now when Johnny Doughboy joins up, he changes his habits of life as much as Christopher Columbus would have to change his if he came back and took a job managing a big, modern corporation, or riding herd on a bunch of long-horns or bossing a section gang. It would be tough for Chris to adapt himself to his environment. If he couldn't manage it, he would probably go haywire and blow his top. The dinosaur and some of his fellow prehistorics who couldn't adjust themselves to their environment retired permanently to positions in museums. Man, some men that is, adjusted. They took the ice age, the floods and the famine in their strides and here they are oh-ing and ah-ing at the dead mastodons who weren't as adept at "fitting in"—that's all there is to it. "fitting in," getting on with the job who have sat down to your three times a day as regularly the clock, miss the show when who have had a kind and mother or teacher looking after private troubles are suddenly faced with sharing the troubles of squad or company or squadron.

Now, how are you going to adjust yourself to this sudden change?

In the first place, you have to understand why everything is topsy-turvy. Why you, a free American citizen, who did as pleased when and how it pleased him, suddenly have to get up to bugle, keep step, salute, eat, drink, walk, run, crawl when somebody else says so.

The first thing you have to realize is the purpose ahead. The whole thing is why other people who never see insist on achieving that purpose the way they do, regardless of your convenience or your desire the post office.

Your Own Orders

"Your government controls the armed forces." That means that the men your folks elected, just the way it was planned by the makers of America, are really the ones who are telling you what to do. That means, if you follow through, that you yourself and your folks are helping you.

I chose that phrase because it heads chapter two in this book "Our Armed Forces" I'm talking about. You had better read it.

The next chapter is called "The Army." And you had better read that too because it tells you something of what to expect. I won't go any further and really I could have been talking all this time to parents, too, for they, of all people, ought to know what the boy is up against. What it is all about. Many of the great tragedies of life for a soldier is the way the folks at home don't understand it at all. They think their job is to feel sorry for you; they don't understand that an extra stripe really means that you can't get you when you take a furlough home and the things you want to do, hear about and they write letters telling you how noble you are. You don't feel noble. You want to help paint the barn has been painted or that the girl has been around lately. You would, though, like them to have some faint idea about this altogether unpleasant job of being a soldier. That's why it would be a good thing if your folks would read this book.

• • •

Broadcaster's Diary

As I came to work this morning, a little late and right in the middle of the crowds of war workers coming down to their offices, I suddenly struck with the fact that the change in Washington which we have become used to is typical of the changes that are going on all over America.

I was walking down 18th street. That sounds prosaic but it is a street of beautiful mansions, many of them historic. It sweeps up the Maryland countryside over a hill and up another crest from which you can look down, through a canopy of ancient trees to the Mall at the end which is the White House and the statue of General Jackson on his rearing horse silhouetted against the sky.

This morning, as I say, the sidewalks were swarming out of the houses—they are boarding houses now for work. I glanced up as I passed the sedate old home, the white marble steps decorously draped over the entrance up whose curving drive no more horse and carriage and later the limousine have swept to meet milady de Pompadour.

I peeped, indecorously, through the beautiful leaded windows into the dining room. It was filled with desks, the tables, the cloths stained and the glorious but too hurriedly eaten morning coffee.

I thought a moment. The corner of Delaware avenue and L street, N. E., and High street look after the change. Those neatly cropped lawns have been an iron deer or two if they haven't gone into the scrap collection campaign?

Sic transit gloria—but perhaps the past glory will be replaced by something more glorious. We

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

In Washington there is a share-the-taxicab system. The driver takes as many people as he can going in the same direction. It used to be called the "pick-up" system. The name changed but not the practice. It's still a great date-maker.

• • •

The Victory gardeners who have suffered from "cultivation" call the jack rabbits "jap rabbits."

A black market potato was photographed by a newspaper member in front of a fine home in Washington. Spud-laggers are trying.

• • •

In the District of Columbia it is legal to take a drink of liquor standing up. Some people who are sitting down can't stand up to it anywhere.

WANT SOMETHING

ADVERTISE FOR IT IN THESE COLUMNS

We are always ready to serve you with good printing. No matter what the nature of the job may be we are ready to do it at a price that will be satisfactory.

Let Us Meet Your SERVICE STATION NEEDS
Conoco Gasoline and Oil—Fine Full Line of Auto Parts — Also Soft Drinks and Tobacco
CENTRAL SERVICE STATION
Fred Burns, Prop. Marlinton

There's No Convenience LIKE A TELEPHONE
It Shortens Distance Like a Magic Carpet
POCAHONTAS TELEPHONE CO.
Offices Marlinton, W. Va.

Good Work Is Our Specialty

Are You In Need of TAGS
CARDS
BLANKS
FOLDERS
DODGERS
RECEIPTS
ENVELOPES STATEMENTS
BILL HEADS
INVITATIONS
PACKET HEADS LETTER HEADS

PRINTING

Call at This Office

MASON'S BEVERAGES are a GOOD DELIGHT ON ANY DAY!
Distributed By
MARLINTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
Walter Mason, Prop. Marlinton

FOR YOUR FARM NEEDS at GAS — OIL — AND GREASE
—See—
"Bun the Caraway Man"
E. A. HAMILTON
Phone 23-J-2 - Marlinton
Distributed by Williams & Pifer Co.)

Got Something You Want to Sell?

What people have a piece of furniture, a farm implement, or something else which they have discarded and which they no longer want.

These things are put in the attic, or stored away in the barn, or left lying about, getting of less and less value each year.

WHY NOT SELL THEM?

Somebody, among those who live things which have become of no use to you, who are in need that furniture.

BY PUTTING A WANT AD IN THIS NEWSPAPER!

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

Fun Ahead

GRAND wardrobe for youngsters who get into everything. The smock for looks . . . the overall and playsuit for fun.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1628-B designed for sizes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. Size 3 overall requires 1¼ yards 35-inch material, smock 1½ yards, playsuit ¾ yard.

Junior Two-Piece

A REALLY luscious little two-piece for the junior miss. Hug-me-tight jacket with nicely fulled skirt. Cute collar and cuffs.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1806-B designed for sizes 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15. Corresponding bust measurements 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33. Size 10 (32) requires, with short sleeves, 3 yards 35-inch material; ¾ yard contrast.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago.
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

JUST RESTING

More Alike

Visitor (to host's chauffeur)—It certainly took you a long time to find me. Didn't your master tell you how to recognize me?

Chauffeur—Yes, sir, but there were several men with large stomachs and red noses.

New Steno (following rapid dictation): "Now, Mr. Jones, what did you say between 'Dear Sir' and 'Sincerely yours'?"

Heart's Desire

Waiter—How would you like your rice, madam?

Spinster (wistfully)—Thrown at me!

No Chance

"I saw the doctor today about my loss of memory."
"What did he do?"
"Made me pay in advance."

Unselfish

Mrs. Tiltsnoot—Why are you leaving us like this, Nora?

Nora—Indade, an' me reasons are philanthropic, mum. Oi want to give some wan else a chancet at th' joys o' livin' wid yez!

Took It and Left

"So you didn't marry John because of your mother's advice?"

"Yes, she gave him so much of it that he stopped calling."

These days you've got to dig your garden. You can't just turn it over in your mind.

Smart Boy

Teacher—Why, Bobby, do you mean to say you wouldn't like to be President?

Bobby—Not just now. I'd rather wait until things cool down a bit.

If you were to say the first bugle call of the day in the Army is "Reveille"—you'd be wrong. It's "First Call." But you probably know what cigarette gets first call with Army men—it's Camel. And Camel is the favorite with men in all branches of the service—Navy, Marines, Coast Guard, too. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are. —Adv.

Shipbuilding Stepped Up Some Since Early 1200s

Mr. Henry Kaiser's achievements in ship production make an interesting contrast with the building of British warships a century ago.

A 74-gun ship named Bienfaisant was laid down at Woolwich Dockyard in 1811 but not launched until 1848. The 80-gun Worcester was started at Deptford in 1818, finished the shortening period in 1831, but remained on the ways until 1843.

Two ships named Royal Sovereign were also in the slow-motion class. The first began at Portsmouth in 1823, and had her name altered to Royal Frederick six years later. Another 20 years went by, with very little work done, before she was resumed again, this time Frederick William. Finally, as a screw ship, she took the water in 1860.

The other Royal Sovereign was started in the same dockyard in 1864. Three years later the Admiralty decided to cancel the work altogether, but they soon changed their minds, and 1857 saw the ship afloat at last.

Names of Pullmans

The name of a Pullman car indicates its capacity and interior construction so that trains can be made up quickly to specific requirements, says Collier's. Cars in the "City" series, for example, have an 18-roomette capacity. Cars in the "Lake" series are divided into 10 sections, two compartments and a drawing room.

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A quiz with answers offering information on various subjects

The Questions

1. The right of the state to take property for public use is called what?
2. What is another name for the gladiolus?
3. Whose motto was: "Better to live a day as a lion than 100 years as a sheep?"
4. What was the first of President Wilson's 14 points?
5. For what country did John Paul Jones serve as a rear admiral after the Revolutionary war?
6. Where is bilge water found?
7. What name is given to a company whose main business is the owning of stocks or securities of other companies?
8. Does England receive any taxes or other kind of tribute from her dominions?
9. What is the difference between a prisoner of war and a prisoner of state?
10. Into how many zones of latitude and temperature is the world divided?

The Answers

1. Eminent domain.
2. Sword lily.
3. Mussolini.
4. Open covenants openly arrived at.
5. Russia.
6. At the bottom of boats.
7. Holding company.
8. England does not receive any taxes or any kind of tribute from the different dominions, colonies, protectorates, dependencies and mandated territories that constitute the British Commonwealth of Nations.
9. A prisoner of war is entrusted when the war is ended but a prisoner of state has to stand trial after the war.
10. Five—north frigid, north temperate, torrid, south temperate, south frigid.

PERFECT GROOMING
MOROLINE HAIR TONIC

Victory of the Will
Victory is a thing of the will.—General Foch.

INSPIRATIONAL LUMINOUS CROSS
(Glows beautifully in darkness)
Made of plastic. Self standing size, over all, height 4 9/16", width 2 9/16". Absorbs LIGHT and gives off a beautiful GLOW in darkness. Reminds and patronizes. Sold by local church groups. Write for terms. MAIL ORDERS FILLED. No C. O. D. Satisfaction Guaranteed.
CROSSES — 3 for $1.00
"Limited quantities with "coupon"
(Fund Raising Opportunities for Church Groups. Quantity discounts given) GOLD—Post Office Box 13, Station K New York, N. Y.

AFTER DEATH!
(TWENTY EXCITING CHAPTERS)
Over 500,000 Copies Sold!
GOSPEL ART SHOPPE, Dept. H, Bowen, Ia.

Kool-Aid
KOOL-AID Makes 10 BIG DRINKS! 5¢ 7 Flavors

TABASCO
The smartest seasoning known, and the world's most widely distributed food product! A dash of this piquant sauce gives a rare flavor to any food.
TABASCO — the seasoning secret of master chefs for more than 75 years!

AROUND THE HOUSE

The space beside the freezing unit is the best spot in the refrigerator for storing milk.

• • •

Here is a way to prevent loose casters from dropping from the furniture when it is moved about. Put melted paraffin in the hole and insert the caster before it is set.

• • •

Use a potato ricer to squeeze out that hot compress. With it you can use water much hotter than your bare hands can stand.

• • •

Yellowed ivory knife handles can be whitened by rubbing them with turpentine.

• • •

Strong soap suds and hot water will remove stains from pewter which has become discolored and dark.

To save time and hosiery, just rub paraffin on the inside of the toes of your stockings. You will have no darning to do for a long time and one application lasts through many launderings.

• • •

An old orange wood stick from your manicure kit will be found helpful to get at the dirt in the corners when washing windows or floors.

• • •

To make sterilized bandages at home, tear a clean old sheet into strips, roll them and then place in an airtight jar. Suspend the jar in water and allow the water to become boiling hot for several minutes.

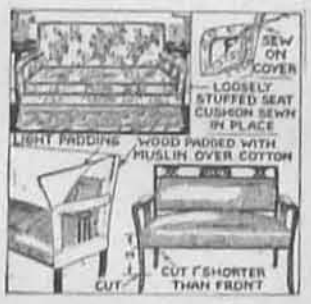
• • •

To lengthen the service of a broom, as it wears down, cut 1 or 2 rows of the stitching.

• • •

Dirty clothespins leave their mark on otherwise clean clothes, and once in, the dirt is difficult to remove. Tub pins in warm, soapy water once a month, dry them in the sun and store them in a spotlessly clean bag from washday to washday. They deserve good care especially in wartime.

ON THE HOME FRONT with RUTH WYETH SPEARS



MANY a bride today is doing her furniture shopping in second hand stores where she finds a choice selection of the over-elaborate discards. These are not antiques and it takes a discerning eye to see any possibilities of beauty in them. The trick is in figuring out good proportions and modern comfort.

Chintz covers will hide padding over woodwork and carving. Legs may be cut off to give a low seat and if the back legs are cut a little shorter than the front, the backs of chairs and settees are given a comfortable tilt. Here, a loosely stuffed seat cushion fills in the edges of the rounded spring seat. Narrow cotton fringe trims the flowered cover and the resulting piece is full of informal charm.

NOTE — Do furniture transformations fascinate you? You will find some exciting new ones in BOOKS 9 and 10 of the series of booklets offered with these articles. Each of these booklets contains directions for more than thirty smart up-to-the-minute things to make for your home from odds and ends and inexpensive new materials. Booklets are 15 cents each. Send requests direct to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills New York
Drawer 10
Enclose 15 cents for each book desired.
Name .....
Address .....

'Once Bitten, Twice Shy'— So Goes the Old Adage

Getting ready to perform his final and greatest feat, the local amateur magician stepped out to the edge of the platform and said:

"For the purpose of my next trick, which I assure you will be a good one, will some gentleman in the audience kindly lend me his hat? Will you, sir?" he added persuasively to a man in the front row.

But the man in question clutched his hat firmly with both hands and shook his head.

"I will not," he retorted indignantly, "not until you return the lawnmower you borrowed last summer."

MEAT SAVER

TRY A DELICIOUS KELLOGG'S "CORN FLAKES-BURGER!"

In addition to serving Kellogg's Corn Flakes as "meatless meals," use them to extend your meat. In meat loaves, hamburgers, croquettes, stuffings, casserole dishes, patties, cereals blend well with meat flavors.

SAVE TIME—WORK—FUEL—OTHER FOODS, TOO!

The "SELF-STARTER Breakfast"

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
The Original Kellogg

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are restored to WHOLE GRAIN NUTRITIVE VALUES of Thiamin (Vitamin B1), Niacin and Iron.

FREE! "The Bread Basket"—40 pages, full-color book with over 60 recipes. Write Standard Brands, Inc., Grand Central Annex, Box 477, New York, N. Y.

Advertisement

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA

AUBREY E. FERGUSON
Editor and Publisher
ALMA HESS FERGUSON
Business Manager

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Marlinton, W. Va.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year $1.50
(Single Copy, Three Cents)

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE
American Press Association, 225 West 39th St., New York, N. Y.

ADVERTISING RATES:
National Advertising, 40c Col. Inch
(Lower Rates for 200 In. or More)
Local Advertising, 25c Col. Inch

CLASSIFIED RATES:
1c Word Each Insertion; Minimum Charge One Insertion, 25c

WEST VIRGINIA PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1943

EDITORIAL

Taking Politics Out Of War

Several weeks ago, to take politics out of the war, Chairman Harrison E. Spangler, of the Republican National Committee, suggested that President Roosevelt declare himself out of the race and devote his entire time to winning the war. Mr. Spangler's proposal came as one New Dealer after another was pushing the President's fourth term candidacy.

Immediately the bureaucrats became alarmed that the "meal ticket" might accept the soundness of Mr. Spangler's proposal. They found seventeen reasons why their jobs should not be endangered. But now comes Chairman Spangler again with clear-cut reasoning to support his contention.

"So long as Mr. Roosevelt continues to be a candidate for a fourth term he will be two people," Mr. Spangler said. "On person is the President of the United States, toward whose office men owe respect and honor. The other person is a politician running for office, rightly regarded as a party partisan. As a candidate he must step down from his high place and subject himself to the disadvantages of any other candidate. He cannot cling to the immunities which properly belong to the President of the United States.

"A candidate has no immunities. While he seeks office he is a private citizen soliciting votes. He cannot have his cake and eat it, too. From the instant he seeks office, he becomes two men: one President Roosevelt; the other Franklin Roosevelt, of Dutchess County, New York, a mere man running for office."

"By the speaking of one word," Mr. Spangler added, "the little two-letter word, NO, he will become everybody's President. By saying NO he will be able to act without fear or favor. President Roosevelt will not have to carry Candidate Roosevelt on his back."

The next move is up to the President.

New Republican Chairman

Joseph M. Cosbert has succeeded T. W. Edwards as chairman of the Republican Executive Committee. Mr. Edwards, in the opinion of his colleagues, has done an excellent job during the black and dreary years since 1932. He resigned his chairmanship of the committee in order to devote his time to personal affairs.

In accepting the chairmanship of the committee at Welch, Mr. Cosbert made a statement which Republicans throughout the state might well take as a guiding principle in the coming campaign battle. He said: "I hope all Republicans will keep in mind that nothing is politically right that is morally wrong."

Johnson For Governor—?

While the State faction of the Democratic party has given no official nod for the party's nomination for Governor to Senator Robert D. Rucker, of Wyoming county, talk increases that sooner his opponents will be Col. Louis A. Johnson, of Clarksburg.

Johnson has a distinguished record as former commander of the West Virginia Department of the American Legion, as National Commander of the Legion, and as assistant Secretary of War. He was honored last year by appointment as special ambassador to India by President Roosevelt.

Other Democratic candidates will probably be in the race including present Secretary of State Matthew M. Neely. There is a report that Rush D. Holt will go after the nomination for governor but most all his friends discount the report.

THINGS Worth Knowing

"The time has come for this House to protect itself and the country against the scorn, the abuse, and the dictatorship of the bureaucrats by resorting to the process of impeachment"—Rep. Eugene Cox (Democrat) of Georgia.

* * *

At New Orleans, La., Shipbuilder Higgins had already built an $80,000 storage loft when the U. S. Maritime Commission cancelled his contract and gave another to a private firm to demolish the building for $15,000. Shortly afterward, Higgins was awarded a plane contract, and needing the loft, frantically tried to get the Maritime Commission to call off the wreckers, which it would not do. Net loss to the Government was $65,000, plus time, labor and materials wasted and lost.

* * *

While Harold Ickes has been telling the nation to conserve on unnecessary travel because of the gasoline shortage, his own Department of Interior has continued to maintain a Travel Bureau established in 1940 to conduct a "See America First" drive.

* * *

It is reported that an apartment house in Washington, D. C., is now being converted by the National Housing Agency into a 35-unit apartment dwelling to relieve the lot of over-crowded war workers. The Government bought the property nearly two years ago and, in spite of the crowded conditions in Washington, it has stood idle ever since. Through deterioration and vandalism, repairs alone will cost about $37,000.

* * *

In Paducah, Ky. (Sen. Barkley's home town), two teachers, two maids, a janitor and a cook form the staff for a day nursery built for the children of war workers as part of a $6,000,000 Federal project; but only 4 children are enrolled. It is estimated that it will cost $900 a month to operate the nursery for the benefit of these 4 children.

SPRAYING, DUSTING FORMULAS GIVEN BY COUNTY AGENT

By BEN MORGAN
County Agricultural Agent

It at times, at least, seems a waste of time to list definite agricultural practices in a newspaper, as the most of us stop reading when we get to definite facts and figures. However, in traveling over the county it seems necessary to bring certain facts to the attention of as many people as possible. Quite a few people seem to be using lime alone for both insect and disease control on potatoes, beans, tomatoes and cucumbers. Lime has no value at all as an insecticide. It may in rare instances act as a repellent. It is not very efficient in the control of disease. Lime in any form should not be used on cucumbers. Following are the general insect and disease control recommendations for some of the more important garden crops:

Beans—Dust, rotenone for beetles and 20-20-60 dust for both diseases and insects. Sprays, calcium arsenate for insects and 4-4-50 bordeaux with calcium arsenate added for both diseases and insects. Beans should not be worked with when foliage is wet.

Potatoes—Insects, lead arsenate or calcium arsenate as a spray or rotenone as a dust. Disease, 4-4-50 bordeaux as spray or 20-80 dust. Insects and diseases, 4-4-50 bordeaux with either lead arsenate or calcium arsenate added as a spray or 20-20-60 dust.

Tomatoes—For both insects and diseases, 4-4-50 bordeaux with lead arsenate added as a spray or fixed copper-and-arsenate dust (preferred) or 20-20-60 dust.

Cucumbers—Cucumber beetle and bacterial wilt, fixed copper dust with arsenate dust added. Avoid using lime on cucumbers.

Cabbage—Dust with rotenone or calcium arsenate.

xxx

Circuit Court Term Light

The June term of circuit court was another brief one, with few matters coming before it for settlement.

In the divorce cases; Edgar Nelson vs. Anna Vera Nelson (continued); John Smith vs. Goldie L. Smith (continued); Winfield R. Davis vs. Amanda E. Davis (granted); Geneva J. Lawson vs. Neal Lawson (continued); Clara Helen Pethtal vs. Marvin W. Pethtal (granted).

In the State vs. Lyle Hultz and Arlie Cook, the indictment against Hultz was nolled, and Cook entered a plea of guilty and is awaiting sentence by the presiding judge, M. L. Jarrett.

xxx

GREENBANK NEWS

W. S. C. S. Holds June Meeting

The Greenbank Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. Dave Sheets Friday, June 4. An interesting and helpful lesson on "Across the Nation With Our Rural Workers" was presented by Mrs. Fred Conrad, who also led the worship service, "When I Consider the Works of Thy Fingers."

Mrs. Q. R. Arbogast gave a report on the repair work which has been done at the parsonage—resulting in a hardwood floor, new door, new rug, stove pipe and paint for the kitchen. All the Greenbank charges have a part in this work, and everyone is invited to the parsonage to see the improvements.

Attending were Mesdames Q. R. Arbogast, Fred Conrad, Clarence Sheets, Grover Sheets, E. F. Arbogast, Inas Horner, Winfred Sheets, Loran Jordan, J. A. Sheets, Everett Sheets, Roscoe Brown, Marvitt Gum and the hostesses, Mrs. Dave Sheets and Miss Clara Sheets, who served delicious refreshments.

Personals

Austin Gum of the U. S. Navy left Saturday for his station after a 10-day leave spent with his father, Willis Gum at Wesley Chapel.

Pvt. Rodney Taylor left Thursday for Jacksonville, Fla., after visiting his mother and other relatives for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McMillion and Claude Ashton will leave Tuesday for Beckley where they will visit Mrs. McMillion's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Lilly.

Miss Elizabeth Waddell was shopping in Elkins Friday.

Miss Anna Mae Friel arrived home Wednesday from Davis and Elkins College to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCoy Friel.

Homer Bruffey of Webster county and Charleston was visiting and seeking information from our Greenbank historian, Roscoe Brown, last week. Mr. Bruffey is writing a history of the Bruffey family—who were early settlers in the Greenbank community—his father having moved to Lewis county in 1866. Now—after his first visit to Greenbank—Homer wonders why anyone would ever leave here to go to Lewis county.

C. E. Flynn was a business visitor in Marlinton Saturday.

Mrs. Valeria Tracy of Arbovale has received word that her son, Marshall Tracy, had been wounded in Africa.

Coy Wright Cargile is visiting in Baltimore at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. Kerth Friel.

Miss Ruth Hannah left Sunday for Morgantown where she will be a student at the State University this summer.

Misses Louise Brown and Mary Margaret Beard returned Wednesday from Glenville State College where they received their standard normal diplomas.

Staff Sgt. Clyde Crowley left on Wednesday for Kingston, Ariz., where he is stationed with the Army Air Corps.

Will Taylor has received a message saying his son, Kenneth, has arrived safely overseas.

Keith Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gillespie of Arbovale was home a few days on furlough from Camp Van Dorn, Miss.

Mrs. Fannie Kane and Miss Lena Kerr left Thursday for Baltimore where they will be employed for the summer.

Clarence Taylor of the U. S. Navy spent a day at home last week. He is now stationed at Camp Bradley, Davisville, R. I.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, will sit as provided by law, on Monday and Tuesday, June 28 and 29, 1943, at the Court House, as the Board of Equalization and Review, for the purpose of reviewing the land and personal property tax books of Pocahontas County, as completed by the Assessor for the year 1942.

By order of the Court, this 1st day of June, 1943.

MOODY KINCAID, Clerk.

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE

VERY CHOICE Jersey dairy heifers $25 each, non-related bull free with 5 head. Also several registered heifers $50 each.

SAYRE DAIRY CATTLE CO.,
SAYRE, PA., Box 84.

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

Install back walls, grates, cooking stoves; line furnaces. Work guaranteed. Write me: L. B. GOODALL, CALDWELL, W. VA.

LOBELIA NEWS

Miss Helen Ryder has returned to Charleston after spending several weeks with her parents here.

Fred Hill and daughter Peggy, Miss Madeline Hill have returned to their home in Gettysburg, Pa., after spending some time with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Pegg of Marlinton were visitors in the Mountain Sunday night when Mr. Pegg conducted services at the Mountain church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lake Anderson and daughters Deja and Lakie of Charleston are spending the week-end with relatives here.

Dale Williams returned home to his brother James Williams to Washington, Md., where he will await call to the Army.

Miss Page Dameron has returned to Forest Hill, Md., where she will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Rost Hodge.

Miss Juanita Cozzy has returned to her home here following a medical interview with officials at the Memorial Hospital at Martinsburg. She was accepted for student nurse training and expects to enter work there on August 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kinnison and Marion Kinnison of Charleston spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Nettie Kinnison.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Beckley of Williamsburg were recent visitors here over the week-end.

xxx

TAKES OVER HOME EC

Mrs. William Harper has taken the duties of vocational home economics instructor during the summer months, while Miss Louise Weese is attending school.

SHARE ALMANAC
GLAD TO SEE YOU
"Speech was given to man to disguise his thoughts"—Jeremy Taylor
JUNE
11—Constitution Convention, 1787
12—Baseball's Hall of Fame established
13—Germans surrender, 1945
14—Flag Day
15—King John signs Magna Charta, 1215
16—Texas annexed to U.S., 1845
17—First air mail across Atlantic
WILBUR S BILLIARD Candy - Cig
Lunches and Fou
MARLINT

Alpine Theat
MARLINTON, W. VA.
WEEK STARTING, FRIDAY, JUNE
Friday-Saturday Double
"STREET OF CHANCE" with Burgess M
— Also —
ROY ROGERS in "IDAHO"
ANOTHER CHAPTER of EXCITING SERIAL, "SECR
Monday - Tuesday
"The Black Swa
WITH TYRONE POWER, MAUREEN O'HAR
$$ Wednesday - Thursday
"The Amazing Mrs. Hollid
WITH DEANNA DURBIN and EDMUND O'BR
• BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS H

SOCIAL DOTS

• Chatty Items About People And Events •

Engagement and Marriage Revealed At Afternoon Tea

Miss Jean Oxendale was hostess on Saturday afternoon at the home of [illegible], Rev. and Mrs. Fred Oxendale, in honor of Miss Inez Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Moore of Marlinton, who will become the bride of Thames King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, of Marlinton, upon completion of his schooling at Columbia University, where he is now preparatory to receiving a commission in the United States Navy.

Guests were received by Miss Oxendale and Miss Moore, and aides in the dining room were Mrs. Edward Moore, mother of the bride-to-be, who presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Oxendale and Mrs. Aubrey Fertig.

Musical selections were given by Daily Chatter and Miss Jo Callison.

The Oxendale home was a lovely setting for the afternoon tea. On the mantel in the living room was a large basket of iris and there were two large baskets of flowers, and in the dining room the color scheme of pink and white was used. On the buffet was a bouquet of pink and white flowers and pink candles, and on the table which was covered with a hand [illegible] cloth, was a centerpiece [illegible] of a variety of beautiful flowers [illegible] with pink and white [illegible] fancy cookies, miniature [illegible] white cakes, and crystal [illegible]. Tea napkins carried an [illegible] design of wedding ring [illegible] imprinted in the corner. [illegible] element of the lovely [illegible] was the fact that each [illegible] presented with a little card [illegible] Ed and Jean—May 7th," [illegible] the marriage of Miss [illegible], daughter of Rev. and [illegible]dale, and Mr. Edward [illegible], son of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Moore. The couple were [illegible] the Methodist parsonage [illegible] where they were accompanied [illegible] the parents of the bride. [illegible] for the wedding was [illegible] Bumgardner of Oak Hill, [illegible] the bride. For her wedding [illegible] was attired in a [illegible] blue, with white accessories. Bumgardner wore beige [illegible].

[illegible] is a graduate of Gassaway, and attended Marshall College, where she was a member of Sigma Alpha, national [illegible] has been a teacher in the county schools for the past [illegible]. Her father is pastor of the Methodist Church.

[illegible] is a graduate of [illegible] school, and attended [illegible] College. He was [illegible] First National Bank [illegible] a short time before [illegible] the service. He is a member of Omicron Delta, social [illegible], Beta Alpha Beta, national [illegible] fraternity. He is [illegible] Fort Knox, Ky.

Saturday's [illegible] were Mrs. Harper Smith, Mrs. [illegible], Miss Betty Moore, [illegible], Mrs. Aubrey [illegible], Fred Oxendale, Miss [illegible], Miss Betty Pifer, [illegible], Miss Lois Brill, [illegible], Miss Katherine Rose[illegible], Miss Betty Chatter, [illegible], Miss Madeline [illegible], Miss Alice [illegible], Miss Betty Ammons, [illegible], and Miss [illegible].

[illegible] that Mr. [illegible] of Louisville, [illegible] of a daughter [illegible], at 4 p. [illegible] Mrs. Smith was [illegible] daughter of Mr. [illegible].

[illegible] John of Pocahontas [illegible] week at home [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible] Brown Creek.

[illegible] Kincaid, Miss [illegible] Evelyn Fox [illegible] Kincaid is [illegible]

[illegible] appear you [illegible] Church [illegible], Knitting, [illegible] Pulse, get free [illegible] Drug Store.

[illegible] Concrete, Truck, Accident, [illegible] FILE

[illegible] EVERS [illegible]

Charlestown where she will be one of the summer instructors at the Kappa Gotholburst camp.

●

Miss May Feyrer of Virginia arrived to be with Mrs. Jake Hill, who suffered another attack of illness on Monday.

●

Mrs. Keith Woodbell of Willow Grove, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Woodell at Linwood last week-end. Mrs. Woodell's husband is in the Naval school at Detroit, Mich.

●

Mrs. Ham Barns and Miss Virginia Lou Young left Monday for Huntington on business and to visit.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Buckman and daughter were in Pocahontas county last week-end. Mrs. Buckman and Jane will remain for two weeks and at present are visiting at the home of Tom Beard of Hillsboro.

●

Mrs. Guy Yeager of Hemphill-Welch visited Mrs. Frank McLaughlin and Mrs. Paul Overholt last week.

●

Julian P. Pebbitt of Charleston is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McFerrin.

●

Miss Helen McFerrin returned to Charleston Sunday after a week's vacation with her family here.

●

Miss Mable Lang accompanied by Miss Edith May left Sunday for Ronceverte to entrain for the East. Miss Lang went to New York for a merchandising trip and Miss May to Washington, D. C., to visit at the home of her brother.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richardson and children have returned to their home after spending several days at Camp Richardson in Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson were week-end visitors at the camp.

●

Mrs. Ward R. Barlow and sons left Tuesday for Hinton to visit at home for a week.

●

Monday evening at "Chimney Corner" on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John Sydenstricker, the birthdays of Richard Callison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elba Callison, and Mrs. Harper Smith were celebrated. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Callison, Mr. and Mrs. Sydenstricker, Mrs. Alice Jackson, Kerth Nottingham, Frank Johnson, Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. Jean Oxendale Moore, Miss Lois Brill, Miss Betty Ammons, and Sam and Richard Callison.

●

Miss Pauline Loderach, graduate of Davis Memorial hospital at Elkins, is now employed at the local hospital.

●

Miss Martha Jean Bryce of Ronceverte is the guest of Miss Lois Ann LaRue.

●

Miss Price McLaughlin was a week-end visitor of Mrs. H. R. Wyllie. She will go to Lewisburg for a week's visit.

●

Roger Lee Galford, 9-month-old baby of Dunmore, is a patient at the local hospital.

●

James A. Patterson also is still a patient at the hospital.

●

C. W. Kinnison of Hillsboro, father of Mrs. Dice Grimes, has been suffering a great deal of pain caused by an abscessed wisdom tooth.

●

Mrs. William Burns of Clover Lick is in the Marlinton hospital.

●

"Bud" Smith returned to his home Tuesday after a tonsil operation at the local hospital.

●

Miss Martha Galford has undergone an operation at the hospital.

●

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Tolliver, colored, a baby girl, Hattie Trenton, June 1, 1943.

Miss Mary Frances Fenton Honored At 'Hanky' Party

Mrs. Aubrey E. Ferguson entertained at her home last Friday evening in honor of Miss Mary Frances Fenton, who will leave soon with her family to reside in Charleston. Miss Fenton had not been apprised that the party was in her honor, and all of the guests had brought a lovely handkerchief for the honor guest. The home was decorated with bouquets from the flower gardens of Mrs. E. L. Fenton and Mrs. F. T. Ward. A salad course was served.

Miss Fenton, who is recognized as one of the loveliest characters in Pocahontas county, recently returned from a visit with friends in Elkins. She is a member of the U. D. C., of the Guild of the Episcopal church, and has been active in the knitting program of the Red Cross, her home being a distribution point for the skeins of yarn used by volunteers.

Those present were Mrs. H. R. Wyllie, Mrs. Paul Mason, Mrs. Walter Jett, Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, Mrs. Paul Overholt, Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. E. L. Fenton, Mrs. Mary Frances Moore, Miss Mary Frances Fenton, Miss Mary Margaret Herold, Mrs. Adolph Cooper, Mrs. P. T. Ward, Mrs. "Bus" Smith, Mrs. J. H. Vaughan, Mrs. C. S. Kramer, and the hostess.

●

Ann Clay Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, was ill Monday at her home.

●

Mrs. Charles Kramer accompanied by several of Marlinton's young ladies, was in Lewisburg Tuesday.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Baxter of Baltimore, Md., were week-end visitors in the county.

●

Guests of Mrs. John Johnson are her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Bedford and Mrs. Barbara Jennings, both of Beverly.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sheets visited at Hinton last week-end.

●

Mrs. Paul Gladwell and daughter Sharon are visiting Mrs. Joe Phillips of Stony Bottom.

●

I. B. Bumgardner, Jr., of the U. S. Army, arrived at Ronceverte Monday, where he was met by his wife and father.

●

Miss Inez Moore returned to Richmond Sunday after visiting her parents.

●

Chester McLaughlin and Reed Wilfong, both in training at the Naval school at Great Lake, Ill., are visiting their folks in Pocahontas county.

●

Mrs. Harry Moore of Dunmore has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Elmer Moore of Minnehaha Springs, for a few days.

●

Miss Sally Poage, a student at Marshall was home last week-end.

●

Evelyn Menefee of the Clifton Forge nursing school is visiting in the county.

●

Mrs. E. G. Herold of Marlinton left last Friday for Monterey, Va., where she will visit for some time.

●

Miss Dotty Moore returned to Keyser Sunday where she will be a summer student at Potomac State school.

●

Mrs. W. A. Bratton will leave on Thursday for Charleston to visit her son, Robert Bratton who will leave soon to enter service.

●

Miss Margaret Smith will be hostess Friday night at 8 o'clock, at her home of Camden street, at a miscellaneous shower complimenting Mrs. Edward A. Moore, who before her recent marriage was Miss Jean Oxendale.

●

Roy and Tiny Smith of Huntington are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris.

●

Recent visitors of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Parsons were Chief Gunner's Mate Paul Parsons of Washington, D. C., an instructor in the advance gunner's school; Lewis Eubank, chief boiler inspector of the State; and Miss Wilma Lee Riggins of Princeton, who is spending some time here.

●

Cecil Woofter of Campbellstown a member of the U. S. Navy is visiting his folks.

●

Mrs. John Cunningham and daughter, Mildred, and grandson, Andrew Fry, were guests of Mrs. Margaret Gibson over the week-end. They left on Tuesday to make their home in Baltimore.

CHURCH NOTES

With an enrollment of 89, and an average attendance of 60 to 65 each day, the Presbyterian Vacation Bible School is progressing under a staff of 12 teachers headed by Mrs. J. C. Wooi. The school will continue through Wednesday, June 16.

The quarterly conference of the Union circuit, comprising Methodist churches in Hillsboro, Edray, Marlinton, Huntersville and Marlinton, met Tuesday evening in the Marlinton church with Rev. C. W. Fink, district superintendent in charge. Reports on Sunday school, evangelism, the Wesleyan fund drive and other matters were made.

DURBIN-BARTOW NEWS

Death Claims Mrs. Gum

Mrs. Peoria Gum, aged 65, died at her home on Friday, June 4, 1943. She leaves one son, Tucker Gum of New Kensington, Pa.; a daughter, Miss Aggie Gum at home; a brother, Albert Gum of Frank; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The funeral service, marked by many beautiful floral tributes, was held at the home on Sunday at 2 p. m. and interment was made in the family cemetery on the home farm at Frank.

Personals

Mrs. Vesta Nottingham, Mrs. Goldie Irwin and daughter Peggy, Mrs. Dick Nottingham and little daughter Judith of Morgantown, visited Mrs. Nottingham's sister, Mrs. Willa Wilmoth, and at the home of Zack Nottingham, on Sunday.

Miss Katherine Puffenbarger is visiting in Bluefield for a few days.

Bill and John Sutton accompanied by Granville Keller, visited their brother Richard in Baltimore over the week-end.

Mrs. Everette East is visiting relatives in Portsmouth, Va.

Paul Archie Townsend left Sunday for Charleston to enlist as one of Uncle Sam's boys.

Miss Lillian Riddon of Baltimore is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nestor.

Mrs. Rex Kincaid and family of Kent, Ohio, are spending some time with Mrs. Kincaid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ash in West Dublin.

Silas and Tommie Arbogast accompanied their Uncle Leonard Kincaid to Hollywood, Md., where they will visit for some time. They will also visit their aunt, Mrs. Fred Schwartzberg, and sister, Margaret Arbogast, in Baltimore, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Cooney and son Jimmy Lee, Mrs. Theodore Moore and daughter Patsy Jean of Marlinton, Mrs. Stanley Newton and little son Freddie of Hinton, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Moore's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Moore of Maple street.

Nelson Tacy of the U. S. Army is visiting in town and vicinity.

Miss Hope Hull who is a patient in Davis Memorial hospital at Elkins is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heyner and Miss Margaret Wilson spent the week-end in Morgantown with relatives.

Mrs. Chester Shuman and little son who had been visiting here, returned to their home in Morgantown Saturday.

Mrs. G. F. Hull and son George accompanied by Mrs. Max Poscover and children Benny and Mary Katherine left Tuesday on a business trip to Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Curtis Moore and little son Bobby returned the past week from a visit with relatives in Caldwell and Seebert.

Miss Hazel Hull of Parsons spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Banton are moving into their new home this week which they purchased recently from C. R. Beard.

Miss Anna Mack of Lewisburg who was called here by the death of Mrs. Peoria Gum, returned to her school duties Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ro Keller have returned from Milton, Dela., where they visited their son, Morea and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Scott, Jr., who were former residents here.

RATION BOARD ADDS CLERK

Miss Pauline Herold has been added to the staff at the local War Price and Rationing Board. Before taking up her work here she was employed by a construction firm at White Sulphur Springs.

Assistant County Agent Begins Duties Here

Rennie Dodrill of Morgantown college, a graduate of the same class at West Virginia University, has been employed as assistant to Jim Pennington county agricultural agent. He began his duties last week.

Miss Barbara Bragg, county home demonstration agent, who is now on a trip to New York awarded by the Extension service for valuable services rendered, has tendered her resignation to the Farm Bureau. It is reported, hoping to leave soon to make her home with her husband who is employed in Pittsburgh.

The Farm Bureau has approved the addition of a full-time 4-H Club agent for the county, but this move has not yet received the approval of the Extension service, it is said.

Car Use Tax Stamps Will Be Placed On Sale June 10

Collector of Internal Revenue F. Roy Yoke announced today that auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 will be placed on sale in all post offices and offices of collectors of internal revenue on Thursday, June 10. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and state license number of the vehicle.

For cars having West Virginia licenses, the stamp should be placed on the windshield in the lower right-hand corner. Mr. Yoke stresses the fact that the use tax law has not been repealed and cautions motor vehicle owners that failure to purchase and display the new use tax stamps on vehicles using public highways after July 1, 1943, will subject the violators to severe penalties imposed by law.

ADLA TABLETS
Sweeten Sour Stomachs
ROYAL DRUG STORE
Marlinton, W. Va.

NOTICE -- EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

UP TOWN AND HAMILTON ADDITION deliveries—3:30 Daily, except Saturdays. Saturdays, 10:00 o'clock.

DOWN TOWN and ACROSS RIVER deliveries 4:00 Daily.

On account of Gasoline Ration there will be no extra deliveries. Please cooperate, and get your orders in on time. We want to serve you.

Thomas & Thomas
Marlinton, W. Va.

Like the Farmer -

Like the farmer who started with a few acres and a small amount of livestock, this company began with a few lines and a few customers. By giving better and better service, to more and more people we expanded our facilities until today . . . despite labor and material shortages . . . we have been able to meet every demand.

Faced with many of the same wartime problems the farmers, too, are producing more than ever before. This is because farmers and business men are fighting to preserve the opportunity and independence that we enjoy in America. Food is pouring from the farm, electricity is flowing from the power stations because we have the will, the experience, and the freedom to get big jobs done. Our freedom of opportunity is worth every effort it takes to maintain it.

MONONGAHELA SYSTEM

THIS BANK

—IS—

A Guardian for your funds.

A Treasury for your needs.

A Counselor for your problems.

—and—

A Friend to everyone.

BUY BONDS — THEN KEEP THEM SAFE IN OUR VAULT

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN MARLINTON

Member: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

MARLINTON, W. VA.

THERE ARE NO RESTRICTIONS ON OUR DESIRE TO SERVE YOU WELL

Rexrode Chevrolet Co.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

Attractive Looks WILL BE REGAINED IMPROVED PRESERVED By Regular Visits to this Beauty Parlor

Annette Beauty Shop
Mrs. Dice Grimes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

GOOD FURNITURE Is An Important Investment YOU CAN OBTAIN REAL VALUE AT

The Furniture Mart
Camden Ave. Marlinton

Dr. Harry C. Solter's Clinic
Office Hours:
10 to 12 A. M.
1 to 3 P. M.
7 to 8 P. M.
Thursdays—No afternoon hours.
Sundays—By appointment only.

WE FILL PRESCRIPTIONS WITH ACCURACY AND UNVARYING CARE

Royal Drug Stores, Inc.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

ATTENTION TO GREY'S BEAUTY NEEDS WILL ADD TO APPEARANCE AT GREY'S BEST, CONSTANTLY

Make regular appointments here

Style-Rite Beauty Salon
Lottie Richardson Marlinton

All Repair and Service DONE RIGHT OR CHARGED AT THE

Marlinton Esso Station
Wm. H. Cassey, Mgr.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

BOWL FOR HEALTH AND PLEASURE

Alpine Bowling Lanes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

THEY WERE EXPENDABLE

by W. L. White

© WHITE W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY SO FAR: The story of their part in the battle for the Philippines is being told by four of the five naval officers who are all that is left of Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron 3. They are Lieut. John Bulkeley (now Lieutenant Commander), squadron commander; Lieut. R. B. Kelly, second-in-command; and Ensigns Anthony Akers and George E. Cox Jr. Manila has fallen, and our naval base at Cavite is gone. Lieut. Kelly has been in a hospital on Corregidor, but has finally persuaded the doctor to release him. He has gone out on patrol. They have broken up a Jap landing party and have now come alongside a landing barge which has surrendered after a heavy barrage.

CHAPTER VII

"She was empty except for three Japs—must have discharged her landing party and been headed home. One was dead, two were wounded, and one of these two was a Jap officer.

"Bulkeley had his 45 in his hand when he jumped aboard, and immediately this Jap officer went to his knees and began to call, 'Me surrender!—Me surrender!'"

"He was talking fast," said Bulkeley a little grimly, "and he had his hands stuck up very high and stiff, and that ought to stop the myth about how Japs are too noble ever to surrender. I put a line around his shoulders and we hoisted him aboard the 34 boat.

"Then I began rummaging around in that sludge for papers, brief cases and knapsacks. I collected, among other things, the muster list of the landing party and their operations plan, before the boat sank beneath me—Kelly pulled me into his boat as the barge sank.

"The ambulance doctor, glancing at them, said he thought the Jap officer would pull through, but that there wasn't much chance for the little private.

"You never know when you're going to run into something," said Bulkeley. "A couple of nights later, I was riding the 41 boat on routine patrol off the west coast of Bataan. When we began to get near to Biniptican Point, the entrance to Subic, we cut it down to one engine, to make the least possible noise. Just before ten o'clock, I spotted a Jap ship which seemed to be lying to, near shore. We called general quarters and began sneaking up on her—still using only one engine until we got within about twenty-five hundred yards. Then we gave everything the gun and roared in—but almost into a trap. Because the Japs had prepared a little welcome for us, and this ship was seemingly the bait to a trap—they had floating entanglements and wires in the water which might foul our propellers and leave us a dead target for their batteries. We saw them just in time, and now we saw they were trying to unbait the trap—because that big ship was showing a wake, trying to get under way.

"At a thousand yards we fired our first torpedo, and it had hardly hit the water before the Jap ship opened up on us with a pom-pom. They'd been playing possum, waiting for us. But what the hell—we wanted to be sure we'd stolen the bait from the trap, so we went right on in, ahead of our own torpedo, and let her have another at four hundred yards. Then I gave hard rudder and as we turned abeam of her, we sprayed her decks with the 50's, and every man on board picked up a rifle and began pumping at her—just for the hell of it—and the Japs were dishing it right back, but not for many seconds. Because all of a sudden—Bam! It was our first torpedo striking home, and pieces of wreckage fell in the water all around us. The explosion gave us our first clear look at her. She was—or had been until then—a modern, streamlined 6,000-ton auxiliary aircraft carrier.

"But the Japs weren't through with us. A battery of about half a dozen 3-inch guns opened up on us from the shore—by the flashes we could see they were pumping it to us as fast as they could load, and they certainly took our minds off our other troubles. So with big splashes all around us, we executed that naval maneuver technically known as getting the hell out of there, swerving, weaving, avoiding those damned wire nets, and trying to figure out where the Japs would place their next artillery shots, to make sure we wouldn't be under them—giving her every ounce of gas we could stuff into those six thousand horses, until we were out of range. I think the Japs were getting tired of us MTB's, and risked exposing that ship to rid themselves of a nuisance."

"Early in February they started sending submarines up from Australia, and our boats would always meet them outside the mine fields and bring them in—finally getting aboard to talk as pals. The subs had cases. They said Americans were building a big submarine base—that supplies were rolling down there. The submarines from Australia would bring in ammunition for arms a little more up to date, and take out gold which had been brought over to the regular Army Manila before it fell. The submarines, of course, would go in at night and then Bulkeley would take them out and then down deep beside where they could recharge batteries and take their long breathing during the day. Subs, mine nets and an occasional Jap destroyer or two—and a wary submarine to Cebu, and a week later High Commissioner Sayre left on a submarine. It seemed like a good many prominent people were leaving Corregidor. And the army had been pushed back to what we knew were its last and strongest defense positions on Bataan. None of it looked too good.

"Of our original six boats, two had already been lost, DeLong's over Subic Bay, and the 33 boat while I was in the hospital—she'd been going full speed ahead investigating what looked at night like the feather of a Japanese submarine's periscope, only it turned out to be a wave breaking over a little submerged and uncharted coral reef."

"We came close to losing the 32 boat about that time," said Bulkeley. "DeLong and I were riding her the night of February 8, patrolling up the west coast of Bataan as usual. A little before nine o'clock we saw gun blasts on up ahead of us in the neighborhood of Bagac Bay, so we put on what speed we could to find out who was shooting at what. Incidentally, the speed wasn't much. Because the 32 boat had had an explosion while they were cleaning that saboteur's wax out of her strainers and tanks, so that now she was held together with braces and wires, and running on only two engines. But pretty soon we sighted a ship dead-ahead about three miles away. I was maneuvering to put her in the path of the moonlight on the water so I could make out what she was. But now she seemed to put on speed, heading up in the direction of Subic

"Immediately this Jap officer went to his knees."

Bay—maybe, if she had seen us, to get under the protection of the Jap shore batteries there.

"Why had she been firing near Bagac Bay? We learned that later. She was a 7,000-ton Jap cruiser covering a Jap landing party with her guns. We didn't know we'd broken up this party at the time. Following her, we seemed to be gaining because she had apparently slowed down, maybe thinking she had lost us. We were closing on her fast now, when suddenly a huge big searchlight came on, holding us directly in its beam, and a few seconds later two 6-inch shells came screaming over, landing just ahead of us with a terrific explosion and waterspout. Her searchlight was blinding us and we could only head directly into it, firing the starboard torpedo at that light at about four thousand yards' range. There was another flash of 6-inch guns from the cruiser, and this salvo dropped much closer to us—hardly two hundred yards ahead. A third two-gun salvo landed just astern of us, and then we let her have the port torpedo, figuring the range at a little over three thousand yards.

"Now we were empty, and the problem was to dodge that blinding searchlight. Before we veered off to the east, we tried to douse it with spray of 50-caliber bullets, but they did no good. We could hardly see where our tracers went for the glare. We could see now she was chasing us, firing salvoes in pairs from her four 6-inch guns, when suddenly there was a dull boom, and we could see debris and wreckage sailing up through that searchlight's beam. There was a pause in her firing—no doubt about it, one of our torpedoes had struck home, probably the second one. We knew she was crippled because she had slowed down—that light which was trying to hold us in its glare was getting farther and farther away, and about 12:30 we lost it by making a hard turn to the right. Presently it went out. It came on again once or twice on the horizon, looking for us over the waves, but never found us.

"The next day the army told us we'd broken up a Japanese cruiser's landing party on Bataan near the village of Moron, which was then in our hands, and said their planes reported the Japs had had to beach the severely-hurt cruiser up the coast. Still later the planes reported the Japs were breaking her up for scrap. But we brought the 32 boat back safe to the base at Sisiman Cove. Our headquarters there was a reformed goat slaughter-house, about one hundred feet long and thirty feet wide, with a concrete floor. We'd scrubbed it out with creosote. It still smelled some, but was habitable. We'd also acquired a tender—an old harbor tug called the Trabajador—and put her in charge of DeLong, who'd lost his ship."

"Then we all sat around envying him," said Kelly, "because here he was, living like an admiral—a cabin, a wardroom, a real galley (not just a hot plate, which was all we had on the MTB's), and even a mess boy who could bake pie. It was big-ship life, and Bulkeley and I used to find some excuse to go every night and eat his dessert and drink coffee. DeLong liked it so much he later decided to stay on Bataan rather than leave with the rest of us.

"Our plan for making a run for China when our gas was almost gone still stood, and Bulkeley had got hold of some landing-force gear which we knew might be useful on the Chinese coast if we missed connections with our Chungking friends and had to fight our way through the Japs. So we began drilling our men in landing-force procedure.

"This got them very curious. They knew our gas was running out, and we had almost no more torpedoes except the ones which were in the boats. So we told them we were thinking of going south to join the Moros if Bataan fell, and it satisfied them for a while. We let only two other persons in on the secret—Clark Lee and Nat Floyd, newspaper correspondents who had been authorized by the Admiral to make the trip with us.

"The food situation was getting tough. Our breakfast was always hot cakes made without eggs—just flour, water, and baking powder—and the syrup was sugar and water. We hadn't seen butter since the war started. Then for dinner, it was always canned salmon and rice, and you don't know tired you can get of canned salmon until you eat it regularly for a few months. We welcomed any change."

"The one high spot in our diet was the Canopus," said Kelly. "She was an old sub tender, so slow she'd been abandoned, but she had a fine machine shop. She was tied up at the dock and already had been hit twice by bombs, so they worked her at night and abandoned her by day. But among her stores were barrels and barrels of ice-cream mix and a freezer. And her skipper would let anyone in the navy who came aboard eat all the ice cream he wanted as long as those barrels lasted—they held out until the week we left.

"But what we wanted most of all was fresh meat and vegetables, and along about the second week in February the first blockade-runner arrived. We piloted her in at night—rendezvous twenty-five miles out—and as daylight came, our mouths watered as we saw her cargo, strings of bananas piled high on her decks, and below, fresh meat and fruit for Corregidor. That afternoon I went over to see Peggy, and they were all busy slicing steaks and candling eggs. By yelling, screaming, and haggling, I got enough fresh meat to serve our crews two meals that week. She was a welcome little ship, that blockade-runner—made two more trips before the Japs sank her.

"But because of Peggy, my diet was a little better than the others. Since she was on Corregidor, she was entitled, under their rationing system, to buy one item per day from the canteen—a package of gum, a candy bar maybe, from the little supply they had left.

"But Peggy pretended she never cared for them, and every time I came to see her, she'd slip me a pocketful. She bought and saved them every day—just something to nibble while I was out on patrol, she explained.

"I began to feel funny about that break-through to China we were planning. Of course the Admiral had ordered it, and of course it was the way we could be most useful. But here were all these brave people on Bataan and the Rock, Peggy among them, realizing more clearly every day that they would never get out. Doomed, but bracing themselves to look fate in the face as it drew nearer, knowing that they were expendable like ammunition, and that it was part of the war plan that they should sell themselves as dearly as possible before they were killed or captured by the Japs. But a handful of us secretly knew that we, and only we among these many brave thousands, would see home again, and soon.

"And the more I liked Peggy—she was a swell kid—the guiltier I felt. Furthermore, I knew if we ever left, it would have to be soon. Gas was getting dangerously low — barely enough to make the run for China. And so was our torpedo supply. We would have to leave with every tube full if we were to throw effective weight against Jap shipping on the China coast, and in addition to what we would need for this, we had only a few torpedoes left, enough for one good fight—and that was to vanish almost from the scene."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 13

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GOD'S EXCEEDING GREAT PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—II Peter 1:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—He hath granted unto us His precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become partakers of the divine nature.—II Peter 1:4, R. V.

Growth in grace and in knowledge of Christ are as normal and expected of the child of God as bodily growth of the physical child. Tragic as is the failure of one to develop physically, it is even more distressing and sad in the spiritual realm. Yet it is a common thing in our churches, where only comparatively few believers even come to full stature in Christ, where more have only a partial growth, and some are forever babes in Christ.

God has made perfect provision for us, and has in His Word given plain and explicit instructions on how to gain spiritual development.

I. All Things Provided (vv. 1-4).

In the physical world we are able to provide, at least in some degree, what is needed. We also know where to find mental food. Spiritual provision can come only from God, and we find from these verses that He has provided not just a small portion, or a limited ration, but "all things that pertain unto life and godliness," through the knowledge of Christ.

The "exceeding great and precious promises" of God are the abundant portion of the believer. They are sure promises, based in the altogether dependable Word of God.

God's provision for us in Christ has made it unnecessary to look elsewhere. Here is escape from the world's corruption, the new nature in Christ, faith, grace, peace, power—all in Him.

The opposite is also true, that without Christ men have only the weak and disappointing help of men on which to draw. Of such foolish ones the Lord said through Jeremiah the prophet that they "have committed two evils: They have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water" (Jer. 2:13).

II. All Diligence Required (vv. 5-7).

There is something that the Christian can do to insure his growth in grace. He is to be diligent, that is, have an earnest purpose and zeal to go ahead spiritually. This calls for application and endeavor, just as progress in any other sphere of life, and possibly more.

Faith is the foundation of all such growth and without it there is nothing on which to build. But on it, or better, "in" it, we have all these other Christian graces springing up, as we give "all diligence" to encourage their growth.

Notice the ascending scale. Faith leads to virtue, that is, courageous, resolute Christian character. Then comes knowledge—the intelligent understanding and discernment of truth. This is bound together by temperance, meaning self-control. Next is patience, that steady endurance which keeps going in spite of trial or disappointment.

The sixth note in this octave of graces is godliness, which speaks of piety, true devotion to God, and reverence for His name. Such a believer will love his brethren in all brotherly kindness; and that leads us to the high point of love (the real meaning of "charity," v. 7). Here love for God is obviously in mind, as the crowning grace of the believer.

III. All Eternity Assured (vv. 8-11).

We should look forward to that abundant "entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ" spoken of in verse 11. There is such a thing as being saved "so as by fire" (I Cor. 3:15), slipping into heaven with nothing to show for our life as followers of Christ here on earth (read I Cor. 3:12-15).

God does not want for His people such an unseemly entrance upon eternity. Why should we be satisfied so to live that it may be true of us. Saved? Yes, but that is all! Are you satisfied with that prospect?

We should note, too, that this growth in grace will show itself in our daily life. It will keep us from being "barren (idle) and unfruitful" (v. 8). The Christian life must not be barren of true service for Christ, nor unfruitful of gracious harvest for Him. We are not on a sort of spiritual joy ride, sitting at ease as we speed on to the heavenly dwelling places.

Works do not save a man. We are justified before God by faith. But our faith is justified before men by our works of righteousness. Fruit grows on the living and healthy tree.

Observe that the Christian who lacks these graces (Do you?) is a nearsighted one who lacks both vision and grateful remembrance of God's loving-kindness (v. 9). How many members of our churches need their spiritual eyesight tested and their spiritual eyes anointed with God's "eyesalve" (Rev. 3:18).

THINGS for You TO MAKE

NOW, aren't you glad you saved those tiny scraps of muslin, prints and plain colors? Just see what an exciting array of gay pan-holders can be fashioned from these bits of material. Whether you prefer the vegetables, fruit motifs, flower faces, sunbonnet babies or pieced designs, your scrap bag can surely supply the "makings"—and those odds and ends of floss will do the rest.

* * *

You may indulge your preference in stitch, too, for embroidery, appliqué and piecing are all employed here. Not for transfer 25042, 15 cents, brings motifs for this entire group of panholders. Send your order to:

AUNT MARTHA
Box 166-W Kansas City, Mo.
Enclose 15 cents for each pattern desired. Pattern No.....
Name .....
Address .....

BEAT THE HEAT Heat rash irritated skin thrills to the touch of Mexsana, formerly Mexican Heat Powder. For soothing help, get Mexsana

Tennyson—1943

Washington's latest name for Mr. Henry Kaiser, the American shipbuilder, is "Sir Launchalot."

Gas on Stomach
Relieved in 5 minutes or double money back
When excess stomach acid causes painful, suffering gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fastest-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxative. Bell-ans brings comfort in a jiffy or double your money back on return of bottle to us. 25c at all druggists.

Millions have used—
PAZO for Simple PILES
Relieves pain and soreness
There's good reason why PAZO ointment has been used by so many millions of sufferers from simple Piles. First, PAZO ointment soothes inflamed areas—relieves pain and itching. Second, PAZO ointment lubricates hardened, dried parts—helps prevent cracking and soreness. Third, PAZO ointment tends to reduce swelling and check bleeding. Fourth, it's easy to use. PAZO ointment's perforated Pile Pipe makes application simple, thorough. Your doctor can tell you about PAZO ointment.
Get PAZO Today! At Druggists

Gather Your Scrap;
★ Throw It at Hitler

DRY CRACKED LIPS
Surprising, how quickly the dryness is relieved and healing begins, after using medicated, soothing, time-tested,
RESINOL

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Improper brake adjustment is a rubber-waster. Have your brakes checked regularly. If one wheel "takes hold" before the others, its rubber carries the full brunt of stopping the car, with resultant excessive rubber wear.

In their search for rubber substitutes, scientists are now probing styrene, a turpentine derivative discovered about fifty years ago. The list of rubber "sources" is growing almost daily.

It is expected that the 1943 harvest of crude rubber in the United States will total 600 tons, all guayule. Normally this country consumed about 600,000 tons of rubber a year.

In time of peace
B.F.Goodrich
FIRST IN RUBBER

• OUR COMIC SECTION •

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Strawberry Jam . . . It's the Berries!
(See Recipe Below)

Get in the Jam!

Bright little berries pushing their noses out of the greenery surrounding them makes you think of jam and jelly time, and rightfully so, for this is the time to start putting up those berries!

Strawberries are usually the first to arrive on the canning scene, followed very shortly by the other berries like raspberries, cherries, and then the fruits. Don't wait until the berries you are canning are too ripe, for those do not make the best jams and jellies.

To insure success in jelly making, use a commercial pectin. There's no sugar to waste on jelly that doesn't jell, and no time to spend re-cooking juices that won't work for jelly or jam. The recipes I'm giving this year are for smaller quantities of jam and jelly for most of us do not have too much sugar to spare on canning.

You'll like this standard recipe which can be used for making several different kinds of jelly:

Strawberry Jelly
Red Raspberry Jelly
Blackberry Jelly
Boysenberry Jelly
Dewberry Jelly
Loganberry Jelly
Youngberry Jelly
(Makes 11 glasses, 6 fluid ounces each)
4 cups juice
7½ cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare juice, crush or grind thoroughly about 3 quarts of fully ripe berries. Place in jelly bag or cloth and squeeze out juice. (If berries lack tartness, substitute ¼ cup lemon juice for ¼ cup prepared juice.) Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over the hottest fire and add bottled fruit pectin at once, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly into glasses and paraffin at once.

Do you like the new combination jellies? You may use the above recipe, preparing the required 4 cups of juice from 3 quarts of berries including 2 or more of the berries listed above.

Ripe Sour Cherry and Red Raspberry Jam.
(Makes 8 glasses, 6 fluid ounces each)
3½ cups prepared fruit
4½ cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

Your Canning Shelf

*Strawberry Jelly
*Ripe Sour Cherry and Red Raspberry Jam
*Strawberry and Pineapple Jam
*Rhubarb Relish
*Recipes Given

To prepare fruit, pit about 1 pound of fully ripe cherries. Crush or grind thoroughly. Crush about 1 quart red raspberries. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a five or six quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water, if necessary. Place over hottest fire, add powdered fruit pectin, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. Pour in sugar at once, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire. Skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Ever tried a rhubarb relish? You can put this lovely fruit up in this way:

Rhubarb Relish.
(Makes 4 pints)
1 quart diced rhubarb
1 quart onions, finely cut
4 cups brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon pepper
1 pint vinegar

Combine all ingredients and heat slowly to boiling. Simmer 45 to 50 minutes or until thick. Turn into sterile glasses and seal with paraffin. Serve with meat.

One of the most delightful of jams is the one combining our favorites, strawberries and pineapple.

Strawberry and Pineapple Jam.
(Makes 10 glasses, 8 ounces each)
2 cups crushed strawberries
2 cups crushed canned or fresh pineapple
7 cups sugar
½ bottle commercial fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, crush completely or grind the berries. Cut fine or grind the fresh pineapple or use already canned fruit. Combine fruits. Measure sugar and fruit into large kettle, mixing well. Bring to a full, rolling boil over high heat. Stir constantly during boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly and paraffin or seal at once.

You have often heard it said that perfect jelly or jam can be obtained even without the use of a commercial pectin. But, to make good jelly, the fruit must contain both pectin and acid in the right quantities to jell—be it for jelly or jam. Strawberries contain acid but usually lack sufficient pectin. That's why pectin of the commercial variety is added when making jelly or jam, or, as in this next recipe, lemon juice is added:

Strawberry-Lemon Jam.
4 cups washed, hulled strawberries
5 cups sugar
¼ cup lemon juice

Combine sugar and berries, letting stand a few minutes, stirring occasionally. Do not crush fruit. Bring to a boil and boil 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add lemon juice and cook 2 minutes longer. Pour into sterilized glasses and seal at once with paraffin.

Are you having difficulties planning meals with points? Scratching your meals? Lynn Chambers can give you help if you write her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply, in care of her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lynn Says:

Jelly-Making: Don't be too ambitious. You'll have more success and be less tired out if you can only small quantities of fruit at a time and "do it right."

Unless you have all your neighbors and cousins and family helping you on canning, and have to tackle the job alone, do not try to put up bushels of produce.

Have a day for jelly-making and jam-making just as you set aside a day for washing and ironing. Make it a rule not to have housecleaning or any other big job on the same day for you'll be too tired to concentrate as you should on canning.

Select your jars and examine them for cracks or imperfections the day before you do your canning. Get them all washed, too, so sterilizing is the only big job you have left when actual jelly-making day comes up.

In getting strawberries ready for canning or jelly, wash them before hulling. They won't drink up as much water that way.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

HELP WANTED

● Ohio Registered Pharmacist. Salary $200 month PLUS Bonus and Commission. Steady, interesting work. Good opportunity for advancement in large, active store. State age, experience, etc. Attach snapshot. Correspondence confidential. Box 871, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FEATHERS WANTED

WANTED: Goose and duck feathers. New and old. Mail samples and write for prices. The F. B. Mitchell Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

YOU CAN'T BUY ASPIRIN that can do more for you than St. Joseph Aspirin. Why pay more? World's largest seller at 10c. Demand St. Joseph Aspirin.

A BOWL CLEANER THAT'S SAFE IN SEPTIC TANKS

If you own a septic tank—you are very careful what you use to clean toilets. Insist on Sani-Flush. Scientific tests have proved that this bowl cleaner will not injure the action that takes place in septic tanks, when used according to the simple directions on the can.

This chemical compound makes toilet sanitation easy. Removes rust, stains and incrustations without scrubbing. No messy work. Sani-Flush cleans away a cause of toilet odors. Use it at least twice a week. Sold everywhere in two handy sizes.

FREE: Write for complete scientific data on Sani-Flush in septic tanks. Address The Hygienic Products Co., Dept. 65, Canton, Ohio.

FOR QUICK RELIEF CARBOIL A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALVE
Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

To relieve distress of MONTHLY Female Weakness WHICH MAKES YOU CRANKY, NERVOUS!
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands to relieve periodic pain, backache, headache with weak, nervous, cranky, blue feelings — due to functional monthly disturbances. This is due to its soothing effect on one of WOMAN'S MOST IMPORTANT ORGANS.
Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Worth trying!

10¢ Buys you the MILLION DOLLAR SHAVE
SHELBY BLADES 2
DOUBLE OR SINGLE EDGE
4 for 10c
Manufactured and guaranteed by FEDERAL RAZOR BLADE CO., NEW YORK

Get Into Action For Full Victory!

GET AFTER RHEUMATIC PAIN With a Medicine that will Prove Itself
If you suffer from rheumatic pain or muscular aches, buy C-2223 today for real pain-relieving help. 60c, $1. Caution: Use only as directed. First bottle purchase price refunded by druggist if not satisfied. Get C-2223.

WNU—E 25—43

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Misery life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy extra on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become overtaxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel nervous, tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

Waits for Third Shot

Rushing into the saloon bar, the man demanded:

"Quick, a double whisky, quick, before the trouble starts!"

Downing the drink, he swallowed it quickly.

"Good. Quick, another before the trouble starts!"

The barman poured out another and watched him drink it. Then he asked:

"What trouble, and when will it start?"

"It's the wife," replied the customer. "I haven't got money!"

Strange Sound

Johnny—Mom, what's a banshee like?

Mother—What do you mean?

Johnny—Well, I heard a butterfly and a bumble bee in Sunday School and sing. Guess kind of sky and, an see in the banshee by."

Wrong Number

Mr. Brown—Long Distance, give me Wilson 4-6 double 3.

Operator—Two-cent-cent?

Mr. Brown—You and hang up. I'll ring back with the right!

FEET OF CLAY

"Figures don't lie."

"They're not supposed to. They are simply raw material in the hands of the expert."

English Language

Teacher—Can you give me a sentence using the name of the city "Tuscaloosa"?

Bright Boy—The gobernor he wears a pussy and old slipback he use to the old slipback the Tuscaloosa!

He Still Needed

Lawyer (to opponent)—You're the biggest fool in the world.

Judge (rapping for order)—Gentlemen, gentlemen, you forget I am here.

United We Win

The Journal has received permission from Mrs. J. G. Kraft of Charleston, state chairman of the essay contest recently conducted by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and from the three first prize winners, to publish these splendid essays. Written on the subject of "United We Win," the papers were judged upon the basis of literary merit, interpretative views, and patriotic inspiration, and was open to high school students throughout the state, and winners will compete in a national contest. Following is the first prize winner, selected by W. H. S. White, president of Shepherd State College; Aubrey E. Ferguson, editor of the Marlinton Journal; Rev. O. H. Dorsey, of South Charleston, and C. B. Caldwell, of Ford, Bacon and Davis.

By ROBERT P. STOCKWELL

Age 17

Student, Charleston High School

Two thousand years ago one of the world's great civilizations passed into oblivion, followed by another which was more powerful in point of arms, but far inferior culturally. The majestic Greek civilization fell before the Romans, becoming a small portion of an empire ruled by people appearing as hardly more than barbarians when their native culture is compared to that of the Helenes. The Greeks were not overcome by the Romans because the Romans were superior to them on the battlefield; no, for the Greeks had many great fighters. The Spartans in particular, and indeed the citizens of the other city-states had often proved themselves glorious in battle. Rather were they overcome BECAUSE of their accomplishments in the art of war than because of their lack of them. For instead of using their great strength on enemies of the whole Greek state, each individual city-state and each political group within the state was constantly trying to gain the upper hand. The wars between Sparta and Athens drew out the life blood of the two greatest Helene powers as the destruction of a root saps the strength and life of a great tree. Smallness of comprehension, resulting in large numbers of small, self-centered cliques caused such disunity in Greece that the greatest power of early civilization deteriorated into the weak, insignificant nation it is today.

The Greeks were not the only people of the ancient world that fell because of their disunity. The barbarians who conquered the Romans succeeded for two primary reasons: First, their own unity of purpose, to seek, kill and destroy, which is also a vital factor in the success of their modern counterparts; and second, the utter disunity which prevailed among the political and social factions of Rome. It seems that as civilizations rise, they become more complex; as they become more complex their vision is distorted and they lose sight of the goals that make them great or small. They soon begin to fight within themselves over petty, unimportant things-enemies and are ripe for destruction. So it was with Greece, so with Rome, "he, also, with France in time.

Few realize that Germany is a classic example of strength in unification. For until the latter half of the nineteenth century, Germany was merely an insignificant collection of sovereign states in southern Europe. Then during the war filled reign of the Iron Chancellor, those states were consolidated under the head of Prussia, and Germany became a formidable power, an international menace. Their dominant political monopoly was in the interest of progress. But unfortunately, with the unification came the unification of hatred, and the people of the new empire became obsessed with the idea of world conquest. Their unity of purpose, their unification of hatred, their unification of progress, their unification of power, their unification of conquest, their unification of destruction, their unification of death, their unification of hell, their unification of the devil, their unification of the world, their unification of the universe, their unification of the cosmos, their unification of the infinite, their unification of the eternal, their unification of the absolute, their unification of the perfect, their unification of the ideal, their unification of the sublime, their unification of the glorious, their unification of the magnificent, their unification of the splendid, their unification of the wonderful, their unification of the marvelous, their unification of the miraculous, their unification of the supernatural, their unification of the divine, their unification of the heavenly, their unification of the celestial, their unification of the angelic, their unification of the seraphic, their unification of the cherubic, their unification of the archangelic, their unification of the archangelic, their unification of the archangel

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

"JOURNAL — BELONGING TO THE DAY"—Webster.

VOL. 25—NO. 17 MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1943 PRICE: $1.50 A YEAR

United We Win

The Journal has received permission from Mrs. J. G. Kraft of Marlinton, state chairman of the essay contest recently conducted by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and from the state prize winners, to publish the individual essays. Written on the subject of "United We Win," the essays were judged upon the basis of literary merit, interpretation, and patriotic inspiration, and were open to high school students throughout the state, and the winners compete in a national contest. Following is the second prize winner, selected by W. H. S. Armbruster, president of Shepherd State Teachers College; Ashley E. Ferguson, editor of the Marlinton Journal; Rev. Robert Lee Hunter, of South Charleston, and Dr. J. Caldwell, of Ford, Bacon & Davis.

VIOLA GENNETTE
Augusta High School
Grafton, W. Va.

Into that memorable Sunday when not only Pearl Harbor but Nation was attacked, made of this country have united per cent behind our leaders in their determination this war.

There many ways of winning war—organization and self-sacrifice work at home and at the front, and the recognition of duties and obligations owed to our country.

Each citizen's attitude toward the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties shows that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

It is won by the sweat, blood and sacrifices of every man and child in our country who sends every one of his youngest schoolchild to help the women. The small child can collect scrap metal, rubber, help defense stamps can add to the work, caring for sick, growing men and women. Each contributes another to the WAVES, the women's reserve; they can serve their country in many organizations. Each mother of the family can do her share toward victory by rearing God-fearing children in the home to the best of their ability. The greatest necessity at any time is good citizens. The great necessity at this time is good citizens like sports, strength and the Americans. The Fundamentals of which were laid by the Nation's forefathers. What is the Nation's attitude toward the war? Is it reflected in the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties show that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

It is won by the sweat, blood and sacrifices of every man and child in our country who sends every one of his youngest schoolchild to help the women. The small child can collect scrap metal, rubber, help defense stamps can add to the work, caring for sick, growing men and women. Each contributes another to the WAVES, the women's reserve; they can serve their country in many organizations. Each mother of the family can do her share toward victory by rearing God-fearing children in the home to the best of their ability. The greatest necessity at any time is good citizens. The great necessity at this time is good citizens like sports, strength and the Americans. The Fundamentals of which were laid by the Nation's forefathers. What is the Nation's attitude toward the war? Is it reflected in the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties show that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

It is won by the sweat, blood and sacrifices of every man and child in our country who sends every one of his youngest schoolchild to help the women. The small child can collect scrap metal, rubber, help defense stamps can add to the work, caring for sick, growing men and women. Each contributes another to the WAVES, the women's reserve; they can serve their country in many organizations. Each mother of the family can do her share toward victory by rearing God-fearing children in the home to the best of their ability. The greatest necessity at any time is good citizens. The great necessity at this time is good citizens like sports, strength and the Americans. The Fundamentals of which were laid by the Nation's forefathers. What is the Nation's attitude toward the war? Is it reflected in the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties show that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

It is won by the sweat, blood and sacrifices of every man and child in our country who sends every one of his youngest schoolchild to help the women. The small child can collect scrap metal, rubber, help defense stamps can add to the work, caring for sick, growing men and women. Each contributes another to the WAVES, the women's reserve; they can serve their country in many organizations. Each mother of the family can do her share toward victory by rearing God-fearing children in the home to the best of their ability. The greatest necessity at any time is good citizens. The great necessity at this time is good citizens like sports, strength and the Americans. The Fundamentals of which were laid by the Nation's forefathers. What is the Nation's attitude toward the war? Is it reflected in the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties show that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

It is won by the sweat, blood and sacrifices of every man and child in our country who sends every one of his youngest schoolchild to help the women. The small child can collect scrap metal, rubber, help defense stamps can add to the work, caring for sick, growing men and women. Each contributes another to the WAVES, the women's reserve; they can serve their country in many organizations. Each mother of the family can do her share toward victory by rearing God-fearing children in the home to the best of their ability. The greatest necessity at any time is good citizens. The great necessity at this time is good citizens like sports, strength and the Americans. The Fundamentals of which were laid by the Nation's forefathers. What is the Nation's attitude toward the war? Is it reflected in the various commodities, shortage of luxuries and scarcity of liberties show that the people, as a whole, are responsibility in this duty towards winning the war. The high cost of living has been greatly increased, but there are many sacrifices which we must gladly make in order to give the best support to the service who fight for us, to preserve our freedom.

Volunteer Firemen To Meet Friday; Need Members

Dr. Charles S. Kramer, president, has called a meeting of the Volunteer Firemen and other interested persons to be held Friday, June 18, at 8 p. m. at the Mayor's Office in Marlinton. Election of officers will be held at the meeting and a recommendation for fire chief to serve two years will be prepared for presentation to the Town Council.

Dr. Kramer urges the citizens of Marlinton who are interested in having a successful fire department to make plans to attend the meeting. There is need for replacements because of vacancies which exist due to members of the department who have been called into the service or who have left Marlinton for employment in other communities.

But it is pointed out that it is to the advantage of every citizen, especially those who own property and business places, to keep alive and in readiness a well-trained Volunteer Fire Department. Dr. Kramer expects a large attendance at Friday's meeting.

xxx

HONOR ROLL BOARD ERECTED; FAMILIES TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Workmen have completed the erection of the large board which will be dedicated as a war-time memorial to the men and women from Pocahontas county who are in the various branches of the service.

The board is located on the corner of Main street and Third avenue, and has been painted white, trimmed in green. A large flag pole also has been erected on the lot.

Designated as the "Pocahontas County Honor Roll," the board will bear the names of all who are serving the country. The names are now being painted on the board by Curtis McCoy of Marlinton.

Honor Roll certificates, printed in patriotic colors also are in the process of manufacture and will be mailed upon completion to the families of service men and women. They will be suitable for framing.

Both the board and certificates have been made possible through public subscription under sponsorship of the County Organizations Committee, a group representing the various civic and social organizations of Pocahontas county. Adolph Cooper is president of the committee, and Edward W. Reynolds (to whom you can mail your donations) is secretary.

xxx

Farmers Will Get War Service Awards This Week

Approximately 1250 Pocahontas county farm families will receive Certificates of Farm War Service in recognition of their participation in America's 1943 Food-for-Freedom program some time this week, according to Wilbur Moore, chairman of the County USDA War Board.

The certificates, which are 11x14 inches, are signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and County Chairman Wilbur Moore. All farm families whose representative signed a 1943 War Production Farm Plan will be eligible for one of these awards.

The certificates are suitable for framing, and are printed in red, white and blue, on heavy wall a patriotic color scheme. A blue "E" is printed on the face of each certificate and the border is in a red scroll design.

Uncle "Pud" Tucker

— Says —

By ROY McCURDY

MOTHER'S DAY CARD FOR A SOLDIER

No doubt this don't have its bully and that makes most all ... won't go to do much fighter!

Folks who ought to be smart in what our soldiers are "made" and whether their heads are dry, and their hearts gentle, have been just too busy ... their own handkerchiefs to ... If this were not true, those numerous orders, Mothersdays, and Soldiers Dance specialties would be taken as Japanese Recreation ... time on Roses.

Ray Wagner Reeds and Bernard Hess will commission to get the fighters over the hate of Uncle Sam, and another scrapbook. Brothers are good for one.

AMERICA MAY NEVER HAVE A DICTATOR—BUT WE'RE ASKING FOR IT!

Every true American shudders at any serious contemplation of the rule of a dictator in our country . . . but even a cursory study of the democracies which have waned and fallen will reveal that at the heart of their downfall was the failure of their peoples to realize the value of their democratic privileges, and the failure to exercise these privileges at every opportunity.

It is not a new statement that we here in America have failed miserably in respect to this quality of appreciation. That we have done so is reflected in our varied responses. Particularly has this been true in respect to voting. The American system of government is controlled, if at all, by the votes of qualified men and women. These men and women are the government of America in that they hold it within their power to elect or defeat any man who announces as a candidate for public office. And it is this process of selection and elimination by voting which has given us the right to call ourselves a free people; and it is one of the first rights of which people are deprived when the iron heel rule of dictatorship settles down upon a nation. Therefore, it is a great and important privilege to be able to vote. But what have we done about it?

For years the percentage figures of those who have voted in American elections has been discouraging when compared to the figure of those eligible to do so. But in this critical time in the life of our nation, all of our people, everywhere, should become aroused about our free principles. Whether we like to believe it or not, there are forces abroad in the world which are aimed at our destruction, and which, if they could, would deprive us of free way of life. Naturally, all of these insidious forces are depending for their success upon an America which is asleep and complacent.

Ranging all the way from apparently innocent recommendations to discontinue lodge and club meetings, the postponement of church and organization conventions, based on paltry excuse, to the more radical invitations for sedition, a steady assault is being made against the American way of life. They cannot succeed if we are alert and appreciative.

But as a case in point, one should look at the recent town elections in our county. The look should make us thoroughly ashamed: In Marlinton, with a population of around 1,600, and at a cost of $104.20, a total of 64 persons voted in the town election on June 1—36 at one voting place, 28 at the other. This followed an advertised mass meeting attended by about 7 or 8 persons which nominated an uncontested ticket. In Durbin, at an undetermined (by us) cost, a record for the county was set by the 87 persons who voted for the Citizens Ticket. At Hillsboro, with about 200 or so eligible, 20 persons voted, costing the town something more than $10.00. In Cass, with about 200 or so eligible, 19 persons (10 of them election officials) voted, at a cost to the town of $42.50.

And Pocahontas county is not alone here. This is but a concrete example of a nation-wide trend.

It's a dangerous trend. Staying away from the polls in this manner may broaden out into a fan-like circle which includes staying away from church, staying away from lodge, staying away from club, staying away from public meetings, until a subversive minority can control our political and social life in all of these respects.

Of course, outside of a scattering, this epistle will not cover much of America, but it is as much meant for other towns as for our own. Our first duty, however is to those whom we attempt to serve. And to all of the citizens of Pocahontas county: Let's arouse ourselves to an activity which will embrace the exercise of all of our democratic freedoms. It is possible we may may never have a dictator, but in laxity and complacency we're asking for it!

Wool Must Be In June 19

Wool producers who have their wool consigned to the 1943 Wool Pool are reminded that all wool must be delivered to the Williams and Pocahontas warehouse in Marlinton not later than noon on Saturday, June 19, according to Bob Wooddell, county agricultural agent. Wool bookings will be cancelled on both Friday and Saturday beginning at 1 p. m. Friday morning.

The Pool will sell wool in April of following year. Farmers will receive checks in 10 days and last 15 cents. The wool Producers Association is now handling the pool and is paying 40 cents per pound for wool. Wool will be sold in Boston.

Presbyterian Youth Holding Conference At G. M. S.

A Presbyterian Young People's Conference is being held during the period June 13 to 18 at the Greenbrier Military School at Lewisburg. Attending from the Marlinton Presbyterian Church are Bill Bob Moorefield, Clyde Greene Sheppard, Miss Nelle Parsons, Miss Katherine Yeakley Hughes and Miss Doris Lee Wooddell.

xxx

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

County S.S. leaders gathered at Cass Thursday afternoon for a session conference and social hour. Plans were made for County Camp which will be held at Camp Thorpe the last week of July.

Missionary From Jap-Held Korea Will Speak Here Next Thursday Night

The Rev. J. V. N. Talmadge, D. D., will speak at the Marlinton Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock Thursday, June 24, it is announced by Rev. J. C. Wool, pastor.

Dr. Talmadge has been a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Korea since 1910, the year in which that country was annexed by Japan. After Pearl Harbor he was put in solitary confinement in the local jail in Kwangju.

He has been in this country for several months recuperating from the effects of the Japanese imprisonment.

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Talmadge.

xxx

AIRMAN OF MARLINTON BOMBS DUTCH TIMOR

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA (AP) (Delayed)—Captain Zed Smith said Saturday that he is glad he calls Marlinton, W. Va., home instead of Koepang, in Dutch Timor.

Captain Smith was the pilot of one of three Liberator bombers which dropped more than 40 tons of bombs on the Jap-occupied city in a raid which a final check-up revealed devastated the town.

All the bombs appeared to smack dead on the targets, leaving three trails of red fire. Fires spread through the target as the Liberators departed. One section particularly red was known to include the power station.

"I'm glad I wasn't living in that town," said Pilot Smith.

xxx

DEATH ROLL

MRS. J. W. HILL

Mrs. Lula Harper Hill, 64, wife of J. W. Hill, died Wednesday, June 9, 1943, at her home in Marlinton.

Mrs. Hill's death occurred just one day prior to her fortieth wedding anniversary, as she and Mr. Hill were married on June 10, 1903. They had resided in Marlinton since that time.

"Aunt Lula," as Mrs. Hill was favoritely known to her many friends, was a woman beloved by everyone, and was particularly noted for her ready wit which was equal to any situation.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fry, and was born in Salem, Va.. Surviving are her husband, J. W. Hill, town recorder, and one sister, Mrs. Irby Hudson of Lynchburg, Va., and one brother, Phil R. Fry, who lives at the Hill home.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock, Friday, June 11, at the home, by the Rev. Olof G. Olsen, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, of which the deceased was a member. Interment was made in Mountain View Cemetery.

xxx

Meade L. Waugh Is Captain

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Waugh have received notice of the promotion of their son, Lieutenant Meade L. Waugh, to the rank of Captain, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Captain Waugh was called to active duty in March, 1942.

xxx

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN SALES TAX TO TAKE EFFECT ON JULY 1

George P. Alderson, state tax commissioner has issued a reminder that effective as of July 1, 1943, the Consumers' Sales Tax will apply to the sale of ALL food commodities, including bread, butter, eggs, flour, milk, pastries, coffee, tea, chocolate, cocoa, nuts, fruits, groceries, vegetables and meats. However, an absolute exemption of fifty cents is allowed and must be deducted on each sale of food commodities before the tax is computed. A basic exemption of five cents applies to the sale of all other kinds of tangible personal property, and this five cent basic exemption shall be included in and be a part of the absolute exemption of fifty cents on food commodities.

The absolute exemption of fifty cents on food commodities shall not apply when any such products are sold by hotels, restaurants, or any like dispensers of food or drinks, nor to sales of candies, confections, tobacco products, beer, ale, soft drinks or beverages of like nature.

xxx

Hillsboro Elects Holliday

In the town election held last week citizens of Hillsboro elected Dr. Charles Holliday to the office of mayor. Virgil Beckett was chosen as recorder, and the five councilmen are as follows: George Hill, Cleo Beard, Sonny Rogers, J. H. Arbaugh and W. T. Walker.

IT Impresses ME

THAT while many patriotic gestures to conserve have been called to our attention, the leader of them all is the intimation that Clarence Smith, undertaker, et cetera, is now going around with only one shoe on . . . It is also intimated, however, that the laying aside of one of C. S.'s traditional moccasins was not wholly a voluntary act . . .

★

Nature Notes—

A short time ago a little ground squirrel made its appearance in our yard . . . We treated it so well that in a few days it went away and came back—bringing another . . . Now in desperation, we're cracking hickory nuts which our friend Lester Shrader gave us, and putting them in a strawberry basket tacked to the fence . . . and we're joining in with the early morning song of the Papa Squirrel, which sounds very much like the old tune about "I'm Saving Up Coupons to Get One of Those" . . .

★

I watched a mother song sparrow take good care of her young baby one day this week . . . On each visit home for meals I could find the little birdie by listening for its chirps . . . At noon it was in a fence corner . . . At evening it was on the limb of a low bush near the house, where it had weathered a heavy shower, and always nearby was the mother bird, who fed the little one at regular intervals . . . What has more energy than a mother bird? . . . Countless trips to build a nest, a hatching pause and then countless trips to feed the hungry mouths? . . . I got a laugh out of the baby sparrow: When the wind would blow the twig upon which it was perched would sway, and its effort to keep its balance as for all the world like those of a drunken man trying to walk in a moving street car . . .

★

We hereby prognosticate: That if there is anything to heredity in the bird world, the offspring of the robin which built its nest and is rearing its young in the honeysuckle right at our back door, will be too nervous and sensitive to hang on to a phone wire . . . The mother flies off the nest every time we go in or out the back door, and then scolds us from her perch on the clothes-pole . . . At least the whole thing's got me nervous . . .

★

The most engaging thing I have seen in a long while, though, is the 10-day-old baby elk out at beautiful Wyllie Manor . . . sitting on the porch of the magnificent estate we watched the little newcomer, which increases the herd to 10, as he capered around the lot . . . His ceaseless activity, and his tendency to get away "on his own" caused us to sympathize with the poor mother, who tried her best to talk some sense into it—but in vain . . .

★

THAT the latest rage among Marlinton's attractive young women is to invent oneself a new hair-do . . . And while, in my opinion, they were not really in need of more enhancing features, I can't see that Grace Virginia Williams (feather-edge), and Margaret Smith (gathered on top of head) and Betty Ammons (a curl here and there, and tied in back), have been hurt any by the "changes that have been made" . . .

★

THAT while we're on the subject of feminine polchritude, here's a fellow who needs to come to Marlinton . . . William Feather, editor of "The Imperial Type Metal Magazine" says in this month's issue: "So many bare female legs even on the streets these days are so pale, hairy, lumpy, bruised, scarred, bitten, or shapeless, that the male pedestrian has no trouble keeping his mind on his business" . . . Of course, I will not admit such close observation as is indicated by my contemporary editor, but my only recorded answer is . . . Humph! . . .

★

THAT if you think Feather wasn't looking at the world with cast-down eyes, here's another quote: . . . "Saddening Thought: Why do all the women whose slips show, wear washed-out ones with a plain hem instead of those pink satin and lace affairs we see in the shop windows?" . . .

★

THAT such an expectation is like expecting to find that some delightfully groomed and perfumed young lady whom you escorted to be like that when you come home for dinner on the first wash-day after you're married? . . .

★

Sad But True—

Young people grow old and worry about other young people who are doing the same things they did when they were their age.

—The Editor.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

French Unity Speeds Victory Plans; Mediterranean Under Heavy Attack by Allied Naval and Air Concentrations; Chinese Crush Jap Yangtze Offensive

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the U. S. army air force, delivers a diploma to his son, Cadet William Bruce Arnold, a member of the 1943 graduating class at the United States Military academy at West Point.

FRENCH UNITY:
Worth Waiting for

Although General Giraud and General DeGaulle at first could not agree any better at close range in Algiers than they had at long range between Africa and London, Allied leaders were confident that factional gulfs would be hurdled and long-hoped-for French unity would be consummated.

This optimistic view was justified when a "French committee of national liberation," headed jointly by Generals De Gaulle and Giraud, was formally established to "pursue the war at the side of the Allies until total victory over the enemy powers."

Comprising a seven-man group which eventually will be expanded to nine, the new liberation committee will direct the French war effort until France is freed and able to elect its own government. In addition to the co-presidents, Giraud and DeGaulle, the committee includes Gen. Alphonse George and Jean Monnet, named by Giraud; Rene Massigli and Andre Philip, appointed by DeGaulle; and Gen. Georges Catroux, designated by both presidents.

That the new committee meant business was immediately apparent by personnel replacements that eliminated French-African officials with former Vichy ties.

COAL:
WLB Sustained

When President Roosevelt, acting as commander-in-chief, tersely ordered the 300,000 striking mine workers back to work after a 30-day truce had been ended by another walkout, he had left the next move squarely up to mine union chief John L. Lewis.

In his brief statement the President did not consider the possibility that his order might be ignored. But measures of a stern and effective nature were open to him and the force of public opinion was marshaled overwhelmingly behind him—in the event of continued mine work stoppage.

The President's order had unanimously supported the War Labor Board which Mr. Lewis and his United Mine Workers had defied, setting forth plainly that "Just as soon as the miners return to work, the dispute of the dispute . . . will forthwith proceed under the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board."

ARGENTINA:
Neutrality at Stake?

While close censorship had veiled early reports of the "military government" in Argentina, observers were confident that it concerned the course of the nation's future international policy—whether the government would pursue its trend of benevolent neutrality toward the Axis, or would follow the rest of South America in breaking with the Axis.

The military reaction proved added significance, coming as it did on the eve of the Conservative party's national convention providing the Presidential candidate. For this convention had been scheduled to proclaim former President Roberto Ortiz, ailing at his residence. Ortiz had been ordered to "unconditional" President Ramon Castillo.

CHINA:
Japs Lose 30,000

As Chinese forces had continued to press back the Jap invaders in the middle Yangtze valley, a report from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters disclosed that the drive in Central China toward Chungking had cost the enemy more than 30,000 casualties in a two-week period.

The Tokyo radio admitted the reverses in a report announcing that the Jap invasion forces had retired to previously prepared positions. Principal theater of Chinese gains was the Yangtze river in southern Hupeh province and northern Hunan. Here General Chiang's forces wiped out encircled enemy units and seized huge stocks of supplies and equipment, a communique said. As a first step in the recapture of strategic Ichang, the Chinese had regained possession of all points around Changyang, strongly held "doorway" to Ichang.

MEDITERRANEAN:
Mussolini at Bay

Mussolini's defenses at sea had been no more impressive than in the air when Allied forces struck at the island approaches to the "soft underbelly" of Italy.

Target of the first assaults was the island of Pantelleria, closest of Italy's Mediterranean outposts to Africa. Here Allied warships made heavy bombardments that were unopposed. The Italian fleet that had been reported on the alert had made no effort to come out and fight for Pantelleria which already had been shaken by Allied bombers. In none of the attacks did the Allied fleet units suffer casualties. The only resistance offered was from the ineffective Italian shore batteries.

Only 45 miles from the tip of Tunisia's Cap Bon peninsula, Pantelleria was an easily reached target for Allied air forces. As wave after wave of bombers swept over the island blowing up port facilities, other Allied planes kept up a damaging series of forays against Sicily and Sardinia.

The extent to which the Mediterranean was becoming an Allied lake was indicated by a report announcing that the Allied destroyers had sunk two merchant vessels and an escorting torpedo boat and driven a burning Italian destroyer ashore.

TRADE PACTS:
Two Years More

Final approval by the senate of President Roosevelt's reciprocal trade agreements program came after administration supporters, aided by some Republicans, defeated five amendments that would have restricted the President's authority. The house had previously voted favorably.

The President had originally asked for a three-year extension. But because this would throw the policy into the next presidential administration for more than a year, both house and senate measures cut it to two years. The senate's action, however, meant that members of the United Nations could be assured that this government's present trade policy would be continued until June 12, 1945, or nearly five months after the next presidential inauguration.

RUSSIA:
Nazis Try Air

The question, "Where is the German air force?" received at least a partial answer when Moscow announced that 500 Nazi planes had raided the important Russian position of Kursk, 120 miles above Kharkov. The Soviet communique reported that 123 of the raiders had been shot down, as against a loss of 30 Red planes.

Terming the battle as one of the greatest air actions of the war, the Russians disclosed that the effectiveness of their anti-aircraft defenses caused the Germans to jettison their bombs, thus missing military objectives but causing civilian casualties.

Meanwhile, a German report announced further Russian offensives in the Kuban valley of the Caucasus. The Nazis said that five Red tank brigades and several infantry divisions had launched a new drive northeast of Novorossisk, last remaining German stronghold in the Caucasus.

The struggle in the Kuban valley, however, was but one phase of operations from the Caucasus to the Arctic sea that might well determine the war's outcome this summer.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO:
July 1 Deadline

After five months of congressional wrangling the pay-as-you-go income tax bill sped through the senate after passage by the house.

Meanwhile treasury officials had organized the machinery to start the collection-at-the-source system that will take 20 per cent above personal exemptions of each paycheck of 40,000,000 American workers beginning July 1.

Representing a compromise between Democrats and Republicans, the legislation promises an increase in individual income tax revenue to about $16,000,000,000 in the new fiscal year beginning July 1. Under the bill's provisions, all of 1942 taxes of $50 are forgiven and a reduction of 75 per cent on the remainder over $50 is allowed.

AIR POWER:
U. S. Pounds Japs

On widely separated fronts from the Aleutians to Burma, the Japs felt the increasing force of Allied air power.

With the campaign for Attu now a matter of history, American airmen concentrated their attention on Kiska, the main Japanese base in the Aleutians. The navy department reported that planes continued to bomb and strafe the hard-pressed Jap positions.

In New Guinea Flying Fortress and Liberator bombers gave the key Jap air base located at WeWak, a series of heavy raids, dropping incendiaries and explosives on four fields which form part of the WeWak system of airdromes. The Japs retaliated by sending bombers to raid targets in the upper Lakekamu river, 35 miles southwest of Allied-held Wau.

In Burma, American airmen struck at enemy supply lines between Burma and China, dropping 12,000 pounds of bombs on the important Shwell suspension bridge northeast of Mandalay and attacking railroad installations.

POSTWAR PLENTY:
Food Parley Pledge

Collaboration of 44 United Nations countries in building a post-war world of plenty was pledged by delegates attending the United Nations food conference in Hot Springs, Virginia.

The machinery for achieving this goal of plenty would be an international organization, the delegates indicated at the conference's closing sessions. This organization would take the form of a permanent world agricultural authority.

Agreement of the delegates to promote the creation of this international agency was hailed as the conference's most significant accomplishment. Undersecretary of Agriculture Paul H. Appleby, vice chairman of the United States delegation declared the conference had been "highly successful."

BEEF:
Point Values Upped

Dwindling supplies of beef were cited by the Office of Price Administration as the reason for a boost in ration point values.

Beef-eaters found that point values on steak cuts such as porterhouse, sirloin or T-bone were up three points. Roasts were up an average of two points, while the largest single increase was on dried beef, which zoomed four points, or from 12 to 16 points a pound.

Housewives were given consolation in the announcement that decreases in many cuts of veal, lamb and poultry, pork and variety meats would make it possible for them to substitute these items.

WAR BONDS:
Machinery Overhauled

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau announced the merger of the victory fund committee and the war savings staff into a single organization to be called "the war finance committee."

The new group will handle all future war financing drives, Mr. Morgenthau said. The war finance committee will be set up in state finance and operate under state chairmen who will report directly to the treasury, he added.

Washington Digest

Victory Inevitable Despite Deadly, Undefeated Foe

Optimistic Americans Fail to Realize Enemy's Strength in Experienced Men, Naval Forces and Air Power.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

"But, General . . ."

The other day I said that after a long and enlightening talk by a high army officer who was patiently and painfully trying to show us why, despite the recent victories of the Allies, we still had a formidable enemy to meet, a dangerous, deadly and undefeated enemy. Victory, of course, is certain (eventually) but serious reverses, setbacks and sacrifices are still before us, he had said.

I believe my own exclamation, "but, general" is typical of some of these "buts" which have arisen in your minds.

America is the super-duper land of inventive genius, business genius, organizing genius, mass production, high standard of living, assembly line, giant industry, efficiency, wealth, central heating, apple pie and unlimited opportunity. True, we got our first real drubbing at Pearl Harbor but we came back; the British were licked at Singapore, too, but they won the battle of Britain. Latterly, we collaborated in the smashing victory of Tunisia . . . the Russians beat 'em at Stalingrad, the Chinese have held 'em off for what seems a lifetime. Why, then . . .?

The general looked a little weary but he went on politely—I can't quote all he said but will give you the parts the OWI says is "okeh."

"The enemy has the biggest, most effective fighting force in history."

Biggest? But America and Russia . . . and Australia?

Armed Strength

Figures (U. S. Army official): The enemy still has 17 million men under arms. The German soldiers and their satellites, some a little ragged, still total 17 million trained men. The Japs have at least three million in uniform. These (the good and the bad) combine to make "the biggest most effective fighting mass ever assembled in history." Remember, the enemy has been years building this force, and the civilians in these militaristic countries have sacrificed all the things necessary—things we wouldn't even think of rationing, including liberty and decency.

In cold numbers, the enemy still outnumbers us in land forces.

And even today, after Midway, Guadalcanal, Attu, Tunisia, Stalingrad, and the bombings, the enemy is still well equipped, well trained, well co-ordinated, can operate under adverse conditions and in the face of terrific hardships which our troops are just now beginning to master.

That is a brief sum up of the enemy land forces from a military man's point of view.

As to the enemy naval forces.

The Germans have, though you may not have realized from recent news, a small but highly specialized navy still afloat, plus the sub!

The submarine is still the biggest Allied problem. Submarines are tough animals now. Our own are tough enough and these animals are the German specialty. Depth bombs have to go deep to do any more than break the glass in the shaving mirrors and instrument faces. Even in the last war, it took a lot of depth bombs to get one sub. Now the subs can crash dive, shiver and rise to fight back . . . and fight back they can! They are mounted with guns, they can stand up to an escort ship, at least a corvette, and it takes a destroyer or a fast cruiser to catch them even when they stay on the surface where they can return fire. The small stuff (30 caliber) bounces off their scales.

Japan's Navy

The surface ships which Germany has are not so much of a factor. But Japan's navy is still to be reckoned with. It is not destroyed but it has to be before we can achieve victory in the Pacific. Just taking Islands won't do the job—and see how long it took to take an island, first Guadalcanal; now (almost at this writing) Attu.

Airforce: America now leads the world. But remember Germany was the first to build a supreme "luftwaffe" and that luftwaffe and the men who made it are not all dead yet. Japan's vaunted Zeros which could outmaneuver us because of their lightness, it is true, exploded at one shot. They have been improved. Germany has improved a number of her models, too. She is holding back many for defense.

The enemy army, as a whole, is better trained by experience than our men. But those of our men who have had equal training and experience are as good or better, man for man, although not yet perhaps, officer for officer. Remember, Germany and Japan bred an officer class. We trained a few professional officers, limited their prestige, resources and opportunity. The majority of our officers in wartime come from civilian life. They are good, when they get the training and the experience.

As to the fighting man. Well, we've stood up to Hitler's finest in Africa at bayonet's length—we've beaten the crawling Jap at his own game, jungle fighting.

Long Range View

But still we have those odds which I (or rather the general) mentioned when we look at the long range vista. They are the things which the general brought up in answer to the "buts"—I'll name the "buts" in a second. The point is he showed me why it can't be done tomorrow—why we civilians have to be patient. He showed me what we have to do before we get over that "ridge."

After tomorrow, we can consider: The enemy hasn't the initiative the Americans and British have. When things don't go according to plan, they are likely to "bust." We won't.

The enemy has had its best men in the army a long time—its replacements are not as good as ours will be.

Much of the enemy-held territory has a hostile population which will work with the Allies against the enemy when we move in.

Japan and Germany will fall on critical materials before we will—we can beat them at their own game of "ersatz," too; witness synthetic rubber.

We can manufacture and build faster because we have more to do it with than they have. Our home front is farther away from the battle front—and it is more in sympathy with the government, despite political difficulties.

But remember the "buts."

* * *

War Stimulates Changes in Education

One of the many changes which the war has stimulated is the change in education. Education is going to count more after the war. Many boys will come back partially trained in trades and professions which they can follow if they have the additional theoretical and practical instruction necessary to arm them for the stiff competition which is expected.

As a result, college entrance examination requirements will be greatly altered for many of these men will lack the traditional prerequisites. Reform in this field is one of the 11 major objectives, discussed in a report of the commission on liberal education of the Association of American Colleges.

"If an educational program is to be of genuine service to the men and women of the post-war world," the report of the college committee says, "it must perform two functions simultaneously. It must take them as they are and appeal to their immediate desires and special needs, and it must provide for their common and enduring needs in a post-war society."

It will be recalled that the boom after the last war created the coonskin collegian and the flapper coed. The word "collegiate" had a meaning then which took it far afield from the cloister of learning. The crop of students—veterans—will be more serious. They must be taken more seriously. They must have aptitude and achievement tests rather than book-learning examinations; there must be more individualized instruction, more tutorial and seminar methods, special attention must be given to co-ordinated instruction that will aid in the transition from army or industrial life to peacetime community and family relations and the responsibilities of citizenship.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

MARRIAGE: The average American family should retain 30 cents of every dollar of income to war bonds, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau declared.

* * *

CRIME: Deaths of all automobile fatalities in London were unusually heavy, according to an order issued by J. Hall Richards, war commander of the London Metropolitan.

DRAFT CRIP: The draft called Harrison Jenkins' name one at a time until it took all 14 the Clarksville, Miss., farmer sired. The boys ranged in age from 19 to 36.

* * *

PRIVATES: Seventy-two all-Indian air ambulance squads formed during training and nearly a fifth lived with members of their families by day who are fighting a war presented by all.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Foods are "home canned" says OPA if: (1) they have been canned in a kitchen primarily used for the preparation of meals or in demonstrate the preparation of meals; (2) they have been canned in a separate building or shed which a farm home has equipped for canning purposes. If the owner has obtained permission from his local ration board to use such facilities.

Swedish Foreign Minister Christian E. Guenther, declaring that "no neutral power can maintain an absolute balance between warring powers" told an audience at Eskilstuna that Sweden was making "concessions" to Germany "in a higher degree than to the western powers." The Swedish Hourly radio said in a domestic broadcast reported to the Office of War Information.

A Closet for Your Sewing Equipment

MANY women who have learned to sew for the Red Cross are also sewing for themselves. They are thinking of sewing as a duty and taking pride in their work. Many who do not have room for a sewing room are planning efficient closets to house equipment. Here is a model sewing cupboard from my new book Better Home Making.

The cupboard is six and one-half feet high; four feet wide and twelve inches deep. The dress form compartment is five feet six inches high and twenty-four inches wide. The ironing board compartment is four feet ten inches high and eight inches wide. This leaves some space for shelves for the pressing cushions shown at the top; the sleeve board; iron; water pan and sponge; stout slide-in basket for findings; notions and patterns and a lower shelf for fabrics. The construction is of plywood.

* * *

NOTE: If you are in need of new closets and storage space you will find directions in BOOK 1 for a linen closet built into waste space. Also in BOOK 1 there are directions for making bag pockets to use every inch of space in your clothes closets. Booklets are 15 cents each. Send requests for booklets direct to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills Dyaner 15 New York

Enclose 15 cents for each book desired.

Name .....

Address .....

NONE SAFER St. Joseph ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

Ton for Ton

Providing the power to produce a ton of steel calls for a ton of coal.

FOR QUICK RELIEF CARBOIL A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALVE

Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

AFTER DEATH!

TWENTY EXCITING CHAPTERS!

Over 500,000 Copies Sold!

"Peace Manor" is of vital importance to you. If you're tired to the point where you think this blessed book! Starts the 1st day of the month and ends on the 20th. Over 500 thousands have printed this great book. Illustrated. Postpaid only $1.00. Edition limited — so order at once.

GOSPEL ART SHOPPE, Dept. H, Bowie, Tex.

GET AFTER RHEUMATIC PAIN With a Medicine that will Prove Itself

If you suffer from rheumatic pain or muscular aches, buy C-222 today for real pain-relieving help. 50¢. Caution: Use only as directed. If first bottle purchase price refunded by druggist if not satisfied. Get C-222

HOW NOT TO CATCH A FLY

The SLAP METHOD is the most convenient "swish" (that is, employed in swishing flies. You simply swat a purchased fly on the back of a lovely damsel, she flies out and—so does your social standing. A better way to get flies is to

Catch 'em with TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER

It is the old reliable that never fails. Always economical to use, neat and satisfied. For sale at drug and grocery stores.

CATCHES THIS GERM AS WELL AS THIS FLY

THE TANGLEFOOT CO. Grand Rapids, Mich.

WANT SOMETHING
ADVERTISE FOR IT IN THESE COLUMNS

We are always ready to serve you with good printing. No matter what the nature of the job may be we are ready to do it at a price that will be satisfactory.

Let Us Meet Your SERVICE STATION NEEDS
Cosco Gasoline and Oil—Also a Full Line of Auto Parts — Also Soft Drinks and Tobacco
CENTRAL SERVICE STATION
Fred Burns, Prop. Marlinton

There's No Convenience LIKE A TELEPHONE
Shortens Distance Like a Magic Carpet!
POCAHONTAS TELEPHONE CO.
Office: Marlinton, W. Va.

Good Work Is Our Specialty
For You in Need of TAGS
CAR S BLANKS
FOLDERS
DODGERS
RECEIPTS
ENVELOPES STATEMENTS
BILL HEADS
INVITATIONS
LOCKET HEADS LETTER HEADS
PRINTING
Let Us at This Office

ALL NUT'S BEVERAGES
GIVE A LIFT RIGHT ON ANY DAY!
Distributed By
PENDLETON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
Manager, Prop. Marlinton

FOR FARM NEEDS OF OIL — AND GREASE
—See—
The Cosco Man
C. HAMILTON
Marlinton

Something You Want to Sell?
Do you have a piece of farm implement, or any other article which may be needed and which you no longer want.
If so put it in the form of a neat little ad and bring about quick results.
WHY NOT TRY THEM?

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS
by Lynn Chambers

One Whole Chicken Can Be Made Into Two Meals

You're the clever homemaker who saves on chicken by using only half a chicken for roasting. You can have the stuffing, too, by mounding it under the chicken when you roast it in the pan to get all the wonderful flavor of the meat in it.

Most families are so reduced that few homemakers find it necessary to stew or roast a whole chicken for their meals. Instead, it's much smarter to use one half of the chicken for stewing, the other half for roasting, or perhaps in making numerous and delicious dishes using cut up chicken.

Chicken is a good source of protein and we can use it in place of meat dishes regularly. In addition it's a delicious food that combines well with many other types of food, and goes with most vegetables and fruits in the menu.

Consider, for example, many of the chicken salads which can be made up with fruits or vegetables, and for sandwich fillings. Then, too, you can serve chicken either warm or cold with many vegetables and fruits, as a good start on getting what you need of the seven basic food groups necessary to health.

You probably have your own way of stewing and roasting chicken, but instead of using one whole chicken for either of these methods, split it, use one half for stewing, the other for roasting.

Cut the fowl in half, lengthwise, and cook one half with several carrots, celery, parsley, onion, and seasonings in enough water to cover until tender. Make dumplings, if you like, to go with the stew.

*For roast chicken, cook stewing hen split in half lengthwise until tender. Mound 4 to 6 cups of well-seasoned dressing in bottom of shallow pan, well greased where dressing is placed. Arrange dressing to keep outline of chicken. Press cooked half of chicken cut side down over dressing. Brush chicken with melted fat. Bake uncovered in a hot oven (400 degrees) until chicken is nicely browned, about ½ hour.

A few leftover pieces of chicken either from the roast or from stewing can go into a salad. You'll like this combination with fruit:

Chicken and Fruit Salad Bowl.
(Serves 4 to 6)

1 cup diced chicken
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups seedless grapes
2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
½ cup blanched almonds
French dressing

Add salt to chicken. Cover salad bowl with shredded lettuce. Arrange grapes over half of top, oranges over other half. Pass french dressing.

Still another way of stretching your roast, or chicken, if there is absolutely enough to go around is to serve it with potato salad. You may like it hot or you may like it cold. Here's one that's hot:

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Calling prices have been announced on many rationed foods, and it's a good idea to consult the lists when you go shopping. It will help you in buying and budgeting.

Most of the items we're concerned with during foods is canned, and it's more important to buy in season now when you're preparing to put up foods for the fall and winter.

In case you don't have your own garden, you might be of help in picking vegetables and fruits to some farmer who does not have enough help. If you are canning, this is a splendid way of getting fresh produce.

Those of you who produce your own rationed items can help out by not using more than your share. Any such gesture will help get us those products as quickly.

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menus

*Roast Half of Chicken Bread Stuffing
Fresh Asparagus
Parsleyed Potatoes
Lettuce-Watercress Salad
Strawberry Shortcake
Iced Drink
*Recipe Given

Hot Potato Salad.
(Serves 6)

6 potatoes, diced
3 slices bacon
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons chopped onion
6 tablespoons bacon fat
3 tablespoons vinegar

Cook potatoes in jackets until tender. Peel and dice. Cook bacon over low flame until crisp. Remove from pan and break into small pieces and add to hot potato cubes. Add seasoning, parsley and onion. Combine fat and vinegar. Pour over potato mixture and serve hot.

There are still a number of unrationed foods which may fill in nice gaps in menu-making. For example, cottage cheese is an excellent source of both calcium and protein, and you'll enjoy using it in this salad with summer greens:

Cottage Cheese Salad.
(Serves 4 to 5)

2 cups cottage cheese
½ cup sour cream
¼ cup chopped chives
½ cucumber diced
1 tablespoon chopped watercress
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Mix cottage cheese and sour cream lightly with a fork. Add vegetables and diced eggs, and season with salt and pepper. Serve in mounds, garnished with watercress or lettuce and tomato wedges.

Here's the way to stew chicken and bring out all its delicious flavor. Simmer gently until tender in seasoned water with onion, carrot, parsley and salt.

Cottage Cheese Salad Mold.
(Serves 8 to 10)

3 cups cottage cheese
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
5 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon mustard
Dash of cayenne
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1 cup pineapple juice

Mix cheese, pineapple and mayonnaise. Mix salt, mustard, cayenne and lemon juice; add to cheese and mix lightly. Soften gelatin in pineapple juice and dissolve over hot water. Stir carefully into the cheese mixture. Turn into mold and chill until firm.

A cool, delectable dessert that does not consume points and takes it easy on the sugar is this:

Frozen Apricot Shortcake.
(Serves 6)

1 cup dried apricots
2½ cups water
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, beaten
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Sponge cake

Cook apricots until tender, about 10 minutes. Add ½ of sugar and salt. Heat to boiling, remove from heat and beat to a mush. Soften gelatin in water and add to apricots. Cool. Add remaining ½ cup sugar and vanilla to beaten egg and beat until thick. Fold in whipped cream. Arrange layer of sponge cake cut about ½ inch thick on bottom of refrigerator tray. Spread with apricots and cover with whipped mixture. Freeze. Cut in squares and serve cover with ice.

Are you having difficulties planning meals and getting something your family likes? If so we can help you. Write us for suggestions, enclosing a stamped envelope for reply, in care of Lynn Chambers, The Marlinton Journal, Marlinton, West Virginia.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 20

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JOHN DESCRIBES TRUE CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—I John 2:1-6; 2:15-17; 4:15-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.—I John 1:7.

Religion and life go together. To hold the tenets of Christian truth in one's head and not to have them move the heart is to deny the very faith one professes. Yet this is the danger which faces the believer—a temptation before which many have fallen. The result is that much of "what passes for Christianity in these days is very thin stuff, very remote from the original" (Shoemaker).

John was not content with such a weak imitation, and in his writings he set up the true standard of a forgiven and transformed life, living itself out in love and sacrificial service. If we have forgotten what God meant us to be in Christ, or are members of a church which has strayed from the true and living way, this lesson affords an opportunity for penitence and works meet thereunto.

The true Christian life must have

I. Sin Forgiven and Life Transformed (I John 2:1-6).

Not only at the beginning of the Christian life is sin dealt with and put away, but day by day—yes, moment by moment—we have the cleansing power of the blood of our Divine Advocate.

This is of the utmost importance, for God can only use clean channels for the outgoing of His power and grace to the world. We know our own weakness and the defiling presence of the world. But unlike the unregenerate man, we do not submit and go down; we turn to Christ for forgiveness and cleansing.

The transformation of life which thus comes to the believer is shown in obedience to the commandments of God. In the early church there were those who said that if they only believed in Christ as Saviour it made no difference how they lived—and they have their followers in our day.

Be sure of this, the essential thing in Christian profession is not how you talk about Christ, but how you walk in obedience to His commandments.

Real Christianity will cause us to be

II. Hated by the World and Loved by the Brethren (I John 3:13-18).

The world, that is, unregenerate mankind, hates a genuine Christian no matter how kind and loving he may be. Why? "Because the Christian believer gives the non-believer an uncomfortable sense of inferiority. The presence of high Christian ideals in marked contrast to his own selfish policies arouses his anger and resentment" (Douglass).

The presence of a clean, godly life in a community makes every sinner look that much blacker, and the world, the flesh, and the devil will do everything possible to break down and destroy such a testimony.

We, as Christians, should not be surprised that the world hates us. In fact, we should be troubled if it does not hate us, for if our Christianity really means anything, it is distasteful to a God-hating world. Beware if sinners find nothing in your life which distresses them and convicts them of sin.

In the midst of enmity the Christian is not afraid, for he is

III. Indwelt by God and Unafraid in the World (I John 4:15-17).

A sincere confession of Christ as Saviour brings a man into that close relationship to God which is expressed in the words, "God abideth in him, and he in God" (v. 15).

The full depth of meaning of these words is obviously beyond our limited understanding, but we accept the fact by faith and rejoice in it. We recognize that it means that we are brought by our faith in Christ, into the very center of God's love. Christ, the well-beloved Son, who stands in that blessed place, draws us into the circle and there we stand in Him.

God's love showed itself in the giving of His Son as the Redeemer of the world. It was and is unselfish and sacrificial devotion to the eternal welfare of those who merited only judgment. We do not love until we reflect that quality in our lives.

Such love casts out fear. Fellowship is impossible in an atmosphere of fear, but love rules it out. In Christ we realize that God first loved us, and then our hearts go out in warm devotion to him.

Not only does the Christian no longer fear the day of judgment, but he is unafraid in the present evil world. This is not because of his own strength or ability, but because through faith in Christ he is "like God," and "as he is, so are we in this world" (v. 17). By many products an assured ground of confidence could possibly be provided. Let us recognize our position in Him, and be strong and unafraid.

For you to make

7504

RIGHT from your scrap-bag steps this footwear! Both sandals and scuffs are entirely of rags, soles and all, and make gay, inexpensive play shoes or bedroom slippers. Use up scraps in varied colors.

Pattern 7504 contains instructions for making slippers in small, medium and large sizes; illustration of stitches; list of materials needed.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern.

No.....
Name .....
Address .....

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Keep everything in its proper place to reduce night accidents.

• • •

Always pull wrenches toward you. Always cut away with a knife from you.

• • •

Don't have anything else in the oven when you plan to bake a cake, and place cake as near the center of oven as possible.

• • •

A layer of tomato ketchup poured over the top of beans while baking will cook through the beans and add much to their flavor.

• • •

Corn meal used in puddings, or mush, should be thoroughly mixed in a little cold water before hot water is added. It then will not be lumpy.

Lesson Frugal Manager Taught Stuck With Driver

The works manager of a certain railway company had a reputation for meanness.

The pet bee in his bonnet was oil and waste. He was always driving home the fact that if every employee was careful with oil and cotton waste, much money would be saved.

One day he was having a few words with a very new driver.

"Tell me," he ordered, "what would you do if you were driving one day, and saw an express thundering towards you on the same line?"

The novice thought hard. Then: "I'd grab the oilcan, I'd grab the waste—and I'd jump!"

In the Navy a floor is a "deck," doors are "bulkheads," downstairs is "below," and a cigarette is a "Camel." At least, Camel is the favorite cigarette among Navy men, as it is among men in the Army, Marines, and Coast Guard. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And a carton of Camels is a favorite gift. Though there are now Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

Kool-Aid Makes DELICIOUS FROZEN DESSERTS. KOOL-AID 5¢ Serves 6 to 8

TABASCO
The snappiest seasoning known, and the world's most widely distributed food product! A dash of this piquant sauce gives a rare flavor to any food.
TABASCO—the seasoning secret of master chefs for more than 75 years!

CLABBER GIRL
Baking Powder

WAR-TIME BAKING MUST BE GOOD
Your choice of ingredients is now doubly important . . . Choose the best . . . Then, guard against waste and be sure of results with Clabber Girl Baking Powder—Ask Mother, She Knows: It's economical, too, this baking powder that has been a favorite in millions of homes for years and years.
HULMAN AND COMPANY, TERRE HAUTE, INDIANA

Milk Saver . . .

Kellogg's Corn Flakes, alone or with fruit, supplement the nutritive elements of milk—make a natural combination that helps you stretch your precious milk supply. You need less than a glassful per serving. Vitamins, minerals, proteins, food energy—in one dish!

The "SELF-STARTER Breakfast"

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA

AUBREY E. FERGUSON
Editor and Publisher
ALMA HESS FERGUSON
Business Manager

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Marlinton, W. Va.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year - - - - - - - - - - - - $1.50
(Single Copy, Three Cents)

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE
American Press Association, 225 West 29th St., New York, N. Y.

ADVERTISING RATES:
National Advertising, 40c Col. Inch
(Lower Rates for 200 In. or More)
Local Advertising, 25c Col. Inch

CLASSIFIED RATES:
1c Word Each Insertion; Minimum Charge One Insertion, 25c

WEST VIRGINIA PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1943

EDITORIAL

New Deal Teapot Dome

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and his chief, President Roosevelt, set the Teapot Dome oil scandal boiling again when they signed over to the Standard Oil Company of California the exclusive rights for five years in the Navy's greatest oil reserves in Elk Hill, California.

This is the same oil reserve which the late Edward Doheny leased from Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall during the Harding administration. Fall served a prison term for taking a $100,000 "loan" from Doheny after the deal went through. There is no suspicion of such "graft" in this instance, but the welfare of the nation is affected just as much as it was by the Teapot Dome deal.

Under the deal made by Knox, Standard Oil gets all the oil it can produce from the 43,000-acre reserve during the next five years. During those five years, the Navy doesn't get one drop of oil or one cent of money—though it was agreed the government would put up $2,000,000 to make the deal effective. After the 5-year period, the Navy would get one-third of the oil and Standard would get the other two-thirds.

The agreement was signed by Mr. Roosevelt. FOR FIVE MONTHS IT WAS KEPT A SECRET EVEN FROM OTHER MEMBERS OF THE CABINET. When news of it became public, Deputy President Jimmie Byrnes stopped the deal. Alibi artists try to explain that Roosevelt relied on Knox and didn't know what he was doing. He signed the contract, however—as he should have known what it was all about. Now the New Deal has a Teapot Dome scandal all its own.

Crackpot Theories

The other day we received a penny postal card from a fellow over in the neighboring state of Maryland who says, "I am interested in introducing an idea into the Counties about how to rid themselves of machine rule in politics, and return the government to the people where it belongs, under the constitution. Machine rule produces machine candidates and machine made office holders responsible only to the machine, and unfit to represent the people."

So he advocates a platform to: "First—refuse to vote for anybody's second term in the same elective office; second—have the County vote and operate the County press, electing the County editor by a vote of the people; third—have the State to provide a Presidential Primary under a two-party system so that it will be legal, fair, and Federal. Allow no candidates to qualify who is running for a second term. Draw legal straws to draw delegations to Federal conventions."

We are doing the advocates of this platform the favor of calling these things to your attention—not only to add to our own belief that it will provide food of "crackpot" to us.

There is little doubt that the government needs to be returned to the people; but it is our opinion that this return should be done upon already established principles of Constitutional government, and not by way of radical new departures. That is how it got away from the people.

Personally, we have no intention to run for any county office, or keep us from voting for the good of all the people and have not become such a victim of campaign fear as to refuse to consider at all the advisability of doing the above, and to vote as he does not desire to make plans to perpetuate himself in office for the rest of the natural of all the people. However, behold a term of office would produce evils for one to be a county public servant upon profession or their office.

Space will not permit a complete discussion of all the points set forth on the penny postal, but naturally we have a deep interest in the suggestion about a County-owned press. The card itself was addressed to the Journal as "The Free Press." If our friend's suggestion were accepted, the address line would need changing. A county-owned press would no longer be a free press. An editor elected by a vote of the people would not be a free editor. We said in the beginning that these ideas sounded "crackpot." If we were an editor by election — and liked our job — we'd be afraid to say that anybody's ideas sounded "crack-pot."

On the contrary, the only reason why this editor is privileged to express freely his own opinions, without equivocation or evasion, for acceptance or refusal, is due to the fact that he is an independent owner of a business in which no person outside of our own immediate family has a dollar, and against which no man holds claim for a dollar.

Must Buy It Twice

Paying for a dead horse is one kind of waste of money that nobody likes; but paying for a dead horse twice is something much more incredible.

When the 1943 Legislature reduced appropriations for the department of public assistance, the new director, Homer W. Hanna, adopted the plan of setting up regional offices to take care of the work, because there wasn't money enough to maintain the old county departments.

Adoption of the plan necessarily released certain furniture and fixture that the county departments have had. County courts naturally expected to get possession of that furniture since they had paid for it in the first place. But the Attorney General has ruled that the stuff was bought out of county relief funds and the county courts can't have it unless they "reimburse" the relief funds to the extent of the cost of the equipment.

Whether the equipment was bought with county relief funds or county general fnds or county special funds, it was still "county funds." The county bought it once and paid for it, but still doesn't own it. If it wants the stuff now, that the department doesn't need or want, it will have to pay for it again!

Sales Tax Exceeds "Loss"

Collection of the gross sales tax for just 11 months of this fiscal year total $21,427,302.30. That is twice as much as was collected in the whole four years of the last Republican administration. This is $6,000,000 more than even the Neely administration estimated it would be; and is enough surplus to offset the "loss" for two years cause by the repeal of the incom etax.

DUNMORE NEWS

Mountaineers Meet

The Dunmore Mountaineers 4-H Club held its regular monthly meeting on Friday, June 11, at the home of Billy Waugh. The theme of the program was "Music." Taking part on the program were Martha Campbell, Sue McElwee, Alberta Miller, Billy Waugh and Johnny Hevener. Members present were Dorothy, Martha, L. E., Eolyn and Wanda Campbell, Sue McElwee, Jo Betty Pritchard, Johnny Hevener, and Alberta Miller. Two visitors were present, George Pritchard and Hilda Miller. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Waugh.

Flying Eagles Meet

The Flying Eagles 4-H Club met at the home of Charles McElwee Saturday night, June 12. The theme for the program was "June," and in opening the meeting the president, Virginia Lee Hevener, read a poem called "June." Songs were sung, and two talks were given, "West Virginia's Birthday," by Glenn Stamper, and "The Emblem of Our Country," by Charles McElwee. A poem, "Humility," was read by Roberta Jane Hiner and each member talked about the projects undertaken. A demonstration on the "Care of Shoes" was given by Pauline Campbell, and Charles McElwee demonstrated "Corner Garden Planting." Reeves Dodrill, new assistant county agent, gave an interesting get-acquainted talk. At the conclusion of the program games were played on the lawn and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. McElwee to the following members: Jean and Ida Hiner, Virginia Lee Hevener, Pauline Campbell, Glenn Stamper, Charles McElwee and the leader, Mrs. R. M. Hiner; and to the visitors: Mr. Dodrill, Miss Margaret Irvine, Mrs. Elva Wilson, Mrs. E. E. Campbell, Mrs. O. J. Campbell, W. F. McElwee, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Moore, R. M. Hiner, Dorothy, Martha, and Eathers Campbell and Sue McElwee.

Honor Parts Given

A party was given Thursday night, June 10, at their home by Mr. and and Mrs. W. L. Stamper in honor of their son, Marion, who was home on a three-day furlough from the Army. He is stationed in Greensboro, N. C. Those present were Mrs. Clyde McLaughlin and small daughters, Phyllis and Judy, Mrs. Ernest Rhea, Mrs. Lee McLaughlin, Cleo, Woodrow and Glen Corbett, Ida and Jane Hiner, Betty and Bob Waugh, Dorothy and Martha Campbell, Sue and Charles McElwee, Ruby Deputy, Bob Woods, Meredith and Wallace Lightner, Thaddeus Gibson, Virginia Lee Hevener, Glenna Stamper, Frederick, Charles and Anna Mae Frayer, "Frog" and Junior Mahaffey, Tommy Pritchard and Marion Stamper.

Bible School Closes

The Daily Vacation Bible School held at the Baxter Presbyterian Church closed Friday night, June 11. The total enrollment was 35 with an average daily attendance of 22. On Friday night prizes were awarded in "Geography" to L. E. Campbell and Roberta Jane Hiner; on "Bible Drill" to Charles McElwee and Gospels of St. John were given to those who were able to name the books of the Bible correctly. Certificates were awarded to the following for perfect attendance: George and Jo Betty Pritchard, Wanda, Eolyn, L. E., Martha, Dorothy, Pauline and William Campbell, Johnny Hevener, Edna Lee Miller, Cora Sue and Charles McElwee, Roberta Jane and Ida Hiner, Mrs. E. S. Campbell, Mrs. L. R. Campbell and Meredith Lightner.

Personals

The Misses Ida and Jane Hiner, Dorothy, Martha and Pauline Campbell and Sue McElwee were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Adams, Mrs. Brown Campbell and daughter, Bessie Grace, on Thursday, June 10, in Sitlington.

Mrs. Bill Linsey and son Virgil of Durbin were afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Adams, Mrs. Brown Campbell and daughter, Bessie Grace, in Sitlington, Thursday, June 10.

C. P. Adams left Thursday, June 10 for the Clifton Forge Hospital where he will receive treatment.

Misses Dorothy and Martha Campbell and Sue McElwee were overnight guests at the home of Ida and Jane Hiner, June 5.

Jackie Miller spent the past week with his sister Mrs. Samuel Henderson of Elkins.

Edna Lee Miller is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Harry Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pritchard of Durbin were evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pritchard on Sunday, June 13.

The Young People's Class of the Presbyterian Church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. E. Pritchard, teacher, on Friday night, June 11.

Those home from the Army are A-C Eldon E. Campbell of Grand Rapids, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Campbell, and Sgt. Pershing Arbogast from Australia, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arbogast.

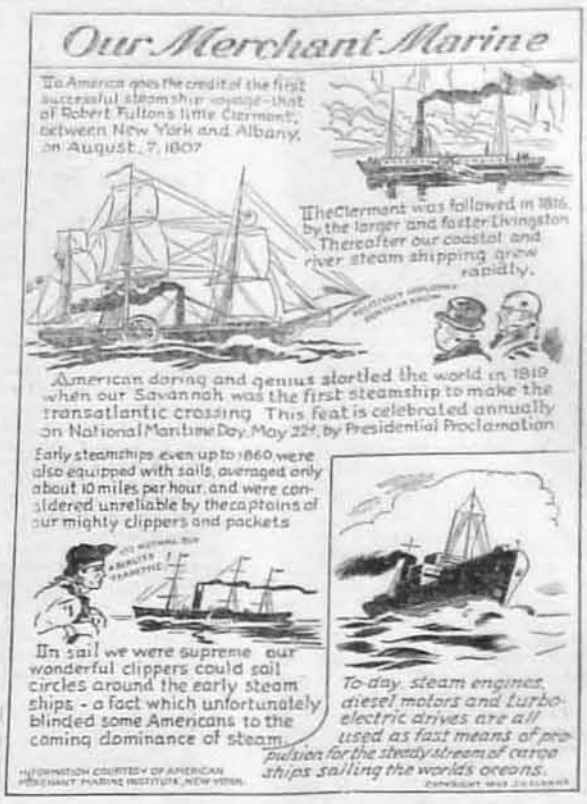
Miss Marilee Campbell who is employed in Charleston is spending this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Campbell.

J. W. Carpenter is quite ill at his home as a result of a bad cut on his leg.

Mrs. Leo Shinaberry and son Buddy and Mrs. Charles Carpenter and children are spending some time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carpenter.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in the Church, Thursday, June 10.

—xxx—



UNITED WE WIN

(Continued from page one)

enemy within the ranks. It will be the spiritual factors that will win this war, that is the morale of the people, that courage that is no swept away by hysteria, the faith, the determination, the will to carry on and to win. We must all feel that nothing else matters now, that there is but one thing that counts—to win this war. For this purpose we must all work together and by common sacrifice in the face of common danger, we must grimly set aside anything that interferes with the production job.

The greatest contribution that we Americans can make toward winning the war, both at the fighting front and the home front, is to put our trust in God and make every effort to render America worthy of God's

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, will sit as provided by law, on Monday and Tuesday, June 28 and 29, 1943, at the Court House, as the Board of Equalization and Review, for the purpose of reviewing the land and personal property tax books of Pocahontas County, as completed by the Assessor for the year 1942.

By order of the Court, this 1st day of June, 1943.

MOODY KINCAID, Clerk.

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE

VERY CHOICE Jersey dairy heifers $25 each, non-related bull free with 5 head. Also several registered heifers $50 each.

SAYRE DAIRY CATTLE CO.,
SAYRE, PA., Box 84.

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

Install back walls, grates, cooking stoves; line furnaces. Work guaranteed. Write me: L. B. GOODALL, CALDWELL, W. VA.

THE RAM THAT KNOWS THE RATTLE OF MACHINE GUNS

We take great pride in our livestock, for we have some of the best to be found anywhere.

England also takes pride in its livestock. Many of our breeds of cattle, sheep and horses come from there.

We think farming has been hard this past season, with the shortage of labor and machinery. It has been harder elsewhere. In England, for example, feed is scarce, meats are needed badly by the people, and German airmen machine gun the farm animals in the fields every chance they get. We must remember this all the time—and buy War Bonds—all that we possibly can.

There are two good reasons for buying War Bonds. The first is that it will give our boys the guns and planes and tanks they must have. The second is that War Bonds are a sound investment. They never depreciate in value. They return a third more than the original cost in ten years. You can cash them if you need the money any time after sixty days. Buy Bonds now —to help your country and to help yourself—at your bank or post office.

* * *

MAKE EVERY MARKET DAY BOND DAY

BACK UP YOUR BOY
Increase your payroll savings in your family Bank

What You Buy W
WAR BON
Pig Boat

At sea on a submarine actly the "life of Riley" is tle of the Atlantic, or on stretches of the Pacific know the hazards of

One of the spots aboard Boats" that all crew joy is the galley, or kitch limitations prevent an elab up, but cooks aboard the are justly proud of the m prepare for their crews. creased purchase of War Bo make submarine life as pl possible.
U. S. Treasury

SHARP ALMANA

"Whatever advice you give, b

JUNE
18—War declared
Band, 1812.
19—Balloon fell to rebels, 1937.
20—U. S. military him not attended
21—Franco-Germa peace negotiat
22—Joe Louis wo weight heavy pounds, 193
23—Typewriter pa
1874.
24—John Calvi
America, 140

WILBUR SHA
BILLIARDS
Candy - Cigarettes
Lunches and Fountain S
MARLINTON

Alpine Theatre
MARLINTON, W. VA.
WEEK STARTING FRIDAY, JUNE 18
Friday-Saturday Double Feature
Warren William in "Counter Espionage"
— Also —
"Thundering Trails" with The Three Mesquiteers
ANOTHER CHAPTER of EXCITING SERIAL, "SECRET CODE"
Monday - Tuesday
"The Forest Rangers"
WITH FRED MacMURRAY, PAULETTE GODDARD
Wednesday - Thursday
'Moon and Sixpence'
WITH GEORGE SANDERS, HERBERT MARSHALL
BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS HERE

SOCIAL DOTS

• Chatty Items About People And Events •

Emma Cackley, Robert Hartley Wed at Hillsboro

Miss Emma Cackley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Cackley of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew the bride, of Mr. Robert L. Hartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hartley of The Plains, Fauquier, at the Oak Grove Presbyterian Church in Hillsboro, West Virginia, June 16, 1943, at twelve o'clock. Mr. Joseph Clark of Marlinton, an ordained elder in the church, read the ceremony.

The church was decorated with white flowers and candles. As the guests assembled, Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, of Hillsboro, played piano selections, and the traditional wedding music was played as processional and recessional.

The bride, who was dressed in a powder blue street-length dress with white accessories, complemented with a shoulder corsage of white roses, was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was Miss Virginia Lee Boyd, who wore a rose dress, trimmed with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Paul Dunn acted as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Mr. Boyd and William Cackley.

The bride is a graduate of Hillsboro high school, and was graduated from West Virginia University where she majored in home economics. She was a member of the Varsity 4-H Club, and belongs to Alpha Omicron, home economics sorority, Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, and Kappa Phi, Methodist Girls' Club.

Mr. Hartley graduated from Marlinton high school, and received his degree in agriculture at the University of the year. While attending the university, Mr. Hartley was a member of the varsity wrestling team, and took an active part in intramural sports. He is a member of Kappa Delta Theta, Methodist Men's fraternity, University 4-H Club, and Alpha Zeta Club. A social fraternity is also Kappa Epsilon. He is now employed at the Morgantown Ordnance Works.

The young couple will take a wedding trip in the northern part of the state and will reside in Morgantown.

•

Mrs Kenneth Bumgardner of Cabin Creek visited Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Bumgardner last week-end. She will soon leave for the state of Texas to join with her husband, who is stationed there.

•

Miss "Billie" Bumgardner of San Mateo, Del., visited with relatives here from Wednesday until Sunday.

•

Mrs Callison and family visited on Cabin Creek Sunday.

•

Mrs. Charles Scott of Clarksburg was in Marlinton Monday. She was en route to Lewisburg to hold a school of instruction for the Eastern District there.

•

Mrs. Reed Davis left Sunday for Covington to visit relatives.

•

Misses Frances, Sue and Millie Price arrived home Monday evening from Philadelphia to spend some time with their mother, Mrs. Lura Brill.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith arrived home last week from Gulfport, Miss. Cpl. Smith is much improved following a recent serious illness.

•

Maurice Lang of San Marcos, Texas, is visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Clara Lang, for 3 or 4 weeks.

•

Miss Gertrude Shay was visiting at the home in Kingwood .

•

Mrs. Ruth Rhea, who is employed at a warehouse in Charleston, visited in Marlinton last week-end.

•

Mrs. McKinley Waugh left Sunday for a visit in Princeton.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mason moved last week into the property owned by Mrs. Killingsworth, formerly occupied by Mrs. John Cunningham.

If Excess acid causes you pains of Stomach Ulcers, Gas, Heartburn, Belching, Nausea, Gas Pains, get free sample, at Royal Drug Store.

INSURANCE

Fire and Tornado Extended Coverage, Life, Auto, Truck, Burglary, Health & Accident.

HOSPITAL & SURGEON FEES

S. A. DEVERS

Marlinton, W. Va.

Kathleen Goes to School

Kathleen Wilson is known to millions of radio fans as "Claudia Hardesty" on NBC's, perennially popular dramatic program "One Man's Family". Kathleen in real life is following the lead of her radio character by taking a course in engineering drawing at the University of California. Kathleen already is a Bear Coast first alder. WLW, Sundays at 7:30 p. m. CWT.

Mrs. Ward Barlow and sons returned from a week's visit with home folks at Hinton. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Lowell Higgins of Sunbury and Mrs. Agnes Combs son of Hinton.

•

Hoover Simmons is home on a worry short leave to visit his wife who has been undergoing treatment in the local hospital.

•

Mrs. E. L. Fenton and daughter Mary Frances left early Wednesday morning for Charleston to make their home. They have purchased a new home there. Mr. Fenton is employed by the Charleston Bank of Commerce.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLaughlin, accompanied by Mrs. John McLaughlin, were visiting and shopping in Staunton, Va., last Friday.

•

Mrs. A. C. Pifer was taken to the local hospital Monday for a change of the cast on her foot. Dr. J. L. Hutchison of Huntington, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pifer, is visiting here this week.

•

Mrs. N. J. Williams and daughter of Huntington are visiting Dr. and Mrs. Joe Parsons.

•

Mrs. Leonard Auldridge and daughter, Martha Frances, of Princeton, arrived Tuesday to visit with Mrs. Edgar Wooddell and family.

•

Miss Margie King who is employed in Lewisburg, is spending her vacation with relatives in Marlinton.

•

Miss Blanche Fallsgraff of Rupert visited her father over the week-end. He is a patient in the local hospital.

•

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Reynolds left Sunday for Oak Hill where they were joined by their daughter, Mrs. William Holy, who accompanied them to Louisville, Ky., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Myles, and the Myles' new daughter who was born June 8.

•

Ensign Mary Elizabeth Berry is now stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Announcement

Opening a Real Estate Service for Pocahontas. All persons who desire to buy, sell or trade Real Estate will find it to their advantage to —

WRITE — PHONE — OR SEE

JACK RICHARDSON

Real Estate Broker - Marlinton, West Virginia

"PROMOTING POCAHONTAS"

OPERATING UNDER A BROKER'S LICENSE ISSUED BY THE WEST VIRGINIA REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

Caroline Lang Thomas Celebrates Birthday

•

•

•

THIS BANK

—IS—

A Guardian for your funds.

A Treasury for your needs.

A Counselor for your problems.

—and—

A Friend to everyone.

BUY BONDS — THEN KEEP THEM SAFE IN OUR VAULT

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN MARLINTON

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

MARLINTON, W. VA.

THERE ARE NO RESTRICTIONS ON OUR DESIRE TO SERVE YOU WELL

Rexrode Chevrolet Co.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

Attractive Looks WILL BE REGAINED IMPROVED PRESERVED By Regular Visits to this Beauty Parlor

Annette Beauty Shop
Mrs. Dice Grimes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

GOOD FURNITURE Is An Important Investment YOU CAN OBTAIN REAL VALUE AT

The Furniture Mart
Camden Ave. Marlinton

Dr. Harry C. Solter Clinic
Office Hours:
10 to 12 A. M.
1 to 3 P. M.
7 to 8 P. M.
Thursdays—No afternoon hours.
Sundays—By appointment only.

WE FILL PRESCRIPTIONS WITH ACCURACY AND UNFAILING CARE

Royal Drug Stores, Inc.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

ATTENTION TO ONE'S BEAUTY NEEDS WILL ADD TO APPEARANCE AT ONE'S BEST, CONSTANTLY

Make regular appointments here

Style-Rite Beauty Salon
Luella Richardson Marlinton

All Repair and Service NEEDS MAY BE OBTAINED AT THE

Marlinton Esso Station
Wm. H. Cornett, Mgr.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

BOWL FOR HEALTH AND PLEASURE

Alpine Bowling Lanes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

THEY WERE EXPENDABLE

by W. L. White

© WHITE W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY SO FAR: The story of their part in the battle for the Philippines is being told by four of the five naval officers who are all that is left of Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron 3. They are Lieut. John Bulkeley (now Lieutenant Commander), squadron commander; Lieut. R. B. Kelly, second-in-command; and Ensigns Anthony Akers and George E. Cox, Jr. During a raid against the Japs, the PT boats captured a landing barge and took prisoner a Jap captain and one of his men. But Squadron 3 had also suffered the loss of two of their original six boats, and they were planning to escape to China, when all of their torpedoes were gone, unless help arrived.

CHAPTER VIII

"When we went out that night," said Bulkeley, "we didn't dream we were to take our final crack at the Japs off Bataan. I took two boats—Kelly in the 34, riding myself with Akers in the 35—to see if we couldn't bag one of the Jap destroyers which the army could see in Subic Bay. They'd been driven far back, but from the highest ridge of the Bataan mountains they could still look down into Subic with their 20-power binoculars.

"But the admiral had said we weren't to go into the bay. We must coax them outside. The Japs had the bay's rim lined with guns, and it would be suicide. We got outside of Subic about eleven o'clock. All according to plan, Kelly hid his 34 boat in a cove just outside the bay, while I went into the entrance and raised a little hell—fired my machine guns so they could see the tracers, hoping a Jap destroyer would follow me out, whereupon Kelly was to come out of the cove and lam a couple of torpedoes into their engine room. It didn't work. The Japs had had all they wanted of us. But just as I was about to leave, I saw from the entrance the outline of a big ship—tied to Olongapo dock."

"She was a big one," said Akers, "maybe 10,000 tons. A tanker, we learned the next day. So we turned back, sneaked toward her—there was no fire on us yet—and cut loose two torpedoes. By the time they exploded, we had cleared the mouth of the bay. But from the mountains of Bataan the army watched her burn all night, and in the morning there she was, sunk at her dock."

"They were our last torpedoes fired in defense of Bataan," said Bulkeley. "Since December 7 we had probably sunk a hundred times our own combined tonnage in enemy warships. While we'd lost two of our six boats, neither had been hit by the enemy—both had gone aground in the dark.

"On the way back I realized that we had fired our last torpedoes, except those we would need to fill our tubes for the run to China. And we had just about enough gas to get us there, with hardly a barrel to spare. If we were ever to make the run, we must make it soon. And it was getting plain that we couldn't do much more for Bataan, which was on its last legs."

"I can tell you about the army," said Cox. "I used to get bored at Sisiman Cove and take trips to the front—sometimes up into the outposts. There were a lot of men in uniform on Bataan, but the front-line fighting soldiers consisted, first, of about two thousand Americans, well seasoned and good fighters. Then, about twelve hundred Filipino Scouts—equally well trained and equally good. Lastly, they had in the fighting line about twenty-seven thousand Filipino trainees—young kids who had never worn a uniform until a few weeks before the war started.

"Their officers were equally untrained. Toward the end, it was grotesque. Tough, experienced American Regular Army privates would be giving orders to Filipino generals.

"Those two thousand Americans and the twelve hundred Scouts were the only real fighting men on Bataan, and they were run ragged—every time the Japs punched a hole in the line, these experienced troops would have to be thrown in to plug it—everywhere at once.

"Then there was the item of equipment—no spare parts. They had a few tanks left, with their treads falling off. A missing fan belt would put an entire tractor out of the war—for want of a treat, a tank would be junk by the roadside.

"That's more or less how it looked to us on March 1," said Kelly, "which is a day I'll never forget. It started off in a curious way—it seemed that General MacArthur wanted to take a ride on one of our boats with Bulkeley. We felt honored, but I couldn't have understood why the General would choose a time like this for a pleasure trip. Still, orders were orders, and even the air force got theirs—or rather what was left of it, which was exactly four Douglas P-40's patched together from the pieces of many others.

"This proud American air force gathered up its superiority over that area of the bay while the General was out on the water. The area was only four square miles, and the time only half an hour—about all the expediency this pathetic air force was able to guarantee. While the General was having his ride I was briefed—supreme command had given up which might open our door to China! I could see the wire didn't understand it either, and were starting to speculate and gossip.

"But the General explained everything when he returned from the ride, by officially presenting Bulkeley with the order decorating him with the D.S.C. We'd known about it for weeks, but this, it seemed, was the official presentation. He also congratulated the men on the fine work they had done, and handed each a package of cigarettes. It wasn't until that night that Bulkeley told me all this had been camouflage. For that morning the General had called him in and told him of the new plan. China was out for us, all right. Because Washington had made MacArthur Commander in Chief for all the Pacific and ordered him to leave. A submarine had been suggested, but MacArthur had said Bulkeley was the only commanding officer he knew in whom he had complete confidence—he was sailing with Buck. But he'd wanted to make a trial run first, and so added the little ceremony to allay the suspicions of the men. Because we were leaving Bataan in absolute secrecy and very soon.

"Of course to us this means that the China trip—our last hope of seeing America and escaping death or a Japanese prison—was gone forever. Now the MTB's were like the rest here in the islands—the expendables who fight on without hope to the end. So far as we knew, we would now finish up the war in the southern islands, when the Japs got around to mopping up the last American resistance there.

"The minute we knew we were to leave Bataan soon," continued Lieutenant Kelly after a pause, "we got to work on the four boats. We knew the trip would be tough, and the boats were old now. The engines had had double the number of hours' service without their customary thorough overhaul and returning, so they were making half their original speed.

"But the General explained everything when he returned from the ride."

"We planned to scrape the bottoms and overhaul their struts, but this was done for only three. My boat's turn was last, and meanwhile it was used for patrol.

"Overhauling these motors without any replacement parts was a terrible job. For instance. Any tank-town garage which overhauls a flivver back in the States always replaces the gaskets with new ones. Only we didn't have any. Or any sealing compound. So those old gaskets had to be carefully removed, handled as gently as though they were precious lace, and laid back in place when the motors were reassembled.

"How much gas could we carry? We experimented—put down planks on those ¾-inch plywood decks to strengthen them, and finally decided we could take a chance on piling twenty of those fifty-gallon drums on each boat.

"Naturally the crews got curious about all these preparations. Since we knew as much about what the Japanese were doing across the bay, we assumed their means for finding out about us were equally good. Anyway, Bulkeley and I had decided that there is only one way of keeping a valuable secret during a war: don't tell it yourself.

"But we had to tell the men something. So we said maybe, after we had exhausted all our gas here on Bataan, we would head down for Cebu in the southern islands. Cebu, where there was plenty of food and more torpedoes, and where they had the most beautiful and loveliest girls on the islands, and plenty of dancing.

"It pointed it up as a golden spot. Only Bulkeley and I knew that when we got to Cebu we would be stranded—there was no gasoline there and only a little in Mindanao. We could never hope to get to Australia.

"But then there were the two correspondents—Clark Lee and Nat Floyd of the New York Times, and also Colonel Wong. They knew about the Chinese trip because the Admiral had authorized them to go with us. So we told them yes, we were still going to China, but we didn't know when—maybe not for a long time—and advised them if they had any other chance to get out, by all means to take it. Meanwhile we kept on the boats all that landing-gear equipment we had assembled for the China trip—so if any hint of it had leaked out to the crew, they would think it was still on.

"Meanwhile MacArthur had told Bulkeley that Bataan would fall shortly, and Corregidor would go soon after—if it didn't get help from the States immediately. No help was being sent. Apparently it couldn't be gotten to us. Then the Japs could mop up the southern Philippines.

"It was a grim picture for us. But here was our last big job. MacArthur was the brains of the organization—the only general who could take that territory back. The whole allied defense depended on getting him to Australia.

"Bulkeley was reporting to him every other day, but MacArthur refused to set a date for leaving—he wanted to stay as long as he could. At this time the boys on Bataan were back in their strongest positions—also their last-ditch defense line—and the Japs had had about all they wanted monkeying with this line, and were waiting for reinforcements. But when news came that their General Yamashita was on his way with many transports, bragging he would capture MacArthur within a month, our departure date was set for March 13.

"But to keep the men occupied and also to keep our secret, we went right on with plans for developing our shore base at Sisiman Cove. We installed a good cook's galley, fixed up the mess hall, screened in everything, as though we hoped to live there for months.

"We even took all our clothes off the boats and moved them into the nipa huts ashore.

"On the fourth of March there came a nice break for me. Peggy got me word that she had been transferred to Little Baguio hospital on Bataan, relieving one of the girls who had been working too long under fire, and I got the idea of inviting her down to our base for chow and to spend the evening. Dr. Nelson, who had been looking after my hand, was also on Little Baguio, and I invited him and his girl friend, too.

"You should have seen my ship perk up when I told them. The skipper was going to bring a girl aboard! They had the ship all spit and polish, ready for the big event. My cook, Reynolds, and the Filipino mess boy were tickled pink. They were going to show the army!

"You see the week before I'd gone over to Little Baguio—I'd had only breakfast and arrived on foot late in the afternoon for my dressing, to spend the night and walk back. But they told me, regretfully of course, of a new ruling: rations were tightening—they were down to dried fish, plain rice, and one slice of bread—so absolutely no visitors could get food at the hospital. So I went to bed supperless, got up, watched them eat breakfast—they said how sorry they were they couldn't offer me any—hiked back all those miles over the hills, and at nine o'clock, sitting at our own mess table, ate seventeen hot cakes as fast as Reynolds could turn them out of the pan.

"Now their one idea was to show the army what real navy hospitality can be. It's true Peggy brought the coffee—we were out of that—but they rustled the rest. It started off with fruit cocktail, then a real pot roast of fresh meat with brown gravy, and in this a whole can of mushrooms, which they'd been hoarding for some big occasion. Then rice and canned peas and beans, a delicious apple pie, and then coffee like only we can make in the navy. There was never such a dinner. Then we sat and talked, while the little waves lapped along the cove.

"I told Peggy I wanted to see her again, and soon. She said they were keeping her very busy, but she might get a night off on the fifteenth or before. There was no way I could call her, so she said she'd get to the signal-corps field telephone and ring me up about six o'clock on the eleventh, when we could make a definite date.

"I asked her if she couldn't make it sooner, and she said of course she wanted to, but didn't see how she possibly could. I wanted to tell her why I wanted it sooner. Then I stopped myself. Because in a war you don't tell anybody. Not anybody. And if they have any sense, and Peggy had plenty, they understand this and don't want to be told.

"So instead we talked about the war, and how they were low on quinine now—just had enough to give the worst malaria cases a light shot which would last only a short time—and how tired the soldiers were, how uncertain everything looked.

"'It's uncertain for us in the navy, too,' I said. 'One of these days soon I am liable to disappear, without telling you good-bye.'

(TO BE CONTINUED)

JUST RESTING

Kind Thought

"My uncle bought my aunt a violin."

"I didn't know she played one."

"She doesn't. He wanted to give her a place to rest her chin."

Total Loss

Edna — You would hardly know Freddy since he got back. He lost all his money and—

Evelyn—Hardly know him! Why, I don't know him at all!

What Minute?

Husband (shouting toward bedroom)—For the last time, are you ready to go?

Wife—Haven't I been telling you for the last hour that I'll be ready in a minute?

A vacation would be ideal if the old pocketbook could take a rest also.

All the Way

Youngster—Grandpa, will you have the man put a lot of chocolate on my sundae?

Grampa—Of course, grandson. I'll ask him to goo the limit for you.

Road Log

Motorist—Can you direct me to the Brigham farm?

Native—Sure, just keep going straight ahead for seven shaving cream and two toothpaste signs, then turn left at the corner of the big hotel sign; go till you pass five gasoline signs, and you'll find his house behind that big billboard.

WISCONSIN'S Wilderness Paradise

RIDING
SWIMMING FISHING
BOATING
GOLF—TENNIS
SHUFFLEBOARD
RIFLE RANGE
Child PLAY EQUIPMENT

• Plan now for that vacation long to be remembered—a vacation in the heart of Wisconsin's big game and fish country! Our beautiful Lake Makonda, 43 miles of shoreline. Picturesque islands. A wilderness paradise that holds every attraction for a thoroughly agreeable holiday. Only 317 miles from Chicago over Milwaukee Road. New, modern Lodge—Delicious food—Hot and cold running water in each room—American Plan (including meals) $35.00 and up. Plan parallel housekeeping cabins on shore or islands—$20.00 to $60.00 week.

Write for Free Illustrated Folder Today!

Deer Trail Lodge
On Lake NOKOMIS HEAFFORD JUNCTION, WIS.

FIGHT your ENEMIES

Water, Rust, Corrosion with

KAY'S BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER

Seals holes! Stops leaks! Resists rust! Saves material! Easily and quickly applied. Saves you many times its cost.

BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER preserves weather-beaten property or equipment. It waterproofs troughs, feeding pans, barrels, cisterns, water tanks and other containers; metal buildings, silo pits, corn cribs, roofs, gutters, fence posts, concrete foundations; farm equipment, etc.

Also waterproofs plaster board, cardboard, cloth, brick, metal and concrete.

SOLD ON MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
Try it once! You'll always keep it handy.

Quart $1.25 Gallon $2.95
Plus state tax—if any
At your dealer's—or use this coupon for trial order.

Satisfaction guaranteed

Kay's Laboratories
618 S. 3rd Street
Cincinnati, Ohio

Enclosed find ☐ check or ☐ money order for $_____ for ☐ Quart ☐ Gallon of BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER f. o. b. Cincinnati.

Name (print)_____

Shipping address_____

City_____ State_____

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

FEATHERS WANTED

FEATHERS WANTED, NEW AND USED ... Write for shipping tags. Pfeifer Feather Co., 300 E. Broadway, Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

WANTED: Goose and duck feathers, new and old. Mail samples and quote low price. The F. E. Nielsen Co., Chesterfield, Ill.

REMEDY

PILE SUFFERERS: Soak for PILE-EASE in hot water and apply. Relieves pain, shrinks piles. Write for free booklet. MAYS LABS., 301 E. 10, Indianapolis, Ind.

Lefthandedness

While lefthandedness occurs in only about 1 per cent of persons born singly, it is found in 21 per cent of those born as fraternal twins and 26 per cent of those born as identical twins.

MINOR SKIN IRRITATIONS? MOROLINE WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Moslem Prayers

Moslems are required by the Koran, their sacred book, to pray five times daily at fixed times.

SHAVE with SHELBY AND Feel the Difference

4 for 10

manufactured and guaranteed by Federal Razor Blade Co.

Airplanes Were Out

The Hague conference ruled that no aircraft should be allowed to take part in war.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER FROM HOT FLASH

If you suffer from hot flashes, nervousness, dizziness, distress of "irregularities" of the middle-age period in a woman's life—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the tonic medicine you can buy today made especially for women.

Pinkham's Compound has helped thousands upon thousands of women to relieve such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Pinkham's Compound is worth a trial!

RAT CARRY THE GERMS THAT SPREAD DISEASE
KILL 'EM WITH STEARNS ELECTRIC RAT & ROACH PASTE
AT YOUR DRUGGIST 35¢

Out of Sight

Though lost to sight, to memory dear.—George Linley.

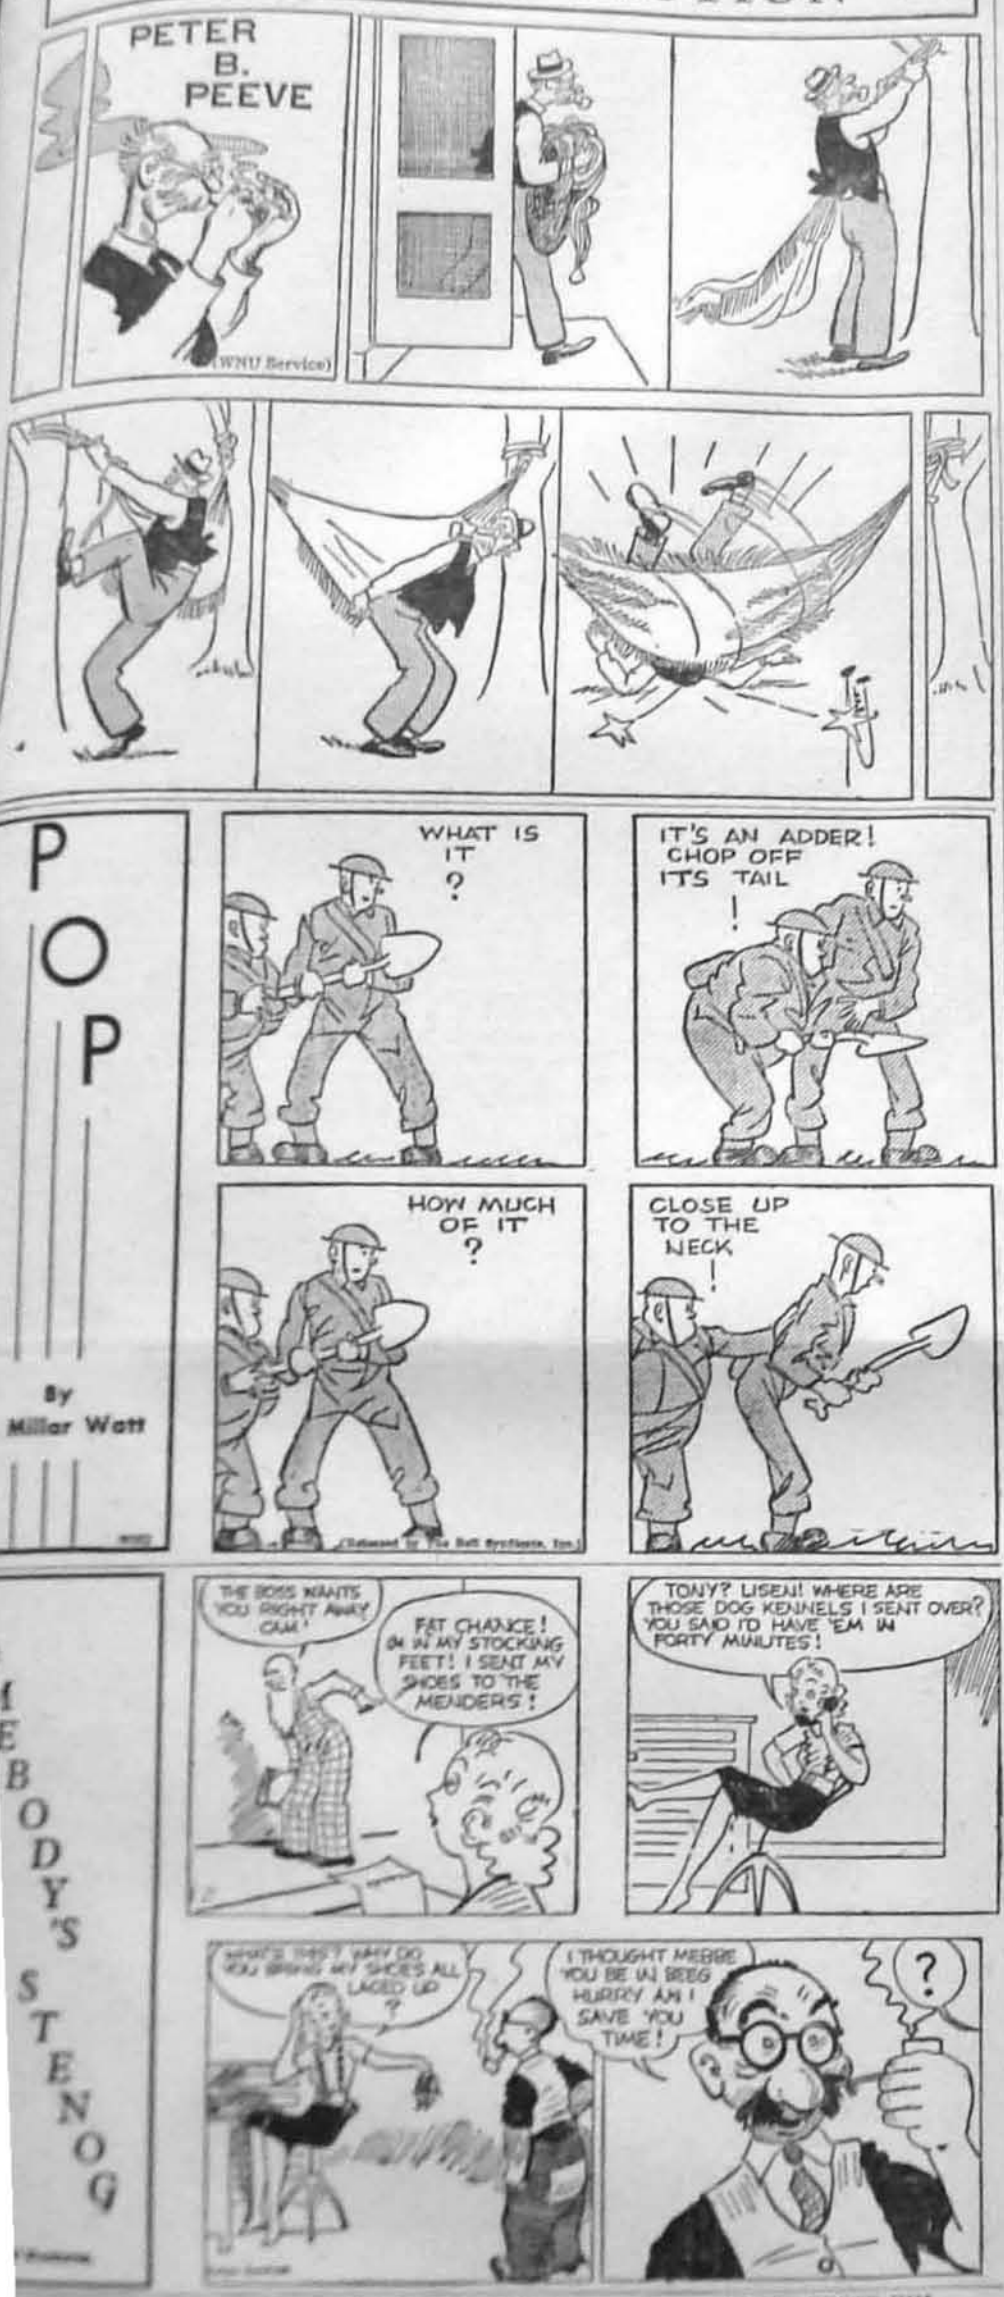
Black Leaf 40 KILLS LICE
JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS... OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

Get Into Action For Full Victory

WNU—E

Watch Your Kidneys
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Wastes
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes fail to act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and make you feel miserable.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no reason to suffer these conditions if your kidneys are working properly. In such cases, doctors say, the kidneys need help—they should be assisted in their function of purifying the blood. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys. They have had more than 50 years of public approval. They are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

• OUR COMIC SECTION •



PATTERNS
SEWING CIRCLE

Real Charmer.

PANTIES to match—as if Miss Sweetie-Pie wouldn't take the cake in pinafore and open crown bonnet alone!

• • •

Pattern No. 8371 is in sizes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3 pinafore and bonnet take 1¾ yards 35-inch material; panties, ¾ yard. 3 yards ric-rac.

Flattering Lines.

FOR so many reasons this button front frock is slated for wide popularity this spring. It has a softly tailored, distinguished look and if done in one of the new prints, should be most flattering.

• • •

Pattern No. 8360 is in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes, with short sleeves, 3⅝ yards 39-inch material. ¼ yard for contrasting collar.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
539 South Wells St. Chicago.
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER ?
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. What is a dactylogram?
2. Who wrote: "The old order changeth, yielding place to new"?
3. What two cities are the terminals of the Lincoln highway?
4. A pentad represents how many years?
5. What is a pseudonym? An autonym?
6. Why was William H. Harrison nicknamed "Tippecanoe"?
7. PT boats are known as the navy's deadliest vessels. Where did they get the name?
8. Of what substance is glass principally made?
9. In what sport is the term squeeze play used?
10. How are the engineers in the control room informed of what is going on in battle?

The Answers

1. A fingerprint record.
2. Alfred Tennyson.
3. New York and San Francisco.
4. Five years.
5. Pseudonym is an assumed name; autonym is a person's real name.
6. Because of his defeat of the Indians near the Tippecanoe river.
7. From "patrol torpedo" boats.
8. Sand.
9. Baseball.
10. The ship's supply officer gives them a running account by loudspeaker.

Civilizations Left

Of 23 civilizations that have arisen since the dawn of history, 14 are known only by their ruins and only five are still in existence: the Western (Western Europe and the Americas), the Orthodox Christian (Russia, Greece, etc.), the Islamic, the Hindu and the Far Eastern.

Shopkeeper Took Next Best Thing Offered Him

Wishing to dispose of his dog, a man who was moving into the city went to the local pet shopkeeper.

"Do you think you can sell this dog for $200?" he asked of the man.

"But, sir, that type of dog is not worth that much," was the reply of the astonished agent.

But the other insisted, and left.

Some weeks later he returned and, asking about his dog, was told that it had been sold.

"Do you really mean to tell me that you got the $200 that I asked?" he inquired.

"Well, not exactly," said the shopkeeper. "You see, I exchanged it for two $100 cats."

Raining Shrapnel

After antiaircraft guns have ceased firing at an enemy plane, shrapnel from their shells may continue to rain from the sky for as long as three minutes.

BEAT THE HEAT with lighter, cool colors. Spend the summer in Minnesota, Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Ontario. Cheap fares, and you save here to begin with.

Major Airports

In 1940 there were in the United States only 76 "major" airports—i.e. fields having paved runways of 3,500 feet or longer. There are now more than 650.

TASTY, NO-SUGAR ALL-BRAN MUFFINS ARE EASILY MADE!

Serve your family these delicious muffins often! Their tempting texture and flavor come from crisp, delicious KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Here's the recipe in a wartime version, using no sugar. Try ALL-BRAN muffins for breakfast tomorrow!

Kellogg's All-Bran Muffins

3 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup corn syrup
1 egg
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
½ cup milk
1 cup flour
2½ teaspoons salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and corn syrup thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk, let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 9 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

A Warning

You know how to conquer, Hannibal, but you know not how to utilize victory.—Barca, a Carthaginian, to Hannibal.

YOUR ITCHING SKIN may be quickly relieved with soothing, medicated, time-tested Resinol. Try it! RESINOL

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

"Squeal Gees" (squeegees), rubber devices used to scour the decks of vessels, are referred to in a book written in 1853 on rubber and its uses.

Legislation has been proposed in Nebraska which would offer a reward of $10,000 for the first company or individual to build a plant in Nebraska and produce 20,000 tons or more of synthetic rubber in any twelve-month period.

Why farmers need passenger car tires: Nine out of every 100 farm passenger automobiles are used for "hauling to market," according to The National Grange.

In war or peace
B.F.Goodrich
FIRST IN RUBBER

HOUSEWIVES: ★★★
Your Waste Kitchen Fats
Are Needed for Explosives TURN 'EM IN! ★★★

THEY ARGUE

Can't Fool Everybody

A crowd of German airmen arrived at the gate of heaven and clamored to get in.

"Who are you?" asked St. Peter.

"We're the 50 German airmen who were shot down today by the R.A.F." was the reply.

Said St. Peter, "Wait a minute while I talk to the 1918 committee." After reading it, he came back and announced: "I'm sorry but only two German airmen were shot down today. So two of you come in and the rest of you can go elsewhere."

Permanently Set

Patient—Will the anesthetic make me sick?

Doctor—No, I don't think so.

Patient—How long will it be before I know anything?

Doctor—Well, that's a lot to expect from an anesthetic.

Tongue Concoction

Tom—I failed in everything but French.

Jim—How come you didn't fail in that, too?

Tom—I didn't take it.

CAN'T QUOTE HIM

"Does your husband make good money?"

"I don't know, officially, that he makes any."

Delivery Costs Come High

The Negro preacher had just finished his sermon about free salvation and asked a brother to take up the collection, when a member of the congregation rose and protested:

"Pahson, Ah thought you said salvation was free—but as free as the water we use to drink."

"Salvation is free, Brother," replied the parson. "It's free and water is free, but when we expect it to run—you have to pay for the piping."—Farmer Owner in Your Life.

Woman IN THE WAR!
Charlotte Gillam, inspector at General Aircraft Corp.

—WHERE CIGARETTES ARE JUDGED

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you . . . and how it affects your throat. Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T."

CAMEL

DURBIN-BARTOW NEWS

Young Adults Elect

The Young Adults of the Durbin Methodist Church met last Friday evening to elect officers and to make plans for the future. Elected were: President, Lake Board; vice president, Eugene Burner; secretary, Mabel Hughes; treasurer, Dorothy Wimer. Regular meetings are to be held the first Monday of each month.

Woman's Society Meets

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its regular meeting on Thursday evening. Sixteen members met in the recreation room of the church under the leadership of the president, Mrs. H. M. Widney. The program was in charge of Mrs. L. H. Greenwood. Delicious refreshments of strawberry shortcake and whipped cream were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. B. S. Townsend and Mrs. Roy Spencer. It has been announced that this group is sponsoring a rummage sale which is now in progress.

Interest Group of Girls

The Interest Group of Girls of the Durbin Methodist Church had an outing on June 11 in honor of Mary Leader and Mary Pezzulli who were leaving for Baltimore. Present were Pauline Kisner, Pauline White, Mary Leader, Mary Pezzulli, Mary Taylor, Ethel Simmons, Virginia Moats, Lois Hiser, Lora Anna Lambert and the adult advisor, Mrs. G. F. Hull.

Personals

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pritchard on Sunday were Mrs. E. L. Fenton and daughter, Mary Frances, Mr. anad Mrs. Keith Nottingham and little daughter Beverly, of Marlinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Norlie Barner of Frank.

Mrs. Paul Simmons left Monday for Rosecvcrte where she will visit friends for a few days. She will then spend the remainder of her vacation at the home of her sister in Waynesboro, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holland and children returned Monday from Eddyville, Ky., where they visited relatives.

Miss Hilda Meyers spent a few days in Charleston last week.

Theodore Slavin of Baltimore, Md., spent the week-end with relatives and friends here.

Miss Lottie Esberson of Baltimore, Md., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Shafnaker.

Miss Rebecca Meyers and Amelia Pezzulli left last week for Elkins where they will be employed.

Dale Collins of Boston, Mass., is spending some time here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Collins.

Mrs. Quinn Oldaker left Monday for Richmond, Va. She recently returned from San Francisco, Calif., where she visited her husband, Maj. Quinn Oldaker.

Mrs. Emerson Goff of Parkersburg has been visiting relatives here for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman and daughter, Ella, drove to Staunton, Va., Sunday where they met their son, Leonard, of the U. S. Navy, and spent the day with him. Leonard is stationed in Richmond.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hevener Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Townsend and son, Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hevener, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gregg and children, and Floyd Gregg and E. E. Hudson.

Mrs. C. L. Agnew of Oklahoma arrived Friday and will spend the summer with relatives.

Little Miss Connie McGuire of Charleston arrived Sunday and will spend some time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Pritchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilmoth and Mrs. M. Daly were business visitors in Elkins Saturday.

Elmer Bennage who is employed in Baltimore, Md., visited his family last week.

Miss Helen Price, Mrs. E. V. Mahl and daughter Sandra Jean of Washington, D. C., are spending the week here with Mrs. Price's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Arnold of Akron, Ohio, arrived Monday and will visit Mrs. Arnold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rexrode, at Covington, Va.

Misses Anne Phillips and Peggy Robertson are visiting Miss Phillips' sister, Mrs. Robert Gooden, at Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Ella Cunningham and little son, and Misses Dorothy and Margaret Simmons are visiting their brother, Walter Simmons, in Washington, D. C.

Cpl. Kenny who has been visiting Mrs. Kenny and relatives for the past few days, left Monday for Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mrs. Mary Cooper of Clarksburg is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hevener, and family.

Miss Ruth Hevener of Washington spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Brown at Frank.

Miss Pearl Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson of Frank, has enlisted in the Army Air Force, and is stationed at St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Clarence Phillips and Mrs. Earl Bumgarner of Frank are visiting their brother, Walter Rexrode, at Covington, Va.

Misses Anne Phillips and Peggy Robertson are visiting Miss Phillips' sister, Mrs. Robert Gooden, at Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Ella Cunningham and little son, and Misses Dorothy and Margaret Simmons are visiting their brother, Walter Simmons, in Washington, D. C.

Cpl. Kenny who has been visiting Mrs. Kenny and relatives for the past few days, left Monday for Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mrs. Mary Cooper of Clarksburg is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Hevener, and family.

Miss Ruth Hevener of Washington spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Brown at Frank.

Miss Pearl Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson of Frank, has enlisted in the Army Air Force, and is stationed at St. Louis, Mo.

visit Mrs. Arthur's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoover of Frank.

Mrs. J. H. Williams and Mrs. L. C. Frazier were visiting in Elkins Friday.

Miss Darjie Arbogast visited her parents at Boyer over the week-end.

M. C. Kavanaugh who has been seriously ill for some time has recovered and was able to be in town Saturday.

Miss Ethel Brown who has been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Brown of near Arbovale, has returned to the home of her uncle, H. H. Hudson.

George H. Hull left Sunday for Ashland, Va., where he will attend summer school at Randolph Macon College for men.

Mary Pezzulli and Mary Leader left Monday for Balatimore where they have accepted Civil Service positions.

xxx

Height and Vision Rules For WAVES Are Changed

WAVE enlistments have increased considerably in number during the past month in West Virginia, according to Chief Petty Officer N. W. Grimes, head of the Navy Recruiting Station in Elkins.

This rapid rise in enlistments is attributed in part to the splendid assistance given the Navy Recruiting Service all over the state by Civilian Women Recruiting Committees and also to the lowering of requirements for enlistment in respect to height and vision qualifications. Until recently 60 inches was the minimum height requirement but it now has been lowered to 59 inches.

The previous eye requirement compelled the applicant to read the Navy eye chart from a distance of six feet without glasses regardless of her eyesight with glasses on. The new requirement makes an applicant accept who can read the chart from 20 feet with glasses on regardless of her eyesight without spectacles.

Chief Grimes remarked that several young women from this area had been rejected prior to the liberalizing of these requirements and he urged persons rejected for either of these reasons to reside and re-apply for enlistment.

"BARN MEETING" FRIDAY

Guy D. Montgomery of near Lewisburg, in Greenbrier county, president of the West Virginia Holstein-Friesian Association, will be host to the members and prospective members of Holstein cattle in this area at a twilight "barn meeting" at his farm Friday evening, June 18, beginning at 7 o'clock. The place Holstein-Friesian Association is sponsoring the meeting.

xxx

GREENBANK NEWS

Bible School Closes

The Vacation Bible School which has been in progress for 2 weeks at the Liberty Presbyterian Church under the direction of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Webb, with an able corps of assistant closed Sunday evening with a program given to an appreciative audience. The enrollment was 46, with an average daily attendance of 34.2, and 37 children received certificates for attending a of the 10 days of the school. A collection for missionary purposes was taken up and the sum of $2.00 was realized. The school was under the auspices of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

arship to Pioneer Camp at Camp Thornwood, which was offered to the pupil between 12 and 15 years of age doing the best work, was divided between Blanche Hamed, Carol Conrad and Jimmy Wooddell, who tied in their efforts. A New Testament was given to Evelyn Hevener who recited the Child's Catechism without mistake, and Gospels of St. John were given to several students who named the Books of the Bible correctly. A picnic was enjoyed by the school on Tuesday in celebration of Rev. Childs' birthday.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meets

The Ladies Auxiliry of Liberty Presbyterian Church held its June meeting at the home of Mrs. Annie Oliver on Saturday. The lesson was led by Mrs. J. D. Deane and it was decided to "adopt" the boys who are away at camp, and write to them each week. Eighteen members were present.

House Party at John Hannah's

A merry house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hannah this week was enjoyed by their daughter, Mary, and her roommate at Mary Baldwin College, Miss Emmy Elner, William Edmonds of Birmingham, Ala., and William McCorkle of Lewisburg. Miss Elner left for her home in Plainfield, N. J., today, and was accompanied by Mary Hannah who will visit there and in Bryn Mawr, Pa., with her aunt, Mrs. E. P. Shafer.

Personals

Mrs. Dora Cargile left Monday for Baltimore where she will spend several days with her mother and sisters.

Miss Elizabeth Wooddell left Sunday for Washington where she will take training with the Red Cross Mobile Unit. She was accompanied to Elkins by her mother, Mrs. Rachel Wooddell, and her brother, Geral.

Miss Mildred Lee Hevener left for Lewisburg on Tuesday, where she will be a counsellor at the Young People's Conference at Greenbrier Military School.

Homer Ruffner of Arbovale was in Charleston last week. He accompanied Alma Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wenger, to the hospital there. Another member of the group was Mrs. C. E. Flynn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Greff of Frank were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hanack.

Miss Margaret Lightner spent the week-end visiting friends in Philadelphia and Washington. In the latter city she visited with Mrs. Balell Brown and Lieut. and Mrs. Dillon Pope who were former residents of Greenbank. Mrs. Brown was the former Sylvia Pope.

Miss Alma Mathieny who has been employed in Washington for the last year is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mathieny.

Mrs. Virginia Hamrick was a business visitor in Elkins Monday.

Mrs. Dora Cargile and Vere Barkley drove to Roneeverte on Sunday to bring Hubert Wright home from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McMillion returned Saturday from Beckley where they spent a few days with Mrs. Ashton Lilly. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Lilly and granddaughter, Margaret Sue Lilly.

Roy Cassell who has been with the U. S. Navy in St. Louis, was home on a few days' furlough last week. On his return he was ordered to the West Coast.

Zed Taylor from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Taylor last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bardon Harper and son, Joe were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Annie Oliver.

Mrs. John Gum is seriously ill at her home. She is being cared for by Miss Mabel Woods, R. N.

xxx

CASS NEWS

Miss Thurlene Cassell of Ridgely, W. Va., spent several days here last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Slaven.

Mrs. George Evans and children left Saturday for Williamsport, Pa., to visit relatives.

Bob McLaughlin was home on leave from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Miss Beatrice Blackhurst spent the week-end in Chicago.

C. P. Gillespie and daughter Mary Anne who recently moved to Monterey, Va., were here on Saturday.

Miss Pauline Dahmer left last week for Charleston, where she will be employed.

Charlotte Anne Fulks is visiting relatives in Alderson.

Mrs. Lyle McPherson and son, Mrs. Julian Lightner and Jack Kane were visitors in Marlinton on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Fox and son Bobby are visiting in Milton, Pa.

Rev. Hugh Jefferson left Tuesday to attend the Presbyterian Young People's Conference at Lewisburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kenealy and family of New Jersey are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kenealy.

Mrs. Robert Bush and family and Mrs. Guy Tallman were shopping in Elkins on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Skriver and Mrs. Ella Buchanan had as dinner guests on Sunday Mrs. Anna Alt of Lewisburg and Mrs. Rachel Thompson of Cass.

Wallace Buchanan of Baltimore, Md., who has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Ella Buchanan here, returned home Thursday. He was accompanied by his sister, Ella Buchanan who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray have returned to Bergoo after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gray.

Marilee, Dale and Arlie Ryder are visiting their mother in Washington.

xxx

Rev. Oxendale Attending Clinic On Evangelism

Rev. Fred Oxendale of the Marlinton Methodist Church is attending the second annual Clinic on Evangelism which is being held this week at Jumonville, the Methodist Training Center of the Pittsburgh Conference near Uniontown, Pa.

An exceptional array of ministerial talent is scheduled for leadership at the conference, including Bishop James H. Straughn, presiding bishop; Dr. Robert E. Speers, secretary emeritus of the Board of Missions, of the Presbyterian Church; Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of Marble Collegiate Church, New York City; Dr. Schuyler E. Garth, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Youngstown, O.; Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Washington Area, Methodist Church; Dr. Charles R. Goff, pastor of The Metropolitan Temple, Methodist, of Chicago, Ill.; and Dr. Harold C. Phillips, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cleveland, O.

The spiritual retreat will end on Friday, June 18.

xxx

Ministers to Be Assigned Basic Salary Schedule

United States Protestant churchmen, whose salaries range from $500 or less per year to as much as $12,000 per year in local parishes, are very much interested in the proposal that has passed the Anglican Diocese of Montreal (Church of England) that there be a basic salary for all clergymen of the church, with added allowances according to size of family, years of service, local scale of living, and other factors. The Bishop of Montreal has named a committee which is placing this proposal before the whole communion in Canada and considering the details. The plan would also call for a ... fund into which all churches of ... denomination would place their ... and from which all their clergy ... be paid.

xxx

Anderson and Rexrode Graduate at Great Lakes

GREAT LAKES, Ill., June ... Two Pocahontas county, West ... ginia men were graduated today ... the Hospital Corps School at ... S. Naval Hospital here. The ... uates, who were among a ... 531 men, are now advanced to ...

Graduation terminates a ... course of preliminary training ... Hospital Corps School. Included ... the course is the study of ... and physiology, hygiene and ... tion, materia-medica, weights ... measures, first aid and ... nursing, transportation of ... and dietetics.

The Pocahontas county graduates are: Emery L. Anderson, 18, ... Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Anderson ... linton and Edwin C. Rexrode, ... of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rexrode of ... Both men were promoted to ... ing of Hospital Apprentice, ... class.

xxx

MARVIN H. DILL GE... NAVY WINGS OF GO...

Marvin H. Dill, son of Mr... Dill of Cass, recently won h... "Wings of Gold" and was ... sioned an Ensign in the Na... serve following completion ... prescribed flight training ... the Naval Air Training Cent... sacola, Fla.

Prior to entering the Nav... ice, Ensign Dill received his ... gree from Marshall College.

In August, he began pre... training at the Naval Reser... tion Base in Anacostia, D. ... successfully completed the ... in November, before reporting ... "Annapolis of the Air" for ... diate training.

Having been designated ... Aviator, Ensign Dill will go ... tive duty at one of the Na... operational training centers ... being assigned to a combat ...

xxx

PFC. CHARLES MOORE T... TRAINING AT OHIO U.

Pfc. Charles E. Moore, son ... Grace M. Moore of Mi... Springs, has arrived at Oh... University in Columbus for ... stay in the U. S. Army's Sp... Training Assignment and R... cation School, according to ... nouncement from the unive...

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life puts on many and often unusual duties. Overwork, emotion and exposure to all sorts of weather conditions may subject the kidneys to unusual strain. They may become overworked and fail to filter excess acids and other impurities from the circulating blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Then sometimes scanty, frequent urinations with smarting and burning sometimes are signs that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills today!

DOAN'S PILLS

That Extra Something!

...You can spot it every time

EVEN a general in Africa writes home how much he misses meeting the gang downtown to enjoy a Coca-Cola. Overseas, Coke is a refreshing remembrance of home. Men cherish its taste and refreshment.

The newspapers have been full of such incidents. Such as Bataan survivors getting hold of some fruit, eggs and Coca-Cola. Mighty welcome fare to them, they said.

These men, like yourself, have found in ice-cold Coca-Cola all the difference between something really refreshing and just something to drink. Yes, the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

Word that "the Coke's in" packs any canteen these days. Every good soldier wants the drink that adds energy to refreshment.

Drink Coca-Cola Trade Mark Delicious and Refreshing

5¢

The best is always the better buy!

Although war has changed and disrupted so many things in their lives, our fighting forces overseas are so often delighted to find in far-off places an old familiar friend . . . Coca-Cola . . . being bottled by Allied Nations all over the globe, just as it is at home.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

MARLINTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

"JOURNAL — BELONGING TO THE DAY"—Webster.

NO. 18 MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, Thursday, June 24, 1943 PRICE: $1.50 A YEAR

We Win

...as received permis-
...J. G. Kraft of
...chairman of the
...ently conducted by
...ary of the Veter-
...Fars, and from the
...eisure, to publish
...says. Written on
..."United We Win,"
...judged upon the
...merit, interpreta-
...patriotic inspira-
...to high school
...at the state, and
...ate in a national
...g is the third
...ted by W. H. S.
...Shepherd State
...Ferguson, ed-
...on Journal; Rev.
...outh Charleston,
...of Ford, Baron

...HARRAH
...S
...High School
...sters struggled,
...d shoulder to
...eart, mind, and
...great nation in
...have left the ...nation — life,
...f happiness.
...against itself
...words uttered
...hold true to-

...unction of our
...upon the prin-
...Our succes-
...offices for our
...r, our social
...religious be-
...mistake this
...erved in liber-
...ive for all."
...t but united
...war of the
...mall but unit-
...of the mas
...unprepared.
...the country
...we settled
...est. United
...almost many-
...l nation on

...o Fifth ave-
...ntry worker
...the Land";
...and the com-
...like, the all-
...ation.
...our nation
...hain, across
...influence in
...ions. Three
...by bring-
...ion. Sill.
...ingress an
...ation of de-
...of freedom
...of gradual
...nation, and
...other. We ...here is no
...people
...If we
...ction of our
...ve the prin-

County Wool Pool Brings More Than $19,000 This Year

By BEN MORGAN

County Agricultural Agent

On Friday and Saturday of last week 169 wool producers of the Pocahontas Unit of the West Virginia Wool Marketing Association, sold 34,806½ pounds of wool, for which they received $19,394.40. 31,165½ pounds graded Clear Medium and sold for 56.76 cents per pound; 3,488 pounds graded as Rejects, and sold for 48.76 cents per pound. In addition 5 pounds of Fine Clothing and 138 pounds of Tags sold for 40.76 cents and 15.00 cents per pound respectively.

For the most part the wool clip was in very good condition. The one single factor affecting the quality of the pool the most was wet wool and one large clip showing quite a bit of cotted or fleece-grown wool. In fact, one-third of the Rejects came from three clips of wool, two of which were wet, and the other one showing a great number of cotted fleeces.

The pool netted the folks who sold their wool through it 54.72 cents per pound. This is the net price for all wool, including Rejects, Tags, and everything else. This means that the Rejects, Tags, and Fine Clothing cut the pool price $1.04 cents per pound below the Clear Medium price, making the average gross return 55.72 cents, then deducting 1 cent per pound handling charge, leave us our average net price paid to the producers of 54.72 cents as quoted above.

Individuals who have assisted with this pool for a period of years say that they can see a very definite improvement in the quality of wool being produced in the county and particularly an improvement in the way the wool is handled and prepared for market.

xxx

Announce Dates For Annual White Pine Camp Meeting

The Fifth Annual White Pine Holiness Camp Meeting (Interdenominational), which is held at the camp meeting grounds at Arbovale, W. Va., has been announced by Glen Arbogast. Information about the meeting is as follows:

Place—White Pine Tabernacle, Arbovale; date—July 22 to August 1; speakers—Rev. R. E. Wilson, Binghampton, N. Y., and Rev. John A. Taylor, Sebring, Fla.; missionary speakers—Rev. and Mrs. Harold Shingledecker, Wilmore, Ky.; young people's worker—Miss Audrey Barr, of the state of Pennsylvania; music—Mrs. R. E. Wilson of Binghampton, and Mrs. Ruby Mull, Tarentum, Pa.

xxx

LESLIE GEHAUF IN ENGLAND

A short V-mail note from Cpl. Leslie Gehauf of Marlinton says "I am doing some fast traveling lately. I am now somewhere in England. . . . I had a good voyage over here and I really enjoyed every bit of it. I also had quite a long train trip after getting off the boat. So I have seen quite a bit of this country, and it is a beautiful country.

"Of course many things are odd to an American, but I suppose we will become accustomed to things here as time goes by. We are getting used to English money, so we'll be saving for Sparling out when is over."

Uncle "Pud" Tucker

— Says —

By HOY McCOMBS

WE'RE NOT ASKING

Twilight Services for Samuel B. Hannah III Victim of Army Airplane Tragedy in East

Local DPA Office Will Be Liquidated; Two Workers To Remain in County

At a meeting of the County Council of the Pocahontas County Department of Public Assistance Monday night, plans were made for the local department to conform with new organizational features for the state department.

Under a recent order, the administrative offices for counties were to be closed, and were to be replaced by 12 regional administrative offices for the entire state. Affairs of the Pocahontas department will be regulated from a regional office at Elkins.

Local counties will retain only a limited number of workers, depending upon the number of clients the departments are serving. In this county, two visitors, Miss Lena Anderson and Joe Kramer, will look after the business of the DPA.

Members of the County Council who attended Monday's meeting were A. G. Killingsworth, Zed Smith, John Pritchard, John Ryder and J. E. Buckley. Archie Bruffey of Elkins, regional director, will be in Marlinton around July 1, when the local office will be changed to conform to the new set-up.

The future plans of R. W. Harper who has been county director here for some time, are at present indefinite.

xxx

Volunteer Firemen Elect Officers, Recommend Chief

At a meeting held last week in the Mayor's Office, Dr. C. S. Kramer was reelected president of the Marlinton Volunteer Fire Department. Others reelected were Kerth Nottingham, vice president, and Paul R. Overholt, secretary and treasurer. The name of Mr. Overholt also was certified to Town Council with the recommendation that he again be named as chief of the department.

The local fire department has an urgent need for new members, due to the vacancies which have occurred because of members being called into service, or leaving town for work in other communities.

Dr. Kramer presided.

xxx

New Conservation Group Releases Lewis Gay

Among the first actions of West Virginia's new Conservation Commission which recently came into power was the dismissal of Lewis Gay, veteran Pocahontas county game warden, who last year was promoted to the position of district game warden. Mr. Gay was relieved of his position on the date of June 16.

Lightning Strikes Plane

Samuel Baldwin Hannah, III

MORE FUNDS COME IN FOR COUNTY'S WAR-TIME SERVICE MARKER

Additional gifts for Pocahontas county's war-time memorial to its service men and women were received recently by Edward W. Rexrode, secretary and treasurer of the County Organizations Committee, which is erecting the memorial. Others who wish to join those who have helped to make this patriotic gesture possible may send their gifts to Mr. Rexrode at Marlinton. Recent donors are:

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hickman $2, Durbin Graded School $13.70, Seneca Trail School $2.50, Marlinton Electric Company and employes $10, Mr. and Mrs. William Boggs $1, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker $1, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker $1, Pleasant Hill School $2.35, Mrs. Anna Thomas $2, Marvin Chapel school and community $1.75, Sarah and W. A. Hively $1, Dr. Fred C. Allen $5, Marlinton P.-T. A. $5, C. J. Casdorph Store employes $2.50, Chas. A. Devers $1, Mrs. E. M. Richardson and Mrs. Harry R. Smith $5, West Union School $2.05, Mrs. Neva Wilfong 50c, American Legion, Pocahontas Post No. 50, $5.

xxx

PAGE BARLOW IN R. I.

Pvt. Page Barlow writes in from his station at Newport, R. I., to say that he likes it there very much and that "fishing is good when you get a chance to go fishing." But, he adds, it will be good to get back to Marlinton on a furlough which he hopes to receive this summer.

County Aviator is One of Five to Meet Death During Flight in New Jersey.

WAR BUDDIES ACT AS ESCORT AT FUNERAL

Funeral services were held at 7 p. m. Tuesday evening at the home at Arbovale for Samuel Baldwin Hannah III, aged 25, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Hannah, who was one of five aviators to meet death in an airplane tragedy in New Jersey. It is reported that the plane in which they were flying was struck by lightning.

The rites for young Hannah were conducted by Rev. W. Hobart Childs, pastor of the Liberty Presbyterian Church of Greenbank, of which the flying cadet was a member, assisted by Rev. James C. Wool, pastor of the Marlinton Presbyterian Church.

A military escort, sent here by the United States Army consisted of Lieut. Daniel N. Nordeck of Terra Alta, who had been with Hannah during all of his training period since he entered the service of his country on June 8, 1942, and Capt. Joel R. Barton, Jr., of Stewart Field, West Point, N. Y.

The young pilot was a member of one of the county's most respected families, and a tremendous crowd of friends and relatives from all parts of Pocahontas county attended the services. Interment, which was made in the Arbovale cemetery, was made unusually impressive by an unplanned incident. Just before Pilot Hannah's body was laid to rest, and as the brilliant light of a summer evening sun was beginning to fade behind the hills, the droning hum of airplane engines became audible from the sky above, and as eyes were turned upward they beheld the planes of three unknown pilots, flying in V formation, winging their way across the broad expanse, as though in tribute to their fallen comrade. Capt. Barton rolled up the Flag of the United States of America in which the dead pilot's casket had been draped, and handed it to his mother, Mrs. George V. Hannah. A group of singers from various parts of the county sang "Taps."

Samuel B. Hannah III was sent to Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex., upon entering the service a little more than a year ago. From there he went to Garner Field at Uvalde, Tex., and later to Randolph Field, also at San Antonio. For further flight training he was sent to Brooks Field, Tex., and was a member and graduated with the famous 43-B class, known as the "Birthday Boys," of this historic field where such pilots as Lindbergh and Doolittle have trained. He graduated from Brooks Field as an observer-pilot and received his wings and was commissioned as a second lieutenant. Lt. Hannah later went to Morris Field, Charlotte, N. C., for a short time, and at the time of his death was stationed at the Army Air Base at Camp Campbell, Ky.

The plane in which he was killed was on a routine flight from Camp Campbell to a New York air base when it encountered a severe electrical storm over Newton, N. J. An Army military board is investigating the accident, but it is reported as virtually certain that the plane was struck by lightning which resulted in an explosion and brought death to all of its occupants. The crew of the plane was as follows: Pilot, First Lieut. Leonard Rans of New York; Co-Pilot, Lieut. Hannah; Tech. Sgt. Steve Sandusky of Connecticut; Staff Sgt. Floyd Edmands of New York; and Corpl. Murray Schwartz of The Bronx. The tragedy occurred on the evening of Thursday, June 10.

A short time ago, in a letter to his mother, Lieut. Hannah had related that he and another aviator had been put in charge of a B-25. They had named the ship "Eager Rosie," and its name, in six-inch letters, had been painted on both sides of the ship. He spoke of the beauty of the plane and of how proud they were to be in charge of it.

Lieut. Hannah was born May 31, 1918. He graduated from Greenbank high school, and was a trusted employee of the Monongahela West Penn Public Service Company when he entered the service. He is survived by his parents, and by three brothers, George V., Jr., and William, both of San Diego, Calif., and Joel, at home, and by one sister, Mrs. Dennis (Annie Jane) Wood of Texas.

Pallbearers for the services Tuesday were David Smith, Howard Rexrode, Charles Lightner, Cecil Dilley, Carl Price and Harry Watson, Jr., all of the community acted as the honor escort.

Floral tributes were many and friends who attended the funeral were

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

SHOES ARE WAR EQUIPMENT FOR OUR MILLIONS OF MARCHING FEET;— WE MUST USE LEATHER FRUGALLY.

IT Impresses ME

THAT a new "top" in birth announcements is that of George and Virginia Rexrode Myles of Louisville, Ky. . . . A graduate of the Forestry division of the University of West Virginia, and working in that line, Myles kept within his own realm in getting together the following card, which was enhanced with a couple nice little green pine trees:

MYLES NURSERY
announces successful germination of a first seedling
"Cute as a Speckled Setter Pup"
Species: June Brill
Inflorescence: pistillate
Crown Diameter: 4 inches
Foliage: dark
Height: 19½ inches
D. B. H.: 4 inches
Bd. Ft. Scale: 6 Lbs., 4 Ozs.
Date of Germination:
5:45 P. M., June 8, 1943.

★

THAT while we do not know how cute the Myles baby is, we can testify that a couple of lovely girls (and plump—the way I like 'em, or might as well) are little Dallas Hill and Ann Gay Mason . . .

★

THAT there must be some truth to the statement: "You can take the girl out of the country, but you cannot take the country out of the girl" . . . For instance, Mabel "Abie" Lang, who buys things for her Dress Shoppe right from New York, went there recently and then had the misfortune to fall down—and on swanky Fifth Avenue . . . As a result, she is nursing a big wound on her knee, which she has carefully tried to hide . . . And just because Paul Overholt and Clarence Smith have tried to read things out of this column which were not in it (or meant to be, at least), I will be frank enough to say that this story was relayed to me . . . I did not see the bruise! . . .

★

THAT those Pocahontas countians who cannot go to New York and places, can sure stay home and count their blessings . . . A produce trucker on his way through from the South had nothing but potatoes for his long trip down there . . . He reported the lack of food available in the deep South, and said that near Columbia, S. C., the intense heat without rain had cooked the bean-tops until farmers were just plowing them under, and that potato tops had also been burned to a crisp, it was so dry . . . Compare that with our deepest foliage in years, the grass which is fairly leaping up in your meadows, and the refreshing effect of our nightly fog and dew which drenches our valleys and our mountains, and it should bring to us all a deep sense of gratitude to the Almighty, and the remembrance that we are to share life's accumulations with those who are less fortunate . . .

★

THAT if Sam Mallison, a personal representative of Michael Benedum, the millionaire oil "wildcatter," (now being featured in the West Virginia Review) had flown over Pocahontas county Sunday he would have smelled a familiar and savory aroma . . . Sam wrote once that while flying with a famous pilot, the only place he could identify on the ground below was George Sharp's farm in Pocahontas county, and he knew it because of the aroma of fried country ham . . . We know our friend Sam will envy us when he reads this and learns that we were out to the George Sharp's last Sunday for a country ham dinner, and that in addition to agreeing to keep his Missus as cook for a while longer, we helped G. S. to celebrate his birthday (I forgot to ask him which one), and Father's Day, all at the same time . . .

★

THAT the cutest thing we've seen in a month of Sundays is to watch a good-sized pet lamb drink its meal from a suspicious looking quart bottle in the hand of Miss Jean Sharp . . . It never let up until the quart was gone and then its flat sides had grown to look like this — ( ) . . .

★

Nominations—

For the prettiest, shiniest, blackest eyes you've looked into lately (if you have a weakness like that) are those belonging to Miss Elizabeth Kosher . . . who Raises Dawgs . . .

—The Editor.

George Hannah, Jr., of San Diego; Mrs. E. P. Shafer, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Mrs. Charles Townsend, of Minneapolis; Mrs. David Wheeler and daughter, Jane Strong, of Wilson, Kan.; Miss Ruth Hannah of Morgantown; Mrs. Joe Hannah and daughters, Jean and Josephine of Arbovale, Va.; Mrs. Annie Bush of Richmond, Va.; Sgt. and Mrs. Donald Wood of Austin, Tex.; Frank Gully of Birmingham, Ala., and Lieut. L. H. McCutcheon, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Chinese Army Steps Up Anti-Jap Drive; Pantelleria Victory Prepares Way for Allied Sweep of Entire Mediterranean; Farm Implement Output Will Be Doubled

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

France officially repaid some of its debt to America when Gen. Henri Giraud (right) invested United Nations Commander-in-Chief Dwight Eisenhower with the grand cross of the Legion of Honor at a ceremony in Algiers.

MEDITERRANEAN:
Pantelleria First Step

The Allied assault to reduce Italy's island buffer defenses preparatory to mainland operations had continued to give the Mediterranean area star billing over other theaters of war.

The capture of the island fortress of Pantelleria was significant not only because it was the first effective Allied milestone since the African victory, but it consolidated United Nations' control over east-west shipping in the Mediterranean as well. Moreover, by breaking through Italy's outer wall it paved the way for a cleanup of the more important islands of Sicily and Sardinia and for operations on the continent.

The steady and methodically violent destruction of Pantelleria's defenses was regarded as a forerunner of what other Axis Mediterranean bases would have to suffer. Day after day Allied bombers had plummeted disaster on beleaguered Pantelleria while naval units had blasted its forts with deadly big guns in softening up operations.

In the meantime British dispatches crediting Spanish sources reported that Marshal Erwin Rommel was speeding the completion of defenses along the French Mediterranean coast. These reports set forth that Rommel had been named commander of the so-called Mittelmeer wall.

IMPLEMENTS:
Output Doubled

Relief for farmers harassed by a shortage of machinery will be forthcoming as a result of WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson's announcement that the production of farm implements for the year beginning July 1 will be doubled and the entire "concentration" program imposed on the industry last year will be scrapped.

Mr. Nelson's announcement said that allotments of steel and other materials will be sufficient to boost farm equipment production to 60 per cent of the 1940 level, compared with a current rate of 40 per cent and a quota of only 20 per cent that was in effect early this year.

Meanwhile farm equipment manufacturers were authorized by the War Production board to place orders for materials for the new program.

ARGENTINA:
Axis Radio Curbed

Action of the new Argentine government in cancelling radio facilities which enabled Axis embassies or nationals to transmit code messages to their capitals was regarded as a step in the direction of bettering Argentina's relations with its South American neighbors as well as the United States.

The government said it took this step in compliance with the resolution adopted at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, by American foreign ministers against Axis espionage in January, 1942. While the order cancelled radio code facilities for all nations, it struck at the Axis powers since they have no cable connections with Argentina, whereas the Allies are linked directly to Argentina by cable.

WHEAT:
Crop Prospects Dim

Smallest U. S. wheat production since 1936 was indicated by the Department of Agriculture in its report on June crop conditions. The department estimated winter wheat output at 501,702,000 bushels and spring wheat at 228,822,000, or a total of 730,524,000 compared with 981,327,000 bushels harvested last year.

The crop reporting bureau pointed out that winter wheat has been hurt by drouth in the Great Plains area and by wet weather in the Eastern Belt. Spring wheat, including a considerable acreage sown where winter wheat was killed, is now favored by generally good moisture, the bureau reported.

A 730,000,000 bushel wheat crop in 1943 would be about the same as the average for the 1932-41 decade which includes the drouth years of the mid '30's. It would, however, be about 150,000,000 bushels below the average of the last five years.

COAL:
Promise Fulfilled

Noted as a man who keeps his promises, Secretary Ickes fulfilled this reputation when he imposed a fine of $1 a day on the 530,000 mine workers who participated in the June 1-5 walkout from government-operated pits.

Mr. Ickes declared that before the walkout he had told the miners "we were going to fine them if they went out again."

Mr. Ickes acted in his role of federal fuel director in accordance with the miners' contracts which provide penalties if a miner fails to work without good reason.

Terming Ickes' action as "a brutal application of economic sanctions," John L. Lewis contended that the contract had expired at the time of the work stoppage, and "the United Mine Workers cannot understand how fines can be levied under the provisions of an expired contract."

CHINA:
More Gains Reported

China carried the Allied attack for further impressive gains in the middle Yangtze front, supported by strong American air action.

The tempo of the newly born offensive was indicated by a destructive air raid on the enemy's rear positions in which the Jap base of Hongay, largest enemy coal-mining and shipping center on the southern Asiatic coast, in Indo-China, was bombed and docks, warehouses, railroad yards and power facilities heavily damaged.

On the ground the Chinese army was reported by communiques to have inflicted additional heavy casualties on Japanese remnants fleeing from Itu, south of the main enemy base of Ichang. Field dispatches likewise disclosed that the Chinese had broken the Jap defense line southwest of Hwajung, their next major objective in the Lake Tunting area.

Trying desperately to hold their few remaining strong points, the Japs attempted counterattacks near Changteh, but ran into strong Chinese resistance.

WAR PROFITS:
'Recapture' Scanned

Whether the year-old renegotiation law by which the government recaptures "excessive war profits" from industry would be retained or eliminated was a matter that would be largely determined by the public hearings which the house naval committee had ordered.

As the committee applied close scrutiny into the operations of the law, witnesses representing big and little industry described its effect on war production. Government officials credit the contract renegotiation statute with saving the nation thus far in excess of three billion dollars.

Decision to undertake the investigation came with two measures pending before the house ways and means committee. One was to repeal the statute altogether and the other was to limit its use to contracts above $500,000 rather than the present $100,000 limitation.

RUSSIA:
Aerial Prelude

Air forays had continued to be the prelude to general 1943 land offensives on the Russian front as the lull that began with spring thaws still had persisted.

From one end of the line to the other reports indicated increasingly vigorous air battles as Nazi and Soviet planes fought it out for supremacy. Activity was reported especially pronounced in the Don river valley and northward in the vicinity of Leningrad. Russian communiques indicated that the vicinity of Rostov had become a cemetery for downed Nazi Heinkel and Junkers planes. The Reds reported likewise that in a German raid on the Volkhov front 60 miles southeast of Leningrad, 24 planes were shot down.

Meanwhile the Russians continued their attacks on eastern German airdromes. In one foray the Reds reported destroying 160 German planes compared to a loss of 26 Russian aircraft.

ANTI-STRIKE:
Penalties Promised

As the house had undertaken consideration of the compromise anti-strike bill, its sponsors declared that it would keep war plants and mines running uninterrupted by walkouts "if anything can."

Composing differences in bills previously passed by both house and senate, the revised measure was aimed particularly at the coal wage dispute. It authorized the government to seize strike-bound mines or plants, outlawed strikes in these facilities and imposed a 30-day "cooling off" period before walkouts could be called in privately operated war industries.

Penalties ranging from civil damage suits to a year's imprisonment and $5,000 fine could be imposed on those who fail to carry out the measure's regulations in labor disputes or who instigate or conspire with others to aid a strike in a government-operated plant.

RIGHT HAND:
Baruch for Byrnes

Official and unofficial Washington was cheered by the news that James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director, had drafted Bernard L. Baruch to serve as his right-hand man.

Mr. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries board in the first World war and long an informal consultant of President Roosevelt, will serve Mr. Byrnes in an advisory capacity and will have a "more formal connection with the government" than when he headed the President's special rubber-investigating committee.

The key role which Baruch's mobilization of national resources played in winning the last war, plus his respect and popularity among members of congress were cited by observers as reasons for his choice by Mr. Byrnes. The fact that the two will be working together was viewed as a harbinger of closer cooperation between the government's legislative and executive branches and more thorough-going efficiency in the home front effort.

FOOD:
U. S. to Ship 25%

At least 25 per cent of American food production this year will have to be shipped abroad, Roy F. Hendrickson, food distribution director of the War Food administration, disclosed, adding that the proportion may have to be still greater.

Hendrickson told the war council of the American Retail federation that "as we move into Italy and Greece, France, Norway and the rest of Europe we must give those half-starved people the strength to be actively on our side."

The food distribution chief declared that the personnel of America's military forces eats an average of about 5¼ pounds of food daily, whereas civilians average between three and four pounds.

WHEAT LOANS:
WFA Grants $1.22

Loans to eligible farmers on 1943-grown wheat at rates averaging nationally $1.22 per bushel at the farm were announced by the War Food administration.

Under a similar loan program in 1942, loans averaged $1.14 at the farm. Eligible for loans will be farmers who complied with the 1943 AAA farm program relating to wheat and war crops. Loan rates vary according to grade, quality and location of storage.

Washington Digest

History Will Write Details Of Lewis-Roosevelt Feud

Story Begins During 'Roaring Thirties' as the Forgotten Man Is Remembered by New Deal and CIO.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

Today there came to my desk a mimeographed sheet from the Office of War Information. It was headed "The Nazi Slave Labor Society."

As I read that title, my mind shot back to a very few days before this writing, one of the days when your capital was tense over the coal strike from one end of Constitution avenue to the other, and on both sides of the Potomac. I say "Constitution" avenue instead of "Pennsylvania" (which you and I have come to feel is the main street of Washington) because this coal strike struck deep into a lot of offices and bureaus beside the White House at one end of this historic thoroughfare and the Capitol at the other.

Naturally, Harold Ickes, in his offices looking down the mall from that strange modernistic pile that is the new Interior building, was concerned. He was, at that moment, responsible head of the soft coal mining industry and the industry wasn't functioning.

Naturally the members of the War Labor board were concerned. The board's existence was threatened.

Two Worries

Over across the Potomac in that marvelous architectural achievement, the Pentagon building, where the army is housed, officers paced the floor of their pentagonal offices. They had two worries. One: Will there be a coal shortage that will hold up production of important war supplies? Two: Will we have to go out and push people around with bayonets?

I haven't mentioned what was going on at the Capitol or in the White House. Plenty. Every enemy of the administration, every friend of the administration who was angry at Lewis, everyone who was for 100 per cent prosecution of the war—and they weren't necessarily different people, but people with different ideas—was yelling for Lewis' eyebrows and some of them were threatening the President if he didn't bring them in (on a silver charger) for breakfast.

Inside the White House, there were meetings which, because of the presence and absence of certain persons, I would like to report in greater detail but I can't—that will have to be left to history.

As I write these lines, I cannot predict the aftermath of the action which began late one afternoon on June 3 when, contrary to reports circulated earlier in the day, a statement was issued from the White House ordering the men back to the mines by June 7. But between these lines of that statement was the story of "Franklinstein" and the creature which he created, as dramatic, if not as tragic, as the horror tale by the gentle Mrs. Shelly, written early in the 19th century.

Self-Destroyer

A copy of that book ("Frankenstein") is on my table as I write. On the last page are the lines spoken by this strange being which the hero had created, hoping to raise the standard of humanity but which, alas, had found itself heir to the human weaknesses and turned against his creator. The "being," just before it destroys itself, speaks to its creator:

". . . thou didst seek my extinction that I might not cause greater wretchedness; and if yet, in some mode unknown to me, thou hast not ceased to think and feel, thou wouldst not desire against me a vengeance greater than that which I feel. Blasted as thou wert, my agony was still superior to thine . . ."

(You really ought to read the book—it's far superior to the movie version.)

But why do I bandy with this ancient tale? Because I do believe that all of us build, materially or physically, creatures which come back to haunt us.

Look at the record of John Lewis and Franklin Roosevelt.

John, born to the pits, a man who won to literacy, yes, to scholarship the hard way.

Franklin, born to the purple.

Both endowed with that indomitable something that lifted them, in spite of their respective handicaps, to leadership. Egocentric enough to elbow their way up to the counter; altruistic enough to have something to contribute to the general welfare when they got there. Reader, be fair even if you have your honest prejudices—both these men are gifted.

A Quick Look

Pick up the story in the roaring thirties—the New Deal is beginning to strut its stuff. The "forgotten man" has been remembered and he's grateful to Roosevelt.

The forgotten laborer is being remembered; he's grateful to Lewis. I mean the man who couldn't because of the by-laws of the AFL, get into a labor union any more than he could get into the Union League club. Lewis stepped out of the AFL with his miners. The CIO was formed in 1935.

It looked as if John of the eyebrows and Franklin of the amber cigarette holder had something in common. They did. It began by being an ideal—a better deal for the man who hadn't had such a good deal before. Later, the issues became more complicated but we won't go into that now.

Anyhow, the Wagner act was passed in 1935. (Labor's Magna Charter, they called it.) That gave the poor, heretofore outsider, the workman who couldn't qualify, to join the snooty AFL, a chance to be somebody. If there were more of his group than there were of the AFL's in a plant, shop or factory, his outfit was recognized as the collective bargaining unit.

That was a real step forward in economic democracy.

The CIO thrived. It had the blessing of the administration. It gave its votes in return. It also gave the largest campaign contribution in return. Some of the starry-eyed young men in the New Deal (they have departed, most of them, for Puerto Rico and elsewhere on the fringes) dreamed dreams. They told their dreams to Lewis.

"Why not a real labor party, Jawn," they smiled encouragingly, "with you as the leader? We'll get rid of the democrats without imagination. You'll be vice president next time . . ."

The Siren's Song

But then Mr. Lewis made a great mistake. He went to Paris. Other men have erred in that once-fair city before this. (I visited it myself.) But John met another siren . . . he witnessed the sit-down strike.

Now, frankly, this is hearsay but I am told that it was Lewis brought that illegitimate Gallic child of the proletariat, conceived in a strange moment of aberration, back to America. It did not thrive. It needed a more rarified atmosphere than that which blows across the prairies and once flapped the cover of the covered wagon.

Mr. Lewis went to the White House, jerked the previously welcoming latchstring, and went in. But old man Vox Populi got there before him. Up to then, V. P. had been pretty satisfied with things as they were under the New Deal.

But things had changed.

In a chilly voice V. P. said: "No, Franklin, no John. No dice."

Franklin listened. John got mad.

That was the end of a beautiful friendship and the rest is history. Lewis turned against the man who had made his success possible and there is, as we know, no feud like the feud of former friends.

The soldier on the battlefield, utterly unable to comprehend why men strike while he is risking his life for a fraction of the pay the strikers demand, cursed and threatened; the miner, with many just grievances, stood confused, looking for his oracle to speak, but cringing under the sneers at his lack of patriotism. Small-minded bureaucrats, more interested in saving their faces than saving the country, sputtered and strutted. Lewis and Roosevelt, the two men who, working together, might move mountains (of coal and coalition) were forced to square off against each other, the public backed the government and, as usual, decided the issue.

Oh yes! That "Nazi Slave Labor Society"—it can't happen here!

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

LEADERS: Stassen leads the nation in per capita war bond purchases. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced on the basis of statistical computations.

* * *

PROMOTION: President Roosevelt announced Rear Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of naval military operations in the Aleutians, to be a vice admiral.

AUSTRALIA: Prime Minister John Curtin said the fight to hold the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific had been won and that Australia is safe from invasion.

* * *

DRAFT EVASION: Jan Valtin, author of "Out of the Night," is now 1-A in the draft, his publishers announced. He had been held for draft army into this country.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

The Japanese-controlled Bangkok radio has issued more advice on good manners to the people of Thailand. "Since the clothing and manners of those who are in private business are not respectable yet, we request that they observe the following principles: 'Be well dressed, be clean, be agreeable to customers, do not smoke or be intoxicated, have good manners, be honest.'"

The United States was producing fighting equipment eight times as fast as Japan in the spring of 1943.

* * *

A popular joke in Holland deals with the bicycle shortage. So many man's bicycles have been stolen that it is asked what happens to the ladies' bicycles. "Oh, they're being kept for the Scotch Highlanders when they get here."

Uncle Phil Says:

IT IS easy to cure trouble by thinking cheerful thoughts, if it isn't your trouble.

One can always make money in a city where the population is dense.

Another nice thing about a funeral sermon is that people don't yawn and stare at you when the preacher denounces your pet failing.

A gasbag is often punctured by a pointed remark.

Those who sling mud lose ground.

Don't brood over your troubles. They only hatch them out.

Those who take no chances have to take what's left by those who do.

BEAT THE HEAT sprinkle your head with irritated skin will soon Mennen, formerly Mennen Heat Powder. Cools as it soothes.

Birds Trample Treetops

Herring gulls trample down treetops so solidly on an island in the Bay of Fundy that a man can walk on the abnormally grown branches.

CHAFED SKIN. Raw, smarting surface relieved and soothingly by the soothing medication RESINOL

HOW NOT TO CATCH A FLY

Nasty "buzzards" that sneak sleepers can be disposed of by the SLIPPER METHOD. Swing slipper directly toward buzzing fly, thus crushing fly between slipper and convenient object. Chief danger: knocking over lamps, perfume bottles and slapping wife in the face. A better way to get flies is to Catch 'em with

TANGLEFOOT FLYPAPER

It is the old reliable that never fails. Always economical to use, and not rationed. For sale at drug and grocery stores.

CATCHES THE GERM AS WELL AS THE FLY

6 double sheets 25¢

THE TANGLEFOOT CO. Grand Rapids, Mich.

Privately Owned Planes

In the three years of 1940 to 1942 inclusive the number of planes owned by civilians went from 23,000 to 25,000.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

From 1907 to 1912, guayule rubber from Mexico represented about 7 per cent of the world's rubber supply. In 1941, it was less than 1 per cent.

More than 84,000,000 motor vehicles have been produced in the United States since 1900, with an average of five tires per vehicle. That gives you an idea of the number of tires that have been needed to maintain motor transportation.

A Spanish historian back in 1519 described a ball made of the gum of a tree that grows in "hot countries." He was referring to what we now call rubber.

Jimmy Doolittle

In the name of Victory

B.F.Goodrich

FIRST IN RUBBER

WANT SOMETHING
ADVERTISE FOR IT IN THESE COLUMNS

We are always ready to serve you with good printing. No matter what the nature of the job may be we are ready to do it at a price that will be satisfactory.

...To Meet Your SERVICE STATION NEEDS
...Gasoline and Oil—
...a Full Line of Auto Parts — Also Soft Drinks and Tobacco
CENTRAL SERVICE STATION
...ed Burns, Prop. Marlinton

...'s No Convenience LIKE A TELEPHONE
...Shortens Distance ...Like a Magic Carpet!
POCAHONTAS TELEPHONE CO.
...Marlinton, W. Va.

...od Work Is ...r Specialty
...You in Need of TAGS
CAR S BLANKS
FOLDERS
DODGERS
RECEIPTS
NVELOPES
TATEMENTS
LL HEADS
VITATIONS
KET HEADS
TER HEADS
INTING
...at This Office

...'S BEVERAGES ...
...GHT ON ANY DAY!
...tributed By
...TON COCA-COLA ...TTLING CO.
...ger. Prop. Marlinton

...R FARM NEEDS ...
...L — AND GREASE
...Cannon Man"
HAMILTON
...Marlinton

PATTERNS
SEWING CIRCLE

1741

Favorite Apron

APRONS are certainly turning out to be fashion's pet these days and this one, with patchwork border, is one of the favorite models.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1741-B designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 (34) requires 2¼ yards 35-inch material; 7 yards bias fold. Use scraps for bottom.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago.
Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

1724

Bright Colors

THE brighter the better . . . a two-piece that lends itself to brilliant contrasting colors. Flattering top, young skirt.

• • •

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1724-B designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 14 (32) bodice requires, with short sleeves, 1⅛ yards 39-inch material; skirt 2¾ yards; 6 yards ribbon trimming.

Penitents Still Wearing 'Tickle Shirts' in Britain

One of Britain's oldest and strangest industries, hair shirt-making, is surviving the war. In remote convents, nuns are still engaged in making the shirts for people who wish to do their penance with realism. Monks and very pious people wear the shirts, which are uncomfortable and painful.

The full-size shirts worn in olden days have nearly disappeared, and today a scapula, or a belt in which is woven horse-hair, and in some cases human hair, is worn instead.

This form of penance dates back to the saints, but only in rare instances today do laymen adopt it. The shirts are worn only a few hours a week, and not long enough to harm the skin.

Greeting Among Arabs

In North Africa, the ritual of greeting among Arabs demands that the man "looking down" should speak first, irrespective of his social status, says Collier's. Thus, the man on a camel greets first the man on a horse, the horseback rider nods first to the man on a donkey, the donkey rider bows first to the pedestrian and the pedestrian first to the man sitting down.

When you hear a Marine called a "Leatherneck," it has nothing to do with the epidermis of his neck. Years ago the Marine uniform was equipped with a high stiff leather collar. From that time on, "Leatherneck" has been the word for a Marine. The word for his favorite cigarette is "Camel"—the favorite cigarette also of men in the Army, Navy, and Coast Guard. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

ON THE HOME FRONT With RUTH WYETH SPEARS

EARLY American wall pockets cut out of light weight pine or scraps of half inch material may have many modern uses. In the kitchen they are just the thing for ration books and a pad for the grocery list. Just inside the front door one will lend a decorative note and make a convenient place for driving gloves and keys.

Originally these pockets were made in a great variety of designs and were used for letter boxes. They are still useful for this purpose or for a leave-a-note pad and pencil. If you enjoy working with wood you may want to cut these pockets out by hand with a coping saw as shown here. If you have a jig saw it is much faster, or you may mark your design and take it to a woodworking shop to be cut out for a few cents.

• • •

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has made patterns in actual size for three of these Early American letter boxes. The patterns are on one sheet with complete directions for making and finishing. Request Pattern No. 261, enclosing 15 cents. Address:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS
Bedford Hills New York
Drawer 10
Enclose 15 cents for Pattern No. 261.
Name .....
Address .....

Gems of Thought

THERE is a courtesy of the heart; it is allied to love. From it springs the purest courtesy in the outward behavior.—Goethe.

And he who gives a child a treat
Makes joy-bells ring in Heaven's street,
And he who gives a child a home,
Builds palaces in Kingdom come.
—MASEFIELD.

There can be but a single goal of education, and that—education to courage.—Dr. Alfred Adler.

Knowledge is proud that she knows so much; Wisdom is humble that she knows so little.—Bishop King.

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A quiz with answers offering information on various subjects

The Questions

1. What is the khamsin which was mentioned so often in news reports from Africa?
2. What country flies its flag upside down while at war?
3. What per cent of the numerical strength of modern air armies is in training planes?
4. How do military experts rate the two biggest factors, production and supply, and battle, in winning this war?
5. What is anchor ice?
6. Before Henry J. Kaiser built ships, of what three great dams did he head the construction?
7. When does the vice president have a vote in the senate?
8. What does the First amendment to the Constitution guarantee?
9. What is an stoll?
10. Why is no one allowed to whistle on board a navy ship?

The Answers

1. It is a hot African wind which fills the air with sand.
2. The Commonwealth of the Philippines is the only country in the world that flies its national flag upside down while at war.
3. Approximately 60 per cent.
4. Seventy-five per cent rests on production and supply and 25 per cent on battle.
5. Ice formed at the bottom of a body of water.
6. Grand Coulee, Boulder and Bonneville dams.
7. In the case of a tie.
8. The freedom of speech, of the press, and the right to petition.
9. A coral island.
10. The boatswain's pipe, which is blown to exact silence before he makes announcements or gives orders, has the pitch of a human whistle. Hence, to avoid confusion, navy men are forbidden to whistle.

Hubby's Caution Seriously Cramped Wife's Efforts

"It's rumored about that Mrs. Grumpus hasn't spoken to her husband since she got her First Aid certificate, more than a month ago," gushed Mrs. Gibblegabber.

"You don't say!" returned Mrs. Cackleclack. "What seems to be the trouble?"

"Well, before she took up First Aid, almost every day her husband came home from work with a bruise, cut, or other kind of injury," informed Mrs. Gibblegabber; "but now that she has her certificate, he hasn't suffered as much as a scratch, and she's convinced he's being careful on purpose!"

JUST FOR FUN

Without Priorities

"The price of everything has gone up since the war began."

"No, talk is just as cheap as ever."

Not Scented

Girl Shopper—Do you have hyacinth bulbs?

New Clerk—No, just electric.

At Ease

She (thoughtfully)—Why do so many women rest their chins on their hands when they are thinking?

He (brutally)—To keep their mouths shut so they won't disturb themselves.

Don't It?

"Pessimism never pays."

"Oh, I don't know! Look at all the money dentists make by looking down in the mouth."

HEARSAY

Johnson—No one with any sense could believe that.

Thomson—How do you know what anyone with any sense would believe?

Nothing New

Wife—I see by the paper that women are getting men's wages these days.

Hubby—Humph, haven't they always?

Even though it's true that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, it doesn't mean he'll swallow anything.

These Days

"I hear you've been doing very well at school, Alfred," said the fond grandparent. "What is your best subject—reading, writing or arithmetic?"

A look of quiet contempt crossed young Alfie's face as he replied:

"Don't be so absurd, grandpa! I produced the best plan for post-war reconstruction."

Kool-Aid
Makes 10 BIG, COOL DRINKS!
5¢ TRY ALL 7 FLAVORS

Bombers to India

The army has started to fly bombers to India, the first having made the 11,748 mile trip in 67 hours and 35 minutes.

TABASCO
The smartest seasoning known, and the world's most widely distributed food product! A dash of this piquante sauce gives a rare flavor to any food.
TABASCO—the seasoning secret of master chefs for more than 75 years!

WISCONSIN'S Most Popular RESORT FOR FUN AND RELAXATION SWIM • BOAT • FISH
GOLF • TENNIS • RIDE
ARCHERY • RIFLE RANGE
SHUFFLEBOARD
CHILD PLAY EQUIPMENT
• Relax and play this summer in nature's unspoiled wilderness paradise. 60 picturesque, island-studded Lake Nokomis. 42 miles of shoreline. Large, modern swimming pool on grounds. Fine panelled housekeeping cabins on shore and islands—$20.00 to $50.00 week. New Lodge—American Plan (including meals) —hot and cold running water in each room—$35.00 week and up. Only 237 miles from Chicago over Milwaukee Road. Registered nurse on premises for child care.
Write for Free Illustrated Folder Today!
Deer Trail Lodge
On Lake NOKOMIS REDFORD JUNCTION, WIS.

Tanks to Good Use

Our men in the Solomons use the auxiliary gas tanks from taken Japanese airplanes for bathtubs.

KEEP YOUR HAIR in place. Tame that unruly look. Add lustre. Keep hair well groomed with Moroline Hair Tonic. Large bottle 25c. Sold everywhere.

Throw in the Piano

The average piano contains more than 200 pounds of valuable metal.

10¢ Buys you the MILLION DOLLAR SHAVE
SHELBY 2 BLADES
DOUBLE OR SINGLE EDGE
4 for 10¢
Manufactured and guaranteed by FEDERAL RAZOR BLADE CO., NEW YORK

Get Your War Bonds ★
★ To Help Ax the Axis

GIRL ON THE SWING SHIFT!

THE ZONE
—where cigarettes are judged

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you... and how it affects your throat. Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T."

CAMEL

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA

AUBREY E. FERGUSON
Editor and Publisher
ALMA HESS FERGUSON
Business Manager

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Marlinton, W. Va.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year $1.50
(Single Copy, Three Cents)

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE
American Press Association, 225 West 29th St., New York, N. Y.

ADVERTISING RATES:
National Advertising, 40c Col. Inch (Lower Rates for 200 In. or More)
Local Advertising, 25c Col. Inch

CLASSIFIED RATES:
1c Word Each Insertion: Minimum Charge One Insertion, 25c

WEST VIRGINIA PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1943

EDITORIAL

Should Listen To This Byrd

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, though a native of West Virginia, has demanded the dismissal of 300,000 workers who are not needed in the war effort but are a terrific burden on the taxpayer.

Administration authorities claim that 60 per cent of civilian employes are engaged directly in war efforts, but Byrd declares that not more than 45 per cent are so employed.

Beyond Understanding

In an address in the Senate recently, Republican Senator W. Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia took a healthy swing at some of the idiotic practices of the country's leaders.

"To me," he said, "it is an abominable circumstance that in this country in time of war, when we need the wood, when we acknowledge that we need it, when we know that we need it, the Secretary of Agriculture is vested with the power of placing a penalty upon a farmer for raising a needed crop such as wheat."

GOP STATE CHAIRMAN SCOLDS ELMER DAVIS FOR "CALLOUS INSULT"

CHARLESTON, June 24.—"The people of this country, and especially the fathers and mothers of America, have never been more callously insulted by New Deal bureaucrats than by the proposal of Propaganda Minister Elmer Davis of the OWI to send a batch of assorted New Dealers to England to 'convince the British that Americans are not what books and the movies sometimes paint them,' a plan revealed in a news dispatch of the United Press published in a local newspaper," declared Robert H. C. Kay, Republican state chairman, here today.

"We have several hundred thousand American fighting men in Great Britain right now. They are the pride and pick and flower of American youth and young manhood. They are a true cross-section of this nation. In their character and conduct, they portray the real American. In their matchless bravery, they typify the fine old stock of men has produced.

"They serve by day and by night, in action against the enemy and in arduous preparation for that action. The traits of character upon which this nation has been built and has grown great—honor, courage, honesty, faith, fidelity to ideal, love of home and country and freedom.

"They show the strength and hardihood of their pioneer forefathers, the sympathetic understanding of their mothers, the skill and ability of enterprising education.

"Neither Mr. Elmer Davis nor his associated New Deal ambassadors can tell that story. If the British don't know what Americans are like now, they never will know. Our young men and women in the uniformed services are the finest corps of national salesmen ever assembled anywhere. It is an insult to suggest that a few New Deplane blast of the home front in Washington could do better the job these boys and girls of ours are doing.

"Mr. Davis was given a specific job to do in Washington, that was to keep the American public informed about the progress of the war insofar as possible, consistently. He has failed in that job," Kay asserted, "probably because he has devoted himself principally to attempts to whitewash the New Deal and devotes too much of his time and energy to the Fourth Term, to New Deal fumbles which is apparently developing in the conduct of Washington affairs, to the bungling of Washington economists and price fixers who don't bow down and worship blindly at the Roosevelt altar, and to trying to hide or gloss over the tragic confusion and conflict in the national capital which jeopardizes needlessly the lives of American men and women on the fighting fronts.

"Mr. Davis had better keep his New Deal propagandists at home. The real, typical Americans abroad in uniform today will do the selling job just as effectively as they are doing the fighting job without any help from Mr. Davis' emissaries.

"This is certainly one time when the fathers and mothers, the sisters and brothers of men and women on the firing line in defense of America, should rise up in their wrath and write their Congressman exactly what they think of this proposed political junket."

F. O. (Foot Odor)

Do You Know

1. It is a fermentation caused by a germ.

2. Kill the germ, you kill the odor.

3. Other people detect the odor. You get immuned to it and can't.

4. Get the test size bottle Te-ol solution at any drug store. Apply full strength for sweaty, smelly or itchy feet. Today at

ROYAL DRUG STORE

Organize Arbovale Cemetery Group; Fund Drive Is On

Plans to Beautify Cemetery Are Progressing; Citizens Urged to Contribute.

The citizens of the upper Pocahontas communities, determined to have a more beautiful cemetery at Arbovale, met recently and formed an organization to be known as the Arbovale Cemetery Association. The chairman of the Board of Trustees of the cemetery will be ex-officio chairman of the new association. B. J. Snyder of Bartow was named assistant chairman, and Mrs. Nettie Sheets was named secretary. R. W. Brown's nomination was confirmed as treasurer of the cemetery association. It also was decided that the chairmen of the committees will constitute an executive committee to work with the board of trustees in carrying on the work of the association.

The Arbovale Cemetery Association is now engaged in a campaign to raise funds to employ a caretaker for the cemetery, to keep all lots under constant care, and to beautify the cemetery. People everywhere who are interested in the cemetery and the county are invited to make a contribution immediately to insure success of the new undertaking.

That those interested in the beautification program of the Arbovale cemetery are not depending upon contributions alone is evidenced by the fact that when a call was issued for men to work at the cemetery last Wednesday evening between 75 and 100 gathered to assist in the project. Large numbers of Pine Grove and Arbovale residents and others were in the group. It has been decided to continue the plan of working on Wednesday evenings until the program of improvement has been completed, and everyone is urged to come out and help.

Gifts of money should be mailed to R. W. Brown, Arbovale, W. Va.

xxx

DISTRICT LEGION CONVENTION

Greenbrier Post No. 26 of The American Legion, will be host post to the Seventh Legion District convention to be held at Island Park in the city of Ronceverte Sunday, July 4th.

Legion posts of Hinton, Ronceverte, Marlinton, Oak Hill, Sewrbro, East Rainelle, Lewisburg, Mount Hope, Union and Pax will be represented at the meeting.

Delegates and members of the district are expected to make Sunday, July 4th a picnic day for the whole family.

Chessie Writes a Letter to the Editor

To the Editor of the Marlinton Journal

Sir:

EVEN a railroad kitten gets around now and then. And I have lately heard some questions asked and comments made about our railroads that have inspired me to write you this letter.

I suppose it is perfectly natural that people who see the enormous load of traffic our railroads are moving in wartime — people who watch millions of tons of freight and thousands of men in arms go rolling by—should say: "I'll bet the roads are coining money these days."

It seems to me that the truth of this question is something every American ought to know.

* * *

Nearly everyone has read or heard that during the recent years of depression the railroads had extreme difficulty making ends meet. In the twelve years following 1929, thirty-seven Class I railroads sought relief from their troubles in bankruptcy. Others staggered along under heavy burdens of debt. And the average earnings of all Class I railroads, for that period, were only 2.2% on investment.

But what many people do not know is that even in 1942, the American railroads earned only a moderate return on investment.

Railroad traffic increased enormously, of course. But so did operating costs, so did taxes. And the average earnings, for all Class I railroads, in our first year of war, were only five and a half per cent.

* * *

Even the railroad kitten, Mr. Editor, can see that this is not a profiteer's wage.

It is almost the same percentage as the earnings that were fixed by the government for the railroads during the last war. It is within what Congress declared in 1920 to be a fair earning on railroad value. And the Interstate Commerce Commission has repeatedly recognized the principle that a fair return should be gauged by the average earnings over a period; that the roads should be allowed to make up in good years for the lean.

* * *

Mine is a small voice. But this is a free country. And it gets my fur up to hear people undervalue our railroads.

Those who do have only to look around them to see how tremendous a part in our national crisis is being taken by cars and coaches and engines—and by the men who run them. For transport is the life-blood of our war effort.

We have reason to be thankful for the strength of our railroads. And equally good reason, with a view to the years ahead, to see that they continue to be strong and sound institutions.

CHESSIE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railway
Cleveland, Ohio.

SOCIAL DOTS

• Chatty Items About People And Events •

Parties for youngsters and oldsters were in the foreground of the social calendar this week.

•

One of the most beautiful of all was the lovely dinner party followed by bridge given by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore last Thursday at their home on Mill Hill, honoring their third wedding anniversary.

Interesting flower arrangements were carried out in the decorations: On the mantel was a large bunch of delphinium wild rose—pink with gold centers—which was reflected in the floral scheme on a desk was a huge bouquet of summer flowers from the garden of Mrs. P. T. Ward, and on the dining table was a vase of mixed flowers from the gardens of Mrs. Roland King; the room also contained two very large baskets of rhododendron and mountain laurel. In the dining room on the buffet was an arrangement of flowers and three candles, a gift of Mrs. Summers' sister, on the third anniversary.

The dining room table was beautiful, covered with a silver cloth, dishes with silver bands, silver platters and candlesticks, and a silver bowl centerpiece, containing Tomato cocktail was served to the guests in the living room, and were then invited to the dining room for the buffet dinner, where the large silver platter contained half of a young fryer for each guest, with all the other good things in keeping, and with strawberry shortcake and coffee for dessert.

Mrs. Mark is one of Marlinton's charming hostesses, with a gracious manner and the ability to do the right thing.

•

On Friday afternoon Master Thomas Edward Richardson was host to several of his young friends in celebration of his fifth birthday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richardson.

Those present were: Doris Ella Cooper, Kenneth Hamrick, Mary Jarvis Currence, Nancy Currence, Steve and "Sis" Smith, Ann Golding Richardson, Jenny Richardson, Sybil Lea Marshall Johnson, David Nash, Richard Callison, Jacqueline Richardson, and Marianne Richardson.

Miss Jo Cameron Callison was in charge of the children's games, and Mrs. Ed "Aunt Dolly" Richardson, Miss Helen Barlow of Huntersville, Mrs. Anna Richardson and Frank Richardson assisted with the affair. Decorated cake and ice cream, all in pink and white, with strawberry punch, delighted the youngsters.

•

Another nice party on Friday afternoon was given by Mrs. John Bear at Hamilton Field Addition, honoring the eighth birthday of her son, Jack. Seven children were present for the afternoon of games. Ice cream, cake, candy and punch were served.

•

A nice surprise was experienced by Mrs. William Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harper last week-end when William Harper, of the U. S. Navy came walking in unannounced. Of course he was delighted to see his small daughter, who is now a picture of health after a long illness.

•

Mrs. John Bear, Sr., and Mrs. M. J. Dilaferro of Cranford, N. J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Bear and Mr. and Mrs. John Bear of Marlinton.

•

One of those nice persons one is always glad to meet is Mrs. S. D. Hall of Hillsboro.

•

Mrs. Elsie McLain of West Union is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Bragg, for several days.

•

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harper were guests at Buckhannon last week by the wish of Mr. Harper's sister.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Smith were hostess Tuesday night, where a meeting was held to make plans for the drive to raise funds for several charitable organizations, which is to expire this fall. Mr. Smith is chairman of the drive for Pocahontas county.

•

Mrs. Ida Graves of Narrows, Va., is visiting relatives in Marlinton while on her way to Cass to visit relatives there.

Just a little Thoxine acid causes you pains of Stomach Ulcers, Sourness, Heartburn, Belching, Sour Stomach, Gas Pains, get free sample, Thoxine, at Royal Drug Store.

INSURANCE

Limited License Coverage, Life, Auto, Truck, Fire, Health & Accident.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON FEES

CHAS. A. DEVERS

Marlinton, W. Va.

Miss Dorothy Lee Hall, Mr. Patrick Fowler Marry

Miss Dorothy Lee Hall, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jordan Hall of Hillsboro, was married to Mr. Patrick Fowler, on Friday, May 28, 1943, at Towson, Md. The ceremony was read by Rev. A. H. Robinson. The young couple have been spending some time at the home of their parents in Hillsboro.

On Wednesday evening the 16th of June, the relatives and friends of the bride gave a shower in her honor at the home of her mother. She received many nice and valuable presents.

Patrick Fowler is a graduate of Hillsboro high school and is a mechanic in a defense plant in Baltimore. Mrs. Fowler was still a student at the high school. They will reside in Baltimore.

•

Junior Anderson of the Navy visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Anderson last week-end.

•

E. H. Williams and son, Moffett, are attending the sheep and dog shows at Staunton, Va., this week.

•

Earl Skaggs returned to his employment in Baltimore Monday.

•

Mrs. Myrtle Gorrell and daughter, Rose Ella, of Wheeling are visiting friends in Marlinton for a week. Mrs. Gorrell is employed in Stone and Thomas department store.

•

Tony Colson is visiting his home folks here this week.

•

Paul Haddock, who is employed in Baltimore, is visiting his wife and daughter this week.

•

A. R. Gay was in Clifton Forge, Va., last week where he received treatments at the hospital. He was accompanied by Mrs. John I. Sharp and Mrs. Clara Hill of Clarksburg.

•

Mrs. Paul Haddock and daughter Martha will move soon to the Cochran apartments in Marlinton.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mason had as Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gay, Mrs. John I. Sharp, Mrs. Clara Hill and T. J. Mason.

•

Mrs. Lucy Clark has as her guest Miss Madge Moore of Huntington, who is employed at the Veterans hospital. Mrs. Oscar O'Connel of White Sulphur Springs, also visited Mrs. Clark over the week-end.

•

Miss Alice Dever is spending her vacation visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gibson of Frost, and visiting in Harrisonburg, Va.

•

Raymond Gibson of Ohio has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gibson.

•

Mrs. Jean Oxendale Moore left Monday for Fort Knox, Ky., to visit her husband.

•

Mrs. Mabel Hudson left Monday for Huntington where she will visit Mrs. LeRoy Roberts.

•

Mrs. Forest Gibson and daughter, Charma Lea, left last Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where Miss Gibson has employment. Mrs. Gibson will return to Marlinton the latter part of this week.

•

Miss Angie Wade visited her sister, Mrs. H. L. Becker of Belle, Saturday.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McFerrin were in Charleston Saturday where Mr. Sharp and Mr. McFerrin were attending the State Bankers' convention.

Mrs. Sharp spent the day shopping and Mrs. McFerrin visited with her daughter, Miss Helen McFerrin.

•

John A. Hedrick, returned from Charleston Sunday morning after attending the State Bankers' convention on Saturday.

•

Mrs. William Moore and two children of Huntington are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McLaughlin.

•

R. B. Sloan has returned to Marlinton to the local express office of the C. and O. railway after an absence of several months due to severe illness.

•

Mrs. Homer Hannah of Huntington and Washington, D. C., is visiting Mrs. H. E. Wyllie of Wyllie Manor for ten days.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pease are students this summer at the University of Iowa. Mrs. Pease is working on a Doctor's degree.

•

Sgt. and Mrs. Harry Smith are spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents at Amelia, Va.

•

Dr. and Mrs. John Buckley arrived last week-end and remained until Monday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson. From here they went to Clarksburg, accompanied by Dr. Fred Allen, president of the State Pharmaceutical Board, to attend the one-day druggists' meeting there.

•

Mrs. Frank McLaughlin returned home on Monday afternoon from Charleston where she was called by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Thelma Witter.

•

Two local fathers who received messages from their sons on Father's day were R. S. McNeil, from his son, Bill, a wire which was delivered personally by Telegraph Operator Bloss, to assure Mr. McNeil that nothing was wrong; and Judge Sylvester Sharp, who had a phone call from his son George.

•

Mrs. E. M. Richardson accompanied Frank Richardson to Clifton Forge Sunday where the latter entered the hospital for examination.

•

Mrs. Bessie McClintic, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McElwee were recent visitors to the Clifton Forge hospital, where Mrs. McClintic is taking treatment.

•

Mrs. Dana Hicks and son of Webster Springs visited Miss Anna Lee Ervine over the week-end.

•

Mrs. Carl Ballentine, the former Miss Alice Fortune, is visiting her home folks here. Capt. and Mrs. Ballentine are located at Winchester, Tenn.

Minnehaha Springs Farm Women Hold June Meeting

The June meeting of the Minnehaha Springs Farm Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Julian Lockridge and Miss Bly Dever with 13 members and seven visitors in attendance. The topic for the month, "Laundering the Easy Way," was discussed. Mrs. Clyde Buzzard conducted devotions on the theme, "White Robes." Miss Bly Dever had charge of the lesson, and Mrs. Lockridge demonstrated the use and arrangement of laundry equipment. A general round-table discussion followed which brought out many good ways to take the drudge out of wash day.

The name of Mrs. H. E. Wyllie was added to the membership list.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. D. W. Alderman, Wednesday afternoon, July 7.

Alpine Theatre

MARLINTON, W. VA.

WEEK STARTING FRIDAY, JUNE 25

Friday-Saturday Double Feature

"MUGTOWN" with The Dead End Kids

— Also —

Johnny Mack Brown in "Little Joe, the Wrangler"

ANOTHER CHAPTER of EXCITING SERIAL, "SECRET CODE"

Monday - Tuesday

"The Powers Girl"

CAROL LANDIS, GEORGE MURPHY, ANN SHIRLEY

$$ Wednesday - Thursday $$

"The Hard Way"

IDA LUPINO, DENNIS MORGAN, JOAN LESLIE

• BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS HERE •

Merle Sharp, Philip White Married In Cincinnati, O.

The Westminster Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati was the setting at 4:00 o'clock on May 29, 1943, for the marriage of Miss Merle Clifton Sharp, of Cincinnati, daughter of Clifton Sharp, of Frost, W. Va., to Mr. Philip C. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White, of Clifton, O. The Rev. J. H. Owens officiated, reading the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white peonies. Miss Helen Abercrombie played "Ave Maria" and "Because," as the guests assembled, and the traditional wedding marches were played as processional and recessional.

The bride wore a navajo blue dinner length dress with a sweetheart neckline and a wide bifurcated belt of matching material. The dress a necklace of pearls which were a gift of the bridegroom, and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and blue delphiniums.

Miss Opal Sharp of Covington, Va., was her sister's only attendant. She wore a chalky pink dinner length dress with navy accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and blue delphiniums.

William J. De Bonnett, a former classmate of Mr. White, acted as best man.

Mrs. D. B. Williams of Marlinton, W. Va., cousin of the bride, was present in navy blue and wore a shoulder corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a pearl gray dress and her corsage was of yellow roses with accessories.

A reception for fifty guests was held at the residence of the bride's cousin, Bedford Miller, after the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Marlinton high school and prior to her marriage was employed in the Sales Office of the Union Central Life Insurance Company in Cincinnati.

Mr. White, a graduate of the Engineering College of the University of Cincinnati, is a chemical engineer with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of Wyndotte, Mich. After a brief honeymoon the couple are now at home at 6376 Fifth street, Wyandotte.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding and reception were: Mrs. B. R. Williams, Marlinton; Mrs. Opal Sharp, of Covington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White, Mrs. Matt O. Bryson and Mr. and Mrs. William J. De Bonnett, of Tiffin, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Finch, of Fostoria, O.; Mrs. Bruce Gilpin, of Pewaukee, Ky., and Mrs. P. Rankin and daughter, of Fort Thomas, Ky.

District Manager J. W. Lambert, of the FSA, was visiting Opie Cutlip at the local office, Monday.

•

Dr. and Mrs. John Buckley and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richardson.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Ferguson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp of Frost.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald and child left Tuesday morning for Mansfield, O.

•

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and son have been spending some time in Pocahontas county visiting relatives. Mr. Williams, an engineer, has gone to Pasco, Wash., where he will work.

•

Mrs. I. B. Baumgardner, Jr., left Sunday for Oak Ill where she will visit Dr. and Mrs. G. Steele Callison. She will then go to Richmond, Va., to visit Miss Ruth Barnes.

•

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Reynolds returned Monday after a visiting with their daughter in Louisville, Ky.

•

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pritchard and children arrived Monday to spend a week visiting Mrs. Eudora Pritchard at Huntersville.

DURBIN-BARTOW NEWS

Mrs. Mattie Kincaid Passes

After a long illness of several years duration, death came on May 31, 1943 to Mrs. Mattie Burner Kincaid of Durbin. Mrs. Kincaid was confined to a wheel chair following a severe operation some time ago and was a most patient sufferer. Although unable to walk, she attended to many of the household tasks, and was a good neighbor.

She was born May 18, 1870, and was married to G. D. Kincaid on July 4th, 1896, at Buckhannon.

The funeral, which took place at the Methodist church in Durbin, on June 2, was attended by a large crowd, and was in charge of Rev. L. H. Greenwood, pastor of the Durbin church, and Rev. Harry Blackhurst of Cass.

Mrs. Kincaid is survived by her husband and the following children: Victor, of Akron, O.; Harry, of Tionesta, Pa.; Leonard, of Hollywood, Md.; Rex, of Kent, O.; Clifford, of the U. S. Army, at Camp Crowder, Mo.; Monna Arbogast of Muncie, Ind., and Ollie Schwarzburg, of Baltimore, Md.

Thirteen grandchildren also survive.

Interment took place in the Arbovale cemetery.

Married in Clarksburg

Mrs. Elbert C. Whanger has received word of ther marriage of her nephew, Robert J. Nottingham, son of Mrs. C. W. Hill of Morgantown, to Miss Alma Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mann of Clarksburg and Middlebourne.

The marriage took place on June 21, 1943, at 3 p. m. in the Chapel of the Wesley Methodist Church in Clarksburg with only the families and a few close friends in attendance.

The bridegroom is a grandson of Zack Nottingham of Boyer, and a nephew of Kerth Nottingham, Marlinton postmaster.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Nottingham and son Henry, accompanied by Charles Jones, all of Morgantown, spent the week-end at a camp on Alleghany Mountain, returning to Morgantown on Monday.

Miss Margaret Wilson returned on Monday from Charleston where she spent two weeks with relatives.

Miss Rella Phares was a business visitor in Elkins Monday.

Mrs. Henry Hevener and Miss Edna Kane, daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gum, Sr. and Miss Nancy Gum spent Sunday with Mrs. Hevener's mother, Mrs. Little and other Little Creek folks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Preston of Durbin had as a dinner guest on Sunday Miss Aggie Gum of Durbin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Barlow and son, Melvin Lee, of Bloomington, and Miss Aggie Gum, of Durbin, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Sheldon of Frank Thursday evening.

Mrs. Parker Gates who underwent a tonsil operation at the hospital in the C. and O. depot last Saturday, is receiving treatments at the C. and O. hospital in Clifton Forge.

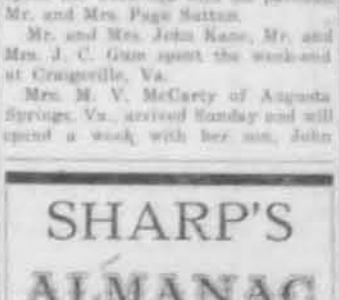
Eli Simmons was taken to the Beverly hospital on Monday, suffering from gall stones.

Miss Mary Margaret "Sig" Hendrickson is in Charleston over the week-end. Miss Hendrickson, Sherrie Wilson and Sally are to be in the capitol city, and the latter then drove it to Richmond, Ky., where she is employed.

•

Mrs. Gordon Mack left Wednesday morning by plane from Elkins for Cincinnati, and from there she will go to Fort Wayne, Ind., for a short vacation with her sister.

SHARP'S ALMANAC



"Better to give than to take"—Heyworth

JUNE

WILBUR SHARP

BILLIARDS

Candy - Cigarettes

Lunches and Fountain Service

MARLINTON

Feature of the Week

ONE OF POCAHONTAS' FOREST FARMS

180 acres four miles Marlinton on State highway, in the Tennessee belt. Complete in every respect. With or without machinery.

Jack Richardson

REAL ESTATE BROKER

Marlinton, W. Va.

Pocahontas Peerlessness

PUBLIC NOTICES

Notice To Dog Owners

Attention of dog owners is called to the Town Ordinance which provides female dogs in heat from running at large. Owners are requested to keep these dogs penned up or restrained by leash.

GUY B. FAULKNER,
Sergeant.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, will sit as provided by law, on Monday and Tuesday, June 28 and 29, 1943, at the Court House, as the Board of Equalization and Review, for the purpose of reviewing the land and personal property tax books of Pocahontas County, as completed by the Assessor for the year 1942.

By order of the Court, this 1st day of June, 1943.

HOODY KINCAID, Clerk.

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE

VERY CHOICE Jersey dairy heifers $25 each, non-related bull (sire with 5 tons). Also several registered heifers $50 each.

SAYRE DAIRY CATTLE CO.,

SAYRE, PA., Box 84.

STOVE & FURNACE REPAIRS

Install back walls, grates, cooking stoves; line furnaces. Work guaranteed. Write me: L. B. GOODALL, CALDWELL, W. VA.

For Sale

One Electric Stove

Dresser

Chairs

One New Perfection Oil Water Heater

2 Radio Sets

Marble Top Table

One Electric Heater

And Other Articles

CALL OR PHONE

S. N. HENCH

10th AVENUE and 11th STREET

MARLINTON, W. VA.

THIS BANK

—IS—

A Guardian for your funds.

A Treasury for your needs.

A Counselor for your problems.

—and—

A Friend to everyone.

BUY BONDS — THEN KEEP THEM SAFE IN OUR VAULT

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN MARLINTON

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

MARLINTON, W. VA.

THERE ARE NO RESTRICTIONS ON OUR DESIRE TO SERVE YOU WELL

Rexrode Chevrolet Co.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

Attractive Looks WILL BE REGAINED IMPROVED PRESERVED By Regular Visits to this Beauty Parlor

Annette Beauty Shop
Mrs. Dice Grimes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

GOOD FURNITURE Is An Important Investment YOU CAN OBTAIN REAL VALUE AT

The Furniture Mart
Camden Ave. Marlinton

Dr. Harry C. Solter Clinic
Office Hours:
10 to 12 A. M.
1 to 3 P. M.
7 to 8 P. M.
Thursdays—No afternoon hours.
Sundays—By appointment only.

WE FILL PRESCRIPTIONS WITH ACCURACY AND UNFAILING CARE

Royal Drug Store, Inc.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

ATTENTION TO GIRLS BEAUTY NEEDS WILL ADD TO YOUR APPEARANCE AT ONCE AND CONSTANTLY

Make regular appointments here

Style-Rite Beauty Salon
Lucille Gatchell Marlinton

All Repair and Service DONE JUST AS SATISFACTORY AS NEW AT THE

Marlinton Esso Station
Wm. B. Cassell, Mgr.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

BOWL FOR HEALTH AND PLEASURE

Alpine Bowling Lanes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

THEY WERE EXPENDABLE

by W. L. White

© WHITE W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY SO FAR: The story of their part in the battle for the Philippines is being told by four of the five naval officers who are all that is left of Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron 3. They are Lieut. John Bulkeley (now Lieutenant Commander), squadron commander; Lieut. R. B. Kelly, second-in-command; and Ensigns Anthony Akers and George E. Cox, Jr. Manila had fallen and our naval base at Cavite had been wiped out, when the PT boats took their final crack at the Japs off Bataan. March first General MacArthur took a ride in one of the boats, and everyone knew something was up, because the Philippines couldn't hold out much longer. Lieut. Kelly is speaking.

CHAPTER IX

"On March 10 Bulkeley made his usual trip to see MacArthur; this time he brought along all his plans and charts for the trip. The General went over and approved them, and also told Admiral Rockwell and his chief of staff that they were going along, which was the first they had known of the trip—they had thought we were going to China. There was also an ominous bit of news—some big Jap formation was reported coming down the west coast of Luzon in our direction. If it was true, it could only be the convoy bringing General Yamashita and his reinforcements. General MacArthur told Bulkeley we might be leaving very soon, and to come back the next day.

"That would be the eleventh of March. Bulkeley went over early in the morning and returned to us at noon. He called in not only me but the other officers, Akers, Cox, and Schumacher, and for the first time showed them copies of our secret orders and the charts he had worked out for our route. He made the point that we should all keep together, but if one broke down, the rest would go on, leaving it to make its way the best it could."

"If we met the enemy, we were to avoid them if possible. But if they gave chase and were gaining on us so that an attack was necessary, the 41 boat, in which he would carry the General, his wife, and his son, would turn and run, and my boat, since I was second in command, would lead the attack to give the others time to escape.

"The last thing he told us was that we were leaving that very night. He left us hard at work on last-minute preparations but would return soon to complete his own.

"We didn't tell the men what we were up to or where we were leaving Corregidor," continued Lieutenant Kelly, but they got their orders to dump that landing-force equipment, to load all spare parts on the boats, move the crew's mess gear back into the ship's galley, and pile the decks with drums of gas.

"And while we were doing it, who should walk in but Nat Floyd of the New York Times, exactly the last guy in the world we wanted to see. Sure, we liked him. He said he'd been up to the lines with the army, and then on a hunch, no particular reason, thought he'd drop in on us and see if we had any news.

"Then Bulkeley and I went into a huddle. Here Nat was. And bound to get suspicious of the activity. After we'd gone, the story would be almost sure to get out.

"'He's a pretty nice guy,' I said. 'Don't suppose we could take him with us, do you?'

"'Well,' said Bulkeley. 'I've got to go along now. But if Nat should happen to show away in the lazaret, and we didn't find him until we were out to sea, why then the story certainly wouldn't get out, would it?'

"And do you know, that's just what happened. But in the meantime there were other things on my mind. Mostly it was how I was going to get hold of Peggy. There was no telephone at the hospital. She'd said she would phone me sometime between six and seven o'clock today about that date of ours on the fifteenth.

"But there was a lot of traffic over the signal-corps field telephone, and she might not get to use it until almost seven. And I was due to pick up my passengers and be gone forever by 6:30 tonight. And I'd never get to say how much I liked her and what a swell, brave kid she was, and good-by.

"So I sat down and tried to write it in a letter, which I could leave at Corregidor on our way out, and which she would get when she got back from duty in the lines, and then at least would understand.

"I had just finished it about 5:30 and put it in my pocket when they came paging me for a telephone call on that signal-corps phone. It was Peggy—her duty hours had been changed, and she was afraid if she waited until seven to call I might be out on patrol, and she might miss me. She just wanted to tell me she'd been able to fix everything for me here on the fifteenth, and was sure now all right with me, might I make it?

"'Yes,' I said. The phone was on the wall in the Filipinos' mess shack, and the shack was crowded with officers—in addition to all the guys probably listening in on the line.

"Well, the next couple she might attempt it for the fifteenth, it was right in between the two.

"'It wouldn't be any trouble,' I said. 'Nothing would be any trouble.'

"'Well,' she said, and she sounded a little mad, 'what is this, anyway?'

"'I guess it's good-by, Peggy,' I said.

"Then there was a long silence, and when she spoke again I almost thought it was someone else, her voice was so changed. 'Where are you going?' she asked, very low. 'Can you tell me?'

"'No,' I said.

"'Can you tell me if you're coming back?'

"'No,' I said. 'I can't tell you that.'

"'Then I guess it's really good-by,' she said, and her voice sounded flat and a long way off. 'But it's been awfully nice, hasn't it?'

"'Listen, Peggy, I've written you a letter—' only just then I heard the connection break. It seemed a couple of generals wanted to talk to each other. It was quite a while before I got it back again, and they told me she had waited fifteen minutes and had then gone. I've always hoped what the generals had to say to each other was important.

"Of course we weren't engaged. I didn't have a picture of her. In fact, the only thing I had was a few lines she'd scribbled on a piece of paper a few weeks before. We'd been idly talking about how we hoped to get out of the islands and agreed, half in joke, that whichever of us got out first would write the family of the other one of those reassuring letters about how wonderful life was on Bataan and how well and happy the other one had looked.

"So, half in joke, she'd scratched the address of her married sister in San Francisco on the back of an old envelope. This I still had, and I intended to write her, and send it out by the plane which took MacArthur, telling her what a swell girl her kid sister was.

"'Then I guess it's really good-by,' she said."

"Kelly's 34 boat was right on time," said Bulkeley. "We in the 41 boat picked up our passengers at Corregidor and met him and the other two boys at the turning light just outside the mine field at seven o'clock to the minute. We had twenty passengers in all in our four boats. With me in the 41 boat were General and Mrs. MacArthur, their little boy, and his nurse and a few generals. Kelly in the 34 boat had, to start with, Admiral Rockwell, two colonels, and an army aviation captain. When one of the other boats later broke down, Kelly picked up a few more generals.

"But rank made no difference. Washington had ordered MacArthur to bring out the most valuable of his men, and so they were all specialists—there was even a staff sergeant, who was a technician, along with us, while thirty-odd generals were left behind on Bataan.

"We started out single file, my boat as flagship setting the pace for the other three. First we went fifty miles straight out to sea in the deepening twilight. We'd hoped to get out unnoticed, but suddenly we saw a light glimmer and glow on one of the Japanese islands. It was a signal fire warning to the mainland that they'd seen us pass. If they had seen it on Luzon, that meant trouble for us—maybe bombers at dawn, maybe destroyers later on in the day. By eleven o'clock we made out the outline of Apo Island against the stars (there was no moon) and checked our navigation, which we were doing entirely by compass and chart. MacArthur and General Sutherland were pleased with the way it was going.

"I can't say what Admiral Rockwell was, and Kelly—maybe because he knew more about the navy than the generals did. I hadn't expected to devote time, as I hadn't discovered the fact that each was the wife and one of the four sons which today's hour commanded, and was in fact of serious that we couldn't waste much speed until the carbon was burned out.

"As you know, we'd intended to make a good speed, but I found my boat wouldn't quite do it. Pretty soon we were lagging fifty yards behind, then, after a while, two hundred. The Admiral didn't mention this for some time. But finally he said:

"'Don't you think we're getting a little far apart?'

"'We'll close in gradually,' I said. And I tried to, but finally we were so far behind Bulkeley's flagship we couldn't see it with the naked eye.

"I sent a whispered message to the engine room, ordering them to disconnect the throttle, and to push the carburetors up with their hands as far as they would go. We now had on every possible ounce of power, but the Admiral still wasn't satisfied.

"'We're closing pretty slowly,' he complained.

"Privately, I doubted that we were closing at all, but I only said, 'No use pushing her too hard, sir.'

"But about five minutes later we really were closing. Bulkeley, noticing we were pretty far behind, had reduced his speed. But, with my throttle disconnected, I couldn't reduce mine, and it took me about a minute to get a message down there telling the engineers to take their hands off the carburetor levers and reconnect them with the controls on the bridge. During this minute we not only gained on Bulkeley's boat, but overtook it and went roaring madly past.

"In the darkness I could see the Admiral had squared around and was giving me a doubtful look. I could tell he thought he was riding with a madman, and I decided he would worry less if I told him the truth—that our maximum speed in this boat was something under forty knots. Any Japanese destroyer could easily make this maximum of ours, as the Admiral very well knew. But all he said was 'My God!' very softly to himself.

"It happened that we were just passing an island. The Admiral glanced over.

"'How far are we from shore, Kelly?'

"'About four miles, sir.'

"Looks farther than that to me. Take a bow-and-beam bearing.'

"'Aye, aye, sir,' I said. But of course I didn't have any instruments. So, making the 45-degree angle with two fingers, I sighted along them to a point ahead. When we came just abeam of this point, since we knew our own speed, it would give us roughly our distance from shore—very roughly. The Admiral noticed me sighting along my fingers.

"'Don't you have a pelorus?' he said, sharply.

"'No, sir,' I said.

"'H-m-m—. I suppose the flagship has better means?'

"'No, sir,' I said. 'They don't.'

"'How in hell do you navigate?'

"'By guess and by God, sir,' I said.

"'My God!" said the Admiral, and this time he didn't say it so softly. 'I hope,' he added wistfully, 'that we get there.'"

"At four o'clock in the morning, my engines suddenly stopped," recalled Lieutenant Kelly. "I knew the strainers were clogged with wax and rust, and it would take half an hour to clean them, which I explained to the Admiral, who was watching the other three boats disappear over the horizon.

"'What time will we get to the rendezvous?'

"I made a fast mental calculation. 'About 8:30, sir.'

"Dawn, as we both knew, would come at seven, and with it—if the mainland had seen that island signal fire—Japanese planes, looking for us.

"'That's an hour and a half later than I like to be out,' said the Admiral. Our plans, of course, called for running only at night, and laying up by day in the Cuyo Island group, with a general rendezvous in a harbor of one of the central islands for our start at sunset.

"There are thirty or forty islands in the Cuyo group, and just before dawn we began to make out the first ones—tiny mounds on the horizon ahead and around us. The flagship had the only detailed chart of them; all I had was a large-sized map of the Philippines, and on this the Cuyos looked like a cluster of some forty-odd flyspecks.

"When the Admiral asked how in the world we—without navigation instruments or chart—expected to make a proper landfall on the particular flyspeck that we all had selected as rendezvous, I explained we had provided for that; I knew the general location, and from Bulkeley's chart I had drawn a pencil sketch of this island. But again he was skeptical.

"It was eight o'clock (no planes as yet) before we saw what we thought might be the right one; as we drew nearer, the Admiral agreed that the hills and cove were exactly like my sketch, but when we entered the cove, it was empty. We circled the island—no sign of the other three boats.

"'My God,' said the Admiral, 'what's happened to the General? His wife, fooling in love, and the others aren't here! Where can they be?'

(TO BE CONTINUED)

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 27

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JOHN'S COUNSEL TO CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—II John 4-11; III John 5-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health; even as thy soul prospereth.—III John 2.

Christians need guidance, especially in their home and church relationships. The apostle John, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, wrote the two personal letters known to us as II and III John. They abound in sound spiritual, practical advice. Note that these two words belong together, for what is truly spiritual cannot help but be tremendously practical and perfect for the direction of thought and life.

In these letters five admirable lessons are taught. Let us give heed to them. They are appropriate to our day.

I. Set an Example Before Your Children (II John 4-6).

We may not like to admit it, but our children are largely what we make them by their training—or lack of it—in the home. Parents have the grave and at the same time precious responsibility of being what they want their children to be. We set the mold of their thinking and acting, not only about material things, but mentally and spiritually, which is far more important.

Above all we must teach them by precept and example to love God supremely, and to walk after His commandments. Father, mother, have you done your duty? Are your children "walking in truth" (v. 4)?

II. Be on Guard Against False Teachers (II John 7-11).

We are not to countenance false teaching even by entertaining such teachers, or having close fellowship with them. To create the impression before the world and the Church that they are "not so bad," by appearing as their friends, is to partake of their evil works (v. 11). This is a serious matter, and one which is a problem in the Church today.

Such teachers may easily be recognized. They are aptly described by Dr. Douglass: "In all ages the Church has been plagued by those who want to substitute something for pure Christian faith, or to embroider it with bright ideas of their own conceiving. Such people may try to strip religion of its supernatural aspect and reduce it to a merely rationalistic system. They may seek to slyly loosen the moral standards of the Church because their own lives are deficient when measured by such standards. They may try to minimize the teaching of the cross because it stands for sacrifice." Watch against them, and stand against their destructive teaching.

III. Be Diligent in Putting Forward True Teachers (III John 5-8).

The door which should be closed against false teachers should be opened wide to those who are faithful teachers of the truth.

This refers primarily to the hospitality of the home, and reminds us of a grace which has been all but forgotten in these days of small apartments.

Whether we are able to open our homes to God's servants or not, we can show a Christian spirit of genuine hospitality in helping to bring them forward (v. 6) in their work. This may be done by gifts of money, by kindness shown in time of need, by a real interest in their work, by recommending them to others who wish to hear the truth.

Do everything possible, then, to hinder the false teacher, and be just as diligent to put forward the ministry of the true man of God.

IV. Do Not Trust Proud, Self-Seeking Leadership (III John 9-11).

A man may be orthodox, and intensely loyal to the denomination, and at the same time be a wicked man whose example is to be shunned. No word is said against the teaching of Diotrephes. He was not condemned for being careless about the affairs of the church, or unfaithful in his attendance and devotion to its interest as he saw them.

The sin of Diotrephes was pride, a desire to be the boss of the church, "No. 1 man" in its affairs. Lacking the true spirituality which always results in humility, he opposed the apostle. Not only did he refuse to receive him, but used pressure on others who were willing to be hospitable.

V. Emulate the Life of the Man of Good Report (III John 12).

A good man! No words of praise could possibly surpass such a testimony. The world is full of brilliant, skilled, wealthy and prominent people, but there is an appalling dearth of good men and women.

How refreshing to meet, and how delightful to know, such a man—such a woman. Like Demetrius, they have not only the witness of the Church, and of the truth, but also of "all men." But that work we said the world below read Christians. It does, but it also respects them, and is forced to bear witness to their worth and goodness.

Profound fellowship with God in Christ which does not result in good news of life may well be questioned.

Simple Cross Stitch For Kitchen Towels

2984

THESE kitchen towels will add a welcome touch of color to any kitchen. Do them in natural coloring. The easy cross stitch looks just like gingham applique. Everyone will admire them!

• • •

Pattern 2984 contains a transfer pattern of six motifs averaging 5¼ by 7 inches; illustrations of stitches; color scheme; materials required.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern.

No. .....
Name .....
Address .....

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

FEATHERS WANTED

FEATHERS OLD or NEW—WANTED. Top Prices. 41 Years Satisfactory Dealing. Ship Express or Parcel Post. PILLOW MFG. CO., 2219 Cole Street, St. Louis, Mo.

WANTED: Goose and duck feathers, New and old. Mail samples and write for prices. The P. R. Mitchell Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

'Giant' Air Raid in 1917

A "giant" air raid, by the standards of the last war, occurred over London in June, 1917. Twenty planes took part and 162 deaths were caused.

GET AFTER RHEUMATIC PAIN With a Medicine that will Prove Itself

If you suffer from rheumatic pain or muscular aches, buy C-2223 today for real pain-relieving help. 60c, $1. Caution: Use only as directed. First bottle purchase price refunded by druggist if not satisfied. Get C-2223.

Cut in Teams' Travel

Each major-league baseball team will travel an average of only 8,600 miles this year instead of the usual 13,000 miles.

SOMETHING TO KNOW ABOUT SEPTIC TANKS

If you have a septic tank, be careful what you use to keep toilets clean and sanitary. Here's good news.

Recent scientific tests show that Sani-Flush saves many scrubbing and scouring, while it keeps toilet bowls clean as a whistle. And what is even more important—these tests prove Sani-Flush cannot injure septic tanks or the action that takes place in them, when used according to the simple directions on the can. Use Sani-Flush at least twice a week. Sold everywhere. Two handy sizes.

FREE: Write for complete scientific data on Sani-Flush in septic tanks. Address The Hygienic Products Co., Dept. 66, Canton, Ohio.

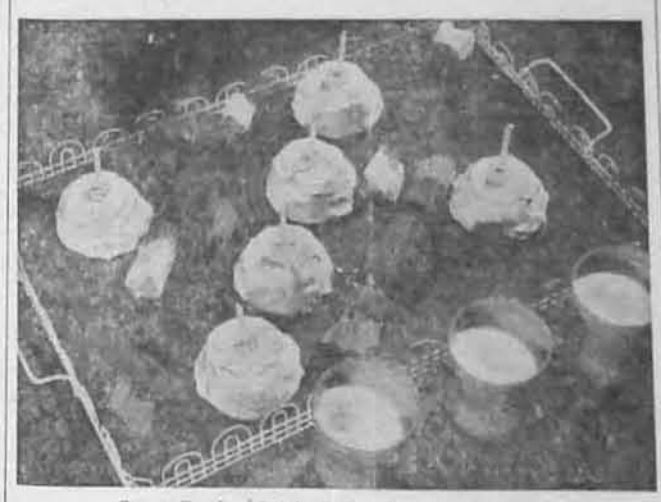
WNU—E 25-43

When Your Back Hurts And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

DOAN'S PILLS

• OUR COMIC SECTION •

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers



Serve Perfect Little Cakes for Garden Party
(See Recipe Below)

Keep Cool!

Foods that don't cook the cook and leave a lot of K.P. after the party is over are two golden rules for summer entertaining. If you are baking anything, try baking in cool morning hours, and if there's a warm dish to be served, make it something that doesn't require more than 15 minutes of cooking.

If your table decorations and settings are cool appearing and the food carries this out further, then you will have done a lot toward making your guests comfortable. Refreshments may be simple, in fact, they should be, for then guests and hostess alike can enjoy themselves.

Here's a lovely salad that's the last word in coolness and smoothness, thereby filling the order for perfect summer refreshment:

Orange Ring Salad.
(Serves 8)

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- ½ cup boiling water
- 1½ cups orange juice
- Juice of one lemon
- 1 tablespoon chopped mint
- ½ cup sugar
- 1½ pounds white grapes, skinned and seeded
- 2 cups shredded lettuce
- 2 packages cream cheese
- 1 cup sour cream dressing

Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Add boiling water, lemon and orange juice, sugar and chopped mint. Stir until cool. Mash and form cheese into balls the size of large marbles. Pour a little of jelly into bottom of a mold and place balls at intervals while pouring on thickened jelly. Place in refrigerator and chill until firm. Unmold and fill center with grapes mixed with lettuce and dressing. Surround mold with peeled orange sections. Serve with crackers.

Sour Cream Dressing.

- ½ cup french dressing
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup sour cream

Mix ingredients well and chill thoroughly.

A lovely combination of citrus fruit juices are included in this salad guaranteed to keep you cool:

Orange Ice Salad.
(Serves 6)

- 2 cups orange juice
- ½ cup lemon juice
- ½ grapefruit
- 1 slice canned pineapple
- 1 large orange
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup water
- Grated rind of 1 small orange

Cook sugar, water and grated rind together for 5 minutes after coming to a boil. Strain and cool. Add to lemon and orange juice and freeze. Pack into a ring mold. Freeze until firm, then unmold on lettuce. In the center place a bowl filled with mayonnaise, and garnish around outer edge with sections of orange, grapefruit and pineapple.

Lynn Says:

Salad Pointers: Have all salad ingredients as cold as possible. Chill salad bowl and salad plates to assure absolute coolness to salads.

To skin tomatoes: Hold tomato on fork over flame and turn slowly for about 1 minute. Slip off skins.

To flute cucumber: Peel, lengthwise, and run prongs of fork through lengthwise, then slice cucumber thinly.

To slave egg yolks or whites: This is pretty for garnishing. Separate yolks or whites from hard-cooked eggs, place in a small sieve, and rub through with wooden spoon on salads to be garnished.

To decorate lettuce: Dip edges in paprika.

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Menus

- *Orange Ring Salad
- *Hostess Sandwiches
- *Cheese Sandwiches
- *Tiny Tim Cakes
- Beverage
- *Recipes Given

Tiny little cakes attractively decorated with a cool drink may serve as refreshments for a garden party or evening:

Tiny Tim Cakes.
(Makes 8 cakes)

- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg, beating well. Sift dry ingredients together, and add alternately to creamed mixture with milk. Mix to a smooth batter. Drop from a spoon into well-greased muffin cups. Bake 25 minutes in a moderate (350-degree) oven. Frost with tinted frosting.

Grapefruit Swizzle.

- 1 quart grapefruit juice
- Juice from 8 limes
- 4 sprigs of mint
- Sugar syrup to taste

Mix lime and grapefruit juice. Stir in syrup. Add mint leaves, crushing them after added to drink. Stir thoroughly. Cool in refrigerator. Fill glasses with crushed ice and pour over swizzle. Garnish with a sprig of fresh mint.

Sugar syrup to keep on hand for cool drinks is made by boiling 3 cups of sugar to 1½ cups water for 10 minutes after it starts boiling. Pour into bottle.

Fruit Freeze.

- 1 fresh ripe pineapple
- 2 lemons
- 1 quart cold water
- Fruit syrup to taste

Pare pineapple, remove eyes and core. Run pieces of pineapple through food chopper, add water, lemon and syrup to taste. Chill and fill glasses to within a third of the top and add a scoop of raspberry ice.

Sandwiches using unrationed food for fillings are always a grand way to take care of the refreshment problem:

Hostess Sandwiches.

- ½ pound mincemeat, packaged
- ½ cup water
- 3 ounces cream cheese
- Whole wheat bread

Mix mincemeat and water and cook until all moisture is absorbed. Cool. Cover thin slice of buttered whole wheat bread with cheese, softened with cream and slightly salted, then with mincemeat and another slice of bread covered with cream cheese. Cut in strips or fancy shapes and decorate, if desired with candied fruit.

Cheese Sandwich Filling.

- 1 package cream cheese
- 6 chopped olives
- 3 pieces finely chopped parsley
- 3 strips cooked bacon, chopped fine
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise

Mix all ingredients together, add salt and pepper to taste, and spread on buttered bread.

Are you having difficulties planning meals with points? Stumping your mates? Lynn Chambers can give you help if you write her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply, in care of her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Mosquitoes buzz outside my screen;
They want to get to me I know.
The poor things may be starving too—
It seems a shame to tease them so.

WNU Features.

NO ASPIRIN FASTER than genuine, pure St. Joseph Aspirin. World's largest seller at 10¢. None safer, none surer. Demand St. Joseph Aspirin.

Some Flapper
A humming-bird, measuring only three inches, flaps its wings 200 times a second, a four-foot pelican once a second.

FOR QUICK RELIEF
CARBOIL SALVE
A Soothing ANTISEPTIC
Used by thousands with satisfactory results for 40 years—six valuable ingredients. Get Carboil at drug stores or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

Gather Your Scrap; ★
★ Throw It at Hitler!

Acid Indigestion
Relieved in 5 minutes or double money back
When excess stomach acid causes painful, suffocating gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fast-acting medicines known for symptomatic relief—medicines like those in Bell-ans Tablets. No laxatives. Bell-ans brings comfort in a jiffy or double your money back on return of bottle to us. 25¢ at all druggists.

To relieve distress of MONTHLY
Female Weakness
WHICH MAKES YOU CRANKY, NERVOUS!
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands to relieve periodic pain, backache, headache with weak, nervous, cranky, blue feelings — due to functional monthly disturbances. This is due to its soothing effect on one of WOMAN'S MOST IMPORTANT ORGANS.
Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Worth trying!

FIGHT your ENEMIES
Water, Rust, Corrosion with
KAY'S BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER

Seals holes! Stops leaks! Resists rust! Saves material! Easily and quickly applied. Saves you many times its cost.

BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER
preserves weather-beaten property or equipment. It waterproofs troughs, feeding pans, barrels, cisterns, water tanks and other containers; metal buildings, silo pits, corn cribs, roofs, gutters, fence posts, concrete foundations; farm equipment, etc.
Also waterproofs plaster board, cardboard, cloth, brick, metal and concrete.
SOLD ON MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
Try it once! You'll always keep it handy.
Quart $1.25 Gallon $2.95
Plus state tax—if any
At your dealer's — or use this coupon for trial order.
Satisfaction guaranteed

Kay's Laboratories
518 S. 3rd Street
Cincinnati, Ohio
Enclosed find ☐ check or ☐ money order for $_____ for ☐ Quart ☐ Gallon of BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOFER f. o. b. Cincinnati.
Name (print)_____
Shipping address_____
City_____ State_____

TOPNOTCHERS

The pupils of Pocahontas County graded schools whose made an average of 90% or above during the last six weeks of the 1942-43 term of school, and earned the rank of "Topnotchers," were as follows:

Blue Lick—Clara Marie Hayes, 8th grade.

Boggs Run—Bonnie Boyce, 5th, Olive Kellison 8th.

Brownbury — Virginia McChesney 7th.

Brushy Flat—Eugene Friel 6th, Maggie Irvine 6th, Leo Cain 5th, Clarence Irvine 4th, Elmer Friel 4th.

Brush Run—Daisy Rexrode 4th.

Buckeye—Edith Barnes 5th, Meaval Morrison 5th.

Bucks Run—Sue Hannah 7th.

Caesar Mountain — Henry Lee Scott, 5th.

Campbelltown—Mary Ann Boggs 4th, Janet Morrison 4th, Creola Schumaker 4th, Elma Shinaberry 4th, Lawrence Price 5th, Wilbur Shinaberry 5th, Betty Cogar 5th, Harold Miller 6th, Tom Morrison 6th, Garth Shinaberry 6th, Anita Dunbrack 6th.

Cass Colored—William Brown 4th.

Cass Graded—Billy Ray 4th, Grey Cassell 4th, Ruth Gillespie 4th, Charlotte Ann Fulks 5th, Ramona McNeely, Virginia Snyder 5th, Ray McLaughlin 6th, Gertrude Blackhurst 6th, Patty McPherson 6th, Letha Cassell 6th, Eleanor Shields 6th, Julian McLaughlin 7th, Edward Plyler 7th, Freda Rexrode 7th, Margaret Coyner 7th, Imagene Shifflett 8th, Mary Jo White 8th, Frances Sheets 8th.

Clover Lick—Betty Jane Long 4th, Betty Constance Lowe 4th, Mary Ellen Ervin 6th.

Draft — Robert VanReenen 8th, Keith Smith 8th, Herbert Sharp 8th, Catherine Sharp 7th, Clarence Anderson 6th, Craig Sharp 4th, Curtis McKinney 4th.

Dunmore—John Hevener th, Jo Betty Pritchard 4th, L. E. Campbell 8th, Dorothy Campbell 8th, Sue McElwee 8th, Billy Brock 5th, Zelda Buzzard 5th.

Durbin—Johnny Jack 4th, Patsy Sue Cromer 4th, Elaine Peck 4th, George Plyler 5th, Benjabin Poscover 5th, Estell Hickman 5th, Angus Galford 5th, James Sheets 5th, Gloria Dean Eye 5th, Ella Freeman 5th, Betty Slaven 5th, Kitty Spencer 5th, Charles Cromer 6th, George Sheets 6th, Aneta Butterbaugh 6th, Shirley Warner 6th, Edith Mick 6th, Archie Wilfong 7th, Reon Lambert 7th, Gene Moyers 7th, Theodore Wymer 7th, Evelyn Taylor 7th, Mary Wimer 7th, Marie Simmons 7th, Mary Taylor 7th, George Bolton 8th, Kenneth Dushey 8th, Robert Eades 8th, Julian Gum 8th, Troy Moore 8th, Thelma Cummins 8th, Estelle Duckworth 8th, Lena Anne Lambert 8th, Virginia Pennell 8th, Betty Plyler 8th, Pearl Rankin 8th, Gaddie Slavins 8th, Norma Gregg 8th, Zana Halterman 8th.

Greenbank—Evelyn Hevener 4th, Betty Ruth Sheets 4th, Eleanor Snyder 4th, Norma L. Sampson 4th, Martha McCutcheon 5th, Anna Bell Duffy 5th, Edith King 5th, Hilda Lambert 5th, Loyd Nicely 5th, Hubert Conrad 6th, Juliene Kerr 6th, Maxine Vandevander 6th, Glenna Woodsdell 6th, Bell Beard 7th, Berlin Galford 7th, Lee Barkley 7th, George Cromer 7th, Minnie Woodsdell 7th, Mary Dunn Hannah 7th, Roberta Jeanne Sheets 7th, Bonnie Sheets 7th, Helen Irvine 7th.

Hillsboro — Betty Arbogast 4th, Lena Townsend 4th, John K. Fleming 4th, Danny Kershner 4th, Elva Lee Dalton 4th, Dorothy Long 4th, Jerry K. Jones 5th, Margaret Kellison 5th, Minnie Beard 5th, Dottie Lee Sheets 5th, Betty Carter 6th, Tommy Sue Moore 6th, Mary Anne Simmons 6th.

Hillsboro — Billy Clark 7th, Betty Jo Beard 8th, Jerry Lee Beard 4th, Charles Curry 4th, Elva Taylor 4th, Fred Johnson 4th, Stanley McNeil 4th, Kathryn Wood 4th, Peggy Hudson 4th, Dorothy Ann Hudson 4th, Rosalie Long 4th, Margaret Bennett 4th, Marjorie McCoy 4th, Carol Cain 4th, Doris Jean Hudson 4th, Jimmy Loudermilk 4th, Clarence Moore 4th, Billy Gray 4th.

Huntersville — Betty Plyler 4th, Jo Ann Kellison 4th, Ruth Ann Kellison 4th, Jimmy Lee Kellison 4th, Jimmy Lee Sharp 4th, Sharon Sharp 4th, Curtis Sharp 4th, Curtis McKinney 4th, Jimmy Sharp 4th, Jimmy Lee Sharp 4th, Sharon Sharp 4th, Curtis Sharp 4th, Curtis McKinney 4th, Jimmy Sharp 4th, Samuel Callison 7th, Alice Young 7th, Fred Mouser 7th, Rex White 7th, Sue Brooks 7th, Anna Davisson 7th, Phyllis Dunbrack 7th, Opal Gay 7th, Charles Hannah 8th, Jay Long 8th, Darius Moore 8th, Ivan Withe 8th, Guy Kellison 8th, Julian Shrader 8th, Ernest White, Jr., 8th, Max White 8th, Wilma Carr 8th, Anna Lee Dean 8th, Rosalie Chestnut 8th, Naomi Moore 8th, Grace Rogers 8th, Eleanor Sharp 8th, Mary F. Shinaberry 8th, elen Simmons 8th, Betty Wanlee 8th, Helen Armstrong 8th, Anna Lee Landis 8th, Lois Ann LaRue 8th, Betty Moore 8th, Maxine Noonan 8th, Joan Overholt 8th, Pauline Underwood 8th, Margaret Webb 8th, Mildred Woods 8th, James Clark 8th, Jimmie Darnell 8th, Ira Friel 8th, Herbert Johnson 8th, Garth VanReenen 8th, Lewis Varney 8th, Ivan Wilfong 8th.

Minnehaha Springs—Joyce Thomas 5th.

Mt. Lebanon—Betty Jean Hill 7th, Elma Cutlip 7th, Betty Jo Bruffey 7th, Joan Morrison 4th.

Mt. Zion—Delma Kennedy 8th.

Nottingham—Eldon Dean 6th, and Thelma Varner 6th.

Pine Grove—Anlee Murphy 5th.

Oak ill—Helen Mullenax 7th.

Pleasant Hill—Roy Campbell 6th, Mildred Wilfong 6th, Mary Grace Mace 8th.

Ruckman—Geraldine Wilfong 7th, Robert Dolan 7th.

Seneca—Naomi Mace 4th, Norman Shaw 4th, Ralph Sharp 4th, Herbert Mace 6th, Harold David Gibson 6th, Edgar Lee Kimble 8th.

Salisbury—Jimmy Nottingham 6th, Joe Wilfong 4th.

Spruce—Joseph Ketterman 5th, Odbert Calain 6th, Juanita Waugh 7th, James Semones 8th, Dale White 8th.

Top Allegheny—Edna M. Moyers 6th.

West Union—Loris Galford 7th, Robert Kellison 6th.

xxx

MORE SOCIAL DOTS . . .

Dannie Cooper, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Cooper, was a patient at the local hospital Wednesday for the removal of his tonsils.

●

Mrs. B. B. Williams has returned from a trip to Charleston.

xxx

Extend Validity Of 1942-43 Auto License Plates

A delay in shipment of supplies required for the new 1943-44 automobile license stickers caused the State Road Commission this week to announce an extension of validity for the 1942-43 tags for an indefinite period.

Don McClaugherty, commission secretary and registrar of motor vehicles, said that envelopes to be used in mailing out the new blue and gold stickers had not arrived.

The exact period of the extension cannot be determined as yet, he added.

xxx

EASTERN STAR LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers for the ensuing year for Marlinton chapter, Order of Eastern Star, who were recently elected by the lodge are as follows:

Worthy Matron—Erma Johnson
Worthy Patron—Clyde Waugh
Associate Matron—Grace Yeager
Associate Patron—Chas. A. Sharp
Secretary—Mary P. Waugh
Treasurer—Lola Sharp
Conductress—Diana Cooper
Associate Conductress—Libby Rexrode
Chaplain—Maryland Stemple
Marshal—Nellie Williams
Organist—Irene McLaughlin
Adah—Bee H. Gladwell
Ruth—Maxine Dever
Esther—Helen Brumagin
Martha—Hulda Mark
Electa—Glendine Lowe
Warder—Edna Johnson
Sentinel—Margaret Moore

xxx

Floyd M. Dilley Dies

Floyd M. Dilley, veteran mail carrier on the Brush Country route, died Friday, June 18, 1943. He was a resident of Campbelltown.

Born May 24, 1883, Mr. Dilley was a son of Foley S. and Georgia L. (Hamilton) Dilley. On December 18, 1911, he was united in marriage to Hettie A. McComb. They were the parents of one son, Harold E. Dilley, who is in the foreign service with the Army, and who was unable to return for the services. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Minnie G. Kibbels and Mrs. J. G. Tilton, of Charleston, and 15 nieces and nephews and 12 great-nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were J. E. Buckley, Keith Symington, Ed Moore, John Harold, Willard Eskridge and Fred Moore.

xxx

CASS NEWS

Rev. C. E. Fortney is visiting relatives in Salisbury, Md., and Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Cogar have returned from their wedding trip and are residing with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ervin Sharp.

Jean Hunter Shinaberry, student nurse at Camp Hospital in Silverton, spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shinaberry.

Miss Clara Shields and Carol Wright spent the week-end in Clover Lick.

Miss Eleanor Johnson of Marlinton was the week-end guest of Miss Maxine Fisher.

Mrs. Warren Shifflet and family are visiting Mr. Shifflet who is employed in Baltimore.

Mrs. J. W. Bible left Friday to visit with relatives in Elkins.

Misses Laura Margaret and Mary Anne Hannah are visiting their parents, Dr. and Mrs. U. H. Hannah. Rev. Joseph Gluck is also a guest at the Hannah home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Loudermilk and family spent the week-end in Ronceverte.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Riffle and Miss Mildred Fuhrman of Elkins spent the week-end here.

Pvt. Melvin Good and Corpl. Huffman Summerfield are spending furloughs from the Army here.

Mrs. Russell Richards and Mrs. Ellie Hall were visitors in Marlinton last week.

Mrs. Charles Meeks has returned after visiting her husband in El Paso, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tallman have returned from Baltimore where both were employed.

Miss Patty McPherson spent several days last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Kane of Durbin.

Mrs. Ralph Tallman and family returned Saturday after visiting her mother in Frost for several days.

George McPherson spent the week-end in Marion, Va., and Bristol, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas and Ray left Tuesday for Ronceverte and were accompanied home by Hubert Thomas who has been a patient in the Ronceverte hospital for injuries received in an accident.

xxx

UPPER POCAHONTAS CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Rev. Wilmer Crummett, Pastor

June 27.

Hevener—Sunday school 10 a. m., preaching 11 a. m.

Boyer—Preaching 8 p. m.

xxx

DUNMORE NEWS

Entertains for Service Men

Mrs. R. M. Hiner entertained with a party at her home Monday night, June 14, in honor of A-C Eldon E. Campbell and Sgt. Pershing Arbogast. Those attending were Marilee, Dorothy, Martha, Pauline and L. E. Campbell, Sue and Charles McElwee, Munford and Kizil Craddock, Bill and Bob Waugh, Jim and Tom Pritchard, Glenna Stamper, Dolly Lou McLaughlin, Bob Woods, Virginia Lee Hevener, Maxine and Twila Shinaberry, Ida and Jane Hiner, R. M. Hiner,. Mrs. L. R. Campbell and Cecil Shinaberry. Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lawn Party

A Community Lawn Party was held Thursday night, June 17, on the school lawn, in honor of A-C Eldon E. Campbell, Sgt. Pershing Arbogast, Kizil Craddock, Bob Woods and Dickie Griffin. Games were played and refreshments were served to a large crowd by the ladies of the community.

Community Picnic Supper

A Community picnic supper was held Friday night, June 18, at the Dunmore Mineral Springs. After supper was served, games were played and an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Chinese Christian Speaks

A large crowd attended the special service at the Methodist church Sunday night, June 20, where Mr. Wang Tung, a Chinese Christian, gave an interesting talk on his his life and the life of his people. Rev. William Pugh of Boyer introduced the speaker.

Personals

Pvt. Golden Arbogast, who is stationed in Nashville, Tenn., is spending a 10-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Arbogast.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams of Wheeling, W. Va., visited Mr. Williams' sister, Mrs. J. J. Noel, last week.

Mrs. Jason Gore and children are visiting Mrs. Gore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russel McLaughlin.

Mrs. R. M. Hiner attended the 4-H Leaders meeting held at Camp Thornwood last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Campbell and Marilee and Eldon were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Campbell Tuesday evening, June 15.

Kathern Campbell, Sgt. Pershing Arbogast and Virginia Lee Hevener were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Campbell, Marilee and Eldon, on Wednesday evening, June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Campbell, Marilee and Eldon Campbell, Virginia Lee Hevener and Kathern Campbell were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Campbell, Friday, June 18.

Mrs. Brown Campbell and daughter Bessie Grace were Sunday guests of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cass McLaughlin, June 20.

Mrs. Mary J. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner and daughter, Ruth, of Millpoint, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Waugh of Marlinton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kinnison.

George Waugh of Marlinton spent Sunday at the home of his son, Lloyd Waugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gum and daughters, Alaine, Corinne and Donna, of Charleston, were week-end guests of Mrs. Gum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Moore.

Evelyn Campbell spent last Sunday with Ida and Jane Hiner.

xxx

FIRST STATE-WIDE BLACKOUT PLANNED FOR SOME NIGHT SOON

West Virginians will undergo their first state-wide blackout trial before the end of the month, the state office of Civilian Defense has revealed, at the same time announcing a program designed to better acquaint the general public with signals under which blackouts are called.

According to announcement received over the week-end by County OCD Director Opie C. Lowe the signal may be expected any night after dusk after June 23 but before July 1 comes up.

This will be the first state-wide drill and one of two likely this year. The next one, it is reported, will come entirely unheralded.

The OCD's plan for perfecting the education of the general public is to stage a series of dusk alerts in which traffic is stopped, members of the Citizens Defense Corps are mobilized but no interference suffered by industry, merchants or amusement spots. A growing schedule of such tests are being arranged by the state in cooperation with the U. S. Army which is lending considerable stress to increased daylight training.

The calling of Citizens Defense Corps members in dusk trials permits an expansion of their education in the tricks of combatting post-raid havoc such as fires, blocked roads, shattered buildings as well as casualties.

xxx

GREENBANK NEWS

Staff Sergeant Pershing Arbogast who has seen much service in the Guadalcanal area is spending a few days' furlough at the home of his father, William Arbogast, near Greenbank.

Clarence O. Moats of Fort Belvoir, Va., is home on a furlough.

Emil Grogg of Keesler Field, Miss., is at home recuperating from a recent appendectomy.

Miss Alma Matheny who has been employed in the government for the last two years spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Matheny of Breenbank. She left last Saturday for Washington, D. C.

Mrs. John Gum is slightly improved from her recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Dolly spent Sunday at the home of his father at Onego.

Mrs. Margaret Echard is spending a few days with her niece, Mrs. Merritt Gum.

Miss Mary Hannah returned Sunday from Plainfield, N. J., after a few pleasant days there with her friend, Miss Emmy Elner.

Mace Lantz returned home Saturday after a week's visit in Charleston.

xxx

BIRTH NOTES

Born June 20, 1943, to Mr. and Mrs. Leffort Kidd of Beard, a daughter, Barbara Sue.

Born June 20, 1943, to Mr. and Mrs. Winters Hefner of Millpoint, a son, William Winters.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Jake W. VanMeter, Valley Head, May 8, 1943, a son, named Jake Hearld VanMeter.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. James Clem Simmons, Marlinton, May 17, 1943, a son, Marvin Lewis Simmons.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Rider, Edray, May 24, 1943, a daughter, Glenda Fay Rider.

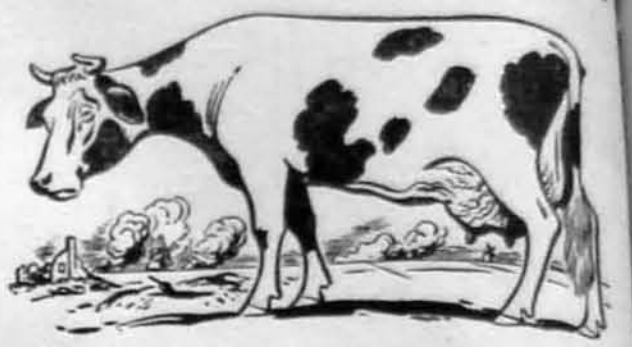
Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Kramer of Millpoint, are the parents of a daughter, Thelma Jean Kramer, born June 13, 1943.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. T. P. F. Phillips, Marlinton, June 18, 1943, a son, Marvin Edward Price Phillips.

xxx

Famed Woman Minister To Lepers Dies in India

Word has come to America of the death at Chandag Heights, India, high in the Himalaya Mountains, of a woman who was perhaps the most noted minister to lepers in the world —Miss Mary Reed, 88 years of age. Born in Lowell, Ohio, of pioneer stock, Miss Reed went to India in 1884 as a missionary of the Methodist Church. She began to preach to the lepers and to gather them into a small colony. On her first furlough in Aerica it was discovered that she herself had contracted leprosy. Without telling her family, she hastily returned to India and wrote that she would probably never again see them. She gave her life to lepers at Kalaina she developed at Chandag Heights, introducing modern treatment, teaching them to become self-supporting, and eventually seeing many of them pronounced cured. In a few years her own leprosy was arrested — she always maintained because of the progress of her boats of friends — and she was able to pay two more short visits to her parents before their death. The British Empire in 1917 gave Miss Reed the Kaisar-i-Hind Medal for distinguished service.



THE COW THAT DIDN'T GET MILKED

She was a Holstein. There are many like her on our farms.

But this cow was not on an American farm. She was grazing in a little pasture in Holland, native country of the Holstein, when hell broke loose. A new kind of horrible hell called a blitz.

She went crazy. She ran until her tongue hung out. She wasn't milked that morning, or that night, or the next day, or the next. Her beautiful udder spoiled. But maybe it is just as well—Hitler and his men take all the milk. They take everything from enslaved Holland.

Remember this story as you milk your good herd. Keep on remembering it—and buy U. S. War Bonds—every dollar's worth that you possibly can.

Buying Bonds will help win the war right now—and be one of the best investments you ever made. They never sell for less than you pay for them. They increase in value every year.

If held for ten years, they return $4 for every $3 invested. And they can be cashed any time after sixty days if you need the money. Buy Bonds—for yourself and for your country—at your bank or post office.

★ ★ ★

MAKE EVERY MARKET DAY BOND DAY

"Well, I Didn't Know That!"

Men like to tease their womenfolk about gossiping over the back fence, but don't you believe for a moment that there's time these busy days for much of that. Most women, we've found, are talking about important things . . . how to budget their food dollars and ration points . . . how to keep their electric appliances in good condition . . . how to keep their families in top physical condition, and so on.

TIPS ON STORING FOODS

With hot summer days just ahead, here are some "over the fence" tips about storing foods in your refrigerator that may prove helpful:

FRESH MEATS—Should be kept extra cold. Store just below freezer or in the freezer.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Remove waste tops, wash, drain, and place in hydrator or covered pan. Leaving some moisture on leafy vegetables adds to their crispness.

BOTTLED AND CANNED GOODS—Wipe off and place on any convenient shelf. (Most of these do not need to be refrigerated, however, unless it is to chill them before serving.)

BERRIES—Remove from box and store in flat container such as a pie pan to leave as much air space around each berry as possible. Cover, if possible, to prevent drying out.

LEFTOVERS AND COOKED FOODS—Don't use large dishes than necessary and cover them well (unless you have the "high humidity" type of refrigerator.) Some housewives tell us they use transparent dishes or always make a point of storing leftovers at the front of the refrigerator so they won't forget to use them.

MONONGAHELA SYSTEM

Watch Your Kidneys/

DOANS PILLS

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

VOL. 25—NO. 19 "JOURNAL — BELONGING TO THE DAY"—Webster. PRICE: $1.50 A YEAR

MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1943

...xchange

...Joe Neil Crawford, 20, ... killed and William Lee ..., 19, was fatally injured ... Sunday morning when ... wrecked near Dail... Sissonville. 18. Robert ... Wamsley, 18, and ..., 19, other occu... were injured, when the ... road.

... dead youths were ath... Creek high school.

* * *

...he Eighth District Con... American Legion here ...28, a resolution was ...sed endorsing T. H. ... for the office of ... the organization in ...when the election is ...partment Convention ... September 4, 5, 6.

...past Commander of ...ist No. 20 in Char... de Gere of Voiture ...d-8, and past presi... ...ty Agent Associa... ...ginia.

* * *

...Congress' uprising ...ation home front ...eted by one Re... ...a week as reflect... ...velt's "increasing ...try." A Demo... ...promptly retorted ...bearing on the ...future as, in his ...turn on his for... ...conduct of the ...

...several months ...ng of the chief ...ming salaries ...axes and reach... ...day with quick ...e of the anti... ...n by both Re... ...as a mirror... ...t back home.

...rom voted on ...dministration ...rising food ...f government ...ough ...

...ger set-back ...two days— ...llowing Con... ...dent Roose... ...like hell.

...if both the ...re renewed ...Roosevelt ...not strike ...they be... ...the effect ...ervate its ...

...ady out... ...have that ...penny to ...

...that, that ...ple of ...

...ple of a ...under ...

HELICOPTER TO GO INTO QUANTITY PRODUCTION

This type of helicopter, which will be built in quantity for the Army Air Forces by Nash-Kelvinator Corporation, peacetime manufacturer of automobiles and refrigerators, can alight on land, water, snow, thin ice, a rooftop or a parking lot. The craft can hover motionless in mid-air; descend and ascend vertically without forward motion and fly backward, sideways or forward with equal facility.

State Dry Force Leader To Speak Here Sunday

B. E. Ewing, able speaker and the leader of the dry forces in West Virginia, will be the guest speaker at the 11 o'clock service Sunday, July 4, at the Marlinton Methodist Church, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. Fred Oxendale. The public is invited to hear Mr. Ewing.

xxx

PASTOR ANNOUNCES REVIVAL MEETING AT NAZARENE CHURCH

Rev. Blaine Nutter, pastor of the Marlinton Church of the Nazarene, announces a revival meeting beginning Tuesday, July 6, and continuing through each evening to July 18.

Rev. Warren E. Posey of Kankakee, Ill., will be the special speaker at each service.

Rev. Nutter issues an invitation to everybody to attend the services at 8 o'clock each evening, saying "Let us worship God together. And let us pray, and trust God for an old-fashioned revival meeting."

Five Men Called for Army Subject to Examination

The office of the Local Board, Selective Service, announces the following men have recently qualified for service subject to examination by the Armed Forces Induction Station:

William Samuel Rose, Marlinton.
Harry Robert Walker, Marlinton.
Floyd Roxie McDowell, Marlinton.
Carl Roosevelt Smith, Jr., Marlinton.
Charles Kendrick, Millpoint.

xxx

Harry Cochran Advanced

It has been announced by the Monongahela West Penn Public Service Company that Harry Cochran of Marlinton has been made the manager of the Marlinton district for his company.

xxx

FARM LUMBER AVAILABLE

Under new preference ratings of AA-2, West Virginia has been allotted six and a half million board feet of lumber for essential farm use. Lumber obtained under this special rating cannot be used for dwellings. County USDA War Boards will approve applications locally for lumber under the AA-2 ratings.

xxx

Everette Welder Wounded While Groundhog Hunting

Everette Welder of Marlinton, sustained a gunshot wound in his hand when he fell while groundhog hunting during a visit to the home of his aunt at Mario, in Summers county. The bullet from the 38 caliber rifle entered the palm of his hand and came out at the wrist on the back of the hand. Mr. O. E. Welder brought his son home on Monday. Young Welder was scheduled to leave for his Army examination this week. It is believed he will retain use of the hand, as thus far there have been no complications to impede healing.

SATURDAY, JULY 10, TO BE "VICTORY GARDEN" DAY

Towns of County Urged to Form Plans for Observance; "Master Gardener" Certificates Awarded to Winners

For the duration of the war at least the most of us are going to have to produce as much as possible of the food that we need for the family food supply. And we can expect to be well fed only if we do a good job of producing.

Realizing the importance of town gardens as a factor in community production the Pocahontas County Board of Trade decided earlier in the spring to sponsor some type of garden contest. This program has finally shaped up in the form of separate contests for each town, and each town in the county may have its own contest, with judges from its own community.

"Victory Garden" Day

Saturday, July 10, has been set aside as "Victory Garden" day. It is hoped that on this day every town in the county and every individual in each town will check up to see how well they have done with their 1942 garden. It is suggested that on this day parents also visit other gardens in their neighborhoods. The mowing of the gardens also should be done on this day.

The Board of Trade will award an appropriate certificate to the highest scoring gardener in each town, who will be designated as "Master Gardener" for 1943.

Under the chairmanship of John A. Sydenstricker, who has been assisted by Ben Morgan, county agricultural agent, and J. V. H. Turner, district representative of the Monongahela System, the town of Marlinton has its arrangements well under way to observe the "Victory Garden" day. It is hoped that other towns in the county will also make immediate plans for the observance.

Following is a suggested score card for scoring by the various judging committees on that day:

		Perfect Score	Your Score
1.	Seed bed preparation	10
2.	Utilization of space, (succession plantings, etc.)	10
3.	Planting technique (straight and uniform rows, proper spacing of rows and plants in rows)	10
4.	Stand of plants	10
5.	Cultivation and weed control	10
6.	Insect and disease control	20
7.	Number of different vegetables	15
8.	Vigor of growth	10
	TOTAL	15
		100

Victory gardeners in the county will be interested also in a new competitive class added to the 1943 Pocahontas County Fair premium list as well as the above outlined competition. This is mentioned here in order that advance plans may be made. The class carries six cash premiums beginning with $6.00 and going down the scale. It is open to all gardeners in the county.

Cpl. Elmer Buzzard Killed In Florida

Another of Pocahontas county's service men has received fatal injuries, according to a telegram received by relatives in this county, which reported the accidental shooting of Cpl. Elmer W. Buzzard, 22, of Frost.

Local telegraph officials called a brother of the deceased man, June Buzzard of Knapps Creek, with whom the soldier made his home, to the phone of G. M. Sharp at Pinehurst Farms, to read the government's message to him.

Young Buzzard had been a farm worker prior to entering the service. He had worked at the Sharp farm last year, it is reported. He entered the service August of 1942 and at the time of his death he was training as an aerial gunner at Brooks Field, Brooksville, Fla.

Cpl. Buzzard is survived by the brother, June, of Knapps Creek, and by five other brothers, as follows: Edgar Buzzard; Harry Buzzard of Atlanta, Ga.; Glen Buzzard; Otis Buzzard, and Arnold Buzzard, who is in the service and stationed at an air base in New York; and by three sisters, Mrs. Frank McCarty of Frost; Mrs. G. W. Brooks of Swoope, Va.; and Ruth Buzzard of Clifton Forge, Va. His father, Arch Buzzard, also survives and resides near Harrisonburg, Va.

The body will be brought to the home of June Buzzard, and funeral services, now indefinite, will be conducted by the Rev. W. Hobart Childs at the Westminster Presbyterian Church on Knapps Creek. Interment will be in a cemetery at Mountain Grove, Va., where his mother is buried.

xxx

Methodist Church to Begin Summer Vespers Sunday

Beginning Sunday, July 4, and continuing during July and August, the Marlinton Methodist Church will hold Vesper services on the church grounds each Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the Young People's Division of the church, it is announced by Rev. Fred Oxendale, pastor, who added that during July and August the 8 o'clock preaching service at the church will be omitted.

The public is invited to attend the 7:30 Vesper services. The speaker for the first of the series of programs on Sunday evening, July 4, will be Jack Richardson.

Army Maneuvers Planned For Pocahontas County

Army maneuvers, including battle exercises with live ammunition, will be held in the mountains of West Virginia in the near future, the War Department in Washington announced last week.

Most of the selected area is in the Monongahela national forest, and army officers are negotiating now for rights of access on a small amount of private property not included in the forest.

The maneuver area includes parts of Preston, Tucker, Grant, Randolph, Pendleton, Webster, Pocahontas, Nicholas and Greenbrier counties.

The West Virginia maneuvers, under direction of the 13th Army Corps, will be the first held in this state since the start of the war. The Army said the sites would be utilized for similar maneuvers for the duration.

"To add realism to the maneuvers," the Army said, "overhead fire, with live ammunition, will be used at times during the exercises on that portion of the maneuver area which is government-owned."

THE DOG'S FOR THE ARMY

Tantalizing Imogene Carpenter, singing star of the Ziegfield Follies, is shown here with an English bull dog like those she is raising on a diet of dehydrated dog food for donation to the Armed Services. The dogs are turned over to the Army in Arkansas, where her kennels are maintained. Ford, the dehydrated food given to the dogs, contains fresh meat by-products, soy flour, wheat and barley, edible bone, salt and fish liver oils—all fortified with vitamins.

IT Impresses ME

THAT while it may be considered an inconsequential by some persons, to this writer it seems somewhat of a disparaging nature that the writer of the famous Willyum's Letter in the daily Clarksburg Exponent should direct one of his morning epistles toward us in so light a vein as that which characterized his recent notice . . . Willyum, with his substitutes of "Dear Bee," confessed (which is somewhat foreign to his nature as I know him) that there was one thing of which he was not sure (which is another indication that he's slipping) . . . The thing he wasn't sure about, it seems, is why this editor had gone into the business of publishing a weekly newspaper just at a time when it appeared that the ministry would be such a lucrative profession due to the number of marriages which were to come about by an overwhelming desire upon the part of a large number of persons to be patriotic . . . And to further my regret, he cites a news report that one third of all the Wacs, Waves, Spars and Marines have indicated they will marry this summer . . . Now, what seems foolishness to the Greeks is sometimes the essence of wisdom to those who have been enlightened . . . and what Willyum has failed to consider in my change of residence is the large number of widows who normally reside in a small community like the one in which I now live . . . and who, with the right sort of promotion, become the most liberal prospects for a marryin' editor . . . Why it's only been a day or so, Willyum, since word reached me here in the quiet repose of my office that a veritable wave of mail (yup, that's spelled right) peupouin' had cut loose in this village, embracing—or expressing a desire to do so—several of the town's most comely women whose circumstances may have seemed to others to be lonely and void of romantical enthusiasm . . . As the story came to me, the widow who was first approached by the U. S. postal Romeo replied that she wasn't ready to consent but had a friend who'd likely be, so she forwarded her address . . . and now the wave of matrimonial opportunities has grown like the proverbial wild fire . . . And if I can't cash in on all this, then I have been mistaken about the wonderful results of advertising — and I don't think I have . . . But as for Willyum's further irrelevant subject matter, namely, his recital to me of all the past and current records which were being established for putting diapers on a baby, I must admit I am a bit nonplussed . . . Frankly, it leaves me with a sense of shameful futility and a feeling of utter uselessness to admit that after sixteen years there is still nothing running around my house but the board fence — and another man built that! . . . However, I point out with a feeling of satisfaction that it is one thing to have tried and failed and quite another thing never to have tried at all . . . And with that well-known Christian fortitude I look forward to the years ahead, strengthened by my memory of Bible history in the incidents of Abraham and Sarah and Isaac and Rebekah — and with the consolation that the Lord will not forget His own . . . But the most humorous thing I can think of for my own pleasure at the moment is to wonder what Willyum's record is for the aforementioned parental necessity . . .

★

THAT with no undue reflection on our popular home demonstration agent, it can honestly be said that Mrs. McLain, mother of Mrs. Barbara Bragg, could more easily pass for a sister, she is so young looking and attractive . . .

★

Nominations—

For a leader in the precious factor of Community Spirit . . . the community of Dunmore . . . I refer you to the Dunmore News, which relates . . . "A Community Picnic" . . . "A Community Lawn Party" . . . "This Family Eats With That One" . . . and "That Family Eats With This One" . . . A community which has learned to live together and with itself has solved a great war-time problem . . .

★

For a "close-behind" at least . . . the people of Arbovale and surroundings who, upon learning they wanted someone to help beautify the cemetery, mustered about a hundred for the job . . .

—The Editor

xxx

WILL SPEAK TO PIONEER CAMP

Calvin W. Price of the Pocahontas Times will be the speaker on July 10 at the Pioneer Camp of the Presbyterian Youth of sixteen counties which will be in session at Camp Thornwood. Rev. Mohler of Richwood will be in charge of the camp.

SAYS "GERMAN MIND" PLANNED ATTACK ON PEARL HARBOR

By ROBERT PERMAR

An AP dispatch dated June 14 and released with approval of the Office of War Information reveals that German brains engineered the attack on Pearl Harbor. Bernard Julius Otto Kuehn, professional spy and a member of the Nazi party, returned our hospitality of residence by advising the Japs, quoting the ONI: "the number and types of American ships there and devising and operating a system of light signals for betrayal of the U. S. fleet four days before the attack."

Herr Kuehn was excepting to the group of skeptics, one of those nice, affable fellows, the "good German" type. He never returned to Europe, nor did he ever bother to become a naturalized citizen of his adopted country. He was a gentleman of independent means, educated in the finer arts of the European language. He had to take several trips to Japan, of course. It happened, also, that he had a home on an eastern hill along the coast of Oahu, and a beach house near the shore. It happened that lights in certain windows of these establishments made a suitable code for ship fishing and other daily affairs. His wife helped him, of course, and his step-daughter maintained a hobby radio that operated right over Pearl Harbor—a perfect set-up. In fact, the Japs liked it so well that, on one occasion at least, a secretary of their consulate, one Tadusi Morimura, presented Herr Kuehn with $14,000 cash at his home. He certainly earned it.

Convicted by a military commission upon irrefutable evidence furnished by the above mentioned group of skeptics (whom you probably correctly guessed to be the FBI), this creature was sentenced to be shot, the sentence later being commuted to life imprisonment. It is idle, but interesting, to speculate how long an American, guilty of one-tenth such offense perpetrated in Berlin or Tokyo, would have lasted. Several months ago, based strictly upon facts given us by the War Department, we flatly said that Pearl Harbor was planned by Germans, though executed by Japs, who are poor at conceiving a large plan but excellent in effecting it once they understand the blue-print. Pearl Harbor had the Prussian mind written all over it. Abhorrent as it was to every concept of international decency, horrible as its effects were in life and property, it was still one of the most precisely planned and brilliantly conducted affairs in military or naval histories.

We tried to show at that time that

(Continued on page four)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

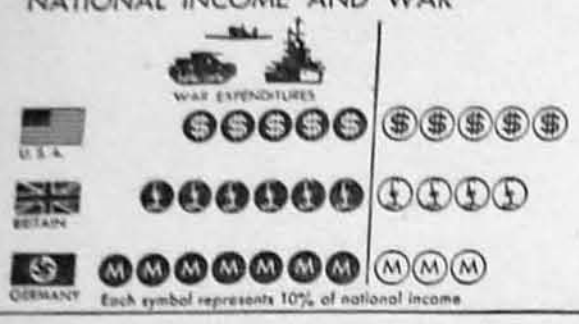
Allies' Italo-Balkan Moves Factor In Baffling Axis on Invasion Plans; U. S. Moves to Solve Corn Shortage; Russ War Stepped Up on Orel Sector

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

TELEFACT

NATIONAL INCOME AND WAR



MEDITERRANEAN:
Balkan Powder Keg

The summary closing and opening of the Turko-Syrian frontier within a 48-hour span by the Allied command had presaged new and important military moves, as the Mediterranean area from Italy to the Balkans had tensed for oncoming action.

Increasing evidence that the Axis' much-vaunted Balkans bastion might be a powder keg instead came in the form of reports from Ankara that Rumania had sounded out the Allies on armistice terms. From Ankara, too, came steadily mounting proof of Turkey's closer friendship with the United Nations. The appointment of Brig. Gen. Richard G. Tindall as American military attache in Ankara and the dispatch of a contingent of Turkish fliers to America for special training were significant steps in this direction.

Reports from Axis sources had reflected increasing official bafflement over the Allies' next moves. After telling its listeners of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelleria and the massing of a million troops for an Italian invasion," the Rome radio had broadcast a report that "large British forces were concentrating along the southern frontier of Turkey."

Observers for months had known that large numbers of Allied troops had been training in Syria. Lying in the eastern corner of the Mediterranean, Syria offered an effective base for operations against Crete, the Italian-held Dodecanese islands, Greece proper or other Axis points in the Balkans.

BUREAUCRATS:
Congress Compliments

The much-criticized home front government bureaus were given a friendly pat on the back and a virtual clean bill of health when the house appropriations committee approved appropriations of $2,939,441,504 for 18 civilian war agencies, including the Office of Price Administration and the Office of War Information.

In making public its highly complimentary report on the work of these agencies, the committee admitted that mistakes had been made and will be made, but denounced those who criticize "without knowledge of the tremendous burdens thrown on agency heads and of the great strides made in putting the United States on a war footing."

"The type of criticism that serves only to create public distrust in the agencies is not helpful to the war effort," the committee's report said.

OIL PACT:
Navy Cancels Deal

The tempest over the navy department's contract with the Standard Oil Company of California for operation of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve subsided when Secretary Frank Knox announced cancellation of the agreement.

The decision to cancel followed a legal ruling by the department of justice that the proposed arrangement exceeded the authority granted by law. A navy announcement said Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, testifying before the senate public lands committee, said that a department report sent to the White House had concluded that the navy's agreement with the oil company was "illegal and invalid."

Admiral Knox declared that the interpretation of the agreement contained that "no appropriation will have accrued to either party to the agreement."

CORN:
'42 Loans Called

First steps in a program to solve the increasingly serious corn supply situation came when the government formally called loans on 47,000,000 bushels of 1942 crop corn effective July 15. The government had previously used deliveries of grain through liquidation of 1938-41 loans to restore the operations of two closed-down processing plants.

The corn loan move was described as "only an immediate palliative, not the final answer to the problem," and it was stated that efforts to find a solution would continue.

The government's action came as the War Food administration and Commodity Credit corporation received a request from the Corn Industries Research foundation for either complete lifting of federal price ceilings on grain or the imposition of ceilings on hogs. Meanwhile J. B. Hutson, director of the Commodity Credit corporation, said that 25 million bushels of privately owned corn in grain elevators would be seized for plants manufacturing by-products for war uses, unless "crops can be moved off farms."

RUSSIA:
Orel to Forefront

A stepping-up of land activities was reported on the Russian front, with especially heavy fighting reported in the Orel sector. Here, Russian troops defending a strategic newly won bridgehead were reported to have beaten off eight German counter-attacks.

It was reported that strong formations of Soviet planes had broken up German formations supporting Nazi tank and infantry units. The Germans, however, were reported bringing up reinforcements in an effort to forestall the possibility of Russian flanking movements against Orel, strategic Nazi-held base midway between Moscow and Kharkov. Heaviest fighting was reported in the vicinity of Mtsensk, 30 miles northeast of Orel.

Russian air forces continued their efforts to disrupt Nazi supply concentrations by striking at four railroad junctions over which German supplies and reinforcements must move for the Bryansk-Orel-Smolensk area. The junctions were Roslavl, Unecha, Vladislavoka and Novozybkhov.

PACIFIC:
13-to-1 Record

With all indications pointing toward major sea and land engagements looming in the Pacific, air activities still held the center of the war stage in this theater.

Most dramatic of all engagements was that fought out over the Solomons when American planes shot down 77 Jap aircraft over Guadalcanal while losing only six of their own. This 13-to-1 score turned in by American combat fliers in the Solomons who have heretofore included army, navy and marine pilots was regarded as the best ever recorded in a single air action anywhere.

But Allied planes were not idle elsewhere. Liberator bombers made their second heaviest raid of the war on Japanese-held Kendari, on Celebes island, 800 miles northwest of Darwin, Australia, damaging airdromes and destroying planes parked on the ground.

In China, a military spokesman for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek charged that the Japanese again were employing poison gas in their operations in Suiyan province. Meanwhile Chiang's forces claimed new successes, including the recapture of strategic towns south of the Yangtze river.

TAXES:
50 Billion Goal

Secretary Henry Morgenthau disclosed that the treasury would trim its request to congress for more new taxes down to $12,000,000,000 instead of the $16,000,000,000 originally planned. Nevertheless, this would be enough to raise the public's overall tax bill during the 1944 fiscal year to $50,000,000,000.

Declaring that the Treasury's goal was to pay half the annual war costs "as we go," Mr. Morgenthau estimated that this goal is $4,000,000,000 less than President Roosevelt's January budget objective.

Treasury recommendations for raising the additional revenues were slated for submission to congress before its proposed summer recess.

RATIONING:
Eight New Plans

Louis J. Kroeger, OPA rationing official, disclosed that eight new rationing programs are being prepared by the Office of Price Administration and may be instituted within the next year.

Mr. Kroeger told a house appropriations committee that two of the ration plans will be placed in force immediately, but that six others, including coal rationing, are contingent on directives from other government agencies. The two programs definitely scheduled cover cooking and heating stoves, and a new system of allotting foods to all types of institutional users, including hotels and restaurants, which will not affect consumers directly.

Except for coal, the other prospective rationed items were not listed, but Kroeger said they included goods for which the government officials see a definite possibility of shortages in the next fiscal year. Eggs, milk and other foods have been mentioned recently by government food experts as possible candidates for rationing.

RUSS-POLES:
Postwar Assurances

Assurances of Soviet aid in restoring a strong and independent Poland after the war were given by Premier Josef Stalin of Russia.

Stalin's promise was contained in a message sent to the first Congress of Polish patriots in Russia who told him that "we will not allow persons who strive to drive a wedge between the Polish people and the Soviet union to trouble the water."

Observers noted that the Polish government-in-exile had no part in the exchange of amenities between the two peoples. Russia recently broke off diplomatic relations with General Sikorski's group in London, because of charges by the Poles of Russ executions of Polish army officers and counter-charges by the Soviets of pro-Axis espionage by the Poles.

EUROPE:
Air Blitz Continues

Even as English King George V was inspecting the Allied armed forces in North Africa, air forces of the United Nations were preparing for the war's next decisive move by softening-up forays against Axis positions from western Europe to the Eastern Mediterranean.

In a single six-day offensive, British and American bombers hammered destruction on nine different major German cities. These included Cologne, Dusseldorf, Munster, Wilhelmshaven, Cuxhaven, Bremen, Bochum, Kiel and Oberhausen. Heaviest assault was reserved for Cologne, industrial capital of the Rhineland and the third largest city in the Reich.

In the Mediterranean, American and British bomber fleets swarmed over Sicily, attacking five major Italian air bases and maintaining a day-and-night marathon of disaster to the Axis. The Allied fliers attacking Sicily reported tough fighter opposition and strong anti-aircraft fire, contrasting sharply with the lack of Axis opposition over Pantelleria.

PAYROLLERS:
300,000 Cut Urged

Charging that the government payroll has more than tripled since the First World war and that the government could get along with 300,000 fewer employees, a joint congressional committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures recommended that the Civil Service commission act to eliminate unnecessary personnel.

"Wasteful personnel practices," a committee report said, should be prevented by a complete reorganization of personnel servicing and management functioning.

The beneficial effects of a merit system during the past two years, the committee charged, "have been impaired and federal funds have been wasted through the negligent attitude of personnel officers and operating officials."

WAR GOODS:
Allies Double Axis

How United Nations' war production is forging fast ahead of the Axis was told by WPB Chairman Donald Nelson.

The United Nations, he informed a house appropriations committee, are now producing $30,000,000,000 worth of arms and war supplies a year—almost double the Axis rate of $16,000,000,000. He said that American military production will reach a peak rate of $60,000,000,000 a year in 1943.

Washington Digest

Philosophy of Governments Set Forth in New Fantasy

Antoine de Saint-Exupery's Delightful Fairy Story, "The Little Prince," Holds More Than Artistry for Adult and Child Alike.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building Washington, D. C.

On a June day, when a gentle breeze brought the scent of new-mown grass in through the White House windows, President Roosevelt sat at his desk and read slowly to a group of correspondents from a typewritten sheet. It wasn't a formal document but it was an historic one—its purpose was to remind the Italian people that the military campaign against them which had just scored another Allied victory, Pantelleria, was the result of the misconduct of their rulers.

The message has been variously interpreted since, but to me, it contained one significant point—the reminder of the coming birth of a new nation; the new Italy which will emerge when the chains of arrogance and brute aggression which bind her are broken. There has been much talk about post-war policing of the re-made world; little thought of the philosophy which will underlie the forms which the reborn governments must follow. To me, such a philosophy is set forth in a work of pure fantasy. A hopeful note for nations and men is sounded in this delightful fairy tale by an author who found spiritual rebirth in the tragedy of the fall of his own nation.

I refer to Antoine de Saint-Exupery and his latest work, "The Little Prince."

Those who have read his "Night Flight," "Wind, Sand and Stars" and "Flight to Arras" are not surprised that he could create a fairy tale as delicate as this. Reviewers have disagreed as to whether it is for children or for adults. I believe it is for both, like "Alice in Wonderland." But the adult will find in "The Little Prince" something more than artistry and the children will sense that, too, I think.

Saint-Exupery is a brilliant aviator who built up night flying for the French airlines in South America. He fought against the Germans—"Flight to Arras" is the remarkable book which tells of that experience. He is now back with the French army in Africa, scene of the opening of "The Little Prince."

The Prince's Story

"Six years ago," the author says, "I made a forced landing in the Sahara alone, a thousand miles from help, and faced the necessity of repairing my motor by myself within the number of days my drinking water would last. The first morning, I was awakened by a determined but gentle voice which said: 'If you please, draw me a sheep.'"

So Exupery learned the story of how the Little Prince had found out what is really important in life.

The Little Prince is at once a delicate wisp of fancy, something so sheer that at moments he seems to float like a piece of thistledown before your imagination—again, he has all the reality of truth itself, he is eternal childhood, all that is gentle, and confiding and lovable, with the faint shadow of sorrow on his winsome face, he is the tug at your heartstrings that comes when youth looks at you in wide-eyed confidence, reaches up to take your hand—the same reminiscent tug when you look back and see the surprised and longing sorrow in the eyes of your own lost youth.

The Little Prince lived far away, it seems, on a tiny planet with three volcanoes so small that he cooked his breakfast on one of them. A flower came to his planet and the Little Prince loved her and cared for her but he couldn't understand her and so he left to try to find out why. He finally reached the earth, and here the fox taught him.

The Little Prince had never seen a fox—"Come and play with me," he said, "I am so unhappy." "I cannot play with you," the fox said, "I am not tamed." The Little Prince did not understand. He told the fox that he was looking for friends and asked him what tame meant.

Philosophy of a Fox

"It is an act too often neglected," said the fox, "It means to establish ties . . . to me, you are still nothing but a little boy who is just like a hundred other little boys. And I have no need of you. To you, I am nothing more than a fox like a hundred thousand other little foxes. But if you tame me, then we shall need each other. To me, you will be unique in the whole world. To you, I shall be unique in the whole world."

"I am beginning to understand," said the Little Prince, "there is a flower . . . I think she has tamed me."

"If you tame me," the fox went on, "it will be as if the sun came to shine on my life. I shall know the sound of a step that will be different from all others. Other steps send me hurrying back underneath the ground. Yours will call me like music out of my burrow. And then look: you see the grain fields down yonder. I do not eat bread. Wheat is of no use to me. The grain fields say nothing to me and that is sad. But you have hair that is the color of gold. Think how wonderful that will be when you have tamed me. The grain which is also golden will bring me back the thought of you. And I shall love to listen to the wind in the wheat . . ."

The fox gazed at the Little Prince for a long time. "Please—tame me," he said. "I want to very much," said the Little Prince, "but I haven't much time. I have friends to discover and a great many things to understand."

"One only understands the things one tames," said the fox, "men have no more time to understand anything. They buy things already made at the shops but there is no shop anywhere where one can buy friendship, and so men have no friends any more. If you want a friend, tame me . . ."

And so the Little Prince did, and another day when he came back, the fox said: "It would have been better if you had come back at the same hour. If, for example, you come at four o'clock in the afternoon, then at three o'clock I shall begin to be happy. I shall feel happier and happier as the hour advances. At four o'clock, I shall already be worrying and jumping about. I shall show you how happy I am. But if you come just anytime, I shall never know at what hour my heart is to be ready to greet you."

But finally, the Little Prince had to go.

"Ah," said the fox, "I shall cry."

Source of Comfort

"It is your own fault," said the Little Prince, "I never wished you any sort of harm; but you wanted me to tame you." "Yes, that is so," said the fox. "Then it has done you no good at all." "It has done me good," said the fox, "because of the color of the wheat fields."

And there, I think, perhaps some of you may find comfort—in the memories that come from the wheat fields, for the common and the beautiful things that remind you of someone from whom, perhaps this war has parted you.

That is only a flash I have given you of the story of "The Little Prince" which is not written for children only but for those who have the faith of little children and the understanding to see how tragedy can bring forth something which can light the long shadows which it leaves—out of the tragedy of his nation and the searchings of his own soul came this charming fantasy from the pen of the soldier-writer with the secret he learned from the Little Prince who learned it from the fox—

"It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye."

* * *

Diary of a Broadcaster

A postcard signed by a fictitious name, dated the day Pantelleria fell, contained this statement:

"Italy so far has got the best territory of the world: most of France; the richest prize of the war: Jugoslavia; the greatest strategical area in the world: Greece and her islands. Italy will dictate the peace, save the U.S.A. and get two-thirds of Africa, meanwhile Mussolini is Supreme everywhere. Italy got all and last least, can fight 1,000 years."

* * *

Some 7,000,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on Pantelleria island from June 1 to June 11 when it capitulated.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

Soldiers make an average of eight moves by railroad between induction and embarkation for service overseas.

* * *

Radio France, General Henri Giraud's station at Algiers, has reported that because "young German shelters are getting stirred up" a German agent has been stationed in "every" German university.

The Nazi "Gauleiter" for the Baltic States has ordered the removal of all church bells as a total mobilization measure.

* * *

Because many types of air raid shelters now in use are almost proteless against Allied heavy bombs, the German people have been told to hurry the construction of new underground shelters.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

TRANSOCEAN: Maritime Minister J. D. Hicks announced that a Canadian transatlantic air service will soon be started, carrying mail and official passengers exclusively.

* * *

SAFETY: Augusta, Georgia, is now close to the great capacity of the United States to strike any position, the Secretary of War, Henry L. Stimson, declared.

ON THE HOME FRONT

MANY an American of [illegible] background can remember when all the floors in the house except the parlor were covered with woven rag rugs and rugs. Today the local weaver with a loom is flourishing in many communities.

The modern weaver has an assortment of colors in warp to differ that may be used with rags that you have prepared in manner shown here. About and three quarter pounds of rags will be required for a yard of carpet. Rugs may either cotton or wool but use both in the same rug rags should be soft and cl hems or uneven finishes sh removed. Dye white rags ors you wish to predomin

* * *

NOTE—It is possible to make variety of floor coverings from ends of things on hand. Books of the series offered with this contain fascinating new designs and braided rugs. In Book 1 rug made from old felt hats peasants. Books are 15 cents each booklets direct from:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPE
Bedford Hills
Drawer 18
Enclose 15 cents for each desired.
Name .....
Address .....

FOR QUICK RELIEF
CARBO
A Soothing ANTISEPTIC SALV
Used by thousands with satisfa suits for 40 years—six valuable ents. Get Carbolt at drug stores Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville,

Crime's Punishme
Fear follows crime as punishment.—Voltaire.

FIGHT your ENEMI
Water, Rust
Corrosion wi
KAY'S
BLACK MAG
WATERPROO

Seals holes! Stops le
Resists rust! Saves m
Easily and quickly ap
Saves you many times

BLACK MAGIC WATERPRO preserves weather-beaten
erty or equipment. It proofs troughs, leaking barrels, cisterns, water and other containers; buildings, silo pits, corn roofs, gutters, fence posts, crete foundations; farm
ment, etc.
Also waterproofs plaster cardboard, cloth, brick, and concrete.
SOLD ON MONEY BACK GUAR
Try it once! You'll always it handy.
Quart $1.25 Gallon
Price slightly higher in the far
At your dealer's—or use
coupon for mail order.
Satisfaction guaranteed
Kay's Laboratories
918 E. 3rd Street
Cincinnati, Ohio
Enclosed find ☐ check or ☐ money for $..... for ☐ Quart ☐ Gallon
BLACK MAGIC WATERPROOF
Cincinnati.
Name (print)
Shipping address
City State

WANT SOMETHING

ADVERTISE FOR IT IN THESE COLUMNS

We are always ready to serve you with good printing. No matter what the nature of the job may be we are ready to do it at a price that will be satisfactory.

Let Us Meet Your SERVICE STATION NEEDS
Cheese Gasoline and Oil—Plus a Full Line of Auto Parts — Also Soft Drinks and Tobacco
CENTRAL SERVICE STATION
Fred Burns, Prop. Marlinton

There's No Convenience LIKE A TELEPHONE
It Shortens Distance Like a Magic Carpet
POCAHONTAS TELEPHONE CO.
Office: Marlinton, W. Va.

Good Work Is Our Specialty
For You in Need of TAGS
CAR S BLANKS
FOLDERS
DODGERS
RECEIPTS
ENVELOPES STATEMENTS
BILL HEADS
INVITATIONS
LACKET HEADS
ETTER HEADS
PRINTING
Call at This Office

...GN'S BEVERAGES
...HT ON ANY DAY!
Distributed By
...NGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.
...Prop. Marlinton

...ER FARM NEEDS
...OIL — AND GREASE
...Co. Cream Mint"
...H. HAMILTON
...Marlinton

Something Want to Sell?

GRASSROOTS

by WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

GROUP SELFISHNESS AND AMERICA

IN THESE DAYS of intensive national war stress, groups of American people play the war game for what they or their group can get out of the war effort, rather than for what is best for the nation now and in the future. The dominating sin of all such groups is selfishness.

Recently I listened to a speaker talking on the subject of "The Labor Situation of Today." He was employed in his state to handle the farm labor problem and was naturally sympathetic with the farm interests. His audience was a group of just average Americans, including farmers, merchants, small industrialists and others who go to make up the population of a country community.

In summing up, he said that labor, as represented by labor leaders; farmers, as represented by leaders of farm organizations, and industry and the politicians were all attempting to take advantage of war conditions to further their own ends. Each group was more interested in securing a present advantage for themselves than in winning the war and the peace; that despite these conditions, we would win the war, but as a result of the group selfishness, we would lose a prized possession—the American system of free enterprise; that those interested in instituting in America a new economic system were utilizing the selfishness of these groups to further their desire for an economic change.

The speaker's conclusions were quite correct. Group selfishness, making of political capital out of the exigencies of war, will overthrow our free enterprise system. There is happening just what Arthur Balfour, the great English statesman, told me on November 12, 1918, would happen if America should become involved in another world conflict, which he could see in the then "comparatively near future."

• • •

INFLATION AND ITS CONTROL

WHEN WE HAVE more money than commodities money will buy, demand pushes the price skyward and decreases money values. That is inflation. The government is attempting to control this by limiting prices and taking money from people for taxes and for the purchase of war bonds. The real basis of it all is the increased money in the pockets of workers and the policy of the government has been to keep on increasing that by a continuous raise in wages, either as direct hourly pay or as overtime at time and one-half pay. There is a limit to the money water the dam will hold. The place to remedy the danger is at the source.

• • •

WAR'S END

I WAS IN LONDON when World War I ended. I saw the joy-crazed people of that great metropolis celebrate the close of hostilities with every evidence of a mad delirium that continued for a week. My hope is to see the end of World War II as it will be celebrated in an American rural community. In such a setting there will be, I am sure, less of the dramatic, but a greater spiritual sincerity than what I saw in London. It will be the kind of spiritual sincerity that is characteristic of America's rural people and it has a greater and deeper meaning than the joy-crazed shouts of a metropolitan multitude.

• • •

JAPANESE LOYALTY ON THE MAINLAND

IN HAWAII, some four or five years ago, secret service officers of the army and navy attempted to convince me that the Japs in the islands were not to be trusted. Surface appearances all pointed in the other direction and I did not believe what I was told. Pearl Harbor demonstrated that there was something more than surface appearance. What was true in Hawaii can also be true among the Japs on our mainland. There may be some good ones, but it takes more than the word of a Jap to provide convincing proof.

• • •

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER

QUITE PROPERLY the Allies are demanding unconditional surrender, but how about it that unconditional surrender to be accepted? Is there anyone in the Axis nations who can speak for all and if so, could we accept his word? When the Germans seek quits, we can know the war in Europe is over, regardless of who offers the white flag. That is the kind of unconditional surrender the Allies are expecting. The Tunisian brand will be satisfactory.

• • •

GOVERNMENT OF CIVILIANS

MORE PEOPLE are confused as to the meaning and extent of the President's title as commander-in-chief. Under the Constitution, he is technically the commander-in-chief of the armed forces only. For the civilian population, he is the President, and to interpret his command relative to them not apply. This is a government of civilians, get out of uniform.

• • •

IT IS USELESS TRYING to do anything else until your kidneys are working properly. Your whole system is poisoned when they fail to remove excess acids and waste from the blood. Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Use a Water-Bath for Canning Tomatoes, Fruits
(See Recipe Below)

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Try Canning!

Many homemakers who have never done so before will be hard at work doing some old-fashioned "putting up" this summer. Not only will it be economical to put up your own Victory garden's surplus, but also it will be a vital step in stretching those precious points next winter.

Canning's simpler today and much of the spoilage that occurred formerly can be prevented if the homemaker checks the causes of spoilage. There's a reason for every type of spoilage, and what's more important, every one of them can be prevented if she's careful.

First, it's not smart to use leftover produce that you wouldn't eat at the table. Select only prime fruit and vegetables in perfect condition. Best quality goes into commercial canning, and so it should for home canning. Get out into the garden early in the morning to get vegetables and fruits and can immediately, or if you market, tie a bandana on your hair and go out early in the morning to get your produce while it's still fresh.

Cleanliness is another important factor. Remember that food spoils for other reasons than that the jar is not air-tight. More spoilage than you ever dreamed of can result from not washing the food properly and discarding bruised or imperfect vegetables and fruits. Be sure to peel the food, if it is to be peeled, so that no dirt and the bacteria that lurk in it get rubbed in the product as it is peeled.

Work as quickly as possible with the food once it's started on its way to the can. Flat sour, which occurs in vegetables, can often develop in vegetables, for example, if the jars in which the precooked food is placed stand too long before processing. Too much delay in handling food from one step to the other may cause a great loss of vitamins and mineral.

Do as much preparation ahead of time as possible like checking equipment and getting together jars which are examined for imperfections and nicks. Wash all jars and caps in soapy suds (not in cool dishwater after the breakfast dishes!) and scald or sterilize them.

Select Day for Canning.

If there's a huge quantity of food to be canned, it would be a good idea to round up as many friends and neighbors to help, and to do the canning on a community basis. In many towns, pressure cookers which are necessary for canning non-acid vegetables, are available at the canning center. Then, if all produce must be canned in a single day, it will be necessary to recruit as much help as possible from others in your community and give them your time when needed.

Canning day should be canning day only, not laundry day, general cleaning and baking day, too. It's better, too, not to be overly ambitious and try to do three bushels of tomatoes, all in one sweep, for you will do better with a small quantity, and feel less tired, even though it may take several days in which to finish.

Processing Foods.

Fruits and vegetables need processing which means the application of heat to the product for a certain definite period of time. You just can't put fruit into jars, seal and store and expect them to stay in perfect condition.

Water-Bath Method.

In some cases, when pressure cookers are not obtainable, a water-bath may be used for vegetables and meats. However, the water-bath is more preferable for tomatoes (which are acid, and technically a fruit) and fruits.

To make a water bath, use a large wash boiler or deep vessel fitted with a rack made of laths, perforated material or galvanized wire. Have a tight fitting cover.

Place prepared jars on the rack which must hold them at least ½ inch above bottom of the canner. The water bath should be filled with boiling water which comes at least an inch or two above the tops of the jars. Jars on the rack should not touch each other. Start counting processing time as soon as water around jars begins to bubble, and keep it boiling during entire processing period. If necessary, add boiling water, if it boils away, for the water must always be boiling at least an inch above the tops of the jars.

Here are some recipes for common fruits and vegetables:

Tomatoes.

Scald tomatoes in boiling water 1 minute. Soak in cold water 1 minute, peel, core, quarter and pack into clean, sterile jars. Add no water. Add a teaspoon of salt to each quart of tomatoes. Put on band and screw band firmly tight. Process in hot water bath for 35 minutes.

Peas.

Shell, grade peas, using only prime quality. Pre-cook 3 to 7 minutes depending on size. Pack loosely, adding hot water to within 1 inch of top. Adjust cap and process in pressure cooker, 60 minutes at 10 pounds, or 180 minutes in hot water bath.

Beets.

Use small, uniform beets. Wash carefully. Leave the roots and stems long. Boil 15 minutes. Plunge into cold water, remove the skins and pack into clean jars. Add 2 teaspoons of salt and sugar mixture to each quart jar if desired. Fill to within ½ inch of top, with boiling water. Put on cap, screwing band firmly tight. Process in hot-water bath 120 minutes or in pressure cooker 40 minutes at 10 pounds.

Are you having difficulties planning meals with points? Stumbling your mind? Lynn Chambers can give you help if you write her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply, in care of her at Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Your Canning Shelf

*Tomatoes
*Beets — *Peas
Green Beans
Spinach — Corn
*Recipe given

Lynn Says

Successful Canning: It is easy to do the right thing with foods to be put up in cans if you know the principles and follow directions.

Follow the slogan, "two hours from garden to kettle." Use only fresh, firm, ripe rather than overripe produce. Wash all foods carefully before attempting any preparation.

Check jars, rubbers if used, and cans along with equipment before you start canning. Work at the range as much as possible to save time between steps. Have needle jars on one side of range, to save from having to move far from cylinder once jars, if using fruit which is not pre-cooked, and place immediately in water bath or pressure cooker to seal.

Jars should be washed in a pan of soapy suds and scalded, or rinsed in a steam bowl until used.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for July 4

Lessons, subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

A PEOPLE IN DISTRESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 1:8-14; 2:23-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—They cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.—Exodus 2:23.

Today is Independence Day. Yet much of the world is in bondage, and the rest of it in a struggle to prevent freedom from perishing from the earth.

Our lesson too is about a nation in bondage, but we learn from it that there is a way to be free. Even so we declare the way of personal liberty which is open and free.

The Lord Jesus Christ opened it at Calvary's tree and anyone who is still the bond slave of Satan may make this a great and glorious Independence Day by now declaring his faith in the Deliverer of our souls.

We begin today a series of lessons in the book of Exodus which reveal the high and mighty hand of God working on behalf of His people.

The family of Jacob—or, as the Bible calls them, the children of Israel—prospered in Egypt particularly as long as Joseph and the rulers who remembered him were alive. But they soon learned one of life's bitter lessons, that—

I. Prosperity Is Not Always a Blessing (1:8-11).

The Hebrews were a peaceful, law-abiding people. They were God's chosen people, and as He blessed them they prospered, and thus innocently they brought upon themselves the hatred of the suspicious Egyptians.

Prosperity is never an unmixed blessing. We as a nation know that to be true. Not only does it lead to a certain softening of the sinews, but all too often it results in a weakening of the moral fiber, which makes man easy prey to the attack of the enemy of our souls.

Is it not strange, then, that we should—even in times of all-out warfare—be so eager to chase the dollar that we are willing to neglect our children, forget church, live unnatural lives, just that we may make more and more money?

The Egyptians had, humanly speaking, reason to fear this great nation which was growing up in their midst. The new rulers did not know Joseph and had forgotten the spirit in which he had brought his family into the land. The leaders of the Egyptians therefore made plans which appealed to their brilliant leaders as politic and wise. But they reckoned without God, and the burdens and afflictions they placed on the Israelites only served to bring further blessing.

So Israel learned a lesson which our present sorry world can profit by, that—

II. Persecution Is Not Always a Burden (vv. 12-14).

The people of Israel did not appreciate it, but the bitterness of their bondage was a blessing in disguise. Note that—

1. It Kept Them Separate as a People. Affliction often serves to keep God's people separated from the world. It is doing so today.

2. It Disciplined Them and Prepared Them for the Hardships of Their Wilderness Journey. We too do well to remember that "whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth," and that if we are properly "exercised" thereby, our sorrows may yield rich fruit in our lives.

3. It Threw Them Back upon God. Many are the saints of God who have found that the fiery trial, the burden so hard to understand, or some affliction of their body, has caused them to bring their burden to the Lord. We have traveled far on the road of faith when we have reached the place where we learn that "man's extremity is God's opportunity."

They had only one place to turn. They were hemmed in on every side, but, as ever, they found that the way up no man can close. They called on their God.

III. Prayer Always Brings Deliverance (2:23-25).

Does God really know when His people suffer? Does He really care? Yes, He does. "They cried," and "God heard" and "remembered." That's all we need to know. The groaning of His people had already stirred God's gracious and tender heart. But He waited to hear their cry before He answered. Such is the law of prayer. May we not forget it. Far too often we turn to everyone and everything else, and finally, in desperation, to God. Why not turn to Him first?

Does God hear and answer prayer? Yes, but remember that real prayer is the cry of faith coming from the heart of an obedient child. God may answer other prayers, but He always answers such a prayer.

His answer may not be in accord with our opinion of what it should be, for His wisdom is infinite. He knows better than we what the answer should be. Let us trust the Judge of all the earth to do right (Gen. 18:25).

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

RAZOR BLADES
KENT BLADES "Kents at Double Edge" The Unbreakable Blade Value

FEATHERS WANTED
FEATHERS WANTED, NEW OR OLD. Ship or write to Sterling Feather Company, 900 E. Broadway, St. Louis, Missouri.

Business Opportunity
MRS. TUBBS, every responsible Excelsior user, profitable lifetime connection. Send for work for steadily place. KAIN, 1200 Security Building, Miami, Fla.

'Grounded' Ducks

Wild ducks are temporarily "grounded" in late summer of each year, usually in August. At this time of the season the young have not yet learned to use their wings and, in molting, the mature birds have lost their propelling wing feathers.

Some years millions of ducks die during this period when nesting grounds suffer drouth and birds are stranded away from water. Beavers often come to the rescue . . . save thousands of ducks by damming up outlets to lakes or streams.

1 ST CHOICE OF MILLIONS St.Joseph ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

Learn From Gestures

Deaf-mutes are now employed as instructors in an airplane factory in California because new workers have been found to learn their job more quickly from gestures than from spoken words.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER FROM HOT FLASHES

If you suffer from hot flashes, dizziness, distress of "irregularities", are weak, nervous, irritable, blue at times—due to the functional "middle-age" period in a woman's life—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the best-known medicine you can buy today that's made especially for women.

Pinkham's Compound has helped thousands upon thousands of women to relieve such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Pinkham's Compound is worth trying!

Fowl Bullets

Electrocuted fowl are fired at high speeds into glass panels in order to test the newly developed "bird-proof" airplane windshields.

RASHES Externally Caused
Relieve fiery itching and allay further irritation with active, specially medicated RESINOL*
Free Sample Resinol, Ft. Balto., Md.

Odor of Flowers

More than 90 per cent of all species of flowers in the world have either an unpleasant odor or none at all.

RHEUMATIC PAIN
Need not Spoil your Day—Get after it Now
Don't put off getting C-2223 to relieve pain of muscular rheumatism and other rheumatic pains. Caution: Use only as directed. First bottle purchase price back if not satisfied. 60c and $1.00. Today, buy C-2223.

Get Into Action For Full Victory!

WNU—E 26—43

Kidneys Must Work Well-
For You To Feel Well
DOAN'S PILLS

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA

AUBREY E. FERGUSON
Editor and Publisher
ALMA HESS FERGUSON
Business Manager

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Marlinton, W. Va.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Year - - - - - - - - - - - - - - $1.50
(Single Copy, Three Cents)

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE
American Press Association, 225 West 39th St., New York, N. Y.

ADVERTISING RATES:
National Advertising, 40c Col. Inch
(Lower Rates for 200 In. or More)
Local Advertising, 25c Col. Inch

CLASSIFIED RATES:
1c Word Each Insertion; Minimum Charge One Insertion, 25c

PUBLISHERS WEST VIRGINIA ASSOCIATION

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1943

EDITORIAL

A Good Suggestion

L. J. Callinan, Republican member of the House of Delegates from Kanawha county, points out the fact that since construction of war plants has just about reached completion, it is time for the federal government to take the wraps off and permit and encourage home building.

"Many materials on which there are priorities," he said, "are going begging on the market."

Every Man for Himself

Robert Patterson, Undersecretary of War, charges that war production last month was about five per cent below what it should have been. The War Production Board denies this and says that production was several per cent above the previous mark. In such wise does the "truth" come out of Washington.

Fostering Race Hatred

The Dies Committee will investigate the recent riots in Detroit because there have been reports that the trouble was stirred up by Fifth Columnists. There's a good chance the committee will find the "Eleanor Clubs" somewhere in the picture.

Republican Claims Verified By Democrats

Recommended for special reading by all Republicans by Robert H. C. Kay, Republican state chairman, is report No. 2 of the Subcommittee on War Mobilization of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, of which Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia is chairman, because it "summarizes most of the arguments that Republicans have been making for years about conditions in Washington."

The report, signed by five Democratic Senators, charges "administrative failure to attack the root causes of unrest." It says that "essential food supplies are being engulfed by black markets while competing agencies (the bureaus), without constructive programs, wrangle for control."

Recurring strikes and similar disorders, said the subcommittee, are just the "obvious symptoms of the domestic front crisis" which has been "brought about by the fight for control of individual programs and agencies within the government." Kay said the committee was evidently "talking about the fights for prestige between Secretary Ickes and the War Labor Board; between Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and OPA Administrator Prentiss M. Brown. The scrapping of these prima donnas has cost this nation millions of dollars and has resulted in terrific losses of resources."

The subcommittee report did not name John L. Lewis, but it had this to say about anyone, in the government and out of it, who hinders our war production: "Willful, knowing and deliberate retardation or restriction of production of critical material by industry, labor, or government agency during war is, in fact, treasonable."

The subcommittee, said the Republican chairman, "is to be congratulated not only on raising the fight, but on taking it from under the bushel. When Republican spokesmen called public attention to the same chaos and conflict in Washington, their charges were laughed off as propaganda. Now our charges have been fully substantiated by a committee composed of Democrats who reached their conclusions only after careful investigation."

Pay $917,500.00 For Ewe Lamb!

By BEN MORGAN

County Agricultural Agent

On Wednesday of last week I attended the Eastern Stud Ram Sale held at Staunton, Va. This sale had possibly the greatest array of good stud rams of the Hampshire and Southdown breeds that will be assembled any place in the United States this year. A total of 31 rams and 46 ewes of the various breeds were sold. The highest price paid was for a Hampshire ram lamb consigned by Lakewood Farms, Franklin, Ind., which sold for $775.00. A yearling Southdown consigned by Earl Jenkins of Ashley, Ohio, sold for $680.00 and another Hampshire ram sold for $575.00. The rams sold from the above prices on down to $50.00 with eighteen rams selling for $100.00 or more. The top price paid for a ewe was $180.00 paid for a yearling Southdown consigned by Earl Jenkins. The top Hampshire ewe sold for $170.00 and was consigned by Lakewood Farms.

E. H. Williams and Son of Marlinton were one of West Virginia's two consignors, the other being Milton Dolly of Onego, Pendleton county. The Williams' Hampshires and Dolly's Southdowns and Shropshires made very creditable showings and again proved that we do not have to go away from home to find well bred and well fed sheep.

The high light of the sale was a Hampshire ewe lamb bred by Lakewood farms and sold for War Bonds. This sale surely made some kind of a record. The ewe lamb sold for nine hundred seventeen thousand and five hundred dollars, ($917,500.00) and was purchased by members of the American Hampshire Sheep Association.

Says "German Mind" Planned Pearl Harbor

(Continued from page one)

Pearl Harbor was trade-marked Berlin. Anybody who ever lived in Germany, or who had read much of their history would know that. The German system of spying and pre-war wreckings of all kind is, far and away, the best in the world, and has been since Prince Otto von Bismarck systematically organized and projected it everywhere he could prior to, and in preparation for, the Franco-Prussian war, or, rather push-over, of 1870. The German spy or saboteur, sometimes a returned and "naturalized" citizen of a foreign power who has well established himself abroad, is trained with the same scientific and thorough efficiency as a chemist or a surgeon. He knows how to do his nefarious work well, whilst creating a minimum of suspicion.

Consequently, he is regarded by the hoch-kommand, and really deserves to be from its perverted viewpoint, as honorably as a trusted officer in its infantry, U-boat or any other service. Herr Kuehn was such. He actually earned the iron cross with oak leaves. He will be cited as a model at Potsdam. He produced beautifully. Thus he will fulfill what any homicidal megalomaniac of the peculiarly Prussian type would conceive to be his true destiny. He is now the proven Junker—which German word is a contraction of the words jung (meaning "young) and herr (meaning "master"), which the cocky Prussians have been calling themselves for almost a century, meanwhile drenching the rest of the world in blood each time they considered themselves strong enough. They did not need that crazy Austrian house-painter to come over and tell them that all Germans are "herrenvolk," or the master race. They even make a mental reservation when he shrieks: "Dem Deutschen gehort die Welt" (Germany rules the

SHARP'S ALMANAC

"The ripest fruit first falls"
—Shakespeare

JULY

1—Lincoln approves act for construction of Northern Pacific Railway, 1864.
3—Branch U. S. Mint established at San Francisco, 1852.
4—Independence Day; first American tariff act passed, 1789.
5—New York delegates withdraw from Continental Convention, 1787.
6—John Huss burned for heresy, 1415.
7—U. S. occupies Iceland, 1941.
8—Declaration of Independence read to American Army, 1776.

WILBUR SHARP
BILLIARDS
Candy - Cigarettes
Lunches and Fountain Service
MARLINTON

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, Elkins, West Virginia up to and including July 31, 1943, for all the merchantable timber marked or designated for cutting on an area embracing about 1270 acres in Camp Hollow on the drainage of Laurel Creek about one mile southeast of Mingo Flats Springs, Pocahontas County, West Virginia. White Sulphur Ranger District of Monongahela National Forest, estimated to be: 28 M bd. feet of chestnut oak; 225 M bd. ft. of white oak; 20 M bd. ft. of red oak; and 17 M bd. ft. of mixed oak, white pine, hemlock and other species. No bid will be considered of less than $8.00 per M bd. ft. for white oak and red oak; and $4.00 per M bd. ft. for all other species. In addition to the prices bid for stumpage, a cooperative deposit of $1.00 per M bd. ft. for the total cut of all species will be required for stand improvement work on the sale area. All timber will be scaled with the International ¼" Log Rule. The successful bidder will be required to execute a contract containing special stipulations concerning the operation of the timber. $200.00 must be deposited with the bid, to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages, according to the conditions of the sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted, bidders should examine the marking on the area and should obtain full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale, and the submission of bids from the Forest Ranger, Marlinton, West Virginia, or the Forest Supervisor, Elkins, West Virginia. On July 23, the Forest Ranger will be prepared to accompany any or all interested parties over the chance to show the marking and give full information on the conditions of the sale. Interested parties should meet at the Ranger Station at Marlinton, West Virginia, before 10:00 A. M.

F. O. (Foot Odor)

Do You Know

1. It is a fermentation caused by a germ.
2. Kill the germ, you kill the odor.
3. Other people detect the odor. You get immuned to it and can't.
4. Get the test size bottle Te-ol solution at any drug store. Apply full strength for sweaty, smelly or itchy feet. Today at

ROYAL DRUG STORE

Alpine Theatre
MARLINTON, W. VA.
WEEK STARTING FRIDAY, JULY 2
Friday-Saturday Double Feature
Frank Buck's Adventure Picture — "JACARE"
— Also —
"RANGERS TAKE OVER" with DAVE O'BRIEN
LAST CHAPTER OF CURRENT SERIAL—"SECRET CODE"
Monday - Tuesday
"COMMANDOS STRIKE AT DAWN" WITH PAUL MUNI AND ANNA LEE
$$ Wednesday - Thursday $$
Lum and Abner in "Two Weeks To Live"
ALSO — "AT THE FRONT"
• BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS HERE •

How They Voted:

West Virginia's senators and six representatives in Congress who participated in the voting which led to the overriding of President Roosevelt's veto of the Price Control-Byrnes anti-strike bill, responded in the following manner:

For overriding—Sen. Revercomb, Rep. Ellis and Robrbough, Republicans, and Rep. Randolph, Democrat.

Against overriding—Sen. Kilgore, Rep. Smith and Kee, Democrats, and Rep. Schiffler, Republican.

COUNTY ORDERS FEED WHEAT

Congress has authorized the sale of 50 million bushels of feed wheat, following the recent exhaustion of 100 million bushels authorized for sale late in March. Pocahontas county has ordered 3 car loads, 48 tons, for distribution here upon arrival. It will be priced at $1.07 per bushel.

It also has been announced that the five bins planned for construction near the C. and O. tracks in Marlinton have now been shipped and will be constructed as soon as they arrive here.

Alfred McElwee Graduates At Fort Belvoir, Va.

Word has been received from the public relations officer there that Alfred F. McElwee, son of Mr. and Mrs. June H. McElwee of Marlinton, graduated from the Engineer Officer Candidate School at Fort Belvoir, Va., on June 23, 1943. He is now a second lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers, Army of the United States. Lieut. McElwee attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va.

NORMAN BEVERAGE PROMOTED

Norman D. Beverage of Marlinton has been promoted from private first class to Technician Fifth Grade at Pope Field, Fort Bragg, N. C., where he is stationed with a Troop Carrier Command Signal Pigeon Company.

T-5 Beverage entered the Army approximately one year ago.

Traveling Aviation B... Will Examine Appli...

A traveling Aviation Cadet... ining Board has been estab... the purpose of conducting ... aminations for Aviation C... ents in the certain cities ... in West Virginia. This ... ure will enable the applica... the second examinations ... eparate localities and the ... rip to Charleston, which ... ary in the past. These ... examinations will then ... Charleston for physical ...

There are no educational ... ments for applicants, ... necessary is to pass the ... physical examinations, ... moral character and ... ages of 17 and 27.

The tentative schedule ... Traveling Cadet Board ... Parkersburg, July 5; ... July 6; Morgantown, Ju... July 8; Logan, July 12; ... 13; Bluefield, July ... July 15; Lewisburg, Ju...

The plan now is to ... examinations at the abo... places every two weeks ... day of the week until f... Examinations will start ...

Morris Gives to A...

A report says Stash... one of Charleston's outs... news, has given to Mar... a large sum for their ... torney Morris is a gr... school and his son, St... was a student there ... called into the service ... is a sister of Mrs. Ja... of Marlinton.

ROBINSON ENLISTS

Porter Lee Robinso... Charles A. Robinson ... listed in the U. S. Nav... Friday. His applicatio... by First Class Petty ... H. Perry, of the Eli... cruiting Station, who ... signed to this territo...

PUBLIC N...

Notice To Do...

Attention of dog o... to the Town Ordina... hibits female dogs in ... ning at large. Owne... to keep these dogs p... quired by law.

GUY R. FAU...

THE ASS THAT STAR... WITH HIS MASTE...

Both are hungry. For both there is not much promise of food. Why? Because they live in Greece.

Because in Greece the Axis took every scrap of food and every source of food—and deliberately left the people, the dogs, and a few useless burros to starve and to die.

Remember the farmer of Greece as you eat your Friday evening supper. Remember him the next day, as you market your produce. Remember — and buy Bonds. All the U. S. War Bonds that you can. B... every cent that ... ally need to run ...

Buying Bonds ... help win the w... vide you with a ... future. They are ... ment in the wo... never sell for le... for them. They ... every year. In ... are worth a thir... paid. And you c... time after sixty ... new — from y... office, or rural ...

★ ★ ★

MAKE EVERY MARKET DAY B...

SOCIAL DOTS

Chatty Items About People And Events

...good friends we are ... the following interest... ...l birthday cele...

...than a week ago ... Miss Katie Garth ...h a gift of roses very ...anged and presented ... Kramer. On Sunday ...ng appeared with a ... of roses and mixed ... All day Monday ...vered her with cards ...s from her friends

...noon Miss Angie ...A. H. McFerrin en... ...arth and her sister, ...as, at the home of ...cious refreshments ...erbet and cookies ...r in the afternoon ...re arrived with her

...t 7:30 while Mrs. ...h and Miss Wade ...d in their apart... ...ang and daughter, ...rrived (this being ...int out since her ...s. Hycle Callison ...ern from upstairs ...ng, and on their ...ected by the sight ... table of a lace ...terpiece of lilies ... gift from Mrs. ...a decorated pink ... of those good ...s a little while, ...friend of the ...eet Miss Garth. ...g of "Happy ... Johnson could ... to see whose ...e appearing at ...abeth Hill with ... rosebuds and ... Maxine Dever ...ang, who came ... party, and at ...homas came in ...e in the occa... ...e drew to a ...arlow Waugh ... son, Meade, ...taken on his ...he party was ...y Jo Kramer ...Callison, Har... ...and Carolyn ...gled from the ...Odie Johnson ...re served by ...ar Thurman ... Mrs. Calff... ...e party. But ...r all. Gifts ... and among ...erfume jar, ...mer, which

...n and son ...nday with ... Mrs. Levie

...hades and ... by Miss ... night for ... their son, ...here they ... visit an... ...whom are

...Thursday ...of where ...the sum... ...reader's

VIVIAN SWANSON IS SINGER OF HYMNS

Vivian Swanson — heard on the "Hymns Of All Churches" (Monday through Thursday, WLW-NBC at 2:45 p. m., EWT) — once planned to be a school teacher. Friends, who admired her lovely voice, persuaded her to follow a career of music. Education's loss has become radio's gain. "Hymns Of All Churches" made its debut May 7, 1934 over Station WLW.

...in Washington, D. C., arrived home the first of this week for a visit with relatives.

●

Mrs. Elsie Nelson is visiting with Mrs. J. H. Vaughan.

●

Mrs. Frank Johnson, who has spent several weeks in Pennsylvania visiting her father, who has been ill, returned to Marlinton last week.

●

Mrs. Van King and son, Mrs. Paul King and Miss Peggy King, all of Charleston, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank King and Miss Annie King over the week-end.

●

Mrs. Anna Price Hunter and daughter, Mrs. John K. Lawson and two children, of Winchester, Va., have been spending some time at Sweet Chalybeate Springs. Mrs. Lawson will remain there for the summer.

●

Mrs. A. C. Pifer is still suffering with an infected foot. An X-ray will be taken again this week, and if no improvement is shown it is feared it may be necessary to amputate the foot. She is a patient at the St. Mary's hospital in Huntington.

●

Hull Yeager, a former official of the state WPA, is awaiting his transfer to the internal revenue office. His headquarters will be at Webster Springs.

●

Dick McElwee left Monday for Morgantown.

●

Mrs. L. F. Haller of Wheeling arrived Sunday night to spend some time as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Sydenstricker.

●

Miss Leota Beard has returned to her duties as home economics teacher at Greenbank high school after two weeks of study at West Virginia University.

For Sale At PUBLIC AUCTION

AT BAXTER'S GARAGE IN MARLINTON

SAT., JULY 3 -- 1 P.M.

1 Kitchen Range with Tank and Pipes
Living Room Suite
3 Beds
Kitchen Cabinet
Buffet, Table and Chairs
Dressers, Etc.

MANY OTHER ITEMS OF HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS

Ted McElwee

Marlinton, W. Va.

Former Dunmore Girl Married at Bacova, Va.

A wedding of much local interest was performed at 10 o'clock this morning (Thursday, June 24) at the Warm Springs Presbyterian manse when Miss Frances Moore Pritchard became the bride of Mr. Clarence Morris Hudson. The Rev. J. T. McCutchan read the ceremony.

Mr. Hudson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hudson of Ironton, O., and has been prominent in business circles in the county since the beginning of the Tide Water Oil Company's operations here. He came to Bacova from southwest Virginia 23 years ago as manager of the big lumber mill erected by the Tide Water interests. Since the closing out of the timber operations several years ago, Mr. Hudson has remained as manager of the company's extensive property holdings.

Mrs. Hudson is the daughter of Mr. Samuel Reece Pritchard and the late Mrs. Margaret Florence Pritchard. She came to Bacova with her family about five years ago, moving there from Dunmore, W. Va.

The wedding was attended by a few intimate friends of the couple. Following a short wedding trip the newlyweds will be at home at Bacova. —(Bath County (Va.) Enterprise).

●

Tech. Corpl. Emmett A. Hamilton is home on furlough. He was met Monday in Ronceverte by Mrs. Hamilton and will leave next Sunday.

●

Lieut. Fred Wilson of Camp Sutton, N. C., arrived home Monday for a 10-day furlough with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Wilson.

●

Miss Lena Anderson, looking ever so nice in a black crepe dress with small sailor hat trimmed in red, was seen getting on the bus last week-end accompanied by David Mason, for a visit to the home of her sister in Elkins. Miss Anderson returned Sunday but David remained for the week.

●

Miss Mary Margaret "Sis" Herold left Wednesday for Washington. From there she will go to Virginia Beach to spend her vacation.

●

A card from Miss Alice Waugh at Salem says she is staying with Mrs. Rose Meredith, owner of the Salem Herald. Mrs. Meredith is very active in social and political activities in her section of Harrison county.

●

On a visit to Neff Morrison, who has been ill, we asked him what he'd like best, and he replied that what he'd like best he couldn't have — and that was to get down to town in his wheel chair and sit close to Garland McFerrin who catches so many smiles from the passersby. Mr. Morrison said that once in a while he could get some of the overflow.

●

Seen: Little Johnnie Huckaby, whose mother was for some time in charge of the local hospital, having a fine time with Mrs. Summers Sharp in a local store last week . . . And Basil Price Sharp with his grandmother, Mrs. Calvin Price, and he was "all eyes" helping to purchase a watermelon . . . "Buckie" Jett, son of Ensign and Mrs. Walter Jett, has all but joined a nudist colony for the duration of the summer weather . . . Up on Hamilton hill, "Bill" Harper of the Army is having one fine time with his young daughter . . . For the typical "Peck's Bad Boy" in looks is Jimmie Williams, son of Mrs. Nadine Williams — he's as cute as he can be, and he is usually seen in the company of the attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Kershner.

●

Charlie Moore, son of Mrs. Elmer Moore, visited his mother from Tuesday to Saturday of last week.

●

Mrs. H. R. Wyllie and Mrs. Moser Herold were in White Sulphur Springs Tuesday.

●

Miss Elisabeth McComb was accompanied to White Sulphur Springs last Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cochran where she boarded the train for Chicago to visit with her sister, Miss Lollie McComb.

●

Miss Lois Brill, Miss Thelma Williams, Sam Brill and Bill Michaels were in Charleston Monday on business.

●

Miss Nancy Witter of Charleston is visiting Mrs. Frank McLaughlin.

●

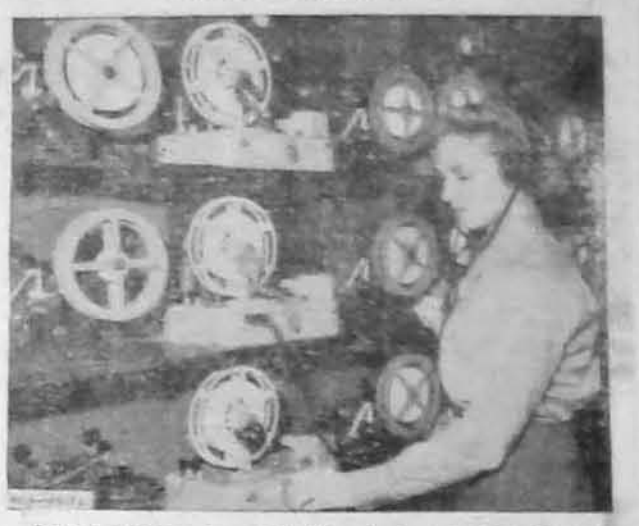
Miss Gertrude Shay was in Richwood on business last week.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and help during the death of our dear husband and father, Floyd M. Dilley.

MRS. FLOYD M. DILLEY AND HAROLD

WAAC Code Sender



More than 500 members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps are being taught Army radio and repair at approved radio schools. Upon completion of their course they will go to active duty, ready to help get important wartime messages through.

Mrs. H. R. Wyllie Entertains For Grady Herold and Bride

Mrs. H. R. Wyllie of Wyllie Manor, Minnehaha Springs, entertained Wednesday evening with a dinner party in honor of Sgt. Grady Herold, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Herold, of Minnehaha Springs, and his recent bride, of Texas. Those present were Sgt. and Mrs. Grady Herold, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Herold, and Mrs. Lewis Sneddon of Minnehaha Springs, Mrs. Jack Roberts of Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. June Herold, Mrs. Ethel Herold of Marlinton, and Mrs. M. B. Herold of Washington, who is Mrs. Wyllie's houseguest.

●

Mrs. Lee Ruckman, accompanied by Miss Mary Ruckman returned to Clarksburg Sunday. Miss Ruckman will also visit in Charleston before returning to her home at Huntersville.

●

Miss Frances Bussard, who is employed in Washington, D. C., has been spending her vacation with relatives in Marlinton.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lemons of Clifton Forge, Va., visited Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McNeil from Wednesday until Friday of last week.

●

Sgt. Grady Herold and his attractive bride, of Texas, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Winston Herold of Minnehaha Springs.

●

Aaron Carlson of Campbelltown was taken to the Clifton Forge hospital for an operation last Friday.

●

Miss Elsie McLain, mother of Mrs. Barbara Bragg, returned to her home at West Union, Doddridge county, on Monday. She took home a nice string of fish to substantiate the story to her family about her first fishing venture.

●

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Landis and son Everett, Mr. and Mrs. John Curry of Port Deposit, Md., are visiting Miss Emma McClune at Hillsboro.

●

Betty Jane Sharp accompanied Miss Helen Gay back to Franklin for a visit.

●

Mayor Henry R. Gay of Buckhannon visited his uncle, A. R. Gay of Edray last week. He was accompanied to Marlinton by Josh Reynolds, who visited his wife here over the week-end.

Miss Vevan Jouan of Pittsburgh will arrive to be the guest of Mrs. H. R. Wyllie of Minnehaha Springs for the Fourth of July week-end.

●

Ben Morgan was a dinner guest on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sydenstricker.

Alice Waugh Managing Salem Alpine Theatre

Miss Alice Rowan Waugh of Marlinton, has been sent to Salem as manager of the Alpine Theatre here. She arrived Saturday night and assumed her duties Sunday. She succeeds Miss Hilda Carder of Romney, who has entered the journalism field and is now on the staff of the Salem Herald Publishing Company.

Miss Waugh, the new theatre manager, has been with the Alpine company for six years. She attended Marshall College, and is well known in musical circles throughout the state, having been a teacher of that subject for several years.—(From the Salem Herald).

xxx

OREN WAUGH INJURED

Oren Waugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Waugh of Marlinton, received a painful injury, and sustained the loss of four teeth and an injured jawbone while employed on the Kee Highway of a Baltimore shipyard. A piece of steel hurtling through the air struck Mr. Waugh. It is reported the accident would probably have been fatal if Mr. Waugh had not seen the missile in time to change his position, which kept it from striking him on the head.

He came to his home here Tuesday.

xxx

SAMUEL McCHESNEY DIES

Samuel McChesney, who was born in August, 1864, died June 28, 1943, at his home at Brownsburg. He is survived by three daughters and two sons. Four other children preceeded him in death. Burial was made on June 30, 1943, at the Brownsburg cemetery. Services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Goodwin.

xxx

Board of Trade Thursday At Toll House — 7 P. M.

The Pocahontas County Board of Trade will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. at the Toll House Restaurant. Jack Richardson, president, will preside.

Mack H. Brooks, county chairman of the Pocahontas chapter of the American Red Cross will be the speaker, and will tell of the work of that organization during wartime.

Minimum Permanent Wave Price

In view of materials available under present conditions, we deem it only fair to our customers and to ourselves to establish a Minimum Price of $3.00 on Permanent Waves. Since this action is being taken in the interest of our patrons, and to enable us to continue giving the most satisfactory service, we feel sure that we shall have your hearty cooperation.

OTHER WAVES: $4, $5, $6, AND UP

The Annette - The Style-Rite

BEAUTY SHOPS

Marlinton, West Virginia

THESE SHOPS WILL BE CLOSED DURING THE ENTIRE WEEK BEGINNING JULY 4th

Feature of the Week

182 acre blue grass farm, reasonably improved.

300 acre tract near Alpoca on Marlinton.

500 acre tract near Dunmore.

64 acre grazing farm near Frost.

118 acre farm in good condition near Millpoint.

2 large residences in town of Marlinton.

Jack Richardson

REAL ESTATE BROKER

Marlinton, W. Va.

"Promoting Prosperity"

4-H Leaders' Camp at Mill

One hundred leaders from all counties of West Virginia are attending a 4-H Leaders' Camp at Jackson's Mill, which is in session from June 24 to June 30. They will be given special instructions for county camps. Miss Margaret Irvine of Marlinton and Miss Anna Mae Friel of Asbury, represented the leaders of Pocahontas county. Classes for county camps and the daily camp schedule are among the points emphasized in the leaders' camp.

xxx

Nell Hively Added to West Penn Home Economics Staff In The Fairmont Division

A report by the Monongahela West Penn Public Service Company's publicity division says that a new addition to the company's home economics staff in Fairmont is Alice Nell Hively of Fairmont and Huntersville. She is a graduate of West Virginia University's department of home economics and for the last year and a half had been employed as a dietitian for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in Fairmont.

As junior economist in Fairmont, Miss Hively will work with and assist Home Economist Helen Tucker in home economics work in that division and will aid in food research work in the company's research kitchen.

xxx

LOBELIA NEWS

Mrs. Clifford Perry and children are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Williams.

Ivan Dale Williams has returned to his home here after spending some time in Maryland.

Walter Coxey has returned to his employment after a week with his family here.

The successful revival meeting which has been in progress at the Jacox closed Monday night.

Spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sizemore are Denver Sizemore, Foster Sizemore, and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Sizemore and boys, Rodger and Larry Dale.

We are glad to hear that Charley Turner is improving after a serious illness.

Mrs. Ethel Turner McClure returned to her home at the illness of her father.

Miss Olive McClure has returned to her home at Beulah after a few weeks in Pennsylvania.

Everyone is invited to attend the cottage prayer meetings which are being held in Lobelia. Another one will be held at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison's Sunday, July 4, at 3 p. m. You could find no better way to spend the Fourth.

Miss Juanita Coxey left for her employment at Norfolk, Va., June 14.

Pvt. Nelson Bruffey spent a few days' furlough with his parents here.

Teddy Alderman and son spent the week-end here with relatives and friends and preached a very interesting Father's Day sermon.

George Walton spent a few days with his brother, N. E. Walton.

xxx

Neighborhood Leaders Help With Conservation Schools

Woman Neighborhood Leaders of Pocahontas county have arranged a series of Food Conservation Schools to portray the latest developments in food conservation. The schools are being conducted by Mrs. Beatrice S. McLaughlin, home supervisor of the FSA, Mrs. William Harper, vocational home economics supervisor, and Barbara M. Bragg, home demonstration agent.

The remaining schedule is as follows:

July 6, 1:30 p. m.—Mrs. Nina Sheridan.
July 7, 2:30—Mrs. J. W. Taylor.
July 8, 1:30—Mrs. Roxie Arbogast.
July 13, 1:30—Mrs. W. A. Hively.
July 14, 1:30—Slatyfork school.
July 19, 1:30—Draft school.
July 20, 1:30—Mrs. Eva Moore.

Similar schools were held: July 24 at the home of Mrs. Kent Wilfong; June 29, with Mrs. Wilton McMillion; and also on June 29, at the Hillsboro high school and with Mrs. Bertha M. Barlow.

THIS BANK

—IS—

A Guardian for your funds.

A Treasury for your needs.

A Counselor for your problems.

—and—

A Friend to everyone.

BUY BONDS — THEN KEEP THEM SAFE IN OUR VAULT

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN MARLINTON

Member: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

MARLINTON, W. VA.

THERE ARE NO RESTRICTIONS ON OUR DESIRE TO SERVE YOU WELL

Rexrode Chevrolet Co.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

Attractive Looks WILL BE REGAINED IMPROVED PRESERVED By Regular Visits to this Beauty Parlor

Annette Beauty Shop
Mrs. Dice Grimes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

GOOD FURNITURE Is An Important Investment

YOU CAN OBTAIN REAL VALUE AT

The Furniture Mart
Camden Ave. Marlinton

Dr. Harry C. Solter Clinic
Office Hours:
10 to 12 A. M.
1 to 3 P. M.
7 to 8 P. M.
Thursdays—No afternoon hours.
Sundays—By appointment only.

WE FILL PRESCRIPTIONS WITH ACCURACY AND UNFAILING CARE

Royal Drug Stores, Inc.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

ATTENTION TO ONE'S BEAUTY NEEDS WILL ASSURE APPEARANCE AT ONE'S BEST CONSTANTLY

Style-Rite Beauty Salon
Marlinton

All Repair and Service WORK MAY BE ARRANGED AT THE

Marlinton Esso Station
Wm. H. Carney, Mgr.
MARLINTON, W. VA.

BOWL FOR HEALTH AND PLEASURE

Alpine Bowling Lanes
MARLINTON, W. VA.

THEY WERE EXPENDABLE

by W. L. White

© WHITE W.N.U. FEATURES

THE STORY SO FAR: The story of their part in the battle for the Philippines is being told by four of the five naval officers who are all that is left of Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron 3. They are Lieut. John Bulkeley (now Lieutenant Commander), squadron commander; Lieut. R. B. Kelly, second-in-command; and Ensigns Anthony Akers and George E. Cox, Jr. March 11 Lieut. Bulkeley showed the squadron their secret orders. They were to carry General MacArthur's party and some additional personnel to the southern islands where they would be met by transport planes which would carry General MacArthur to his new headquarters. When Kelly arrived at the rendezvous the others were missing.

CHAPTER X

"I had an idea where they would be, and I explained. Bulkeley, I was sure, would take no chances with women and a child aboard. Of course he'd seen the Japanese signal fire the night before. Planes might be out spotting us for destroyers, and as soon as dawn broke Bulkeley undoubtedly had made for the nearest of those other Cuyos—picking one from his chart (we'd never been here before) which was surrounded by reefs and water so shallow that no destroyer could venture within gun range or even within sight. There he would wait all day, if not until dusk, at least until he thought the danger of spotting planes was past, before coming to join us here.

"So at 8:37 we dropped a hook in the cove and I sent two men ashore with semaphore flags to climb the island's single five-hundred-foot hill and stand continuous watch—for the other three boats of course, but particularly for Japs.

"At 5:30, when we figured any spotting planes would have had to head back for home, I was about to pull our lookouts from the hill and get under way when they wig-wagged down that they saw a ship—apparently friendly, maybe an MTB. I picked it up with my binoculars and presently made out the 32 boat, which soon tied up alongside us.

"It was this boat, remember, which had been repaired after its explosion. The cook had been blown into Sisiman Cove. During the night its struts started coming loose, so they could use only one or two of their three engines, and they, like us, had lost touch with the other boats in the night. But instead of falling far behind the flagship, they had somehow managed, in the darkness, to get out in front of it.

"In the first gray light of dawn, their stern lookout reported a strange ship—gaining on them. Looked like a Jap destroyer. Now an MTB in good condition can outrun any warship afloat. But the 32 boat was hobbling on two engines, so although he was running full throttle, its commander wasn't surprised that the strange craft kept gaining. In order to lighten his boat and pull away, he dumped six hundred gallons of gasoline in drums over the side, but still the enemy was closing on him. There seemed nothing to do now but fight before the destroyer opened with its 3-inch guns. They readied two torpedoes and turned dauntlessly for the attack, to discover just in time that the strange pursuing craft was the 41 boat—their own flagship with General MacArthur aboard.

"So here they were—loaded down to the water line with seasick and puzzled generals. Just at this point there was a rising roar from seaward, and the 41 boat came around the point, Bulkeley and General MacArthur's party."

"We'd lost sight of you a few hours before dawn," said Bulkeley, "when you stopped to clean your strainers. I went on ahead because I wanted to get as deep as possible into the Cuyo Islands before sunrise.

"As the sky pinkened I headed for the nearest and best—it was one of the prearranged crosses on the map. It wasn't much of an island—only a quarter of a mile wide—but it had plenty of shallow water to keep off Jap destroyers.

"Lying at anchor, some of the crew picked off a little sleep as we rolled gently in the sunshine. Presently the General came on deck; he was a fine figure in his camel's-hair coat and gold hat, frowning a little as he squinted in the sunshine at the water and white sand. Then Mrs. MacArthur and the little boy and his Chinese amah came up to sit in wicker chairs in the sunshine. It was too bad little Arthur couldn't have played on the beach, but I told the General no one should go ashore. Because if dive bombers came near and spotted us, we would have to get the hell out of there very quick, leaving even the lookout behind, and put into open water where we could dodge and twist.

"I figured the morning would be the dangerous time for bombers, if they knew we had slipped out, so by ten o'clock I felt it was safe to get under way, and we threaded down through the little islands into the channel, which would defy a destroyer to follow, approaching the last one, which was our general rendezvous. In the distance I could see the other two boats also heaving to, and after we anchored, Kelly in the 32 boat was already here and waiting.

"That done was the problem of what to do about the 32 boat, which had dumped most of its gas at dawn, and couldn't proceed much farther at high speed.

"This was a rendezvous not only for our four MTB's, but also for General MacArthur's second means of escape—a submarine. It had all been carefully worked out, and the submarine would bob up in this cove tomorrow. Had we been attacked or broken down, the General could have left us here, and continued his trip on down to Australia by submarine.

"General MacArthur, Admiral Rockwell and Lieutenant Bulkeley talked about the night's plans—the advisability of continuing with us tonight or going by submarine," went on Lieutenant Kelly. "The Admiral was for staying with us, but the General was undecided. The afternoon trip had been rough, and Bulkeley had warned the night would be rougher. Yet as we lay there in the cove, the sea seemed calm enough, and the sky gave no hint of bad weather. So on the assurance of the Admiral that it would be good weather, the General decided they'd continue with us.

"Then, as Bulkeley had said, there was the problem of what to do with the 32 boat, which had dumped much of her gasoline. She did not have enough left to make the fast run with us to the island of Mindanao, where the General's party would get the plane for Australia. So Bulkeley gave her different orders. Her generals were to be transferred to my boat. She was to wait here in the rendezvous until tomorrow when the submarine arrived. She was to tell the submarine that everything had gone well, the General had gone on to Mindanao and would go to Australia by plane, as planned. Having delivered this message, the 32 boat was to go to Iloilo on the island of Panay, only one hundred and twenty miles away. There she could get repairs and enough gas to bring her on down to Cagayan to join the rest of us in the other three boats, and we would finish the war together in the southern islands.

"They wigwagged down that they saw a ship—apparently friendly."

"What went wrong with this plan, we don't know to this day. The boat's commander, Lieutenant Schumacher, must have decided that it wasn't in condition to follow these orders. Anyway, when the submarine arrived, he had it shell the 32 boat, so it would not fall into Japanese hands, and boarded the submarine, which dropped his crew off at Corregidor, and took him safely to Australia.

"We found out much later that he had gotten to Australia. For some time their disappearance was a mystery, and Bulkeley here spent several days flying out over all those islands trying to find some trace of the 32 boat. Some day, of course, there will be a full report on exactly what did happen which will explain everything.

"All we know is that we last saw them back there in the cove as we left the harbor—a hard right turn and then out to sea, at about 4:30. We were leading, so that the flagship, just behind us, could search out the smoothest part of our wake, so that MacArthur's party could ride comfortably. We'd been going about fifteen minutes when the port lookout called 'Sail ho!' and there she was—three points on our port bow, distance about five miles. 'Looks like an enemy cruiser!' said the lookout. I grabbed my binoculars, and so it was! Hull down, but masts and superstructure plain. On the course we were steering we would cross her bow. I gave the 24 full right rudder and full speed ahead—it was worth fast or three eighteen knots, because the carbon had burned out of our motors. I knew that type of Jap cruiser could make thirty-five knots with all steam up. But unless they were expecting something, they could only make twenty-seven. So we had a good chance of keeping away from them—it might be dark before they could close in.

"Meanwhile I was hoping they hadn't seen us and praying that the sun would hurry up and set, but it just pooped along—seemed to hang there above the horizon for weeks, and finally bobbed under at seven o'clock.

"If you've never been in the tropics, you don't realize how fast it gets dark—almost no twilight at all."

"I think it was the whitecaps that saved us," said Bulkeley. "The Japs didn't notice our wake, even though we were foaming away at full throttle.

"During the excitement, the General was lying down in the cabin with his eyes closed, but Mrs. MacArthur, who was with him, heard everything that went on and she didn't turn a hair. She took it like a lady—went right on rubbing the General's hands to keep up his circulation, though she was seasick herself.

"I never went below, and all my men stayed at battle stations, so the people in the cabin took care of themselves—there was no one to wait on them. The General saw that I was supplied with cigars. They were pretty well provisioned. They'd brought from Corregidor, among other things, a few cases of Coca-Cola—the first I'd tasted in many weeks—and some of the tenderest ham I ever ate.

"It got dark fast after sunset, a wind sprang up, and ahead we could see lightning flashes. But these didn't help us find the narrow passage into the Mindanao Sea. We were going in the dark entirely by dead reckoning. At midnight we figured we'd be off the strait—so we turned into the pitch-blackness, holding our breath, but still we didn't hit anything. I had no charts, I'd never been there before, I could see absolutely nothing, but since we didn't crash into a beach, we kept on going, and at last I knew we were through and safely into Mindanao Sea — our dead-reckoning navigation had been right."

"And there we really caught hell," said Kelly. "Big foaming waves fifteen or twenty feet high thundering over the cockpit, drenching everybody topside. Also, because of the speed, water, and wind, it got damned cold. Our binoculars were full of water and our eyes so continuously drenched with stinging salt that we couldn't see, in strange waters with islands all around us. We could see the outlines of the big ones—Negros and Mindanao—very dimly against the horizon through the storm. But there were dozens of small ones and probably hundreds of reefs.

"The sea was on our port bow, tending to drive us south. We expected to make a landfall forty miles dead ahead—a small island where we would turn—and let me tell you this was an unpleasant situation for a navigator. The helmsman's eyes and ours were full of salt, you had to keep one hand in front of your eyes to avoid the slapping force of the water, and yet you needed both to hold on. The Admiral was pretty wrought up. 'I've sailed every type of ship in the navy except one of these MTB's,' he shouted at me above the wind, 'and this is the worst bridge I've ever been on. I wouldn't do duty on one of these for anything in the world—you can have them.'

"It was a real problem to keep astern lookout for the 41 boat so we wouldn't lose it. Three good waves in a row and we'd be out of sight, and in that weather we could pass within seventy-five yards and never see each other. The 41 was now keeping about two hundred yards astern, hunting for the smoothest part of our wake, to keep the General's party comfortable. The General had said that if his boat slowed, we who were ahead should also slow, letting them set the pace. I know seasickness can be very unpleasant, but I wanted to get them safe in port by dawn, in case there were Jap planes about, so I kept pulling them on. It got rougher and rougher, and the Admiral kept remembering it had been he who had assured MacArthur that Bulkeley was wrong about the weather—it would be calm.

" 'The General's going to give me hell for this in the morning, he said, uneasily. 'Damned if I thought Bulkeley knew what he was talking about—but he surely did.'

"The Admiral stayed with me up on the bridge the whole trip, in spite of the weather. Every half-hour I would send a member of the crew over the boat for inspection, to see how its hull was standing the strain, for we were taking an awful licking.

"During one of these I noticed a figure by the machine-gun turret, sitting with his feet propped up on a torpedo tube. His stomach was long ago empty, but he was leaning forward, retching between his knees. From this I guessed it might be one of our passengers, and sent a quartermaster to ask him if he wouldn't care to go below. The quartermaster returned and saluted. 'The General says he doesn't want to move, sir—he knows what's best for him.'

(TO BE CONTINUED)

For you to make

7468

LUXURY on a wartime budget—in a beautiful jiffy filet crochet cloth or scarf. Though it's so easy to do, yet it adds richness to table or buffet. Make jiffy-crochet articles in two strands of string—or smaller pieces in finer cotton.

Pattern 7468 contains instructions and chart for cloth and scarf; illustrations of stitches; materials needed.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
82 Eighth Ave. New York

Enclose 15 cents (plus one cent to cover cost of mailing) for Pattern

No. .....
Name .....
Address .....

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The setting of a jelly can be hastened by placing the mold in a pan of cold water.

• • •

Frozen meats should not be thawed before cooking. Soaking them to hasten defrosting impairs the flavor.

• • •

Wood siding from which moisture has not been sufficiently removed may be finished with semi-transparent shingle stain instead of a solid film of paint.

• • •

A cloth dipped in linseed oil and wiped over a polished surface will improve the appearance.

• • •

For a spring dessert how about rhubarb shortcake? Serve rosy rhubarb sauce over slightly hot biscuits made with a bit of sugar added to flour.

• • •

Rub bacon fat over the skins of potatoes before they are put into the oven to bake. Then the skins will not crumble or break, and will have a delicious flavor. Eat the skins with the potatoes.

• • •

When stubborn particles of meat and vegetables stick to the inside of the grinder, run a small piece of dry bread through the grinder. The bread acts as a chaser, and saves work in the dishpan.

Admirals may be admirable, but that isn't where the word comes from. It comes from an old Arabic word "amir-al" meaning "commander of." That's what the Admiral is, the top-ranking officer in the Navy. Top-ranking cigarette with our Navy men is Camel—the favorite, too with men in the Army, Marines, and Coast Guard, according to actual sales records from their service stores. Camels are a top-ranking gift, too. And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are. —Adv.

Kool-Aid Makes 10 BIG, COOL THIRST-QUENCHERS FAMILY SIZE PKG. 5¢

Million to Billion

The ratio of a million to a billion is the same as that of a cent to a ten-dollar bill.

TABASCO

The smallest seasoning known, and the world's most widely distributed food product! A dash of this piquant sauce gives a rare flavor to any food. TABASCO—the seasoning secret of master chefs for more than 75 years!

We will pay highest cash prices for ROOTS, HERBS, BARKS, BERRIES, LEAVES

• Manufacturer of drugs and medicinal chemicals needs big quantities of roots, herbs, berries, many of which grow wild in your neighborhood. NOW is the time to gather these weeds and turn them into ready cash. Write for pay list and instructions for gathering NOW . . . send your letter or card to:

S. B. PENICK & COMPANY
525 Elizabeth St. (corner of Mound)
CINCINNATI, OHIO

COOLS SUNBURN MEXSANA FORMERLY MEXICAN HEAT POWDER

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A chain of rest stations is rising across northern Brazil along the route of workers trekking into the Amazon Basin gateway of Belem to increase collection of wild rubber. They provide medical aid and other human comforts to the 50,000 additional workers being recruited for the Amazon rubber forces.

The rubber normally used in one month's manufacture of baby pants can make 2800 rubber lifeboats for ocean-going planes.

A check of 7,200 farm-owned trucks showed that only 25 per cent of the tires on them were good; 54 per cent were fair; and 21 per cent were in poor condition.

Jerry Shaw

In war or peace B.F.Goodrich FIRST IN RUBBER

CLABBER GIRL Baking Powder

IN CLASS 1-A FOR WAR-TIME BAKING

In the war-time kitchen, where economy rules, where waste must be avoided and where quality counts as never before, Clabber Girl leads the list of dependable baking ingredients . . . Ask Mother, She Knows: Clabber Girl has been the choice of millions of proud bakers, in millions of homes, for years and years.

• OUR COMIC SECTION •

TO YOUR Good Health by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

LOW BACK PAIN

Dr. Barton

For many years cases for low back pain and sciatica have been put in two classes (a) those due to infection—teeth, tonsils, gums, gall bladder and other organs and (b) those due to injury—lifting a heavy object, a misstep, swinging at an object (often a golf ball) and missing it, a fall, braking a car and other accidents. The injury usually causes a strain or sprain of the ligaments and other structures surrounding the joint between the last bone of the spine and the hip bone. This is called sacro-iliac sprain.

During the past three or four years we are learning that many of these cases called sacro-iliac sprain are really cases where the little cushions or disks between the bones of the spine have been broken through or ruptured by the same type of accident which causes the sacro-iliac sprain. It is only after the usual treatment—manipulation under an anesthetic and use of a brace—has failed to give relief that ruptured disk is suspected. Each spine bone is called a vertebra and the disk or cushion between them is an intervertebral disk.

Dr. W. E. Dandy in Annals of Surgery, Philadelphia, points out that rupture of the intervertebral disk accounts for an overwhelming percentage of the heretofore incurable and untreatable low back pains and sciaticas, miscalled sacro - iliac strains and arthritis of the spine.

Formerly iodized oil was injected into the spinal canal, but this does not always show the rupture even when present. Then as it was found that practically all (96 per cent) of ruptured disks were situated between the last and second to last spine bone in lower back, the iodized oil method is not absolutely necessary, particularly because it is known that a "concealed" disk occurs in 25 per cent of cases. Dr. Dandy has been able to make the diagnosis of ruptured disk 63 times just by examination without use of iodized oil.

Cases of ruptured intervertebral disks are now successfully treated by operation.

However, there is the other side of this matter; that is that many patients and some physicians also, may now make the mistake of thinking that most cases of low back pain and sciatica are due to ruptured disks. As a matter of fact, sacro-iliac strain occurs more often than does ruptured disk and manipulation, rest and use of a brace bring about a cure.

• • •

Watch for Early Diabetes Symptoms

There has come to me a copy of the Diabetic Digest, published quarterly by the Philadelphia Metabolic society. This magazine has spread information among physicians so that physicians would be on the lookout for early and unrecognized cases of diabetes. Thus the level of treatment of this disease has been raised in Philadelphia and vicinity.

The facts about diabetes in Philadelphia that have been forwarded to physicians might well be studied by everybody because diabetes strikes many homes. Some of the information is not pleasant; "other information brought out by the study is most encouraging to diabetics and to doctors."

1. Two and five-tenths persons per day die and have diabetes mentioned in their death certificate.
2. One person dies in diabetic acidosis (coma) almost every other day.
3. Almost twice as many persons died of diabetic acidosis (coma) as died with infections of various natures without acidosis.
4. One-half of the persons dying with diabetes did not know of their disease until their last illness.
5. More persons died with diabetes of causes other than diabetes (but having diabetes) than died of diabetes alone.

It is the hope of the committee that other county societies throughout the state and the nation will take up this work and that diabetic individuals will lead longer, more useful and happier lives because of these efforts.

Just how much can be accomplished by the new knowledge of the treatment of diabetes by diet and insulin is shown by the fact that in 1919 average age at death of the diabetic was about 44 years and in 1939 it was 58 years.

• • •

QUESTION BOX

Q.—I have blue marks on each arm. How can I get rid of them?

A.—These blue marks may be tiny broken veins. They will do no harm. They may be removed by electrolysis or surgery.

Q.—I am 34 years old and I take spells. When these happen I seem to get in an electric state all over. Is this serious?

A.—As you do not become unconscious, spells may not be serious. Ask your physician about them.

Q.—I have a little boy whom the

PATTERNS SEWING CIRCLE

Indispensable.

A THREE-PIECE you'll be glad you own hundreds of times this summer. Well cut sports blouse, shorts and button-front skirt.

• • •

Pattern No. 8342 is in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Size 14 ensemble takes 4⅞ yards 39-inch material.

Due to an unusually large demand and current war conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago.

Enclose 20 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No..... Size.....
Name .....
Address .....

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A General Quiz

1. What people were once called "Celestials"?
2. What is the "williwaw"?
3. What is the bloodiest year in the history of the world?
4. How many veterans of the last war are engaged in the present war?
5. Where is the home of the Kaffirs?
6. What planet's period of rotation on its axis is about the same as the earth's?
7. From what song comes the words 'And where is that band who so vauntingly swore 'mid the havoc of war and the battle's confusion"?
8. What country's legislature was called the states-general?

The Answers

1. Chinese.
2. The fierce unpredictable wind of Alaska which has upset minutely plotted attacks.
3. The year 1942. Authorities say 2,000,000 men of all nations were killed in the war during the year.
4. Approximately 250,000.
5. South Africa.
6. Mars (24 hours 37½ minutes).
7. "The Star Spangled Banner."
8. Netherlands.

MOROLINE PETROLEUM JELLY 5¢ FOR MINOR BURNS CUTS

White Markets

Japan, too, it seems, is bothered with black markets, but there they are called white markets.

SHAVE with SHELBY AND Feel the Difference SHARPER BECAUSE THEY'RE ⅓ THINNER
SHELBY BLADES double edge or single edge
4 for 10c
Manufactured and guaranteed by Federal Razor Blade Co., N. Y.

HOW NOT TO CATCH A FLY

Whizzing flies can be easily disposed of by the NEWSPAPER METHOD. Quickly fold a newspaper and strike violently at the buzzing fly—crushing fly against nearest object. Result: occasionally, you spot the fly as well as the tablecloth, wallpaper, curtains and buttered toast. An easier way is to
Catch 'em with TANGLEFOOT FLYPAPER
It is the old reliable that never fails. Always economical to use, and not rationed. For sale at drug and grocery stores.
CATCHES THE GERM AS WELL AS THE FLY
6 double sheets 25¢
THE TANGLEFOOT CO. Grand Rapids, Mich.
Buy War Bonds

NOT CHOOSY

"Come in our particular friend, as soon as home."

"I want! If he was particular, he wouldn't be my friend."

Right Word!

Jones—I see you're carrying a new cane and hat. Say, do you have a horse parade pass?

Smith—I'll say so. The boys and women are planning to see everything of mine up.

Fruit Count Too

Billy—I am not the only thing you see more than one of.

Mommy—No? What else, Billy—Well, my two sides the bucket every time we walk out.

Really Hot

Having attended first-aid lectures, the young wife was quite pleased when hubby came home looking and feeling ready.

Proudly producing her thermometer, she proceeded to take his temperature.

The result so startled her that she scribbled a note to the doctor and sent it by the maid.

"Please come at once," it ran. "My husband's temperature is 120."

Soon back came the reply:

"The case is beyond my skill. Send for the fire engine."

Inviting Warning

She—My little brother will tell if he sees you kissing me.

He—But I'm not kissing you.

She—Well, I thought I'd tell you anyway.

No Loss

Mabel—I'm so upset. I don't know what to do! My husband just ran off with another woman. I can't control myself.

Marge—I'm sorry to see you go. You'll find another after a good laugh.

Blister Rust Crew Plays Dual Role

By RALPH W. WELCH,
State Leader, Blister Rust Control
Marlinton, W. Va.

Blister Rust Control crews of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine are playing "double roles" this summer. On the one hand they are giving protection to valuable stands of white pine by destroying nearby currant and gooseberry bushes, thus preventing the spread of the Blister Rust disease to the white pine. On the other hand they are keeping up their share of the food production program by attending regular farming duties on days when the weather is suitable for farming.

General orders have been issued from the Marlinton State Headquarters from time to time since early this spring, emphasizing that in spite of the vital importance of protecting white pine from Blister Rust, the planting and harvesting of a maximum amount of farm crops is not to be slighted by Blister Rust employes. Therefore, employes are excused on those days when farm work needs attention and allowed to return to their job when farming is slack, or when wet weather makes farming impossible. On an average, the employes have been spending from two to three days out of each week at farming and the remainder of the workable time at Blister Rust Control Work.

The U. S. Forest Service has provided funds for operation of the program on the Monongahela National Forest, where crews are now operating. Also, work is being done in Watoga and Droop Mountain State Parks, and on private lands in Pocahontas and Pendleton counties. The Conservation Commission of West Virginia makes an annual appropriation for conducting Blister Rust Control work on state and private lands, and the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine matches state funds on a dollar for dollar basis.

The importance of removing gooseberry and currant bushes within 900 feet of white pine cannot be overemphasized. In Seneca State Forest, where work was completed last year, a single gooseberry bush was responsible for the infection of no fewer than 65 white pine trees. Many of these trees were already dead and all would have died within the next few years if the disease had been allowed to run its course. Tree surgery saved several of the trees from further disastrous effects.

The State's "Plant Pest" law decrees that diseased currant and gooseberry bushes growing within infecting range of white pine must be surrendered by the owner, regardless of whether the bushes are in the wild or cultivated stage. Garden gooseberry and currant bushes also are affected.

In the course of the work, Blister Rust crews have killed 22 rattlesnakes and six copperhead snakes in Pocahontas county alone thus far this summer. Non-poisonous snakes killed here already run into the hundreds. In addition, the crews have salvaged a considerable amount of scrap metal in the forest. In less than a year, over six tons of scrap have been salvaged and sold for nearly $80, the proceeds going to the Red Cross and to other Service Organizations.

XXX

CASS NEWS

4-H Club Meets

The De-Mare De-Mere 4-H Club of Cass held its monthly meeting Thursday, June 24. Due to the inability to play ball after dark, the club held its recreation period at the beginning of the meeting. Marshall Kingsberry was in charge of the program. A talk on "Radishes" was given by Mary Hill, and "The Care of a Kidney" was given by Bonnie Fisher. Several songs were sung to complete the program. County Camp was discussed by the new assistant county agent, Emerson Dagnell. Some of the members agreed to help clean up the camp site in preparation. Bill Zapp was elected as the new secretary. A wiener roast completed the meeting.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But when kidneys fail to function as Nature intended—fail to remove excess poisonous matter, it may cause you to suffer from backache, nagging headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, rheumatic pains, feeling tired, nervous, all upset. Don't neglect your kidneys if you suffer these discomforts and have reason to think they are at fault. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for kidneys only. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

COLLEGE BEAUTIES GET FARM POINTERS

ST. PETER, MINNESOTA—Gustavus Adolphus College girls who are planning to work on farms this summer and Fred Arneman, chairman of the Nicollet County War Board, took time off to look over the Farm Building Research Project being conducted here by the "Business of Farming" magazine, to show how Gyplap helps meet the current lumber shortage. Mr. Arneman is shown explaining to Myrtle Johnson, Lorraine Rule, Mavis McClure and Madelyn Hassarud how this new gypsum board is sealed to make it weatherproof. The Government is urging increased farm production, which requires additional farm buildings and new materials of this type are needed to meet the emergency.

Uncle "Pud" Tucker
— Says —

By HOY McCUSKEY

BOBTAIL THOUGHTS

We chuckle to ourselves when we hear someone remark about the high cost of livin' durin' the First World War. Sure, we paid twelve dollars for a silk shirt. Speakin' about the cost of things durin' the present War, week before last we bought an old hen that had given up the egg layin' business for the duration and paid two dollars and eighty-five cents for the old girl. Well, we wore that First World War shirt for three years but the old hen went to pieces in twenty minutes after the wife's relatives put on the feed bags.

Discussin' the scarcity of sheets, we've been gettin' up an hour earlier since our company arrived, so the wife could use ours for a table cloth.

Present were: the leader, Miss Marie Dill, assistant leader, Miss Gladys Mick, Catherine Sheets, Julia and Maxine Fisher, Dorothy Lee Mick, Bertha Lee Dill, Maxine Shinaberry, Evelyn Galford, Bob Sheets, Marshall and Ted Shinaberry and Bill Zopp. Visitors were Roscoe Doddril, Jessie Blankenship and Norman McLaughlin.—(Evelyn Galford, news reporter).

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Galford of Roanoke, Va., have returned home after visiting relatives here for a few days.

Flynn Galford of Washington, D. C., has been visiting his father, L. H. Galford and other relatives here. He was at Pearl Harbor at the time of the Japanese attack. He will attend an electrical school in Washington, D. C. for eight months.

Mrs. Preston Galford received a letter from her brother, Pvt. James R. Pusey, written somewhere at sea, saying he was having a good trip and that the weather was nice. He also had escaped being seasick. Mrs. Galford also received word last week that another brother, Pvt. Harrison "Buck" Pusey, had been sent overseas.

Miss Mildred Fahrman arrived on Wednesday and will spend a week's vacation with her parents.

Mrs. Hugh Jefferson and daughter Mary Virginia returned Wednesday after visiting relatives in Gainesville, Ga.

Miss Helen Ralston, who is employed in Detroit, Mich., was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ralston Friday and Saturday.

Custer Good returned Tuesday after spending a short leave from the Navy visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Good.

Mrs. C. E. Fuhrman returned Saturday after visiting in Maryland and Washington, D. C.

Miss Bertha O'Brien of Baltimore is visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nickell and daughter of Charleston spent the week-end with Mr. Nickell's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Nickell.

Misses Mary Lou and Betty Jean Calhoun of Hendersville are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Hooks.

Mrs. Cass Ware and son, and Edgar Lee McElwee of Marlinton were guests of Mrs. Mary McPherson last week.

Pvt. and Mrs. Oliver Sullivan were visiting Mrs. Sullivan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gaithal over the week-end.

Miss Lucille Kincaid who is spending her vacation in Greenbank was an overnight guest of Miss Gladys Mick last Wednesday.

Miss Beulah Dahmer left Monday to be employed in Ronceverte.

Mrs. Pat Banton was visiting relatives in Durbin several days last week.

Mrs. Oscar Hertig and daughter Evelyn spent the week-end in Marlinton.

Mrs. Jess Tracy and daughters are visiting in Baltimore.

Mrs. Anna Seitz has returned after spending several weeks in Texas.

Mrs. Ellis Hall is now visiting her husband who is in Idaho.

Mrs. Charles Meeks and Barbara Slaven spent the week-end in Stony Bottom.

Mrs. E. P. Shafer of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Miss Mary Cromer visited Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cromer at Cheat Bridge last week.

Mrs. Joe Graves left last week to visit with relatives in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sampson and family spent the week-end in Boyer.

Jack Fuhrman of the Seabees who has been in foreign service is now spending a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fuhrman.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Fulks over the week-end were relatives from Weston.

XXX

DURBIN-BARTOW NEWS

Gribble-Hughes

Miss Aggie Gum announces the marriage of Miss Pauline Hughes to Mr. William E. Gribble. The wedding took place in Cumberland, Md., on Wednesday, June 16, 1943.

Mrs. Gribble is a former resident of Bartow, and was a teacher in the county schools. For the last five years she has taught at Thornwood. Mr. Gribble is an employe of the Pocahontas Tanning Company and they will reside in the West End at Durbin.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin and daughter Peggy of Morgantown were visiting relatives in town last week.

Mrs. Charles Stewart and little daughter Rosemary K. of Morgantown were the guests of her sister, Mrs. E. C. Whanger, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hevener and son Jack accompanied by their son-in-law, John Davisson and Bobby Davisson of Lititz, Pa., are visiting relatives in town and vicinity.

Mrs. Ralph Stone left recently to join her husband who is with the U. S. Army in Georgia.

Kenna Rexrode returned Sunday from Baltimore where he visited his son, Kenna, Jr., and underwent a

SOLDIERS ENTERTAINED AT BERKSHIRE FARM

MARELLBAR FARM, Ill.—The Chicago USO invited soldiers to spend the day on the farm of William Barthelmey, Jr. Above photo shows Pvt. Harland Herrin of Ponca, Oklahoma (left) and Pvt. Lloyd H. Rogers of Fairview, Kansas, inspecting two pure bred Berkshires. Other activities enjoyed by the soldiers with a stock judging contest, hearty rides behind a spirited pair of Palomino horses, and a big barbecue dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gillespie and sons Donald of Baltimore are here for a few days' vacation. They spent Saturday and Sunday visiting on Seneca, along with Mrs. Flora Gillespie and son Guy Wright and Vera Dunlap.

Mrs. Paul Morris and children Paula Jane and Bobby Lee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shears several days last week.

Mrs. Austin Lightner is improving after her recent serious illness.

Mrs. Dan Taylor and son Lyle are visiting this week with her sister, Mrs. James Gulford at Linwood.

Mrs. Virginia Bednesham and son Billy Conley of Washington, arrived Monday for a few days' vacation. They flew to Elkins and were accompanied to Greenbank by Wash Arbogast.

Mrs. Dora Cample and son Guy Wright returned home Wednesday after a visit in Baltimore.

Forrest Hedrick and David Smith of the Greenbank Vo-ag school are attending classes in Morgantown for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McMillion and Claude Ashton were guests at the McMillion home in Hillsboro on Sunday.

Mrs. Dolores Wright and daughters Connie and Kay of Wyandotte, Mich., are here to spend a month with Mrs. Russell Crowley.

Victory gardens in Greenbank are right out in the lead. Mrs. B. B. Campbell and Mrs. Fred Moomaw each had green beans June 11, and Mrs. Oliver picked three ripe tomatoes on June 28.

Mrs. E. F. Shafer returned to her home in Bryn Mawr, Pa., Friday. She was accompanied by Misses Mary and Josephine Hannah who will visit for about two weeks in Bryn Mawr and New York.

Mrs. Jess Hannah and daughter Sara returned Friday to their home in Virginia.

Private Paul Cole who is stationed at Sioux City, Ia., returned to camp Wednesday after a week's furlough with his mother, Mrs. Etta Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Geral Wooddell, a bride and groom since Saturday, were given an old-fashioned serenade at their home in Fraternal Park on Sunday night. All kinds of noises were heard until Geral passed the proverbial cigars and candy.

XXX

GREENBANK NEWS

George V. Hannah, Jr., left Tuesday night for San Diego, Calif., after spending a week at home. En route West he will stop at Greeley, Colo., to spend a day with Miss Nellie Maude Smith, popular Greenbank high school teacher, who is studying at Greeley this summer.

Mrs. David Webster and daughter Sara Strong of Winona, Miss., and Mrs. Charles Townsend of Louisville, Miss., left Saturday evening for their respective homes after a few days at the George Hannah home.

XXX

DUNMORE NEWS

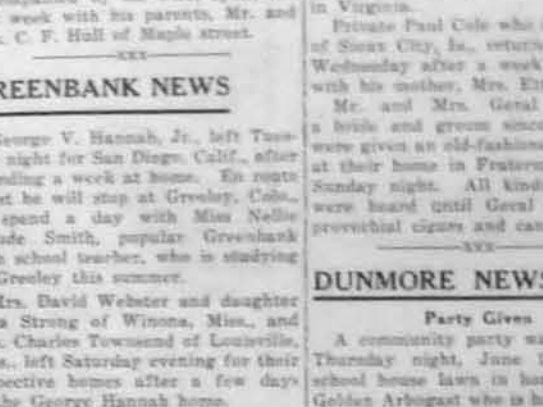
Party Given

A community party was given on Thursday night, June 24, on the school house lawn in honor of Pvt. Golden Arbogast who is home on fur-

That Extra Something!
...You can spot it every time

EVERY woman in the new Marine Corps Women's Reserve releases a trained Marine for combat duty. But before they do that, they must, themselves, undergo training so rigorous that regular rest periods are allowed them. That's when the call goes up for ice-cold Coca-Cola ... for the pause that refreshes.

Ice-cold Coca-Cola does more than just quench thirst. It brings a pleasant aftersense of refreshment. You feel it and welcome it. Made with a finished art, Coca-Cola has a taste all its own. Delicious! Satisfying! There's an extra something of goodness about it. You know from experience that the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.



A couple of Cokes! That's the way to make a friendly moment refreshment time.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why we hear Coca-Cola called Coke. Both mean the same thing ... "coming from a single source, and well known to the community".

The best is always the better buy

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY MARLINTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO.

THE MARLINTON JOURNAL

VOL. 25—NO. 20 "JOURNAL — BELONGING TO THE DAY"—Webster. MARLINTON, WEST VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1943 PRICE: $1.50 A YEAR

THE Exchange

PHILADELPHIA — Nine - year - old Evelyn Henderson smiled up at the man who is serving a life term for murder.

"Now, don't be nervous," she said. "It won't hurt."

Samuel Donahue, 41, grinned back. "I ain't going to be nervous, honey."

Then the two of them were wheeled into the operating room where Dr. Kenneth D. Morani transferred from the girl's thighs to the blonde little body the skin that may save her life. Evelyn was burned terribly when her dress caught fire last November. Despite four operations she faced death when another skin donor was sought among Eastern Penitentiary inmates.

Today Donahue, convicted of killing a policeman during a holdup in 1939, was one of 20 who volunteered like to do something for the girl, he said.

Before the anesthetic wore off he went to see Evelyn. She couldn't move her arms or legs but she raised her head, bobbing a green hair ribbon.

"Anything you want?"

"Why, thank you. I—I hope you looks as nice on me as it does."

"How about a doll?"

Evelyn shook her head, she laughed. "I have a doll."

"I told you," said Donahue, "you hurry up and get better." He bent and kissed her.

Scores of other trusties were waiting for him at the penitentiary's gate.

"Good luck," one of them said.

Then the gate clanged shut.

* * *

—Both Adolf Hitler and his chief of staff, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, were reported by the Nazis during the week to be receiving aid from Berne to the extent that reports from Germany said Hitler had had a "nervous breakdown" at his Berchtesgaden retreat and was "resting." The Swiss "reliable sources" as authority for information that Goering was suffering from a nervous breakdown and serious heart trouble."

* * *

—Maj. Nola Forrest, chief nurse of army nurses in Australia under simulated combat, definitely removed from the stigma of "the first week. She reported: "I established a speed record crawling over a barbed-wire fence, and that nurses must get gas mask drill as assigned to teach the Gen. Maher, director of nurses in that area facing hardships in their months.

* * *

—Congress agreed to the National Youth Administration (NYA). This agency which was set up as a work relief agency when the country was in the depression, by a 89-31 vote a bill to abolish the NYA be given to finance its liquidation by the end of 1943.

Sixty Pocahontas Men Examined For Armed Forces

The office of the Local Board Selective Service announces the following men have recently qualified for service subject to examination by the Armed Forces Induction Station:

Walter Augustus Eskridge, Marlinton
John Lawrence Gillis, Marlinton
Joseph Francis Salm, Marlinton
William Ellis Curry, Durbin
Benjamin Jackson Moore, Jr., Durbin
Carl George Beard, II, Millpoint
Dempsey Allen George, Marlinton
Charles Junior Gragg, Durbin
James Franklin Kirkpatrick, Marl'ton
Kenton Trimble Chestnut, Jr., Frost
Ralph White Curry, Frost
William Leteher Simmons, Hillsboro
Ronald Leroy Small, Beard
Alfred Curtis McCoy, Marlinton
Dallas Lamen Abdella, Huntersville
Harry Bernard Ryder, Clover Lick
Delbert Kershner, Beard
Hill Headly Pritt, Droop
Herman Price Menefee, Marlinton
Denzil Clyde Totten, Millpoint
Coe McClure, Marlinton
Elmer Lee Tincher, Hillsboro
Everette Lemuel Nottingham, Marl'n
Edgar Price Boblett, Millpoint
Jesse Esther McClure, Beard
Delford Brisun Lambert, Greenbank
Ivan Gray Vandevander, Arbovale
Benny Paul Vigilanti, Slaty Fork
Ivan Dale Williams, Hillsboro
James Woodrow May, Bartow
William Delbert Cassell, Cass
Dwight Frederick Waugh, Millpoint
Arlie Lee Shinaberry, Clover Lick
William Howard Moore, Huntersville
Frank Edgar Burris, Marlinton
Calvin Andrew Lanty Underwood, Huntersville
George Elwood McPherson, Cass
Hunter Forrest Taylor, Huntersville
Jacob William Fertig, Clover Lick
Theodore Ford Hammond, Hunt'ville
Cecil Anderson McCombs, Marlinton
John Michael Kane, Jr., Cass
Robert Burley Wilfong, Watoga
William Killeen Moore, Marlinton
Norman Hunter McLaughlin, Cass
Warren Grant Alderman, Hunt'ville
Robert Wilton Fox, Cass
Charles Cleveland Riley, Jr., Arb'vale
Edwin Burton Kincaid, Durbin
Calvin Loyd Sharp, Marlinton
Delbert Davis Defibaugh, Clover Lick
Jesse Curtis Blankenship, Cass
Paul Green Burks, Millpoint
David Wayne Sparks, Marlinton
Paul Preston Hill, Greenbank
Stewart Richard Ryder, Bartow
Allen Arlie Hunter Mayes, Cass

Transferred to Local Board:

Denny Warrick Sharp, Marlinton
Harold James Barbee, Millpoint
Shurles Allen, Millpoint

Charles LaRue Promoted

Charles C. LaRue, Jr., an aviation cadet, graduated with the rank of Second Lieutenant and received his silver wings at Foster Field, Victoria, Texas. Lieutenant LaRue is now spending a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. LaRue, who came from their home in Baltimore to be with their son at the family residence in Hillsboro during his stay here. Mr. and Mrs. LaRue will look after the moving of their household goods while they are here, and plan to make their residence in Baltimore for the duration.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

An accident was narrowly avoided Tuesday when a bicycle bearing Libby Johnson and Jean Moore, which the latter was guiding, ran into a Baltimore bus which was leaving the Marlinton station. The "bike" caught on the bumper of the bus, but the driver stopped in time to avoid any serious results.

Uncle "Pud" Tucker — Says —

By HOY McCUSKEY

WE AIN'T JOSHING

If Old Noah had the same trouble gettin' those two snakes on the Ark as Franklin D. has had gettin' John L. Lewis and the War Labor Board into one room in Washington, we'se afraid Ark-mens would be as scarce today as earthmens at a W.C.T.U. Convention.

Regardless of what some ladies think of Hoy, we'll bet when we was through over yonder, you'd find the slickest lawyers, miners, or mountain growers in the Congress!

Knocking Down the Enemy

American anti-aircraft fire is more accurate and deadly, thanks to an improved fuze timing system developed by three Elgin, Illinois, engineers and approved by the labor-management committee of the local watch plant. Passed on to war production drive headquarters in Washington, the new system is now available to all time fuze manufacturers.

George G. Ensign, Dr. Carl N. Challacombe and Walter Kohlhagen are the engineers responsible for the improved timing system, which reduces one of the greatest elements of error in anti-aircraft fire. Shells equipped with such fuzes can be depended upon to burst at the precise split second when they reach the area of their flying target.

For their contribution to the manufacture of war equipment, the three Elgin engineers have received honorary citations from the War Production Board, the nation's highest wartime production award for individual merit.

In use today on fighting ships in many parts of the world, the new time fuzes have contributed to such valiant actions as those of the destroyers Bernadou, Cole, Dallas and McFarland—recently awarded unit citations by the President "for outstanding performance of duty in combat with the enemy."

"Women's Army Corps" Now—And Becomes Part Of Regular U. S. Army

COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—With the President's signing of the bill changing the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps to the Women's Army Corps and making it an integral part of the Army of the United States, its members serving within the Fifth Service Command became full-fledged soldiers, Headquarters of the Fifth Service Command, Fort Hayes, Ohio, has announced.

Captain Helen Y. Hodekin, WAAC Staff Director and top-ranking officer on duty with the Service Command Headquarters, said, "Members of the Corps have been on duty in the Service Command for several months now and have replaced many soldiers for combat duty. They have taken the places of able-bodied men at countless non-combatant jobs which women can do as well as men. Everywhere army commanders have been high in their praise of them."

"The jobs Waacs do are important and necessary," she added, "and the more Waacs we have, the fewer men needed, as Waacs perform duties which would otherwise have to be done by men soldiers."

Important changes in the bill, in addition to the change in the title of the Corps, are:

1. Women will have equal rights and benefits with army personnel including the same nomenclature of rank, franking privileges, government insurance and allotments.

2. The age limit for enlistment is lowered to the age of 20 years and raised to the age of 50.

The WAAC, the first of the women's services, was organized in May, 1942, and the first Waacs reported for duty in the Fifth Service Command last September.

CUMMINGS CREEK

Mrs. P. W. Underwood returned home Saturday after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Chester Smith, at Fairmont. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who returned to Fairmont Monday.

Mrs. Willis Alderman returned home last week after spending a few days with her brother, Howard Clarkson of Parkersburg. She reports a nice trip. Harold Clarkson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clarkson of Parkersburg, enlisted in the Navy last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Landis, and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Landis visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Landis over the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee spent the Fourth of July with Mrs. Lee's brother, Winfield Alderman, at White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Mary Kellison is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Lockard of Parkersburg.

Local Colored Girl Has Outstanding Educational Career

One of Marlinton's colored young women who has completed, with high honors, a course of schooling, and has graduated in the class of nursing at the University of Toronto, Canada, is Miss Glenna Agnes Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart of Marlinton.

Commencement exercises were held at Convocation Hall, Toronto, on the afternoon of June 3, 1943.

Miss Stewart has been an honor student during most of her educational career. She maintained a high scholarship record as a student at Garnet high school in Charleston, and graduated there as Valedictorian of her class. On June 5, 1940, she was graduated with high honors from the Spelman College, Atlanta, Georgia. At the Georgia school she won the Arnett prize in her junior year, an award for "high scholarship and evidence of wise use of further educational opportunity." The young student has won scholarships during all of her educational career.

Miss Stewart is now with a Red Cross nursing unit somewhere in the North of Canada. Her last visit to the home of her parents who reside on the Seneca Trail here, was in July of 1942.

Presbyterian Pioneer Camp Being Held at Thornwood

Pioneer Camp, youth camp of the Greenbrier Presbytery, is in session at Camp Thornwood with Rev. H. E. Mahler, of Richwood, in charge.

Among those from Marlinton who are in attendance at the camp are: John and Ann Clay Allen, Sue Brooks, Lois Anne LaRue, Sonja Parsons, Jimmy Moore, Faye Morrison, Margaret Smith, Vivian Whitt, Katherine Pritt, Veda Curry and Gladys Rogers.

Mrs. Mary Frances Moore is in charge of preparation of food. Miss Patty Stemple is a counsellor.

RED CROSS DONATIONS

Belated donations to the Red Cross War Relief Fund have been sent in from the Cass section, and are as follows: Mrs. Harry McCoach $1, J. J. Lowry $1, Mrs. M. F. Lowry $1, Mrs. Strickland McLaughlin, $1.

UPPER POCAHONTAS CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Rev. Wilmer Cronenwett, Pastor

Services—Sunday school 10 a. m., preaching 11 a. m.

Epworth League in charge of the Junior Aids at 7:30 p. m.; preaching at 8 p. m.

Prayermeet meeting.

County Leads State In Quantity of Wool Pooled This Year

Gross Sales Value of 420,988½ Pounds Was $233,970.38 — 89.14¢ "Clear Medium."

The 420,988½ pounds of wool and mohair which the 3,818 members of the West Virginia Wool Marketing Association sold through the annual state cooperative wool pool this year, brought a gross total of $233,970.38, according to a tabulation of the sales prepared by the West Virginia Agricultural Extension Service.

Although the volume of wool in the 1943 pool was not the largest in history, the prices paid for the wool this year by a Boston firm, were the highest on record, and helped to set the all-time high for gross sales, E. L. Shaw, Extension sheep specialist of West Virginia University, reports.

Clear Medium Brings 56.76 Cents

Of the total pool, 371,162½ pounds or 88.14 per cent, graded "clear medium" and sold for 56.76 cents a pound, or 5.43 cents more per pound than in 1942. Rejects totalled only 34,576½ pounds, or 8.21 per cent of the total pool, slightly less than the percentage of rejects last year, but higher than in 1941, 1940, or 1939. The price paid for reject wool was 48.76 cents a pound.

Also in the pool were 4,302 pounds of fine staple wool which sold for 45.76 cents per pound, 4,777½ pounds of fine clothing wool which brought 40.76 a pound, and 4,650½ pounds of mohair which sold for 80 cents per pound. Tags totalled 1,541½ pounds and the price paid was 15 cents per pound.

Pocahontas Leads State

Pocahontas county farmers pooled a total of 34,796½ pounds of wool to lead all other counties in the state. Of this total 31,163½ pounds graded "clear medium." The gross return to the Pocahontas county farmers was $19,394.40. Ritchie county's 21,623½ pounds, of which 20,261 pounds were "clear medium" wool, enriched the cooperating farmers by $17,702.57.

Although its farmers pooled only 3,468½ pounds of wool, Barbour county had the greatest percentage of clear medium wool in proportion to its total pool—94.26 per cent. Randolph county, with 11,240 pounds of wool pooled, had 94.02 per cent of it graded "clear medium," while Greenbrier county, with 20,632 pounds, had 94.12 per cent of the total graded as "clear medium."

In 1942, only 2,969 farmers participated in the pool. The total pounds of wool pooled were 414,884, of which 361,786½ pounds were graded "clear medium." Gross sales value of the 1942 pool was $215,109.40.

STRICT RATION TO BE APPLIED TO SALE OF LIQUOR IN COUNTY

Announcement was made yesterday that West Virginia's liquor rationing program will go into effect from Tuesday, July 13, when more than 200 registration boards will begin the task of issuing ration books, designated Liquor Sales Permits.

Announcement to this effect is made by the liquor commission in a general order which halts the sale of all alcoholic liquors for a period of three weeks. Stores and agencies, which will be used as registration places, will resume business on August 2.

In Pocahontas county, boards will sit from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m., Monday through Saturday of each week, at the following places:

State Liquor Store No. 49, at Marlinton.

State Liquor Agency No. 160 at Durbin.

State Liquor Agency No. 172 at Cass.

Registration will cease on the night of July 31, after which no applications will be accepted and no permits issued for a period of 60 days.

Each applicant for a permit will be required to present his Federal Food Ration Books Nos. 2 and 3 for identification purposes. Book No. 2 will be used for actual identification, and Book No. 3 will be used for its serial number, which will be recorded on both applications and sales permit. Both food ration books will be punched to prevent any attempt to use them in registering a second time with some other board.

PVT. ALFRED GUM GRADUATES

Pfc. Alfred R. Gum of the U. S. Army Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gum of Millpoint, graduated from Mechanical School on July 3. He is stationed in Tulsa, Okla.

IT Impresses ME

THAT one of those pleasant and agreeable fellows that usually manage time from to meet up with, is Floyd Vest . . . and among his numerous attributes is a ready sense of humor . . .

★

THAT one of the town's biggest jokesters is also the town's most popular person—Garland McPeters, the magazine man . . . In addition to the culture we think prompted him to drop my wife on the street recently and attempt to interest her in a subscription to "Parents" magazine, is this joke which he passed along to Preacher J. C. Wood, but probably not for pulpit use. Woman (to husband summoned to her bedside) "Darling, I'm about to die, and I want to confess I've been unfaithful to you." . . . Husband: "I know it, dear—that's why I poisoned you" . . .

★

Note to Fancy-Free Young Men—

If you've been tempted to the rash to see that Miss Pansie Crutchshank of Elkton, Md., has the kind of a time of which her beauty makes her worthy, you'd be interested in her "Aunt Ann" Update's report that "there are two more just like her" at home . . . Hmm—let's see now, what kind of business could we find that would take us to Elkton . . . Nope, it would be pleasure driving for sure! . . . In the meantime, what's wrong with "Aunt Ann"? . . .

★

THAT now I know why Kenth Nottingham is always so ready to enter into a long discourse pertaining to the merits of wild strawberry preserves . . . Last week we were guests of Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Wilson for a picnic dinner on the beautiful grounds overlooking Knapps Creek, just at the rear of their home, and to keep company with the country ham and superb home-made bread our hostess brought not a jar of the delicacy in question . . . Our enthusiasm, for outranking Kenth's, probably taught her never to be reckless like that again! . . . Incidentally, the visit gave us an insight into something you very likely know before—that the Wilsons are most interesting hosts, and the Dr., behind the usual reserve, makes an ability to be good conversationalist, and he is a close observer of things pertaining to nature . . .

★

THAT there is something to the adage—"It's everyone to his own taste," as the lady said when she kissed a cow . . . But we read in friend Doctor Cook's Elkins Enterprise of a couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, and who say they have moved 93 times in the 50 years . . . And the lady says she hopes to live long enough to move 100 times . . .

—The Editor.

W. VA.'s FARM FOLK DONATE $1,800 TO RUSSIAN SEED FUND

West Virginia farm families and organizations contributed a total of $1,802.50 to the Seeds for Russia Fund as part of the country's campaign to supply more than 2,500,000 pounds of field and vegetable seeds to replant 350,000 acres of Russia's "war-scorched" earth, the West Virginia Farm Bureau, which sponsored the drive in the state, reports.

The contributions came from more than 500 individuals, 4-H clubs, county farm bureaus, farm women's clubs, FFA groups, and state farm organizations. Barbour county's contribution of more than $155 was the largest for any county and the Philippi Battlers 4-H Club made the largest single contribution of approximately $100, according to F. L. Miles, executive secretary of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

The total American contributions, which are valued at $1,600,000, include more than 1,000,000 pounds of vegetable seeds and 2,500,000 pounds of field seeds, Mr. Miles states. While the acreage which these seeds will replant is enormous, it is less than 1 per cent of the total Russian land area of 180,000,000 acres which were laid waste to prevent the crops falling into Nazi hands. This total area represents 45 per cent of the pre-war food producing area of that nation.

Suffers Cuts in Tavern Fight

Arnold Shores of Cass suffered severe cuts on the result of an altercation with Grant Bailey, also of Cass, on the Fourth of July in a tavern operated by Belle Cross in that town, it is reported by local police. So far as could be learned there apparently had been no trouble between the two men prior to the holiday fight. Bailey is being held in the county jail.